'Break' for All.
The pitch that broke a finger kept a home-run artist for the Tigers—See Shirley Povich's column, First Sports.

The Washington Post

The Weather
Today—Cloudy, followed by showers this afternoon or tonight. Tomorrow—Probable showers. Yesterday—High, 79; low, 71.

NO. 22,355 Entered as Second-Class Matter, Postoffice, Washington, D. C. WASHINGTON: MONDAY, AUGUST 30, 1937 XX ★★★★
Copyright, 1937, By The Washington Post.
THREE CENTS

London Makes Severe Protest; Sino-Soviet Treaty Is Signed

C. I. O. Seamen May Strike to Halt War Cargoes

A.F.L. to Oust C.I.O. Unions At October Convention

William Green to Order a 'Ceaseless Battle' Against Lewis.

Hope Abandoned For Later Truce

Carpenters' Chief Heads Group Pushing War on Rival Faction.

Copyright, 1937, by the United Press.

The American Federation of Labor will expel ten unions affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization at its convention in Denver, Colo., October 4, and will order a ceaseless battle against C. I. O. Chieftain John L. Lewis for control of the Trade Union movement, it was learned last night.

President William Green of the federation has abandoned all hope of negotiating a truce with Lewis.

The status of the C. I. O. unions was discussed at the secret sessions of the federation's executive council in Atlantic City, N. J., last week. The unions were suspended on September 5, 1936, on charges of fomenting dual unionism and rebellion.

A militant group within the Federation led by William ("Big Bill") Hutcheson, head of the Carpenters' Union, whom Lewis once punched on the nose, has demanded their outright expulsion, but Green has fought against such action.

'Wildcat' Strikes Defeated.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 29 (U.P.).—United Automobile Workers of America today voted down proposed constitutional changes which would have allowed local unions to call strikes without executive board approval, and condemned "wildcat" strikes such as have disrupted production in General Motors plants.

The change was voted down after a plea by President Homer Martin, in which he was joined by First Vice President Wyndham Mortimer and Secetary Treasurer George Addes.

Martin got apparent control of the U. A. W.'s executive board tonight when his progressive faction won at least 15 of the 24 votes.

Green Accuses Lewis.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 29 (A.P.).—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, accused John L. Lewis tonight of stunting the growth of the organized labor movement by his C. I. O. "rebellion."

Bethlehem Steel Silent.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Sidney D. Evans, management's representative of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, said today the company had "no statement" regarding the National Labor Board's complaint it sponsored an independent union.

50-Mile Gales Blow Freak Storm Near Titusville, Florida

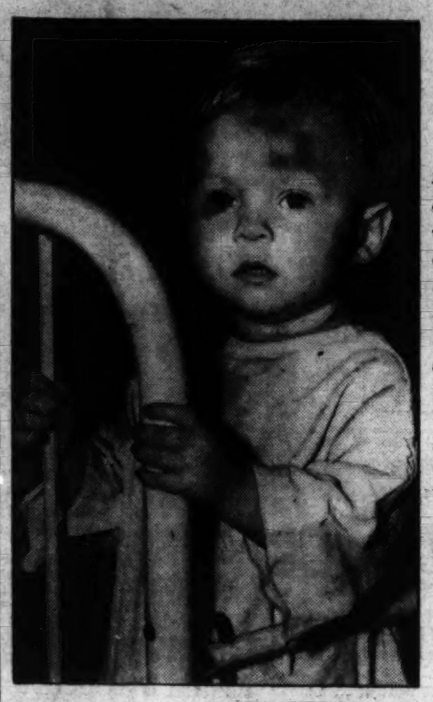
Miami, Fla., Aug. 29 (U.P.).—A freak tropical storm which moved up the Atlantic east of the Florida coast from the lesser Antilles, tonight developed 50-mile winds, the Federal hurricane warning system reported. The storm was expected to reach Titusville, Fla., tonight. Storm warnings were ordered aloft from Vero Beach, Fla., to St. Augustine.

Desperado Foster Takes Own Life

Elk City, Kans., Aug. 29 (U.P.).—A two-day hunt for Frank Foster, 51, farmer who turned outlaw, ended today in a gun battle near here in which the fugitive killed himself after being wounded eight times.

None of the seven deputies and highway patrolmen who participated in the hunt was injured, although Foster yesterday slew Undersheriff Charles Casey and wounded two other officers.

Baby Boy Is Brutally Beaten; Police Hold Father for Inquiry



Little 14-month-old Albert Kennel, jr., in crib at Gallinger Hospital await X-rays for possible fractured skull, after a beating at his home here. The child's father is held for investigation.

Post Staff Photo.

Albert Kennel, Jr., 14 Months, Suffers Possible Skull Fracture and Bruises; Parent Apparently Angered by Mother's Absence.

Golden-haired, 14-month-old Albert W. Kennel, jr., was in Gallinger Hospital last night suffering from bruises and a possible fracture of the skull, and police were holding his father for investigation.

The father, a photographer, returned to his home at 1743 W street southeast, and found the baby alone, its mother, Mrs. Lucille Kennel, having stepped out to visit friends.

Apparently angered because the mother was absent, the father was said by authorities to have "beat and assaulted" the baby. Mrs. McClure McKnight, who occupies the lower floor of the W street house, took the child to Casualty Hospital in her automobile, where Albert, jr., was treated, and then transferred to Gallinger for X-ray examination this morning.

The baby's forehead showed contusions in two places, doctors at Gallinger said, and its right eye was bloodshot.

Kennel was held at the Eleventh Precinct for investigation, pending further medical information about the condition of his baby.

Church Issues Call to Arms; Angers Nazis

Police Ordered to Keep Close Watch on Activities.

Confessional Manifesto Couched in Strongest Terms Yet Used.

Discord in Germany.

The anti-Nazi Confessional Church announced that its truce negotiations with the government had collapsed.

Nazi leaders demanded that Germans abroad be permitted to "live their own lives according to standards current in the fatherland."—See Page 2.

Church Vs. State.

By the United Press.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—Police tonight were ordered to tighten their scrutiny of church activities following the reading of a manifesto of the Anti-Nazi Confessional Church from hundreds of pulpits today.

The church announced in the manifesto that truce negotiations with the government had collapsed and called upon parishioners to fight to preserve God's word, "Thou shalt have no other gods before Me."

Complete Reports Demanded.

The police order tonight said that all Evangelical pastors must report to them before noon Monday and tell who preached Sunday, how much was received in the collection today and last Sunday, and for what purpose the money collected was used.

The announcement of the truce negotiation failure, phrased in the strongest terms yet used by the Confessional Synod, shattered reports that the feud between the anti-Nazi Protestants and the Reich was near an end.

Pastor Still in Prison.

Last week, the government "indefinitely postponed" the trial of the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, militant Confessional leader, who is in Moabit prison on charges of opposing the government.

Congregations crowded the churches to hear the manifesto—read in place of the sermon—and also were given a report on the number of their leaders arrested or forbidden to preach. Pastors arrested now number 110, it was announced, 32 have been banned from their parishes and 31 forbidden to preach.

'Bonus or Sit-Down' Vote Predicted; Britain Demands Fliers Be Punished

Angry Note Excoriates 'Deliberate' Attack on Noncombatant.

Asks Assurances Against 'Incidents'

Calls for 'Immediate' Japanese Apology in Envoy's Shooting.

By the United Press.

London, Aug. 29.—Great Britain, with a formal protest to the Japanese government today over the machine-gunning of the British Ambassador to China, called the incident a "deliberate and deplorable" attack on noncombatants and demanded an immediate apology.

The protest, delivered by the charge d'affaires of the British Embassy in Tokyo, also insisted on "suitable punishment for those responsible for the attack" and assurance by Japan that measures will be taken to prevent further incidents.

There was no mention of indemnity in the 500-word protest, the stern wording of which plainly revealed British anger over the shooting of Ambassador Sir Hughe Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen.

"Noncombatants Issue."

There was wide speculation among diplomats as to whether Japan would agree to an outright apology and punishment of her aviators—a penalty that would be a major blow to Japanese prestige at a crucial stage of her war with China.

Britain, in her note, stressed the point that the diplomatic status of the victim of the attack was "irrelevant."

"The real issue is that they (the occupants of the ambassador's automobile) were noncombatants," the note stated. "The aircraft no doubt did not intend to attack the ambassador as such, but they apparently did intend to attack noncombatants and that suffices in itself to constitute illegality . . . It is one of the oldest and best established rules of international law that direct or deliberate attacks on noncombatants are absolutely prohibited, whether inside or outside the area where hostilities are taking place."

Britain said her investigation of the case made it apparent that "this was no accident resulting from any normal hostile operation" and that it should have been obvious to the Japanese planes that they were dealing with noncombatants.

Report of Error Ignored.

The note ignored reports reaching London, supposedly through official channels, that the Japanese planes mistook the ambassador's car for that of Chiang Kai-shek, generalissimo of the Chinese armies, whom they intended to kill.

"The fact that in the present case no actual state of war has been declared or expressly recognized by either party to exist emphasizes the inexcusable nature of what occurred," the note said.

Deli ered at Tokyo.

Tokyo, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—The British note of protest against the shooting of the British Ambassador to China by a Japanese airman was presented to the Japanese government today.

Foreign Minister Koki Hirota received the note from James U. Dodd, British charge d'affaires. A foreign office spokesman said no reply would be made before Monday at earliest.

Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

The North Station in Shanghai bombed yesterday.

Bombs Kill Civilians; 5-Year Conflict Seen

Russia Bars Hostilities; Nipponese Steamer Is Detained.

Treaty Text—Page 22.

By the United Press.

Nanking, Aug. 29.—Possibility of Russian military assistance for China's harassed armies battling veteran Japanese divisions in areas scattered over half this war-torn country arose again tonight when the foreign office announced China has signed a nonaggression pact with Moscow, and is ready to sign a similar agreement with Japan whenever Tokyo wishes it.

[Friction between Japan and Russia in waters off Siberia was reported in a dispatch from Yuki, Korea, to the newspaper Asahi, in Tokyo, the Associated Press reported. Officers of the Japanese steamer Kasuga Maru were quoted as saying their vessel was detained by three Soviet destroyers and a submarine, which surrounded it for half an hour the night of August 26 and then let it proceed. They expressed belief the Soviet squadron based on Vladivostok was engaged in major maneuvers.—Editor's note.]

Foreign Minister Wong Chung-hui, however, was careful to explain that the Chinese-Russian agreement had no military clauses. He said it was signed August 21, and provides that:

1. Both parties condemn resource to war.

2. In event of aggression against either signatory by a third party both China and Russia pledge

Continued on Page 4, Column 5.

'State of War' Soon to Be Declared; Planes Rain Death.

By the Associated Press.

Shanghai, Aug. 29.—Hundreds of Chinese noncombatants were killed today as Japan's great air bombers struck savagely at Shanghai, Nanking and Nanchang, far in the interior.

[China intends to issue a statement soon recognizing that a state of war "exists" with Japan, Chinese army officials told the United Press. This action was planned rather than make an outright declaration of war, the officials said. Preparations were being made for a five-year war, they said, declaring they were positive Japan would collapse economically before that time.—Editor's note.]

Three hundred civilians were killed and several hundred wounded, a Chinese communique asserted, when Japanese planes made a late afternoon raid over the North Station district, on the boundary between the International Settlement and Chinese Chapel. Two hundred houses were set ablaze by incendiary bombs.

More than 100 civilians, including many women and children, were killed and about 400 wounded in a raid by 20 Japanese bombers on Nanking, said a Chinese war office communique.

Bombs fell on the National School for Orphans, the National Central University and the Tzesheng Hospital. Five hundred houses were set ablaze. Japanese bombers

Continued on Page 4, Column 2.

East and West Unions to Ballot Today on Joint Action.

Government's Ship Carrying Bombers

Official Doubts Dangers, Defies Labor to Stop U. S.-Owned Boats.

By Russell Smith

Seamen affiliated with John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization prepared last night to invoke their own neutrality act through possible sit-down strikes to block shipment of war materials to either China or Japan.

This warning, issued by Ralph Emerson, legislative representative of the National Maritime Union, came on the eve of the meeting in Chicago today of East and West Coast seamen to vote on unification and on action to check carriage of munitions to Asia.

In the meeting, C. I. O. officials here forecast, the new union will vote to sit down against shipments of munitions unless a $250 bonus is provided. It is possible, too, the union will condemn such shipments on ground of possible involvement of the United States in war.

Resulting directly from the sailing of the freighter Wichita Friday night from Baltimore, with a cargo of 10 bombing planes and barbed wire for the Chinese, the labor ultimatum also disclosed the Maritime Commission is concerned as to its course.

The Wichita is owned by the United States Government, operated by the American Pioneer Line on a nonprofit basis, Emerson said last night.

"In effect, this makes it a United States Government vessel carrying arms to a belligerent. If anything happens to it, there would, it would seem, be most dangerous complications," Emerson said.

A Maritime Commission spokesman minimized the dangers implicit in the Wichita's voyage and said he had no doubt that the ship "will put into some American port, Honolulu or Manila, if it appears it will cause international difficulties."

At the same time, the commission spokesman asserted there will be no sit-down strikes against ships owned by the United States.

"We will have no trouble manning ships owned by the American Government, I can assure you of that," he added.

Doubts C. I. O. Power.

He also doubted the forecast of C. I. O. leaders that East and West coast seamen would vote to affiliate at today's Chicago meeting, declaring that the dominant Pacific Coast organization will affiliate with the American Federation of Labor's East Coast successor to the International Seamen's Union.

The seamen's concern, Emerson said, is primarily with the risk involved in transporting war goods into fighting zones. The National Maritime Union will insist on at least a $250 bonus per seaman for such voyages, he said.

Emerson's statement was made the day following a conference with E. C. Moran, member of the Maritime Commission, the former said. The commission is placed in the position of assisting arms salesmen aiding a belligerent if it permits the Wichita and similarly owned ships to land war materials.

On the other hand, if it forbids such voyages, it will have recog-

Continued on Page 4, Column 4.

Patrolman Shot By Crazed Man At Hagerstown

Police Break Barricade After Three-Hour Gun Battle.

By the Associated Press.

Hagerstown, Aug. 29.—Patrolman LeRoy Karn was wounded slightly and several other city policemen were struck by pellets in a three-hour shotgun battle with John Barnhart, 53, who had barricaded himself in his home here early today.

Alleged to have driven members of his family from the house, Barnhart is reported to have gone on a rampage which sent a squad of police to his home.

When the officers arrived, Barnhart is alleged to have vowed he would shoot every policeman within sight and began firing. Tear gas proving ineffective, the officers retaliated with fire from shotguns, but it was three hours before the man was subdued.

Sergt. Jesse Brown shot Barnhart's gun from his hands to end the battle.

Officers said Barnhart had undergone treatment at Springfield State Hospital.

Dynamite Blast Kills Doorman Of Night Club

Bomb, Attached to Auto, Believed Meant for Ex-Gangster.

(Picture—Page 22.)

By the Associated Press.

Detroit, Aug. 29.—William W. Holmes, colored doorman at a downtown night club, was injured fatally early today when a bomb exploded in a car bearing plates issued to Harry Milman, former member of Detroit's "Purple" Gang of the prohibition era.

Police said the blast was set off when the doorman, sent from the club to a nearby parking lot to get the car, stepped on the starter. They estimated that 12 sticks of dynamite had been used, set off electrically.

The blast shook buildings in a radius of 100 yards. The car was demolished. Holmes was dead on admission to a hospital.

The man who sent Holmes for the car was not identified. He disappeared in the excitement following the blast.

Maxie Silk, operator of the club at which the victim was employed, said, "I don't remember if Harry Milman was in the club."

Iowa Mother Kills Six Children, Self With Motor Fumes

By the Associated Press.

Denison, Iowa, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Elsie Nollen, 30, and her six children were found dead in their home from deadly exhaust gas from the family automobile early today. A 15-page suicide note in which Mrs. Nollen told of marital trouble and "grief" was found in the home, 15 miles west of Denison.

The dead woman's 36-year-old husband, Albert, a tenant farmer, reported to authorities he had found the bodies at 2 a. m.

A washing machine hose had been attached to the exhaust pipe of the motor car and then run into a bedroom window of the farm home.

New Wage-Hour Bill Molded for Next Session; 40-Cent Pay, 40-Hour Week Provisions Kept

By the Associated Press.

Administration advisers disclosed yesterday they already have started mapping new wage and hour legislation for the next Congressional session.

The revamped legislation, designed to replace that which was blocked in the House Rules Committee during the recent session, will include provisions for maintaining fair trade practices in industry, officials said.

Two bills probably will be submitted—one empowering a five-member Federal board to fix wages and hours within certain limits, and one setting up a system of fair trade practices.

The labor standards bill will be similar to that offered in the last session, it was said, and will retain provisions permitting the Government board to lift only those wages below 40 cents an hour and to shorten only work-weeks of more than 40 hours.

Numerous exemptions for specific industries probably will be eliminated.

The fair trade practice bill would provide for voluntary agreements among units in various industries. The pacts would define fair trade practices and would ban activities considered harmful to industry as a whole.

Officials said industries having such agreements would receive advantages. In addition, they would be in a position to agree among themselves on wage and hour standards.

The fair practices measure would be administered jointly by the Trade Commission and the Commerce Department. The department would consult industries in drafting agreements and would offer any requested aid in administering the accords. The Trade Commission would approve or veto the understandings and would rule on any complaints of violation.

Officials predicted the Administration will make a determined drive for the new legislation at the next session.

D.C. Woman Jailed As Motor Menace

A trail of seven damaged automobiles landed 30-year-old Mrs. Jeanette Hartig of the Wardman Park Hotel in the Sixth Precinct jail last night, charged with intoxication and hit-skip driving.

Mrs. Hartig hit at least one car a block in a post-cocktail party excursion along Ingraham street northwest, police said.

An amazed citizen who watched her maneuvers telephoned police. A squad car raced in pursuit, noting the wreckage along the trail, finally overhauling her and forcing her to the curb.

Her own sedan was greatly the worse for wear when Officer H. C. League made the arrest.

Mrs. Hartig was released early today under $1,000 bond.

Youth Society Leaders Seized In Latest Purge of Red Ranks

By the United Press.

Moscow, Aug. 29.—The Soviet purge of enemies of the state moved rapidly ahead today with wholesale arrests and dismissals of ranking members of the Comsomol, Communist youth society.

Those arrested were charged with trying to overthrow the Soviet government, dissolve collectivism and reintroduce capitalism to Russia. They were accused of sympathizing with German and Japanese Fascists.

"A band of Trotskyist-Bukharinist spies, terrorists and traitors" were found within the ranks of the youth society, the committee announced.

M. Kosarev, first secretary of the organization, and one of Dictator Stalin's most trusted lieutenants, was severely denounced but was permitted to retain his post.

In Leningrad Province, ten agricultural leaders, allegedly members of an "anti-Soviet Rightist wreckers' organization," were sent to trial on charges of sabotage. They were accused of refusing to supply Leningrad with vegetables and attempting to incite the peasants against the government.

Rumored Woodring Transfer Is Denied

Sources close to Secretary of War Woodring denied flatly last night there was any truth in a rumor that he would shortly resign to go to the Philippines to exchange posts with Gov. Paul V. McNutt. The Secretary had "no comment" on the "rumor."

Today's Index

	Pages.
Amusements	14
Bridge	5
Classified Advertisements	19, 20
Comics	21
Crossword Puzzle	17
Death Notices	18
Editorials	8
Federal Diary	9
Financial News	18
Hollywood	14
Over The Coffee	13
Pegler	9
Pictures	12
Radio	18
Society	10
Sport News	15, 16, 17
The Post's New Yorker	14
Woman's Page	11

Nazis Insist Germans Abroad Should Live by 'Standards of Fatherland'

Leaders Deny Spy Instruction Given Emigres

Berlin Concerned by Cool Reception Given to Reich Nationalists.

By the Associated Press.

Stuttgart, Germany, Aug. 29.—Nazi leaders demanded today that Germans abroad be permitted to "live their own lives according to standards current in the fatherland."

The Nazi spokesmen, opening the Germans Abroad Congress here, emphatically denied the party was creating spy cells abroad with subversive objectives in view.

Foreign Minister Baron Konstantin von Neurath; Rudolf Hess, minister without portfolio, and Ernst Bohle, head of the Germans Abroad organization, were the speakers.

Spy Training Denied.

Nazis abroad, they said, are not entrusted with conquering any foreign land and female household servants are not given spy courses before leaving Germany.

The speeches were marked by concern over the cool reception in some foreign countries to Nazi organizing activities. (Activities of the German-American Bund drew a storm of criticism in the United States. Britain recently forced three German journalists to return home, and a London newspaper asserted the three had been active in Nazi organization work in London).

Bohle voiced the plea to let Germans "live their own lives," and continued

German businessmen abroad work not alone for themselves, but in the concept of the new Germany, in the first place for the nation."

Germany is unable to understand, he said, why criticism is raised abroad when Nazis display faith in Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, but that when Englishmen express loyalty to their King it is accepted as natural.

"Traitor" Charge Hurled.

"Hitler," said Bohle, "united Germans abroad and showed them they belonged also to Germany and had duties toward Germany."

Then he shouted "traitors" at those who still regard Hitler with skepticism. "There are still some Germans abroad who refuse to become Nazis, but who call themselves Germans and never cease to express pro-German sentiments while giving aid to Reich enemies," he said. "They, for us, are simply traitors to the fatherland."

Von Neurath expressed hope "difficulties which have arisen abroad over this matter will soon be settled, without leaving a trace."

Loudoun Council Arranges 4-H Fair

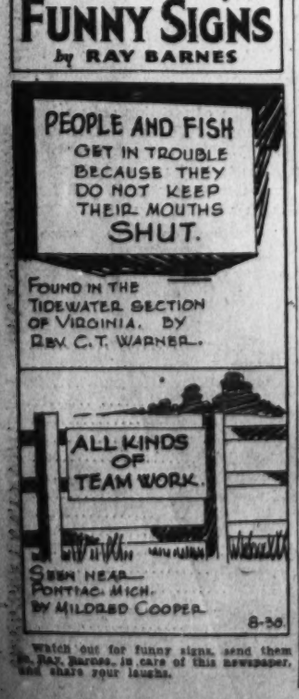
Leesburg, Va., Aug. 29.—The Loudoun County 4-H Club Council will meet at the courthouse at Leesburg tomorrow at :30 p. m., when plans will be made for the county 4-H fair which will be held at Purcellville, September 18. The group also will decide on the date for the 4-H Club acheivement day.

Other activities scheduled for this week by Miss Karle Hundy, county home demonstration agent, include:

Home demonstration meeting at Lucketts on Tuesday at 11 a. m., when a report on the conference at Blacksburg will be given by Mrs. Bernard Costello; on Wednesday, the agent will attend a conference of district agents and specialists in Winchester, when plans will be made for the 4-H Club work this fall. Miss Belle Burke and Miss Johnson, clothing specialist, will have charge of the meeting; Thursday morning—4-H Club meeting at Waterford, and at 2 p. m. home demonstration meeting at Sterling, when there will be a local canning exhibit and a demonstration on salads by the leaders; Friday, a new home demonstration club at Furnace Mountain will be organized and a demonstration on dressing windows will be given by Miss Bundy.

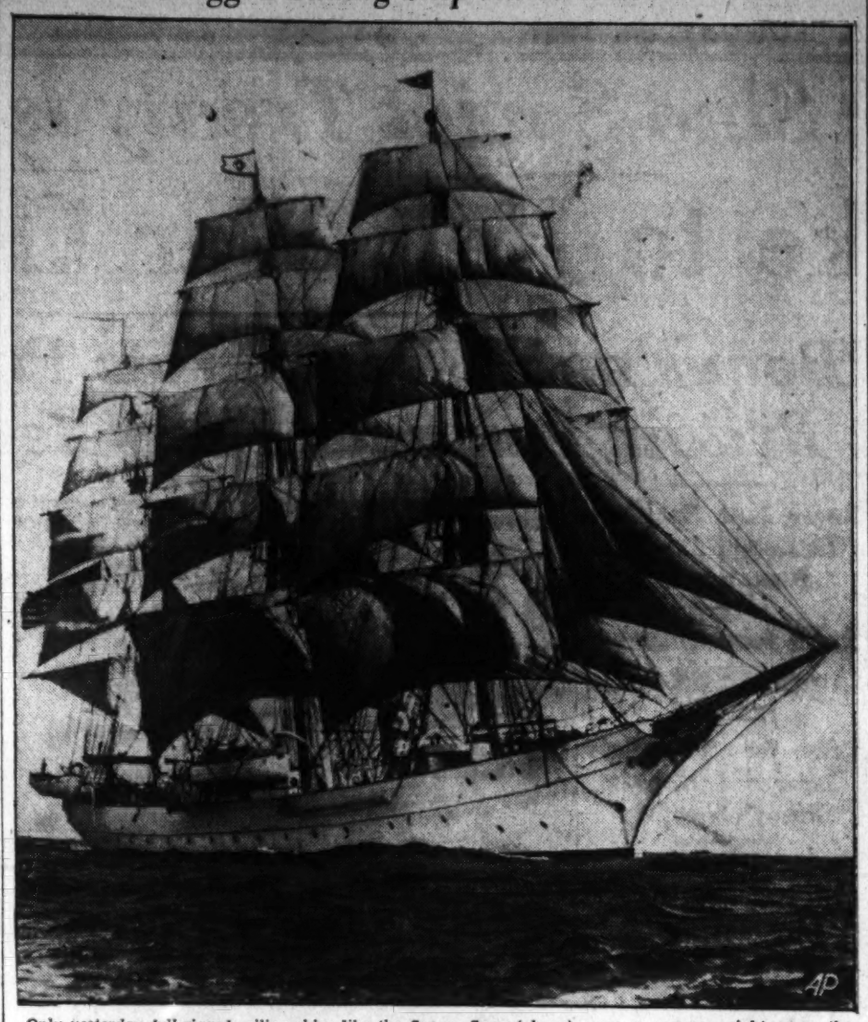
Escaped N. C. Convict Captured at Asheville

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 29 (U.P.).—John Henry Lowery, 28, one of eight convicts who tunneled out of Central State Prison here August 12, has been recaptured at Asheville, N. C., Oscar Pitts, acting State penal director, was informed late today. Meantime, Pitts said, search continued for William Payne, North Carolina's No. 1 desperado, an escaped convict and suspect in a recent murder, a bank robbery and a kidnaping.



Watch out for funny signs, send them to Ray Barnes, in care of this newspaper, and share your laughs.

Full-Rigged Sailing Ship Races to Bermuda



Only yesterday full-rigged sailing ships like the Seven Seas (above) were a common sight upon the waterways of the world. Today they are rare indeed. Another ship of the sailing era, the Joseph Conrad, is racing the Seven Seas from Newport, R. I., to Bermuda, while overhead are winging the modern clippers of the air which shuttle from New York to Hamilton in a few hours.

Gov. Townsend Sounds Knell For Van Nuys

Senator Accepts Challenge at Indiana Dinner for Democrat Editors.

By the Associated Press.

French Lick, Ind., Aug. 29.—An exchange between United States Senator Van Nuys (Democrat), Indiana, and Gov. M. Clifford Townsend at the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association meeting here left no doubt today in the minds of those who attended the session that the senior Senator's renomination next year will be opposed by the State administration.

The Governor, speaking at a dinner that brought the editorial meeting to a close last night, said:

"The people of our State will not tolerate, in my belief, anyone in public office who will not put his shoulder to the wheel and give his earnest support to the President."

Senator Van Nuys opposed President Roosevelt's Supreme Court reorganization bill.

"Cowardly Attack."

Van Nuys said in a statement after the dinner:

"I consider Gov. Townsend's address as an indirect and cowardly attack upon myself, my patriotism and my Democracy, and I accept the challenge from this hour on."

Van Nuys was the only person in the room who did not stand and applaud when the Governor finished his speech.

He had predicted earlier in a radio talk the fight for legislation to enlarge the Supreme Court would not be renewed.

Neither Senator Indorsed.

Several weeks ago, Townsend said his administration would oppose renomination of Van Nuys. Van Nuys countered with an announcement of his candidacy.

Saturday, arriving at this southern Indiana spa for the editorial meeting, Townsend said the senatorial race would be "wide open." The State administration in other years often has made public its choice for the Senate at the outing.

In resolutions commending the national and State administrations the editors mentioned neither Van Nuys nor his Democratic colleague, Sherman Minton, who has supported the President's court program.

The editors adopted a resolution indorsing former Gov. Paul V. McNutt, now United States High Commissioner to the Philippines, for the Presidential nomination in 1940.

German Guns Supplied To Portugal's Infantry

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 29 (AP).—Portuguese infantry are being armed with a new model Mauser rifle imported from Germany. The first consignment of the new weapon, costing 700,000 pounds ($3,500,000), has arrived from Germany and was being distributed today to Lisbon regiments. Millions of new-type cartridges for the guns already have been delivered and more consignments will arrive next week.

Portuguese military factories, meanwhile, were installing equipment to manufacture the new type ammunition. These plants will increase present production seven times.

Dog Kills Crippled Woman.

Oakland, Calif., Aug. 29 (AP).—An attack by a maddened chow dog proved fatal today to Miss Charlotte Parker, 65, a cripple. The chow went berserk after nipping Miss Parker and drawing blood. It downed the screaming woman and was tearing her arms when her calls brought police.

U.S. Loan Program For Cotton Crop Is Awaited Today

By the Associated Press.

The Government may announce today the terms of its program for stabilizing prices of this year's bumper cotton crop.

For two reasons, farm belt Congressmen awaited the announcement with interest

1. They expected it to give them a preview, so to speak, of crop-control legislation the Administration may recommend to Congress next session.

2. It will disclose the size of the loans the Governmnt will make on cotton to bolster the price. Cotton State legislators disagreed with Secretary Wallace over this phase of the program. They insisted on a 10-cent-a-pound loan, while Wallace urged only 9 cents. Directors of the Commodity Credit Corporation will fix the amount.

12-Cent Price Assured.

The loans will be supplemented by subsidy payments sufficiently large to assure the grower 12 cents a pound.

Subsidies will go to only those farmers who comply with crop-control legislation to be enacted next year. Legislators said a 9-cent loan would give the Government a powerful weapon with which to curtail production, since its supplementary subsidy payment would be 3 cents a pound, instead of the 2 cents which would be paid under a 10-cent loan.

The 3-cent payment, which would be withheld until next summer, would be more likely, they said, to induce growers to reduce acreage.

Five Held in Cuba For Arms Hearing

By the Associated Press.

Owen W. Gaines, American consul at Santiago, Cuba, reported to the State Department yesterday that five Americans, including Charles Kadey, of Fitchburg, Mass., and nine British subjects are under arrest in Santiago.

Gaines said they were detained because of a "large amount" of ammunition found in a launch in which they had crossed to Cuba from the Bahama Islands. The refugees reported they had fled from an "uprising" in the Bahamas, Gaines said. He added the nine will be given a hearing before a Cuban tribunal within three days.

One Hurt, 3 Escape As Car Overturns

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Fredericksburg, Va., Aug. 29.—W. F. MacDonald, 28, of Louisa, Va., suffered a broken arm and cuts about the head when the automobile in which he was riding with his wife and two small children left the highway and overturned several times 7 miles west of Fredericksburg yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. MacDonald, who was driving the car, said she was attempting to pass another machine which failed to give her the road. Her car left the highway and rolled down an embankment before coming to rest on its top. The four occupants crawled out through a broken windshield.

Cleveland Man Freed In 10 Torso Murders

Cleveland, Aug. 29 (AP).—Police released today a suspect in Cleveland's ten torso slayings of the past three years. Three days of questioning failed, detectives said, to connect him with the crimes.

Denver Inquiry In Bribe Cases Will Continue

Colorado Legislators and Liquor Law Lobbyist Among 9 Indicted.

By the Associated Press.

Denver, Aug. 29.—District Attorney John A. Carroll said today he will continue the grand jury investigation which led to indictment of nine Colorado men, including four legislators and a liquor law lobbyist, on bribery charges.

The grand jury's report indicated recordings obtained through listening devices, secretly installed in Gov. Teller Ammons' office by two of the accused, provided much of the information upon which the indictments were based.

Carroll said the recorded conversations may be made public at the trials.

Gifts Are Charged.

The legislators indicted yesterday are two Denver Democrats, Truman C. Hall and William J. Jennings; Marion E. Strain, Lamar, and Willard B. Preston, Adena, Republicans.

They are charged with bribery and violation of their oaths of office in connection with the defeat of the administration-sponsored State liquor monopoly bill.

Donald F. Clifford, Denver attorney who lobbied against the bill, is charged with bribery and attempted bribery, based on alleged gifts of liquor to legislators.

Special Session Possible.

The liquor monopoly bill, defeated after a bitter legislative fight, was called by the Ammons administration an important source of revenue. With the State facing a deficit of more than $2,000,000 for the biennium, Ammons has indicated he might call a special session. Another attempt to pass the liquor bill might be made, he said.

The jury suggested a thorough investigation of State government after declaring certain Colorado corporations and interests have obtained special privileges from both the legislative and administrative divisions.

Suicide Is Thwarted By Operator's Ruse

Fast talking by a police switchboard operator was believed to have halted a suicide attempt yesterday of a young Washington woman.

The woman phoned the emergency switchboard and announced she was going to commit suicide. Cupping his hand over the telephone, the operator relayed a call to the police dispatcher, and then engaged the woman in conversation.

Their talk was interrupted by the arrival of Officer C. H. League at the woman's apartment. He detected a slight odor of gas in the room. She was taken to Gallinger Hospital for observation. Her condition was not serious.

Excursion Arranged.

A special Labor Day excursion to Philadelphia has been arranged by the Pennsylvania Democratic Club of Washington. Two B. & O. trains will leave the Union Station, one on Friday at 5 p. m. and the other on Saturday at 1:30 p. m. Tickets are on sale at the club offices, 225 Colorado Building.

SPECIAL NOTICES

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN OF A SPECIAL meeting of Harmony Lodge, No. 9, I. O. O. F., at the Temple, 419 7th st. nw., on Monday, August 30, 1937, at 8 p. m., for the consideration of the matters of mortgage release and of certain benefits. F. R. LEAMAN, Recording Sec'y. J. A. KURZ, Noble Grand.

YOU Can make money, if you complete a BOYD Course. Shorthand, Typing, Calculating Machines, Bookkeeping, etc. Start today. new classes. BOYD'S, 1333 F St. NA. 2838

S. P. A. Thanks Postoffice for Fraternal Aid

Souvenir Stamp Issued for Asheville Conclave; C. H. Just Honored.

By William M. Stuart,
A Staff Correspondent.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 29.—At the forty-third annual convention of the Society of Philatelic Americans, the following resolution was adopted last night as the session closed: "Resolved, That the Postoffice Department be extended the thanks of the Society of Philatelic Americans for its generous recognition in the issuance of the souvenir sheet of the 10-cent National Park stamp on the occasion of the forty-third convention held in Asheville, N. C. That in this effort we most heartily except this recognition as a bond of fraternalism between the Postoffice Department and organized philately, and that the encouragement of stamp collecting is well promoted by the co-operation of both Government and people as evidenced in this timely recognition."

Resolutions of thanks were also adopted in behalf of Supt. R. E. Fellers, of the Division of Stamps, and Mrs. Louise Shawn and Charles F. Anderson for their work in connection with the first day sales of the sheet.

The resolution to establish in four key cities branch philatelic agencies was voted tabled and a discussion by Harry Lingquist, of New York, F. R. Rice, of Washington, J. Edward Vining, of St. Louis, August Dietz and Charles Hoffman, of Richmond, Va., who opposed the suggestion, had the effect of defeating the resolution.

The convention voted to indorse National Philatelic Week, November 17 to November 25, 1937. August Dietz, of Richmond, spoke on the new edition of the Preston historical stamp album, and presented Mr. Preston, of Bristol, Va., to the convention.

Upon Harry L. Lindquist's suggestion of a program for future conventions, President Coppock appointed a committee on agenda comprising Secretary F. L. Coes, Harry L. Lindquist, Russell J. Broderick and William M. Stuart.

The exhibition of several hundred frames attracted much attention. Many awards were made, the grand prize going to Max Johl, of New York for his exhibit of complete twentieth century United States stamps. C. H. Just, president of the Collectors Club of Washington, received an award for his German stamps.

The auction last night was conducted by Gregory Mozian, of New York.

New Deal Disposes Of Good Old Days, Declares Farley

Rocky Point, R. I., Aug. 29 (AP).—Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic National Committee declared today there must be no letdown in the Roosevelt social program.

Addressing the Young Men's Democratic League of Rhode Island, Farley said:

"There is not one general feature of the comprehensive plan of Roosevelt that is not essential to the whole. We move forward to the taking of the last defenses of the enemy armed with the most overwhelming mandate of the people in the history of the Republic."

Asserting many of the President's enemies complain he will prevent return of the "good old days," Farley agreed that is precisely the purpose of many measures.

"The 'good old days' of privilege, mounted and with whip and spur, the 'good old days' of the economic exploitation of the people under the protection of the police, the 'good old days' of swollen fortunes and starving children, the 'good old days' of famine in the midst of granaries groaning with grain, the 'good old days' of rotten securities and no protection against their sale—these 'good old days' passed to the blackest pages of American history in the blackest panic that we have ever known," he said.

Puerto Rican Ends Life After Baring Death Plot

Ponce, Puerto Rico, Aug. 29 (AP).—Antonio Rivera Cordova, who gave authorities information concerning the attempted assassination of United States District Judge Robert A. Cooper, committed suicide here today.

Because of his giving information, he had received anonymous threats that his eyes would be punched out and his tongue torn out. Judge Cooper was fired upon June 8 by a band of men who tried to waylay his automobile. Ten nationalists are under arrest as suspected conspirators in the plot.

France to Investigate Firing of Two Planes

Versailles, France, Aug. 29 (AP).—A crude fire bomb destroyed one American-made plane and damaged another today at a mysterious airport near Versailles from which many planes have "vanished" while flying near the Spanish border. An investigation was started.

• ESTABLISHED 1865 •
"Quality-Bilt"
SCREEN DOORS
Barker's two conveniently located warehouses are completely stocked with all sizes at present low prices. Each door 1⅛" thick and made to give lasting satisfaction. "Quality-bilt" doors are sold exclusively in Washington by Barker, home of quality lumber and millwork.
GEO. M. BARKER • COMPANY •
LUMBER and MILLWORK
649-651 N. Y. Ave. N.W.
1523 7th St. N.W.
Nat. 1348, "The Lumber Number"

Dema-, Pluto- and Theogogues Assailed as Democracy's Foes

Chicago Professor, in Address to Institute of Human Relations, Lashes at 'Rich Who Can-Not Speak for Themselves.'

By the Associated Press.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 29.—Prof. T. V. Smith, of the University of Chicago and an Illinois State Senator, tonight told the opening session of the Institute of Human Relations the "demagogues, plutogogues and theogogues" were the greatest enemies of the democratic process.

In an address before 400 persons, representing Protestantism, Catholicism and Judaism, Smith called the demagogue, plutogogue and the theogogue, "fearful trinity, constituting the very diabolus of democracy."

Dr. Harry Garfield, president emeritus of Williams College, where the institute met under the sponsorship of the National Conference of Jews and Christians, gave the keynote for the week-long conference, which has as its theme "Public Opinion in a Democracy."

"We are here," he said, "to exchange ideas, not to battle over programs of actions."

Smith described the demagogue as "the personage who mistakes the empty echo of his own cadences for the very heartbeat of humanity."

"The plutogogue," he said, "is the voice of the wealthy when they can no longer speak big for themselves. You will hear his soft-spoken message in the columns of our sophisticated Walter Lippmanns and of our unctuous Glenn Franks. You will see, or gently feel, his gloved hand in the eulogistic releases of our late Ivy Lees and of our ever present Bernays."

The "theogogue," Smith asserted, "is to be discovered in the Bible Belt, where he is a person pompous with pretense of some private superior access to Diety, bespeaking a privileged class stamped with the mark of intolerant self-righteousness.

"As a politician gone stale with his constituency, he speaks like William Jennings Bryan, on any subject from real estate to immortality, in the majestic tones of God soothing troubled seas—for an honorarium."

Hoover Leads Two Vice Raids In Atlantic City

Philadelphia and Wilmington Also Hit in Swoops by F. B. I. Men.

By the Associated Press.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 29.—Led by J. Edgar Hoover, Federal agents swept through this city and two others in Pennsylvania and Delaware today in 16 simultaneous "white slave" raids, arresting more than 125 men and women.

The raids were worked on a zero hour bases, hoover said, and in less than an hour halted operations in ten major and three minor Atlantic City spots, two others in Philadelphia and one in Wilmington.

It all came suddenly at midnight when the shore resort's streets were filled with visitors, and was all over within two hours as bus loads of prisoners were taken to Trenton.

Assistant United States District Attorney William F. Smith named as the principal defendant Harry L. Roth, who he said was arrested in New York, where no raids were staged. He said Roth would be brought to Trenton tomorrow.

Hoover, who checked in at a beach front hotel last night, stayed five hours and personally led two of the raids, told newsmen that Roth was "reputed to be a member of the Lucky Luciano gang."

For three months, Hoover revealed, Reed Vetterli, special F. B. I. agent in charge of New Jersey, had investigated the "establishments" in New Jersey, while other F. B. I. agents conducted investigations in Wilmington and Philadelphia.

Local police did not participate and were surprised at news of the raid. Radio cars scattered throughout Atlantic City and police arrived before several "houses" to find crowds watching the F. B. I. agents load men and women into buses.

Dr. Thwing Dead; Noted as Educator

Cleveland, Aug. 29 (AP).—Dr. Charles Francis Thwing, 83, president emeritus of Western Reserve University, died today.

Dr. Thwing was widely known as an author, lecturer, and educator. He resigned in 1921 after serving as president of Western Reserve in Cleveland 31 years. Before coming to Cleveland, he was pastor of the North Avenue Church in Cambridge, Mass., and of Plymouth Church in Minneapolis. He is survived by three daughters.

More Chilly Weather Predicted for Capital

The Weather Bureau yesterday issued a prediction of continued cool weather as Washingtonians shivered in a temperature that failed to rise above 79 degrees.

Recording a low of 71 at 7 a. m., the mercury struggled to the high of 79 at 4 p. m. yesterday afternoon and then began a drop that is expected to reach 70 degrees today. Occasional rain also was forecast for today.

D. C. Man Bitten When He Attempts To Fondle Horse

Vance Stewart, colored, 38, of 308 Second street southwest, will think twice before he stops to pet a horse along the street.

Yesterday he approached a horse standing in front of his home. The horse bit his hand, not seriously, but the wound required treatment at Emergency Hospital.

Police said the animal was owned by John White, 215½ C street southwest, who had rented it to William Watts, 229 C street.

Repeal's Benefits Listed by Cochran

By the United Press.

Repeal of prohibition was pictured to the country last night as an unmixed blessing by Representative John J. Cochran (Democrat), of Missouri, in refutation of what he termed as a "flood of propaganda" for re-enactment of dry laws.

The Missourian asserted that the Nation had bettered itself in at least 10 ways by repeal of prohibition. He listed as "benefits" from repeal: A decline in deaths and death rates from alcoholism; decrease in arrests for drunken driving; a decrease in arrests for drunkenness; a drop in the number of women and young people arrested for drunkenness; a sharp reduction in all major crimes, particularly homicides; collection of $1,759,000,000 taxes by the Federal Government; collection of several billion dollars by States and local governments in beer and liquor taxes, much of which was applied to pensions, schools and other similar branches of Government benefits; creation of approximately 1,250,000 jobs through distilling and allied trades; a boost of approximately $6,500,000,000 in farm income, due to diversion of a surplus 10 per cent of grain crops into the liquor industry; drunkenness and adultery as causes of divorce both declined from pre-repeal years.

Bloc to Reopen Congress Drive For Inflation

Thomas to Offer Monetary Authority Amendment to Farm Bill.

Advocates of currency inflation will renew their drive, largely dormant during the last session of Congress, when the legislators reassemble here, it became clear last night when Senator Elmer Thomas (Democrat), Oklahoma, announced he will offer a "monetary stabilization" amendment to the general farm bill listed as Congress' first order of business.

In a statement made public before his departure from Washington, Thomas indicated members of the inflation bloc in both Senate and House will co-operate between now and January in shaping his bill "to create a Federal monetary authority," to make it available as a Title II for any general farm measure.

Representative Wright Patman (Democrat), Texas, once author of the ill-fated bill to pay the veterans' bonus with newly-issued currency, has promised. Thomas intimated, to press for similar action in the House.

Thomas argued while a higher price level has brought about a general improvement in business, he is convinced such price level is "not yet quite high enough" to enable the people to make necessary money with which to pay their taxes, interest and debts.

"It is impossible to enact any satisfactory farm legislation until the regulation and stabilization of the dollar has been accomplished," he said.

Senator Thomas added:

"There have been misleading and incorrect statements made relative to the objective of the monetary authority bill. The proposed legislation is very simple. It proposes to vitalize the constitutional provision which gives Congress the power to regulate the value of money."

9 Escaped Felons Sought in District

Nine desperadoes, all fugitives from North Carolina prisons, were being sought by police here last night.

Three of the men were serving life terms for murder. The others are convicted bank robbers and safe crackers.

Six of the men fled the Central Prison in a jail break August 12. They are Worth Proctor, Eddie Cobb, John Henry Lowder, Earl Roland Allen, Paul Edwards, James Everett. The others broke away from the Caledonia Prison Farm in February. They are William Payne, 35, suspected of slaying a State highway patrolman, and Payne's partner, Wash Turner, and Frederick C. Yeager, 21.

River Outing Arranged By Federated Employes

The Federated Government Employes' Association will hold a moonlight outing on the steamship Potomac Friday, September 10. The program will include a floor show starring Miss Opal Petrey, well-known acrobat and singer.

The association, which includes all classes of Government and municipal employes not under Civil Service, has about 40,000 members in the District of Columbia.

Last Rites for Cardinal.

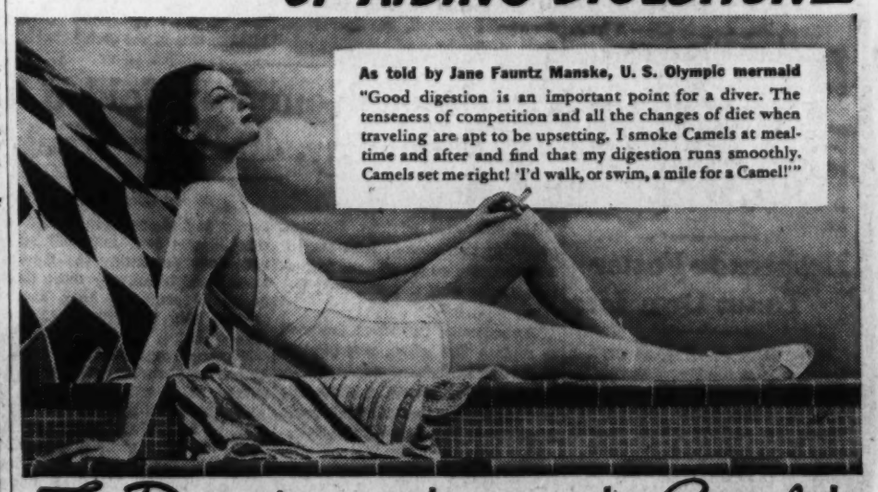
Vatican City, Aug. 29 (AP).—Last sacraments were administered today to Gaetano Cardinal Bisleti, gravely ill from bronchial pneumonia. The Pope sent his blessing. The cardinal, 81, was master of the chamber under Pope Leo XIII.

At most universities where dress is important Hickey-Freeman suits are almost a tradition. Discerning college men realize that a suit in order to hold its own on the campus must have fabric durability—distinctive styling and lasting smartness. Hickey-Freeman's deft masters of tailouring have long been unsurpassed in achieving the... qualities in gentlemen's suits.

$55

Goldheim's
1409 H Street
*Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

AN EXPERT DIVER'S WAY OF AIDING DIGESTION—



As told by Jane Fauntz Manske, U. S. Olympic mermaid

"Good digestion is an important point for a diver. The tenseness of competition and all the changes of diet when traveling are apt to be upsetting. I smoke Camels at mealtime and after and find that my digestion runs smoothly. Camels set me right! 'I'd walk, or swim, a mile for a Camel!'"

For Digestion's sake—smoke Camels!

Death of Aged Woman Raises Auto Toll to 72; Two Bolling Field Men Injured

Inquest Slated After Collision Proves Fatal

Ralph Jones Expires After Saturday Crash; Few Accidents Reported.

District traffic yesterday claimed another victim, whose death sent this year's fatality total to 72, 16 above last year's total at this time.

The latest victim, Mrs. Ann Sanford, 70, of 4225 Brandywine street northwest, succumbed in Georgetown Hospital yesterday of a fractured skull. She had been knocked down by an automobile on August 21, while crossing the street at River road and Brandywine street.

After the accident, police arrested Huntley N. Ruff, colored, 24, of 823 Twenty-first street northwest, driver of the car, and charged him with reckless driving. He will appear before a coroner's jury.

Meanwhile, few traffic accidents were reported to police yesterday.

Two men, attached to Bolling Field, were injured, one seriously, early yesterday when their automobile ran off the road and crashed into a culvert on the Marlboro pike near Silver Hill, Md.

Edward V. Miller, 25, driver of the car, was treated at Casualty Hospital for minor cuts and bruises. He was released after treatment. His companion, Robert D. Kisling, 21, sustained a possible fractured skull and severe cuts. He was treated at Casualty Hospital and later transferred to Walter Reed Hospital.

Richard Williams, 39, of 1329 E street southeast, suffered a brain concussion and lacerations when his car ran off Route 5 near T. B., Md. At Casualty Hospital his condition was "undetermined."

An inquest is scheduled to be held this morning in the traffic death of Ralph Jones, 38, of 1723 West Virginia avenue northeast, who died in Emergency Hospital Saturday.

Two men, Elmer M. Bliss, jr., 2800 Twenty-seventh street northwest, with whom Jones was riding, and Lawrence J. Bernard, 4459 Verplank place northeast, will appear before the jury.

The collision occurred at Forty-sixth and Elliott streets northwest.

Mrs. Sanford, a native of Ireland, had lived in Washington for 54 years. Her husband, Charles M. Sanford, died in 1913. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Nicholson and Mrs. Louise Melia, and five sisters, Mrs. Susie Parrot, Mrs. Mary Farquhar, Miss Lillian Walsh, Miss Sarah Walsh and Miss Margaret Walsh, all of Washington.

2,000 Apple Growers Feted by Sen. Byrd

Special Dispatch to The Post

Berryville, Va., Aug. 29.—Senator Harry F. Byrd, owner of more than 1,000 acres of apple orchards in Clarke County, was host yesterday to more than 2,000 growers at his picnic at Rosemont orchards here.

Fred Motz, foreign marketing specialist of the United States Department of Agriculture, with headquarters in London, was the principal speaker. Other speakers were Dr. R. D. Anthony, of Pennsylvania State College; H. W. Miller, of Paw Paw, W. Va., president of the West Virginia Horticultural Society; Wayne M. French, of the firm of Simons & French, apple growers and shippers of New York; Samuel Frazier, Rochester, N. Y., connected with the International Apple Association; Dr. W. H. Skinner and W. S. Campfield, secretary of the Virginia State Horticultural Society.

Historic Key Estate In St. Marys Is Sold

Leonardtown, Md., Aug. 29.—Part of the historic Tudor Hall estate has been sold by its owner Dr. Sothern Key, of Washington, and other members of the Key family to Clarence E. Bright, also of Washington, it was learned yesterday from a deed recorded at St. Marys courthouse. Five hundred and thirty-six acres of land, 1½ miles of it situated on the waterfront, were included in the sale, although the Tudor Hall mansion and nearby grounds were retained.

The property, which has been in the Key family for 150 years, will be subdivided into building lots except for one section which will be reserved for a model farm and another for a public park along the waterfront.

'Dumb' Judge to Use Pad, Pencil in Court

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29 (AP).—Judge Michael A. Musmanno, deprived of speech by a throat ailment, will conduct court this fall with a pad and pencil. The judge, now completing a 30,000-mile ocean voyage for his health, wrote to friends in Pittsburgh he would return in time for the September term.

Mattern Has New Radio To Contact Lost Fliers

Juneau, Alaska, Aug. 29 (AP).—Jimmie Mattern, famous flier, took off late today on a substratosphere flight to contact with special radio equipment the lost Russian transpolar plane of Pilot Sigismund Levanevsky and five companions.

Tobacco Queen Chosen.

La Plata, Md., Aug. 29.—Miss Cecelia Burch has been chosen queen of Charles County's tobacco pageant, to be held September 16, 17 and 18 in connection with the county fair. Her attendants will be Miss Eleanor Digges, Mrs. Richard Bolling and Mrs. Omar Jones, all former tobacco queens.

Democrat Club Elects.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Leesburg, Va., Aug. 29.—W. E. Tyler, jr., of Aldie, was unanimously elected president of the Loudoun County Young Democratic Club at the annual meeting held here last night. Miss Stella Norman, of Purcellville, was elected vice president, and Francis L. Patton, of Leesburg, secretary. Jack Russell was re-elected treasurer.

Wirephoto: Win Double Honors at Twin Convention

Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

Alta and Alva Dank (top), 25-year-old twins from Eldridge, Iowa, voted the most attractive couple of the 1,500 attending the sixth annual National Twin Convention at Fort Wayne, Ind., put their heads together in a manner which suggests they are plotting double trouble. Another of the unusual sights seen at the convention was the lower group, which contains two sets of twins from the same family. Bernis and Arlynne Ann Crawford, of Fort Wayne, 3, sit on the laps of their grandmother and great-aunt, Mrs. N. H. Crawford, of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. William Knowlton, of Willard, Ohio, 80-year-old twins.

New England And South Lead Senate Revolt

Midwest, East, Mountain States Back Roosevelt Most Heavily.

By the Associated Press.

Analysis of the Senate line-up on recent issues showed yesterday the bulk of opposition to Roosevelt policies came from New England, the solid South, and the Pacific Coast.

The Chief Executive received his strongest support from the Western mountain States, the Middle West and part of the industrial East.

The analysis indicated one of two propositions is true. New England is decidedly against recent Roosevelt policies the Pacific States are about evenly divided on them, and the South is badly split by them, or else Democratic Chairman James H. Farley was right when he said those voting against Administration measures did not represent their constituents.

Farm Issue as Basis.

The position of Senators on four major issues of the past session was used as a basis for the analysis. The issues were the Roosevelt court bill, the wage-hour bill, the Wagner low-cost housing bill, and the move to clurtail the Administration's relief spending.

Three of these issues reached a show down in Senate votes. On the court bill, only those Senators who had publicly declared for or against the measure were counted.

New England, with its Senatorial representation divided evenly between Republicans and Democrats, was the only area voting against the New Deal on the whole. Although it favored the wage-hour bill, this fact was overshadowed by its opposition to Roosevelt policy on the three other issues.

The Pacific States, with their Senatorial representation also equally divided between the parties, lined up evenly on the four Roosevelt policies.

South Shows Split.

The South, despite its solid Democratic representation, voted only 41 to 30 for the Roosevelt policies as a whole, showing what a serious revolt had developed in that section against the wage-hour and other Administration measures.

All other sections voted more than 2 to 1 for the program as a whole.

The House did not have showdown votes on most of these issues. But opposition on some of them from such spokesmen as Representatives Sumners (Democrat), of Texas; Dies (Democrat), of Texas, and Cox (Democrat), of Georgia, indicated a similar trend in sectional sentiment.

The South stayed in the Roosevelt column except on relief. That issue, presented in an amendment to the relief bill to require local communities to share the cost, found ten Southern Senators voting for the restriction and only nine opposing it.

The Middle West and Mountain States voted unanimously for the housing bill, but were slightly against the court bill on the basis of publicly declared Senators.

Van Devanter 'Shaken' As Automobiles Collide

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 29 (AP).—Former Justice Willis S. Van Devanter, of the United States Supreme Court, was shaken today in an automobile collision. Dr. Walter M. Lacey, Cheyenne, nephew of the 78-year-old retired judge, told the Associated Press the jurist suffered no injury.

Stork's Crop Biggest At Matanuska Harvest

Seattle, Aug. 29 (AP).—It's harvest time in Uncle Sam's Matanuska Valley colony, but the stork has stolen the show.

"We produced many good vegetables and barley but the stork is responsible for the biggest crop," Colonist Dave Omkka, here on a visit, said today.

THE BEST THINGS in life are easy to own . . . when you use our convenient terms
PAY ONLY 50c OR $1 A WEEK!
S. & N. KATZ
1114 F ST. N.W.

Thousands of Honey Bees Die Defending Against Invaders

Swarms Raid Neighbors' Nests After Sampling Choice Sweets Left by Farmer; Civil War Ceases When Entrances Are Sealed.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Charlottesville, Va., Aug. 29.—Reports reached the city today of a recent bloody civil war between rival factions in a bee kingdom 15 miles south of Charlottesville.

The internecine strife cost thousands of bees their lives. The conflict was motivated by the same desire which has set off innumerable wars among human beings—the desire for greater possessions.

It was like this:

A prominent farmer, the owner of thousands of domestic bees, had supplemented these with the wild species for the purpose of fertilizing his orchard. The day "war was declared" the farmer had been taking honey from one of his numerous hives and was holding a comb in his hand when a passerby engaged him in conversation. He laid aside his honeycomb, leaving the hive exposed.

While the conversation was in progress, several hundred of the domestic and wild creatures began indulging in the extracted comb. This free feast apparently generated a lust for greater spoils.

Greedy with the desire for greater possessions, the bees began a series of raids on the other hives.

Immediately the occupants of the hives took up a defense of their homes and engaged the invaders in aerial combat. Thousands of unfortunates, mortally wounded, fell to the ground, while the farmer and his friend looked on, fascinated by the spectacle before them.

Finally in a desperate effort to stop the battle, the farmer obtained gunnysacks and wrapped each of the hives. The engagement finally ceased. The next day the bees, peace declared, were back at their normal pursuits.

Mrs. Larson Dies At Barcroft, Va.

Mrs. Kirsten Larson, 83, widow of Thomas Larson, died early yesterday after a long illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. J. Long, at Barcroft, Va.

A native of Aalborg, Denmark, Mrs. Larson came to America in the early seventies and moved to nearby Virginia from Nebraska, 27 years ago.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Emily M. Cronenwith, Washington; Mrs. Lillian Christensen, Portland, Oreg., and Mrs. Clara Lewis, Jacksonville, Fla., and four sons, Walter C. Larson, Kearney, Nebr.; George L. Larson, Bethesda, Md.; Alfred P. Larson, Salt Lake City, and Ralph K. T. Larson, Norfolk.

Funeral services will beheld Wednesday at 2 p. m. at her former home in Manassas. Burial will be in Hixson Cemetery, Manassas.

Summer Camp Closes.

The Good Samaritans' free camp for underprivileged chaildren at Woodland Beach, Md., ended its season yesterday with special exercises attended by parents and friends of the children. During the summer children have been brought to the camp in different groups for two weeks vacation periods.

ROOF LEAK?
NA. 4370
GICHNER!

Kitty Hawk, N. C., Surf Gives Up Lawyer's Body

Kitty Hawk, N. C., Aug. 29 (U.P.).—The body of Jefferson D. Donnahoe, Washington, D. C., Federal Land Bank Commission attorney, was washed ashore late today near the spot where he was killed by lightning Thursday while swimming in the surf off Kill Devil Hill.

AIR CONDITIONED
Breakfast with country-side appetite in counter-
HOT CAKES 10¢
Served with Honey-Maple Syrup
Ceres LUNCH
1311 E. Street N.W.

Planes Smash Loyalist Drive, Rebels Claim

Government Denies Thrust at Zaragoza Crushed, Reports Gains.

By the Associated Press.

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug 29.—Insurgent dispatches from the Aragon front tonight said the government offensive against Zaragoza had been "smashed to pieces by an air counteroffensive unequaled in the Spanish civil war."

Conflicting communiques came from the government defense ministry, which claimed its troops had captured important positions around the insurgent stronghold of Zaragoza in northeastern Spain.

Insurgent communiques said Gen. Francisco Franco concentrated 150 war planes, including 40 huge bombers, at Zaragoza, and rained bombs and machine-gun fire on attacking government infantry.

Government aircraft was driven from the sky, the insurgents reported, and the government ground troops suffered more than 10,000 casualties.

Government forces had tried to take Zaragoza before Franco could transfer sufficient strength to Aragon from the conquered Santander area on the Bay of Biscay coast. The insurgents were hastily mopping up west of Santander and driving toward Asturias Province, the last government-held area in northwest Spain.

Loyalists Win in South.

Madrid (Monday), Aug. 30 (U.P.).—Loyalist forces today occupied many villages in southeast Spain in an offensive move in Andalucia, the government announced.

The rebels reportedly were unprepared for the push and suffered great losses.

The nightly cannonading of Madrid, to which the populace has become accustomed in the past few days, began again early Sunday night.

Americans Rescued.

Saint Jean De Luz, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 29 (U.P.).—The U. S. Destroyer Kane will arrive in Bayonne tomorrow morning with 100 American and Cuban refugees rescued from the besieged and heavily bombarded Asturian seaport of Gijon, U. S. Ambassador Claude G. Bowers said tonight.

Uruguay Urges Recognition.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Aug. 29 (U.P.).—The Uruguayan foreign office is privately petitioning other South American governments for mass recognition of the Spanish rebel government at Burgos, it was reported here tonight.

Famous Stage Star Appraises Screen Capital

'Most Sophisticated Community in World,' According to Miss Collier.

"Twenty years ago, Hollywood was a country lane; today it is the most sophisticated community in the world."

In those few words, Constance Collier traces the remarkable development of the motion picture capital of the globe.

Few are better able to describe and evaluate Hollywood than Miss Collier. It was Miss Collier who was brought to Hollywood 20 years ago from England to play Lady Macbeth opposite Sir Herbert Tree, famed English actor, in the first Shakespearean play ever filmed.

It was Miss Collier who introduced two of the most famous stars the screen has even known, Charles Chaplin and Douglas Fairbanks, who later became fast friends and founded United Artists.

After four trips to Hollywood, Miss Collier, currently playing a featured role in Fred Astaire's first solo starring vehicle, "A Damsel in Distress," at RKO Radio, is establishing a permanent residence. While she is furnishing an apartment, she is the house guest of Charlie Chaplin, whom she has known since he was 16 years old.

"The transformation of Hollywood has been amazing to me," Miss Collier reminisced. "The first time I arrived here it was nothing but a country lane, with the Hollywood Hotel at one end of it and a few studios scattered about. The next time I came, it had grown into a village. The third time it was a busy suburb of Los Angeles. And today it is the most sophisticated place in the world."

In a preface to her book, "Harlinquade," which has gone into our editions, Noel Coward, noted playwright and actor, describes Miss Collier as "great lady of the theater," and writes, "I can think of nobody more admirably equipped to write a book of the theater than Constance Collier."

Coroner to Study Death of Va. Girl

A coroner's jury today will study the death of a 19-year-old Alexandria girl who died August 12 allegedly from the effects of an illegal operation.

A physician and an elderly woman arrested after the girl's death, who were released on $2,000 bond, each will appear at the hearing.

According to Detective Sergt. Tolson, the girl came to Washington August 2 for the operation. She was admitted to Alexandria Hospital August 11 where she died the following day.

Traffic Victim

MRS. ANN SANFORD.

Rosh Hashanah Services to Aid Jews in Europe

Washington rabbis have been asked by Chairman Felix M. Warburg, of the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, to devote part of their Rosh Hashanah services next Sunday and Monday to further the committee's campaign to aid oppressed Jews in Europe.

According to Rabbi Abram Simon, of the Washington Hebrew Congregation, no direct appeal for funds will be made in most congregations here because of the intensive drive conducted last spring, when more than $80,000 was raised. The committee's work will be discussed, however.

Following the opening of the celebration Sunday evening, Orthodox synagogues will observe Rosh Hashanah through Monday and Tuesday. Reform groups will celebrate Monday only.

Rosh Hashanah—literally translated, "the beginning of the year"—is the first of ten days of penitence, the most important religious season in the Jewish calendar. The period is set aside for introspection and prayer. The climax of the season is Yom Kippur, the day of atonement.

The Washington Hebrew Congregation will hold a service Sunday at 8 p. m., at which Dr. Simon will preach, and Monday at 10:30 a. m., when Rabbi Norman Gerstenfeld, his assistant, will speak. Monday's meeting will be featured by a cornet service, symbolic of the traditional blowing of the ram's horn.

Homes Looted, 3 Men Robbed Over Week-End

Pair Takes $3.50 From Taximan After Forced Trip to Baltimore.

Three robberies and more than a score of housebreakings were reported to police over the week-end.

Sol R. Luber, 1916 Seventeenth street northwest, a cab driver, stated two highwaymen forced him to drive to Baltimore, where they robbed him of $3.50.

Luber told police the men hailed him at North Capitol and K streets shortly after midnight, threatened him with a gun and forced him to drive to Baltimore, where they robbed him of his night's fares.

Henry Green, 1460 Columbia road northwest, was robbed of $23.30 early yesterday by two colored men who "yoked" him in the 900 block T street northwest.

Frank Belhea, colored, 2811 Sherman avenue northwest, reported $5 was taken from him by three men who overpowered him near his home. His assailants were all young colored men, he said.

Jewelry, valued at $200, and a pocketbook containing $5 were taken from his rooms in the Westchester Apartments, Maj. William P. Scobey, U. S. A., told police yesterday. Maj. Scoby, who is assigned to the War College, said the door apparently was forced.

Two 15-year-old boys were caught pilfering a drug store in the 2500 block of Fourteenth street northwest early yesterday by police called by a passerby.

Elkton Felon Recaptured.

Elkton, Md., Aug. 29 (AP).—Hampton Hall, one of seven prisoners who escaped from the county jail here August 11, was captured in Pennsylvania early today and returned to the jail. Hall was arrested while he slept at the home of a relative near Avondale, Pa.

TRICO
Radiator Covers
complete the beauty of well-furnished and decorated rooms, prevent radiator smudge and provide proper humidity. Reasonable prices—convenient terms.
Estimates without obligation.
FREDERIC B. BLACKBURN
1700 Conn. Ave. 2nd floor
Potomac 4783

ARCADE-SUNSHINE CO., Inc
ARCADE'S THREE ACRE CLEANSING PLANT . . . .
calls at your door

A fleet of more than 40 delivery cars, a score of tailors, hundreds of cleansing craftsmen who have been at Arcade for many, many years . . . all these and more are at your service when you call COlumbia 8010. The best costs NO more at Arcade!

Call COLUMBIA 8010
ARCADE-SUNSHINE
"Washington's Complete Cleansing Institution"

'Frisco Chinatown, World's Largest, Pours Out Cash for Homeland's War

'6 Companies' Start Bond Sale Of 30 Millions

City, on 'Over There' Basis, Subscribes Third of Quota in a Day.

By the Associated Press.

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—Chinatown went on an "over there" basis today and poured money into the Nanking treasury for the homeland's bloody conflict with the Japanese.

The Chinese Six Companies, political and commercial rulers of the 80,000 Chinese in America, announced a world-wide drive to sell 100,000,000 Shanghai dollars' worth of nationalist government wartime bonds. That amounts to more than $30,000,000 in American money. money.

Chinese mothers made thousands of paper flowers, which 10 brightly dressed schoolgirls from the colony sold in one day to add $500 to Nanking's war chest.

Ask Japanese Boycott.

Youths from St. Mary's Catholic Chinese School went into the streets on a city-wide shoe-shining campaign designed to pour more nickles and dimes into the military coffers.

Youngsters all over Chinatown were proffering small, neatly printed cards to tourists asking them not to buy Japanese-made goods.

Chinese all over the country were contributing outright to the cause, in addition to the bond campaign.

Bonds Quickly Subscribed.

Chinatown's quota in the bond drive was reported to be $300,000 American money, and the Six Companies announced one-third of that sum was subscribed yesterday.

The population of 17,000, largest of its kind outside China, also was reported to have contributed several hundred thousand dollars outright to the Nanking treasury.

From Cincinnati came reports that Chinese there had raised $300,000. Three hundred Chinese in St. Louis were said to have contributed $10,000. It is the same in Chinese colonies all over the Nation.

Arms and Propaganda Drive.

By the United Press.

In North China, the Japanese were conducting a double offensive—by arms and propaganda.

They claimed to have cleared out nearly all the remnants of shattered Chinese divisions defeated around the Nankow Pass and Kalgan, on the Peiping Suiyan Railway, northwest of Peiping.

Traffic on the Peiping-Suiyuan line from Peiping to Kalgan had not been restored, however, and it was believed that the progress of the Japanese campaign into Suiyuan Province might be slowed until the Japanese can restore their double communications lines—into Peiping and across Chahar Province to their great military bases in Manchukuo.

The propaganda offensive was most active in the conquered Peiping-Tientsin area of Hoppi Province. There scores of Chinese friendly to Japan were organizing pro-Japanese societies among the Chinese peasants, workers and students, and posting placards pledging protection to the Chinese people, lower taxes and increased prosperity.

Consul Says Japan Is Seeking Peace

New York, Aug. 29 (AP).—Japanese Vice Consul Kazuyoshi Inagaki told an American radio audience tonight his country's sole aim in the undeclared Chinese war was "to bring about permanent co-operation between the two countries."

"Needless to say, Japan harbors no territorial designs. Japan and China must live side by side for endless centuries to come. We know that nothing can be gained by fighting each other," he said.

"But lasting peace cannot be brought about in Eastern Asia without eradicating anti-foreign and anti-Japanese agitations in China which have been the fundamental causes of all the recent troubles between the two countries."

Postal Clerks Seeking Wider Civil Service

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 29 (AP).—John J. Barrett, of New York City, president of the United National Association of Postoffice Clerks, said tonight the organization wants civil service extended even further than it was in President Roosevelt's executive order placing postmasters in that classification.

"We will not be satisfied until legislation is enacted extending civil service to all but the policy-making posts. We want it on the statute books," said Barrett on his arrival for the clerks' thirty-fifth national convention, opening tomorrow.

Iowa Girl Is Married In Chinese War Zone

Nanking, Aug. 29 (AP).—Miss Elizabeth Jane Chambers, of Des Moines, Iowa, today was married under wartime conditions to H. J. Timperley, Australian newspaperman and Associated Press correspondent in Nanking.

The ceremony was performed at the British consulate, with the bridal party ready to plunge into a dugout in the event of a Japanese air raid. There was no ring, because the Shanghai shop which was to have supplied it was wrecked by an air-bombing.

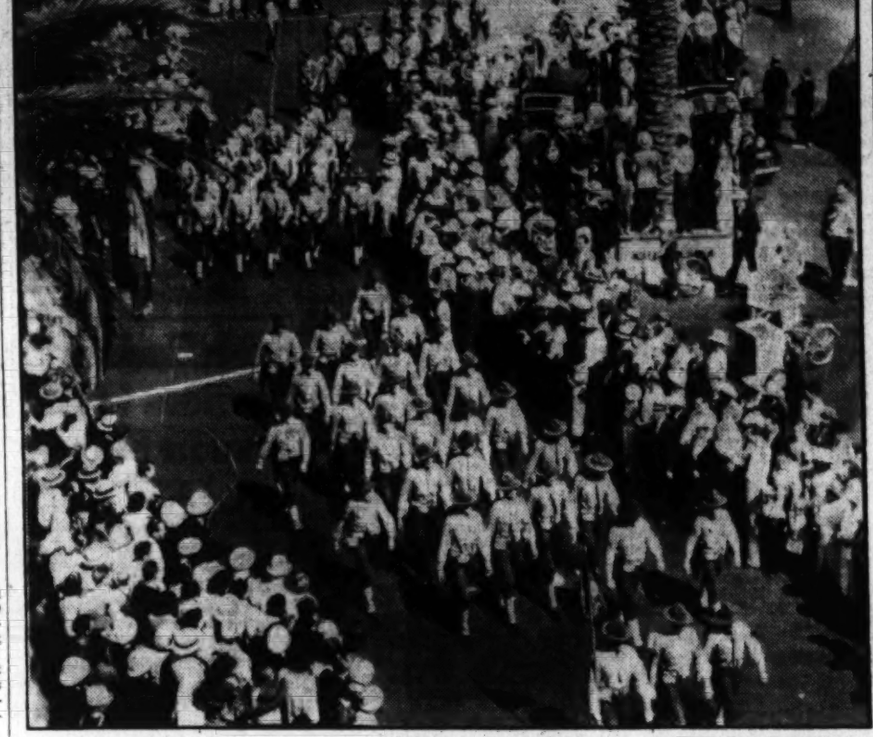
5 Rescued, 3 Injured In Michigan Boat Blast

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Aug. 29 (AP).—Five members of a boating party were rescued today when an explosion and fire destroyed a 32-foot cabin cruiser on Lake St. Clair. Three members of the party, including the boat's owner, Louis H. Smith, Mount Clemens veterinary, were injured.

Completes Ocean Flight.

Fort Washington, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP).—The Imperial (British) Airways flying boat Cambria landed here today, completing a second survey flight across the Atlantic Ocean. Officials said a return trip via Newfoundland would be started Thursday.

'American Expeditionary Force' of 1937



Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

Twenty years ago America's soldiers were embarking for the World War in Europe, but this scene of 1937 shows 1,200 Marines swinging along Broadway in San Diego, Calif., as they marched to board the transport Chaumont for guard duty in Shanghai.

Japan's Planes Rain Death on CivilianCrowds

Hundreds of Chinese Are Bombed at Shanghai, Nanking, Nanchang

Continued from Page 1.

killed more than 150 civilians in Nanking Friday.

The war office also declared that 16 Japanese bombers killed or wounded 308 Chinese noncombatants at Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi Province, and nearly 400 miles inland from Shanghai.

Chinese reports said an American missionary girls' school at Nanchang was bombed, but apparently no Americans were there at the time. The Kiangsi Agricultural College and the Kiangsi Rural Normal School were bombarded. Nanchang is the seat of an important Chinese army air base.

The Shanghai district bombed today is on the opposite side of the international areas from Nantao, where Japanese bombers, apparently trying to hit the South Station, Saturday killed 200 and wounded 400 civilians in a congested native quatrer.

Americans Escape in Raid.

Heavy seaplanes carried out the raid, which lasted more than an hour. Some bombs fell near the International Settlement defense sector held by the Fourth Regiment of United States Marines, but there were no American casualties. During the Shanghai conflict of 1932 this area escaped air bombardment because of the danger that explosives would fall on the American sector.

Shortly before the North Station was blasted, United States Consul General Clarence E. Gauss had telephoned to Japanese military headquarters to demand a cessation of artillery firing near the cruiser Augusta, flagship of the United States Asiatic Fleet, lying in the Whangpoo River off the International Settlement water front.

The Japanese replied that the shells falling near the Augusta came from a Chinese armored train at the North Station, which evidently was trying to hit the Idzumo, Japanese flagship lying well down the river from the Augusta.

American and British missions in China today telegraphed appeals to the Federal Council of Churches of America in New York, and the International Missionary Council in London, urging those bodies to appeal to the Washington and London governments to make strong representations to Japan against the bombing of civilian areas in and around Shanghai.

Dispatches from Hongkong reported the Japanese navy was clamping a tight blockade along the South China coast. A Japanese destroyer off Swatow, Kwangtung Province, was said to be stopping shipping of all nationalities and demanding proof of foreign registration.

As the result of increasing tension at Foochow, Fukien Povince, the British destroyer Delight left Hongkong for that port to protect British interests.

Ruins Searched for Dead.

Thousands of grief-crazed Chinese spent Sunday searching smoldering ruins around South Station in Nantao for loved ones, dead or missing in Saturday's devastating Japanese air raid. The South Station itelf, where thousands of Chinese refugees were waiting for trains to take them to safety when the Japanese bombers struck, was completely wrecked.

Poignant scenes were witnessed when tens of thousands of Chinese tried to flee from Nantao into the adjacent French concession and other foreign protected areas. Because the French quarter already is jammed by 250,000 native refugees, French troops and gendarmes were forced to beat back newcomers with clubs and bayonets.

Nevertheless, some of the frenzied fugitives succeeded in climbing high barbed wire entanglements or scaling the bolted gates of the concession, sustaining cruel injuries.

The Avenue Des Deux Republiques, borderline of Nantao and the French quarter, was filled all night by men, women and children whose weeping and wailing made the night hideous. Braving blows from the soldiers' butts rifle and policemen's batons, these frenzied unfortunates clung desperately to their positions on the sidewalks and in the roadway rather than return to Nantao's scenes of horror.

At 5 a. m. the French authorities opened three gates, through which hordes poured, pleading to be saved. As this flood of humanity spread in every direction, traffic in the French concession was completely paralyzed.

Nantao today witnessed the execution by decapitation of two women and seven men, all Chinese, found guilty of treason. This correspondent, who saw the executions, was told more than 100 persons had met a similar fate in Nantao since the Shanghai conflict began.

Police carried the heads, still dripping, from the block to be hung on poles in the market square as a warning to other traitors.

Chinese authorities said the nine had confessed to taking Japanese bribes to poison water mains, public tea urns or foodstuffs, or were found in possession of poisons for which they were unable to account.

American and British naval officers, whose positions on ships off Woosung, at the confluence of the Whangpoo and Yangtze rivers, give them excellent facilities for observation, said today that the army recently arrived from Japan had not penetrated far inland.

Little Progress Inland.

Continued air bombings, heavy artillery and naval barrages and repeated thrusts by forces which have gained a foothold along the southern bank of the Yangtze north of Shanghai, have resulted in little progress, the foreign officers said.

These observers estimated that of the 54,000 officers and men brought from Japan by the armada which arrived in the Yangtze estuary more than a week ago, not more than half have been safely landed. This force, it was said, was not adequate to start the long-heralded Japanese major offensive against the Chinese, who are believed to have some 400,000 men on all the fronts around Shanghai.

Belgrade Is Inflamed As Rioting Wounds 10

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 29 (U.P.).—Feeling ran high here tonight as a result of a riot yesterday when ten demonstrators were wounded in a battle with police over the government's ambitions to sign a concordat with the Vatican.

Marine Regiment Leaves for China From San Diego

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 29 (AP).—Carrying the colors of the Sixth Regiment, decorated by France in the World War, 1,308 Marines left here today on the transport Chaumont and the light cruiser Marblehead for war-torn Shanghai.

"Our mission is to protect American lives and property," said Brig. Gen. John C. Beaumont, commanding the Second Brigade, Fleet Marine force, who will take command of all United States Marines in China upon arrival there about September 21. He will relieve Col. C. F. B. Price.

The waterfront was thronged with men, women and children.

C.I.O. May Halt War Shipments By Sit-Downs

East, West Seamen Vote Today on Joint Action for Bonus or Strike.

Continued from Page 1.

nized a state of war which the State Department has not recognized. It also will make itself liable to suits for damages by shippers.

A commission spokesman last night said the Wichita's voyage calls for a stop at San Pedro, Calif., which it is due to reach in 20 days.

At the Chicago meeting today of East and West Coast unclassified maritime workers, action favorable to unification is certain, C. I. O. officials here predicted last night. They added that the merged union unquestionably will be granted a C. I. O. charter at once.

Concern of seamen over employmenton voyages into zones of undeclared war dates as far back as the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, C. I. O. officers sadi last night. They referred also to isolated incidents in connection with the Spanish civil war.

New Ships to Be Fireproof.

By the Associated Press

All new merchant ships built with Government subsidies will be "fireproof and foolproof" as far as modern safety standards can make them, Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy, of the Maritime Commission said yesterday.

He announced regulations with which shipowners must comply if they wish subsidies for the construction of new vessels for the foreign and domstic trade.

The ships must be built to conform to safety standards established by the Senate Safety at Sea Committee;

Each craft must qualify for the certificates issued by the American Bureau of Shipping, obtaining highest ratings in all particulars'

Russia, China Sign Treaty to Bar Aggression

Nonmilitary Pact Viewed as Forecasting Possible Armed Alliance.

Continued from Page 1.

themselves not to assist the aggressor.

3. There is to be no modification of rights or obligations imposed by earlier treaties between the two powers.

4. The treaty shall be effective for five years from August 21, 1937.

"The conclusion of the Chinese-Soviet pact marks the beginning of collective security among countries bordering on the Pacific, through mutual assistance and nonaggression," a foreign office spokesman said.

The provisions are entirely negative in nature and are aimed merely at maintenance of peace, he added. The pact does not differ from similar agreements which Russia has signed with other powers.

Gesture Made to Tokyo.

"Today China is compelled to use force to resist foreign aggression," the spokesman said, "but this does not alter the fact that a love of peace is traditional with the Chinese people. If China's aggressor can be awakened to this fact and will change her national policy we still are willing to conclude with her (Japan) a similar nonaggression pact."

The gesture tooward Japan, offering that country a nonaggression agreement identical with the one signed with Moscow, was considered meaningless since the Japanese government repeatedly has announced that it insists upon a solution of the Chinese-Japanese controversy by force "because of Nanking's continuoous record of bad faith."

Significance of the Chinese-Russian agreement, if any, lay not so much in what it provides as in what it may forecast.

Armed Alliance Favored.

A large section of Chinese opinion since the Japanese invasion of Manchuria in 1931 has favored a Chinese-Russian military alliance, holding that the Japanese army's aggressions on the Asiatic mainland never can be stopped until Moscow and Nanking combine against Tokyo.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his associates resisted all these efforts until the Shensi Province rebellion last December in which the rebels held the generalissimo prisoner for a fortnight and reputedly extracted from him a pledge to call off his long series of wars against the Chinese Communist Party and form an all-China front against Japan.

Chiang has been an enemy of Soviet Russia since 1927, when he broke with the Chinese Communist Party and ejected Soviet advisers who had been called in from Moscow in 1924 to aid in the nationalist revolution.

Shensi Affair Opens Way.

The Shensi agreement, however, opened the way to a revival of the Soviet-Chinese collaboration of 1924-1927 and diplomatic conversations between the two powers have been under way since January 1 of this year.

The present nonaggression treaty, one of a series signed between Russia and neighboring states, is a first result. Whether Russia will go further, despite her domestic upheaval caused Moscow's internal purge of anti-Stalinist elements in the Soviet republics, is a question none here is prepared to answer. The best guess, however, was that, for the present she will not.

But should China contiue strong resistance of the Japanese invasion for months the picture might change.

Moscow has good reason to hate Japan, for she was kicked from her strong position in North Manchuria when the Japanese created the pro-Japanese state of Manchukuo five years ago, and has suffered continuous humiliation since as result of the series of border clashes on her eastern frontier—in all of which she asserts the Japanese army has been the aggressor.

Soviet Hails "Peace" Move.

Moscow, Aug. 29 (AP).—Soviet authorities tonight confirmed the signing of a nonaggression pact with China.

Japan Sees Hidden Military Aid In New Chinese-Soviet Accord

Nonaggression Treaty Harmless on Surface, But Tokyo Is Irritated by Pact; Signed Too Late to Halt Nipponese Aggression.

By Mark J. Ginsbourg,
Special Cable to The Post.

Shanghai (Monday), Aug. 30.—"The treaty of nonaggression which has just been signed between China and the Soviet Union is only the natural and inevitable reaction of both countries to Japanese aggression," a spokesman for the Chinese Foreign Office informed this correspondent today.

Despite the seeming harmlessness of the accord, which merely provides for a mutual pledge of nonaggression, the announcement of its conclusion had the effect of a bombshell here.

According to the belief of the foreign community, the pact comes too late to be of any particular use to China in the present emergency. Had it been concluded earlier, it is said, it might possibly have frightened Japan out of embarking on its latest series of aggressions in North China and here.

Accord Offsets Pact.

The understanding is that the accord is intended to counterbalance the so-called anti-Comintern pact between Nazi Germany and Japan, which was concluded last year, and also serve as an effective reply to the proposal made by Koki Hirota, Japan's foreign minister, for a joint Sino-Japanese anti-Communist pact.

Although certain to use the Sino-Soviet accord as justification of its action in undertaking an undeclared war against the Nanking government as part of its campaign to "defend civilization against Communism," the first reaction of Japanese officials here was one of irritation.

The suspicion is also entertained that the agreement has secret military clauses whose operations might mean the effective strengthening of China's military machine by the dispatch from Soviet sources to Chiang's forces of arms, ammunition and implements of war now in Soviet lands.

The Japanese are particularly concerned over this possibility in view of the excellent showing made by Russian planes in the Spanish civil war. A strengthening of the Chinese air arm, the development alone of which during the past five years has made the Japanese task of conquest much harder than was the case in 1932, might prove disastrous to the invaders.

It is denied, however, both by Chinese government officials and by Soviet representatives here, that the Nanking-Moscow pact has any military implications. These denials can be given some credence. Yet the suspicion remains that there is more to the accord than meets the eye.

In this connection there may be some significance in the yet unconfirmed but widely rumored report that late last month the Soviet military attache, Leping, left Shanghai for Vladivostok, at the very moment when the fighting around Tientsin and Peiping was heaviest, and returned to the Chinese capital a fortnight later.

All efforts to find out from him the reasons for his mission or his sudden return proved unavailing. But it is now believed in diplomatic and military quarters here that his movements had more than a little to do with the sudden announcement by the Chinese government today of the signing of its agreement with the Soviet Union.

Shanghai Damage From War Placed At $275,000,000

Shanghai, Aug. 29 (AP).—American and British insurance underwriters today estimated the total war damage to Shanghai since August 13 at $275,000,000. The insurance men divided the losses as follows:

Chinese, $125,000,000; Japanese, $100,000,000; foreign, $50,000,000.

About half the foreign losses were American, of which about one-third were covered by insurance.

Child Crime Campaign.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 29 (AP).—Milton Campbell, Cincinnati, national office of the American Legion Child Welfare Commission, recommended today the veterans' organization launch a campaign against juvenile delinquency.

Auto Plummets 100 Feet.

San Francisco, Aug. 29 (AP).—A heavy sedan went out of control on a hill here today and plummeted more than 100 feet into Golden Gate Park, sheering off the tops of heavy trees 15 to 20 feet above the ground. Miss Alice McDonald, the driver, was seriously injured.

Credit Army Arrested.

Omaha, Nebr., Aug. 29 (AP).—More than 70 officers and privates of Alfred Lawson's Direct Credit Army, in Omaha to hear him address a regional rally, were arrested today by police, who said the group attempted to stage a parade in defiance of orders from City Health Commissioner Floyd Kinyoun.

5 Bandits Get $5,000.

Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 29 (AP).—Five masked men trussed up four employes of the White Baking Co. plant here today and escaped with an estimated $5,000 from two safes.

EDUCATIONAL.

National University
Fall Term Begins September 27, 1937
SCHOOL OF LAW
School of Economics and Government
Registrar's Office
Open for registration 9 a. m. to 7 p. m.
818 13th STREET N.W.
Telephone NAtional 6617

Accountancy
Pace Courses: B. C. S. and M. C. S. Degrees. C. P. A. Preparation. Day and Evening Classes; Coeducational
Send for 31st Year Book.
BENJAMIN FRANKLIN UNIVERSITY
TRANSPORTATION BLDG. MET. 2515

Washington College of Law
Co-educational
Forty-second Year
Fall Term Begins September 20
2000 G St. N.W. MEt. 4583

See the Complete Showing of Underwood Portables at F STREET at SEVENTH
THE HECHT CO.
NATIONAL 5100

Your UNDERWOOD Dealer Presents
UNDERWOOD'S NEWEST—WORLD'S GREATEST TYPEMASTER
$54.50
UNIVERSAL MODEL
$64.50
CHAMPION MODEL
PORTABLES

UNDERWOOD engineers have given these new portables outstanding typing performance. Underwood designers have given them smartness and style. And now UNDERWOOD DEALERS are ready to present them to you as the world's major developments in personal writing machines. The new Typemasters are here!

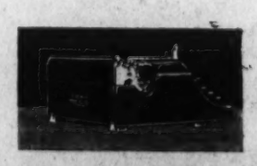
So easy to operate even novices make good typing headway from the start. So fast that World's Champion typists have equalled their best performance on them. So dependable they'll take all the typing punishment untrained fingers can hand out and go on doing it for years without quitting on the job.

Select one of the new TYPEMASTERS as your personal writing machine. After all why be satisfied with less when an Underwood costs no more. Ask about easy terms at the nearest Underwood Dealer or mail the coupon today!

CHECK THESE UNDERWOOD FEATURES POINT BY POINT

1 New Sealed Action Frame providing quieter operation and maximum protection against dust and injury.
2 The Champion Keyboard . . . kinder to typing fingertips . . . saves broken fingernails.
3 "Tuned to the Fingertips" . . . two adjustment features assure supreme ease of touch.
4 100 per cent Typing Visibility.
5 Complete accessibility to type-bars and ribbon spools.
6 Keyboard Controlled Ribbon Shifting Device.
7 Back spacer on left hand side—normal typing position.

From Every Angle
Note that even in the back of the new Underwood Typemasters the action is sealed, giving greater protection against dust and injury, greater appeal to the eye.



Portable Typewriter Division
UNDERWOOD ELLIOTT FISHER COMPANY
One Park Ave., New York, N. Y. A-420
Sales and Service Everywhere
Please send complete information about Underwood Portables on easy payment plan.
Name
Street
City State
WORLD'S LARGEST MANUFACTURER OF TYPEWRITERS

FOR THE SPECIAL CONVENIENCE OF LABOR DAY HOLIDAY TRAVEL TO NEW YORK
2 SECTIONS OF THE FAMOUS
ROYAL BLUE
WILL BE OPERATED ON SEPT. 3RD AND 6TH
(FRIDAY) (MONDAY)
Both trains streamlined and air-conditioned, Plus—
COACH SEATS RESERVED FREE
LV. WASHINGTON (UNION STATION) 3.45 P.M.
FAST, DEPENDABLE SCHEDULE TO NEW YORK.
THESE FINE TRAINS CARRY PARLOR CARS, RECLINING SEAT COACHES, DINERS . . . . . NO EXTRA FARE.
EARLY RESERVATION IS SUGGESTED—
CALL DISTRICT 3300 OR NATIONAL 7370
BALTIMORE & OHIO R. R.

OLD GOLD AND SILVER will bring you CASH AT SELINGER'S look for the big clock
818 F STREET N.W.

See the New Models at STATIONERY DEPARTMENT
Kann's
STREET FLOOR

Airliner Crash Is Laid to Fault In Gas System

Investigators Also Believe Poor Visibility Factor in Ocean Tragedy.

Failure of one or both engines as a result of a faulty gasoline system was the most probable cause of the crash of the Pan-American-Grace flying boat near Cristobal, Canal Zone, in which the lives of 11 of the passengers and 3 of the crew were lost, the investigating board has reported to Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper.

The investigators also found that loss of visibility might have been a contributing cause, since it forced the pilot off his usual course, and caused him to spiral down in an attempt to get below the clouds.

The probability that the fire out while the clipper still was in flight is discounted in the report. The investigators stated that they were convinced that "the fire resulted from the impact with the water." At the time of the collision, the report states, the plane had a minimum of 80 gallons of gasoline aboard, which would have burned on the water a sufficient length of time to cause all burns or scorches found on the recovered wreckage, "thus eliminating the probability of fire prior to the impact."

"The slightly burned portions of wreckage were all of comparatively low kindling point," the report continues. "Further, if the ship had caught fire in the air, it is not likely that passengers would have left their seat belts buckled across their bodies. The results of the investigation also caused the board to definitely eliminate pilot error as a cause or contributing cause of the accident."

The investigation board was composed of Miller C. Foster, assistant to Assistant Secretary of Commerce J. Monroe Johnson; Ed L. Yuravich, chief of Foreign Airlines Inspection, Bureau of Air Commerce, and Roy B. Keeley, airlines inspector, Bureau of Air Commerce.

Bridge

By Mrs. Ely Culbertson

Lead-Directing Slam Double.

As I have pointed out many times, experts rarely double a slam that has been bid voluntarily against them. They realize that when good opponents deliberately contract for 12 or 13 tricks, they will come so close to their goal that a double cannot be highly productive and may enable them to fulfill the contract. When experts do double a slam, their reason is not merely to pick up an extra 50 or 100 points, but to make it more likely that the contract will be defeated at all. Thus, slam doubles, when the doubler is not on opening lead have a special meaning. They direct the leader to select as his opening a suit that he would not select in the absence of the double. Let us illustrate this point by means of an actual hand.

North, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

	♠ A K 7 6 ♡ A 10 ◇ K J 7 ♣ 10 9 7 3
♠ Q 10 3 ♡ Q J 7 4 ◇ 10 9 6 5 ♣ Q 8	North West East South	♠ J 9 8 5 4 2 ♡ K 9 6 5 3 2 ◇ — ♣ K
	♠ — ♡ 8 ◇ A Q 8 4 3 2 ♣ A J 6 5 4 2

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1-♠	Pass	2 ◇	Pass
2 N T	Pass	4 ♣	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	6 ♣	Pass
Pass	Dbl.	Pass	Pass
Pass

Since he, himself, was vuenerable and the opponents were not, East felt that to overcall the spade bid with two hearts would be much too risky—a sentiment in which I heartily concur. When North and South climbed rapidly to a slam, East, with his abnormal distribution, reasoned that South's bid had disclosed a very similar distribution and the likelihood of at least 11 cards in the minor suits. This made it remote that the defenders could take a trick in the major suits, since North, by his spade and no-trump bids, had shown his side strength in those suits. From East's point of view the real hope of defeating the slam contract lay in ruffing an opening diamond lead with the further possibility that West could take a trick in either diamonds or trumps. Since East realized that a double would be calling for an unnatural opening lead, he hoped that partner would be able to decipher this message properly and lead a diamond.

West should have had little difficulty in divining East's intention. Without the double, the bidding would have clearly called for a heart opening, if only that it was the unbid suit. The double should have steered him away from this natural opening. There would be no point in a trump opening and little or none in a spade—if East had a spade trick there was not much chance of its escaping. Obviously, on the call for a diamond opening, East would have ruffed and West still would have had a trump trick. On West's actual opening of a spade (his idea of an unnatural opening) the contract was easy.

The lead-directing slam double was well calculated, but was badly interpreted by the other partner.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

Grin and Bear It

By Lichty

"My mother's taking in washing to send me through school, so the least I can do is send home my laundry."

Harlan Miller has some new slants on Washington events and people today and daily in his sprightly column, "Over the Coffee"—Page 1, Section II.

Hobo Travel Conditions Brutal, Laments 'Weary Willie' Editor

Ben Benson, Vacationing by 'Side-Door Pullman,' Wants Beds and Meals for Wanderers; Threatens March on Capital.

Travel conditions for hoboes are "brutal," announced Ben (Hobo) Benson, assistant editor of the Hobo News, as he dropped from a freight train here yesterday to seek a camp site.

Benson said that unless the situation is improved immediately, he will lead a second Coxey's Army to Washington to demand better beds and meals for hoboes, to be provided at a moderate cost; or, better still, no cost.

While Benson was on vacation from his arduous duties as editor and business manager of the Hobo News, which consists of his autobiography and a few selected poems, such as "The Face On the Barroom Floor," he found time to complain about the general hobo situation.

"Transient conditions are really brutal, to put it mildly," he said. "When I return to New York after my vacation, I shall endeavor as organizer of the "National Hobo Fellowship Union of America" to start another Coxey's Army march to this city.

"Jeff Davis (not the Confederate, but a hobo) promised to do this years ago. I am now in a position as editor of the Hobo News to take care of the situation. The Hobo News has a circultion of 100,000."

The editor combed a few cinders out of his hair and headed for the nearest freight yards to continue his vacation, which, he said, he takes "annually through the South and West via side-door Pullman."

Fraud Is Charged To British Firms

New York, Aug. 28 (AP).—A warning to the American investing public to beware of "attractive" offers from foreign money lenders was issued today by State Attorney General John J. Bennett, jr., following an investigation of two British banking firms advertising long-term, low-interest loans in American newspapers.

Already American investors have been fleeced of many thousands of dollars, said Assistant Attorney General A. V. McCall, who conducted the investigation of the United Kingdom Mercantile & Finance Corporation, Ltd., and Heilbut-Symons & Co., both of London. McCall termed the firms' operations a "gigantic fraud."

Father Kills Baby Girl And Wounds His Wife

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 29 (AP).—An 18-month-old baby girl was shot fatally and her screaming mother, holding the child tightly in her arms, was wounded seriously here late today. City Detective James Collison said, as a climax of a domestic argument. Police arrested Henry A. Noelke, 32, of Boonville, Ind., the baby's father, on a charge of murder.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10TH 11TH F AND G STREETS PHONE DISTRICT 5300

Off to College

with your Passage to Chic

Dare to Be Different, but—just how different, our College Board will tell you.

Wear Classics, but—how to add personal touches, our College Board will tell you.

Make a Good First Impression, but—how, our College Board will tell you.

Adopt the Campus Fad, but—what it is, our College Board will tell you.

Get your passage to chic at the College Board School Outfitting Service

FOURTH FLOOR

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10TH 11TH F AND G STREETS PHONE DISTRICT 5300

ROOKWOOD

Things of beauty which elude all attempts to imitate and make Rookwood a complete novelty in the world's ceramics. This pottery is rarely, if ever, duplicated, even pairs differ somewhat—every piece is rich in arrangement of warm color, all of which transparent glazes merge in deep, mellow tones.

While Rookwood prices range as high as $200—here is a group within the price of all who appreciate fine art.

$1.50 to $10

Exclusive with Woodward & Lothrop in Washington.

CHINA, FIFTH FLOOR

Pertinent Paragraph

Casual Costume Suit—the wool crepe frock, with the charm of simplicity, boasts an extremely broad "quilted" leather belt—the soft "tweedy" boxy jacket tops it to perfection. $49.75

MISSES' DRESSES, THIRD FLOOR.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10TH 11TH F AND G STREETS PHONE DISTRICT 5300

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10TH 11TH F AND G STREETS PHONE DISTRICT 5300

Announce or Invite in the New Royalty Style Engraving

Soft-toned, shaded Roman letters on a new white paneled paper with the faintest touch of pink in its tone—the effect is distinctly different, bringing your stationery up to the tempo of the modern wedding. The sheets go unfolded into the double set of envelopes and come inserted ready for addressing.

ENGRAVING ROOM, FIRST FLOOR.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10TH 11TH F AND G STREETS PHONE DISTRICT 5300

Presenting new squares by

Liberty of London

$3.50

Famous for years, Liberty silk squares again put color into Fall. New patterns have been added to an already large group in blue, brown, green, red, rust, and black and white combinations. Long scarves are here, too, in a variety of colors and patterns.

Long Scarves, $5

NECKWEAR, AISLE 15 FIRST FLOOR

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10TH 11TH F AND G STREETS PHONE DISTRICT 5300

The Feature Pillow Offering of the Semi-Annual Selling

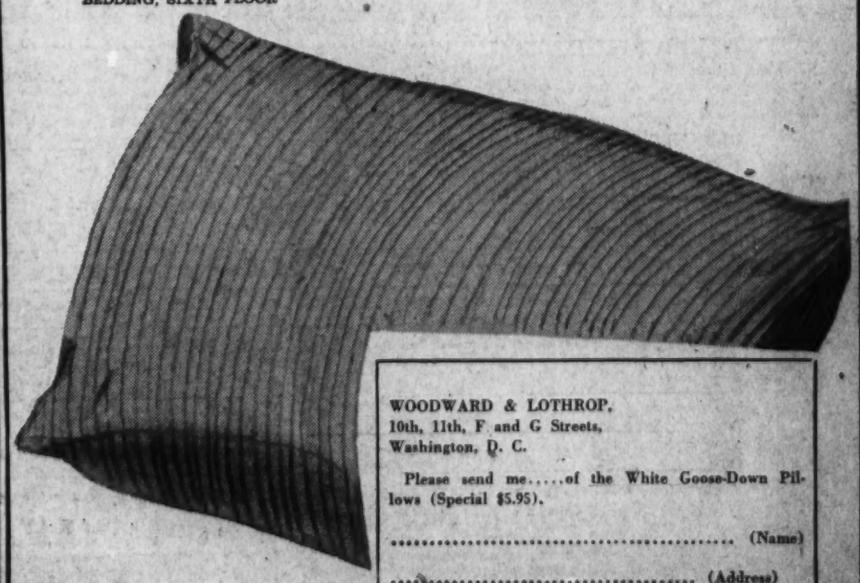
White Goose-Down Bed Pillows, $5.95 Each

Will Be Marked at $8.50 After This Event Is Over

The down in these pillows has been treated by the "Izolin Process," which insures a new, vitalized, buoyant purity. The down filament has been developed to a very high resiliency and vitalized into full plume softness. Regular bed size, and covered in down-resistant tan and white striped ticking.

A special representative will be in the Bedding Section to help you in selecting your pillows.

BEDDING, SIXTH FLOOR



WOODWARD & LOTHROP,
10th, 11th, F and G Streets,
Washington, D. C.

Please send me.....of the White Goose-Down Pillows (Special $5.95).

..... (Name)

..... (Address)

.....Charge.....Money Herewith.....C. O. D.

A QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS IN CASH PRIZES ($250,000.00)

You can win $100,000.00 1st prize

OLD GOLD'S

NEW CONTEST

STARTS TODAY!

GET RICH FOR LIFE! WIN $100,000.00

WE WILL pay a quarter of a million dollars to those who enter the NEW Old Gold Contest and win prizes in accordance with the rules. First Prize will be $100,000.00; Second Prize, $50,000.00; Third Prize, $25,000.00.

You can win a fortune in this contest without laborious mental effort. This is a truly delightful contest that gives every man and woman an equal opportunity. Neither higher education nor specialized talent is at all necessary.

You win by supplying the missing conversation for the blank balloons in a group of 45 interesting cartoons that comprise this contest. To guide you in writing these missing conversations you will find suggestions below each cartoon.

This new $250,000.00 contest is Old Gold's response to the request of its thousands of friends among America's true contest lovers. Complying with the overwhelming demands of those who participated in its previous contest, Old Gold today announces an even greater contest, with bigger prizes, and an idea that is different and, if possible, even more fascinating than that of the last contest.

This new contest will be conducted exactly like the previous contest—with the same faithful attention to every detail that safeguards the interest of each and every individual contestant.

The same liberal spirit prevails. Obviously we hope to win thousands of new smokers and thousands of new friends for Old Golds. But—you do not need to make a purchase in order to enter. While the rules require that three Old Gold yellow package wrappers be sent out with each Series of statements, we will cheerfully accept your own hand-drawn facsimiles of the Old Gold yellow package wrapper.

This contest is a great friend-making enterprise. It gives you an opportunity to win a real cash fortune. It gives Double-Mellow Old Golds an opportunity to win you as another of its millions of loyal friends.

We invite you to enter this contest. Complete details, together with our cordial good wishes for your success, are included in this two-page announcement.

Sincerely,

P. LORILLARD COMPANY, Inc. (Established 1760)
Makers of DOUBLE-MELLOW OLD GOLD Cigarettes

THIS IS A SAMPLE CARTOON

(It is used only for the purpose of explaining how you can enter and win in this contest. Read explanation below.)

Now! Your Job is to Write Mary's Reply

HERE is what you do to win in this contest. Just study the conversation in the cartoon, and then YOU SUPPLY THE REPLY FOR THE EMPTY BALLOON.

For instance, in the SAMPLE cartoon above, Mary is being asked for advice.

Mary's reply might be:

"Old Golds. They hold their ash better. Nobody'll burn your tablecloth."

Or, Mary might say:

"Old Golds! Smokers seldom drop ashes when they smoke Old Golds."

Mary might say:

"Get Old Golds. They're always fresh. They'll please everybody."

There are so many things that Mary could reply that it seems almost needless to give any more examples. For instance, Mary might very well make any of the following three replies:

"My choice is Old Golds. They're always fresh, always Double-Mellow."

"Get Old Golds. Their double Cellophane package keeps them wonderfully fresh."

"Either buy several brands or get Old Golds. Old Golds please everybody."

There is nothing hard about this contest. Almost anybody can think of dozens of things that Mary would reply. And it's the same with all of the Official Cartoons in this contest. Just study the picture and the conversation and supply your own, original reply for the blank balloon. That's all there is to it.

Under each of the Official Cartoons you will find suggestions to help you write the missing conversation for the empty balloon.

This contest, in its entirety, copyrighted, 1937, by P. Lorillard Co., Inc.

Get Cartoon Bulletins FREE at Cigarette Stands and WESTERN UNION OFFICES

Most cigarette counters and Western Union Offices throughout the country now have available the first Four Weeks' Cartoons in Bulletin form. These Bulletins are FREE. Ask for your copy at the nearest cigarette stand or Western Union Office.

FRESH!
LOOK!
OUTER JACKET OF "CELLOPHANE" OPENS FROM THE BOTTOM
LOOK!!
INNER JACKET OF "CELLOPHANE" OPENS FROM THE TOP
Old Gold
CIGARETTES
THE TREASURE OF THEM ALL
in ANY climate
You can't buy a stale Old Gold. That extra jacket of Cellophane brings you Old Gold's prize crop tobaccos in the pink of smoking condition.

Another ENTRY FORM in case somebody else in the family wants to enter

OFFICIAL ENTRY FORM

OLD GOLD CONTEST *Date*_____

P. O. Box 9, Varick St. Station, New York, N. Y.

The following are my suggestions for the blank balloons in Cartoons Nos. 1, 2 and 3.

No. 1_____

No. 2_____

No. 3_____

I enclose herewith 3 OLD GOLD yellow package wrappers (or 3 hand-drawn facsimiles) in accordance with the rules.

(CHECK WHICH)

Mr.
*Mrs.*_____
Miss
PRINT YOUR NAME

*Address*_____

*City*_____ *State*_____

Submit the answers as indicated on this Official Entry Form by Midnight of next Saturday, or earlier if you choose.

PLEASE PRINT YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS PLAINLY

417-1

Old Gold's Guarantee

DOUBLE-MONEY-BACK OFFER

So supreme is our confidence in Double-Mellow OLD GOLDS that we will gladly send you TWICE the price you paid for a package if you don't like Double-Mellow OLD GOLDS better than any other cigarette.

Buy your first package of OLD GOLDS. Thrill to the flavor and richness of Double-Mellow OLD GOLD'S exclusive Prize Crop Tobaccos, its smoking excellence doubly protected for you by two jackets of Cellophane.

After smoking the first 10 cigarettes in your first package of OLD GOLDS—if for any reason OLD GOLD is not exactly to your taste and liking, no questions asked. Return the remaining 10 cigarettes and the wrapper, and we will send you twice the price you paid for the full package, plus postage. Then, if you wish, you may continue in the contest by sending reasonably accurate hand-drawn facsimiles of the OLD GOLD wrapper.

New Contest! Enter NOW!

$100,000.00 1st Prize
$50,000.00 2nd Prize
$25,000.00 3rd Prize

1,000 CASH PRIZES
TOTALING A QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS

Here's How You Win!

THIS NEW contest starts today.

In this new contest, you may win $100,000.00 as First Prize, $50,000.00 as Second Prize and $25,000.00 as Third Prize, or any other of a thousand cash awards.

The sample cartoon printed at the left will give you the idea of this contest. It will show you what to do to win.

Notice the Sample Cartoon at the Left

Look at the SAMPLE cartoon at the left. This SAMPLE cartoon, like all the official cartoons of the contest, has one of the conversation balloons left blank. (By a balloon, we mean the oval in which conversation is customarily printed.)

You'll note that the girl at the left in the cartoon is saying, "Say, Mary, I wonder what kind of cigarettes I should serve at my bridge party?" Then you'll notice that the balloon for the other girl's reply is blank.

The idea of the contest is for you to supply the reply, or remark; in other words, the missing conversation for the balloon that is blank.

Anybody can think of an appropriate reply that Mary might make. If you'll read the explanation below the Sample Cartoon you'll find several different kinds of replies.

For example, Mary might say: "Either buy several brands or get Old Golds. Old Golds please everybody." Or, "Old Golds. Smokers seldom drop ashes when they smoke Old Golds."

Use your own judgment. Perhaps you'll consider a "wise crack" best. Perhaps you would prefer a simple, factual statement. Just supply the words you would consider most appropriate for the empty balloon.

NOW! You're Ready to Start!

Now, if you understand the general idea of supplying the statement for each empty balloon—you are ready to start. On the page at the right, you will find three official cartoons. For each cartoon, write a statement of not more than twelve words for the empty balloon. Write whatever statement you decide upon for each cartoon in the space provided on the official ENTRY FORM.

No tricks! No catches! NEATNESS DOES NOT COUNT IN THIS CONTEST! Before you enter this contest, read the rules and find out exactly what you are to do. Then, when you clearly understand the rules, submit your answers in accordance with them.

Send in Your Answers Each Week

Answers are to be submitted weekly in this contest. Each week for 15 weeks you send in your missing conversations for 3 cartoons. Fill in the missing conversations on the Answer Form. DO NOT SEND IN THE CARTOONS THEMSELVES.

The 3 cartoons of each week are known as a Series. The 1st Week's Series is printed on the page at the right. Mail your answers to this First Series any time between now and midnight of this coming Saturday night.

Just remember, submit your answers WEEKLY in this contest, sending in the Answer Form each week throughout the contest. This procedure is the same as in Old Gold's previous contest.

Get Cartoons FREE . . . at Cigarette Counters or Western Union Offices

You can get these cartoons free, either from your cigarette dealer or from the leading Western Union offices. The 1st to 4th Weeks' Series are now obtainable at most cigarette stands and Western Union offices in attractive Bulletin form. But you don't need to wait until you get your copy of this Bulletin. You can enroll now by sending in your answers to the 1st Week's Series of cartoons (the cartoons printed on the opposite page). On receipt of your entry from this 2-page announcement, the remaining cartoons will be mailed to you free as issued.

With each Series you will find a convenient ENTRY FORM for filling in your answers. However, any ENTRY FORM you find in a newspaper or magazine or circular is just as acceptable as any other ENTRY FORM.

Notice that there are two ENTRY FORMS included on these two pages. Use one yourself. Perhaps someone else in the family may wish to use the other ENTRY FORM. Anybody and everybody in the family can enter this contest and any person who lives in any one of the 48 states of the U. S. A. or District of Columbia is eligible to win, provided the entrant is not connected with the P. Lorillard Company, Inc., or its advertising and promotion staffs.

Enclose 3 OLD GOLD Yellow Wrappers With Each Weekly Series of Answers

Enclose 3 yellow wrappers from packages of OLD GOLDS (or 3 facsimile copies) with each of your Weekly Series of answers. This is in accordance with the Contest Rules. Address your envelope to: Old Gold Contest, P. O. Box 9, Varick Street Station, New York, N. Y.

OLD GOLD'S New CARTOON CONTEST STARTS TODAY (BIGGER AND BETTER)

You can win $50,000.00 2nd prize

Start now! Win $100,000.00. Here's how:

There are three cartoons on this page. In each one there appears a conversation balloon which has been left blank.

Study the cartoon carefully. Read through the list of suggestions below the cartoon. Then write an original reply or remark of your own to fill the empty balloon; using not more than twelve words.

Write your statements on the ENTRY FORM in the lower right corner of this page. (Read carefully all suggestions on page at the left).

1st WEEK'S SERIES . . . Official Cartoons 1 to 3

Write the Missing Conversation for Each Cartoon. Fill in Your Answers in the Lower Right Hand Corner of This Page. Do Not Send in the Cartoons Themselves. Use Only the Entry Form.

CARTOON No. 1

WHAT WILL THE OTHER MAN SAY?

Supply the Missing Conversation for the Empty Balloon . . . (Use Official Entry Form Below)

Supply the missing conversation to fit into the empty balloon in the cartoon above. Write an entirely original reply, using no more than 12 words. The samples below are merely suggestions and are only for your guidance.

The man at the left is saying:

"I like to buy my cigarettes from an old established firm."

Here are some suggested replies:

A. "Yes! Old Golds come from a fine old family."

B. "There's character in that firm. There's character in Old Golds."

C. "They know their business. Been at it 177 years."

CARTOON No. 2

WHAT WILL THE STOREKEEPER SAY?

Supply the Missing Conversation for the Empty Balloon . . . (Use Official Entry Form Below)

Supply the missing conversation to fit into the empty balloon in the cartoon above. Write an entirely original reply, using no more than 12 words. The samples below are merely suggestions and are only for your guidance.

The woman is saying:

"A carton of Old Golds please. They go pretty fast at our house."

Here are some suggested replies:

A. "They go fast everywhere. It's that Double-Mellow taste."

B. "They're made of highest quality tobacco and they're always fresh."

C. "They go fast at my house, too! Everybody likes 'em."

CARTOON No. 3

WHAT WILL THE BOY FRIEND SAY?

Supply the Missing Conversation for the Empty Balloon . . . (Use Official Entry Form Below)

Supply the missing conversation to fit into the empty balloon in the cartoon above. Write an entirely original reply, using no more than 12 words. The samples below are merely suggestions and are only for your guidance.

The young lady is exclaiming:

"FRESH!"

Here are some suggested replies:

A. "And so are my Old Golds! The extra Cellophane jacket insures that."

B. "Stale smoke never won fair lady! Try a FRESH Old Gold."

C. "Only the FRESH deserve the fair. Old Golds are always FRESH."

WRITE YOUR ANSWERS IN THE ENTRY FORM IN THE LOWER RIGHT CORNER OF THIS PAGE

Do not send in the cartoons themselves. Write your answers in the spaces provided in the Entry Form . . . and send only the Entry Form.

THE PRIZES

1st Prize	$100,000.00
2nd Prize	$50,000.00
3rd Prize	$25,000.00
4th Prize	$10,000.00
5th Prize	$5,000.00
6th Prize	$5,000.00
7th Prize	$5,000.00
8th Prize	$2,500.00
9th Prize	$2,500.00
3 Prizes $1,000.00 each	$3,000.00
10 Prizes $500.00 each	$5,000.00
28 Prizes $250.00 each	$7,000.00
50 Prizes $100.00 each	$5,000.00
One Hundred Prizes $50.00 each	$5,000.00
Eight Hundred Prizes $25.00 each	$20,000.00
TOTAL 1000 Prizes	$250,000.00

(Accompany your statements each week with 3 Old Gold wrappers, or facsimiles, in accordance with the Official Rules.)

OUR PLEDGE TO EVERY CONTESTANT

We shall use every effort to conduct this contest in a manner to insure fairness and the fullest measure of opportunity for each and every person who competes.

INDIVIDUAL FILES

The moment you enter this contest, YOUR OWN individual and separate file will be established. In that file your weekly submissions will be carefully placed. Your file will at all times be seriously and importantly regarded by us because we realize that upon your entry in this contest you have set your heart and your hopes upon the winning of a $100,000.00 cash fortune.

COMPLETE DETAILS ABOUT WINNERS WILL BE SENT TO ALL CONTESTANTS

When the time comes for the judging of answers, your submissions will be given the utmost consideration. And with the awarding of prizes, information will be mailed to all contestants, setting forth the names and addresses of all winners.

IN THAT SPIRIT

you are invited to enter this contest by P. Lorillard Co., Inc., makers of Double-Mellow OLD GOLDS. On the basis of our pledge we urge and feel entitled to the enthusiastic response of every true contest fan and every lover of good sportsmanship.

P. Lorillard Company

Makers of DOUBLE-MELLOW OLD GOLD Cigarettes

This contest, in its entirety, copyrighted, 1937, by P. Lorillard Co., Inc.

THE RULES . . . Please Read Them Carefully

1. The OLD GOLD CARTOON CONTEST is open to everybody residing within the 48 states of the U. S. A. or District of Columbia, with the exception of the employees of P. Lorillard Company, Inc., and their families, and employees of its advertising and sales promotion agencies and their families.

2. A group of 45 cartoons will be released. Each cartoon will contain two balloons for conversation. One of the balloons, however, will be left blank. The contestant is to supply the missing conversation for the blank balloon using not over 12 words.

3. OLD GOLD will pay a First Prize of $100,000.00 and 999 other cash prizes (a grand total of 1,000 prizes aggregating $250,000.00) in the order of value, to the one thousand contestants who write the missing conversation for the 45 cartoons and whose statements are considered original and best in the opinion of the judges, and who in all other ways conform with these Official Rules. The prizes will be awarded such contestants in the order of the merit of their statements as designated by the judges. The judges' decision will be final.

4. The cartoons will be issued in weekly Series of three, and contestants are asked to supply the required statements and submit them EACH WEEK. The 1st Week's Series of 3 cartoons bears the release date of Saturday, September 4, 1937. Each Saturday, for fourteen additional weeks, there will be another weekly Series to answer. Contestants should supply the required statements and submit them weekly, during the week following issuance date of each Series. In submitting the answers for any current Series, a contestant is privileged to submit statements for preceding Series. Thus, a contestant entering the contest during the 2nd Week should submit both the 1st Week's Series as well as the 2nd Week's Series; and a contestant entering during the 3rd Week should submit both the 1st and the 2nd Weeks' Series as well as the 3rd Week's Series; and so on. All Series should be qualified in accordance with Rule No. 7.

5. Contestants are requested to mail their weekly answers EACH WEEK. All cartoons are FREE! The first four weeks' Series may be obtained at cigarette stands. If your cigarette dealer cannot supply you, we will mail you these cartoons free on request. ENTRY FORMS may be clipped from newspapers, magazines or circulars and will be equally acceptable. Once you have sent in your answers for the earlier cartoons, the remaining cartoons will be mailed to you FREE, as issued.

6. Neatness will not count. Do not decorate your answers. DO NOT SEND IN THE CARTOONS. Just supply your answers (the missing conversation for the blank balloons), in accordance with the rules; writing these answers in the Entry or Answer Forms provided for this purpose. In case of ties, duplicate awards will be made.

7. To qualify for a prize, the contestant is required to accompany each weekly Series of answers with three OLD GOLD yellow package wrappers or three reasonably accurate hand-drawn facsimiles. Either will be equally acceptable. It is not necessary to make a purchase in order to compete. A contestant is privileged to enter more than one complete set of answers, but each entry must be properly qualified and be individually identified as entry "A"; entry "B"; etc. Each entry will be judged as a unit. A contestant is eligible to win one prize only, namely the highest prize won by any individual entry submitted by that contestant.

8. Upon entering this contest and by submission of answers, the contestant accepts these rules as binding and agrees that the decision of P. Lorillard Company in all matters affecting the conduct of the contest, the acceptance of submissions, the making of awards and the measures invoked to insure individual effort in fairness to all contestants, shall be final and conclusive. The P. Lorillard Company will establish an individual file for each contestant, but will not be responsible for submissions or communications unduly delayed or lost in the mail either from or to the contestant. Each entry and submission becomes the property of P. Lorillard Company.

9. Each weekly Series of answers, together with 3 OLD GOLD yellow package wrappers or facsimiles, as specified in Rule No. 7, should be addressed to OLD GOLD CONTEST, P. O. Box 9, Varick Street Station, New York, N. Y.

ENTER NOW! BY USING THIS ENTRY FORM!

OFFICIAL ENTRY FORM

OLD GOLD CONTEST — Date _____

P. O. Box 9, Varick St. Station, New York, N. Y.

The following are my suggestions for the blank balloons in Cartoons Nos. 1, 2 and 3.

No. 1 _____

No. 2 _____

No. 3 _____

I enclose herewith 3 OLD GOLD yellow package wrappers (or 3 hand-drawn facsimiles) in accordance with the rules.
(CHECK WHICH)

Mr.
Mrs.
Miss _____
PRINT YOUR NAME

Address _____

City _____ State _____

Submit the answers as indicated on this Official Entry Form by Midnight of next Saturday, or earlier if you choose.

PLEASE PRINT YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS PLAINLY 417-1

The Washington Post

Registered in U. S. Patent Office

An Independent Newspaper.
(Published every day in the year.)

Eugene Meyer, Publisher.
Floyd R. Harrison, Comptroller.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and local news of spontaneous origin published herein. Rights of republication of all other matter herein are also reserved.

OFFICES OF THE WASHINGTON POST.

New York, N. Y. ..... 270 Madison Avenue
Chicago, Ill. ..... 360 North Michigan Avenue
Detroit, Mich. ..... 8-341 General Motors Building
St. Louis, Mo. ..... 305 Globe-Democrat Building
San Francisco, Calif. ..... 746 Russ Building
Los Angeles, Calif. ..... 1151 South Broadway
Portland, Oreg. ..... Public Service Building
Seattle, Wash. ..... 1004 Second Avenue

DELIVERED IN WASHINGTON

Daily, Sunday, 1 yr.	$7.80	Daily, Sunday, 1 week	15c
Daily only, 1 yr.	5.20	Daily only, 1 week	10c
Sunday only, 1 yr.	2.60	Sunday only, per copy	5c

BY MAIL—MARYLAND, VIRGINIA, WEST VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA.

Daily and Sunday		Sunday Only		Daily Only
One year	$9.00	One year	$4.00	One year	$6.00
Six months	5.00	Six months	2.00	Six months	3.50
One month	.85	One month	.40	One month	.60

OTHER STATES, MEXICO AND CANADA.

Daily and Sunday		Sunday Only		Daily Only
One year	$11.00	One year	$4.50	One year	$7.50
Six months	6.00	Six months	2.50	Six months	4.00
One month	1.00	One month	.45	One month	.70

All Subscriptions by Mail Payable in Advance.

Entered at the Postoffice, Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter

TELEPHONE NATIONAL 4200.

Monday, August 30, 1937.

Scottsboro Sequel.

Alabama's refusal to grant new trials to at least three of the five "Scottsboro boys" remaining behind bars is consistent with the State's record for obstinacy in the notorious case.

Four of the nine Negroes arrested for rape in 1931 were freed last month. The evidence against them differed only slightly, if at all, from that which a few weeks earlier had sufficed to bring down sentences ranging from death to 20 years' imprisonment on their fellows. Plainly, Alabama in the midst of the trials had had a change of mind about the evidence. In the light of this, new hearings for the five convicted before the change were generally taken for granted.

But no, Alabama refuses new trials. In explanation, the judge in the case cites "a hard and fast agreement" between the prosecution and the defense. He declares that the State released four of the Negroes and waived capital punishment for the other five on the understanding that only the single death sentence meted out would be appealed. Chief counsel for the defense has, however, denied entering an agreement which would prevent appeal of any of the sentences.

Whatever the truth of the matter, the country will not be satisfied until new hearings for the five convicts have been ordered. Justice "by agreement" is no justice at all, though the defense, if it resorted to such tactics to insure the release of four of the Negroes, can make out a better case for the action than the prosecution is in a position to do. After fighting a losing battle for six and a half years, any gain by any means must have seemed irresistible.

Fortunately, Alabama's action does not close the books. Rather, it opens the way for a third appeal to be brought to the Federal Supreme Court. Twice before Alabama's convictions in the case have been reversed here. The hope will be for a similar verdict in the third judgment, if for no other reason than that Alabama should be rebuked for its bald attempt to adulterate justice with expediency—the only apparent interpretation for the abrupt release of four of the "Scottsboro boys," all of whom had once been sentenced to death by the State.

Season Of Fairs.

The season of fairs is at hand. With August past, nature upends her cornucopia and as the year's bounty pours forth rural America rejoices with appropriate ceremonies.

There are the State fairs and the county fairs. The differentiation is principally quantitative. Between the great Tri-State Exposition at Amarillo in the Texas Panhandle and the self-styled World's Fair at little Tunbridge, Vt., size is the only essential difference. Size and the harness races, that is. Fairs in the North and East always revolve around a dirt track; in the West, where horses might naturally be expected to dominate, the Midway is generally the center of attraction.

This year should see the fairs booming—all 800 of them scheduled for the autumn months. Not only is the depression lifting, but bumper crops are everywhere in prospect. So the farmers will be on hand in full numbers, bringing with them their wives and children and hired hands, each with her best pie or his best porker. It is estimated, however, that they will represent only 10 per cent of the fair's attendance. The rest will be the town bookkeeper and his girl, the salesmen for farm equipment, the horse handlers, the hawkers and that increasingly mounting number of city people who are discovering the unique bucolic flavor of a fair.

To the oom-pahs of a brass band, with the tambourines at the dancing tents thumping a sly obbligato, the crowds will stumble through and between the tents night and day for a week or more. Some will come only to gape at the aerialists and the fireworks provided when the Governor appears, as he always must. Others attend for the 4-H demonstrations, the oxen pulls, the pie-eating contests, the farm machinery exhibits and, as noted, the horse races. Still others, too, come to skulk into the side shows or frankly to be seduced by the clacking wheels and the oily tongues in the gambling booths, though the operators protest that country folk are less easily taken in than their city cousins.

But all have a healthy time—the atmosphere has little of the tawdriness of the ordinary carnival or boardwalk. Perhaps it is because the fair has an ancient ancestry, tracing back to the medieval markets with their players' booths. More probably it is because the earthy folk who organize and withal dominate the fairs are an honest and clean-cut lot to whom the gilt and fumes of commercialized amusement is naturally foreign.

Calling Japan To Account.

The sharp note which the British government has addressed to Tokyo in protest against the wounding of the British Ambassador to China by Japanese fliers goes far beyond registering Great Britain's emphatic disapproval of this action and its demand for "the fullest measure of redress."

This in itself is of major importance. What is even more important is that the British note does not stop there but goes on to condemn in clear and unmistakable language the policy which Japan has been pursuing in China since the undeclared war began. The murderous assault on Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen provides a dramatic but by no means an isolated example of the way Japan has been waging that war.

Just a day before the British note was presented, Japanese seaplanes deliberately and systematically bombarded Nantao, the old native city of Shanghai. No military purpose whatsoever could be served by this barbarous action which resulted in the death of more than 200 and the wounding of an additional 400 men, women and children. It was a sheer act of terrorization and on a par with similar air raids carried out by Japanese fliers against other noncombatant areas in Shanghai, Nanking, Hangchow and elsewhere.

It is action of this nature which bids fair to make the name of Japan a synonym for brutality and barbarism and makes a mockery of the pretensions of the island empire to the status of a civilized state. Not too soon and not too strongly has Great Britain called attention to the shocking and outrageous way Japan makes war.

The real issue in the case of the attack on the British envoy, the note from London rightly points out, is not that Sir Hughe as a diplomat was sacrosanct but that he and his party were noncombatants. The attack, therefore, the British government emphasizes, was as illegal as it was inhuman. It failed to draw a distinction, sanctified by international law and enjoined by the most elementary dictates of humanity, between combatants and noncombatants.

For a nation whose own cities are peculiarly vulnerable to air attack, Japan is clearly acting in a suicidal manner. Yet with a recklessness and light-heartedness beyond belief she is destroying whatever is left of those very barriers of international law and humanitarianism that might, at some future time, provide a measure of protection for her own crowded noncombatant areas.

Great Britain's plain-speaking is very much in order. The silence of governments in the face of Japan's savagery in China has made a sorry spectacle. And the point should not be lost on the Japanese that the nation which is now accusing the Tokyo government of pursuing an illegal, inhuman and inexcusable course of action is a nation which, for a score of years, was its great and good ally.

Another Great Bequest.

Another great American fortune—that of Andrew W. Mellon—is to be devoted to the service of the public. The amount of the bequest and the method of its distribution are not yet known, but the sum donated for charitable and educational purposes is said to be "very large." Thus Mr. Mellon joins the ranks of a surprisingly large number of rich men who by their gifts or bequests have shown in a very practical way that they regard their private fortunes as trusts to be devoted to the service of the people and the Nation.

Philanthropists like John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie whose wealth has supported private charities, institutions of learning, hospitals, libraries and other educational and recreational facilities, made their munificent gifts long before the Federal and State governments began to impose extremely heavy taxes upon estates. Public appreciation of their generosity, therefore, was not tempered by a suspicion that they sought a means of escape from payment of confiscatory estate taxes.

Today, the amount of public bequests is, of course, affected by the size of the estate tax, but that is not a good reason for adopting a cynical attitude toward the large giver. As a matter of fact, the heavy taxes imposed upon gifts and inheritances cause the average man of wealth to reduce rather than increase his charitable bequests as the amount available for transmission to his heirs declines.

In Mr. Mellon's case, the tax exempt status of the trust to which his fortune is to be transferred has been questioned by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. And there is already speculation regarding the probability of litigation over the matter. This preoccupation with questions of tax yield indicates that the Federal Government and the States are coming to rely more and more upon taking for current use a large share of accumulated wealth that would once have been freely disposable.

High and increasing estate taxes, combined with heavy income taxes in the upper brackets, are checking the acquisition of wealth and making it less and less likely that huge fortunes like Mr. Mellon's will be accumulated in the years to come. While few will regret the passing of an industrial era that permitted excessive concentration of wealth in a few hands and the power that goes with it, the American people will have cause to regret the loss of those generous contributions that have come from our multimillionaires. Indeed, the depression has already made many endowed institutions painfully aware of the effects of diminished giving by men of wealth.

With the development of social insurance the aged and, to some extent, the unemployed will be systematically provided for. Relief of destitution and care of the helpless and dependent to an increasing degree have become responsibilities of the public authorities. There remains, however, a vast and varied field of action for private philanthropy which is either not touched by the State or else not dealt with adequately. If we are to have less of this sort of giving in the years to come, the State must be prepared to use the surplus which it takes from the rich to satisfy some of the social, economic and cultural needs that are now being met out of private funds.

Employment Gains.

Secretary Perkins stated in a recent address that approximately 8,800,000 more persons were employed in nonagricultural industries last May than in March, 1933. These estimates, based upon dependable sources of information, are a much better gauge of changes in employment conditions than guesses concerning the number unemployed. Furthermore, they throw a good deal of light upon the extent of recovery during the past four years.

Secretary Perkins notes, for instance, that the estimate of persons employed in May is only 655,000 below the level of 1929. Considering that in the intervening years the introduction of labor-saving devices has worked against re-employment, this showing indicates that the industrial machine is now revolving about as rapidly as it did in the boom years of the twenties. This deduction is borne out by current data concerning business activity. Thus, the industrial index of the Federal Reserve Board in July was 14 per cent above the 1923-25 July average, and only five points below the average for the peak year, 1929.

The rate at which idle labor has been reabsorbed is most encouraging, indicating that the problem of unemployment is by no means as insoluble as some prophets of despair proclaim. However, it would be a great mistake to underrate the difficulty of finding work for the idle by looking only at the gains in employment. As Secretary Perkins points out, during the eight years since 1929 there has been a considerable addition to the number of those seeking work as a result of normal population growth, while the economic recovery has not yet brought employment abreast of the 1929 level. That explains why unemployment remains distressingly high in face of steady business expansion.

Secretary Perkins is hopeful that the increased purchasing power of wage earners and farmers, reflected in increased profits for business, will consolidate and increase the gains already made. Her emphasis upon the importance of a better balanced economy which would raise mass consuming power to the point where it would be "comparable to the great productive power of our factories, farms and industries" is well placed. A real increase in purchasing power, as contrasted with a mere nominal advance in terms of money implies ability to buy more goods and services. If monetary increases in income are secured only by making the products of labor and of the soil scarce and dear, the real consuming power of the people will shrink and productive activity and employment will accordingly decline.

"Tests by a medical group indicate that 10 per cent of motorists are practically blind at night," reports a safety council. And observations by anybody indicate that about 70 per cent are virtually dumb day and night.

A zoologist says the skunk has an inferiority complex. Maybe so, but this isn't by any means the skunk's most serious social handicap.

"Multiple births are more frequent in larger families," declares a statistician. It's mighty hard to fool a statistician.

A language teacher says "Hell, no!" isn't good English. Maybe not, but in ever so many cases it's a darned good answer.

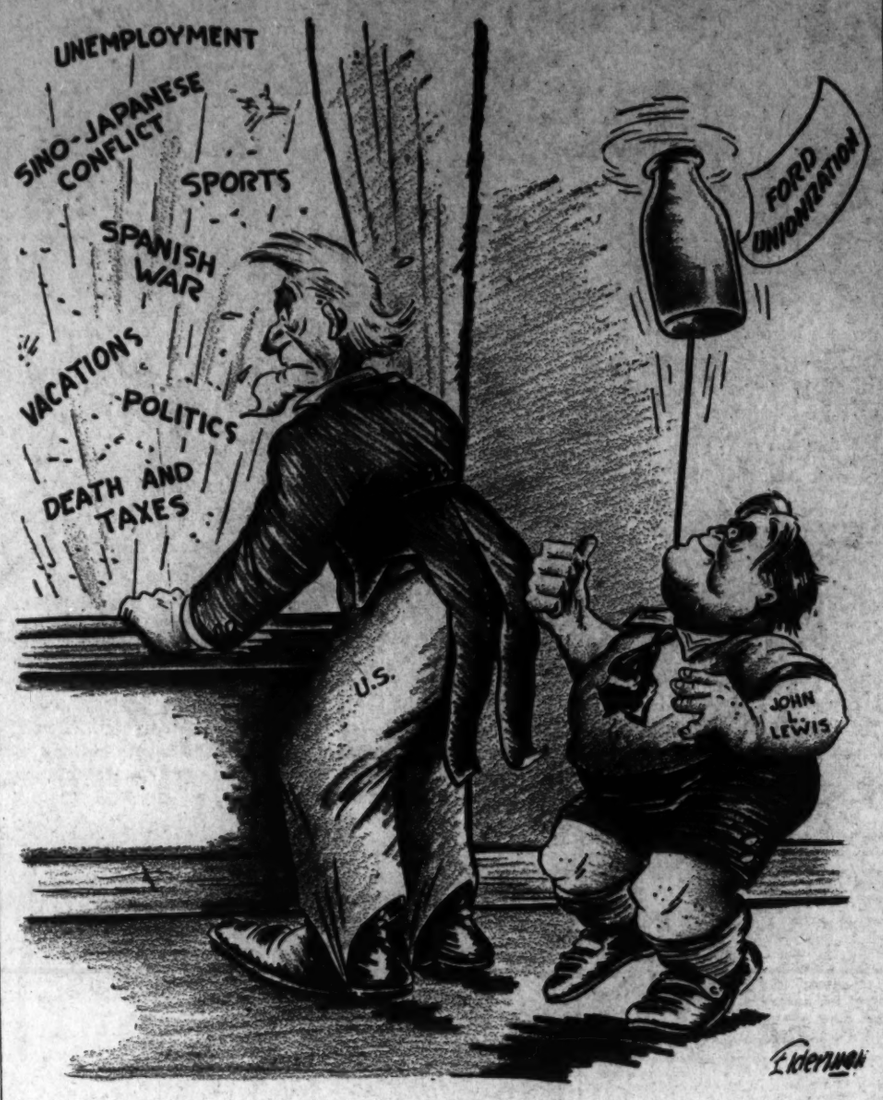
The Job Census.

From the Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

The resolution providing for a census of the unemployed, finally adopted just before Congress adjourned, was so amended that it may be a purely voluntary registration. The usual census law penalties for failure of persons to answer questions were removed from the measure. The change was brought about largely because of President Roosevelt's skepticism as to the value of the proposal and because a compulsory census would involve the expenditure of about $4,000,000.

It is hard to understand Administration opposition to the idea of a census, for at present no one knows accurately how many still remain unemployed, and without such information provision for the jobless must necessarily be made largely by guesswork—a thoroughly unsatisfactory and inefficient method. It is understood that the President would have this voluntary registration made every 90 days through the facilities of the Postoffice Department.

The idea of repeating the count is sound, for it is important to give a continuous picture of the trend as well as the amount of unemployment. But why should it not be compulsory? We see no reason why those who are being supported by the public should not be required to give the Government the information it needs for the adequate planning and administering of their relief.



Lookie, Uncle!

Letters to the Editor

All communications must carry the writer's name and address, though pen names are permitted at the Editor's discretion. In fairness to other correspondents, brevity is requested. Letters are subject to condensation.

Reciprocal Trade Pacts.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In an editorial in The Post of August 26 you state that "if there is one point in the New Deal's record which has firm support everywhere it is Secretary Hull's courageous initiative in seeking to revive international trade as a prop to peace and a stabilizer of prosperity."

I am generally in agreement with your editorials, but please permit me to take exception to the statement quoted above.

It seems to me that the State Department's reciprocal trade agreements are but a striking illustration of the lack of co-ordination in the Administration's policies. They are but additional evidence of the fact that the effect of practically every New Deal policy is to counteract or neutralize some other policy.

One agency is subsidizing the farmers, another is promoting agricultural imports, to the detriment of the farmers.

While the trade agreements are designed to increase exports also, yet another policy of the Administration is to curtail agricultural production, which thereby increases prices and discourages exports. A striking illustration of this is found in the high prices of cotton, which have stimulated foreign production at lower prices than the domestic production and constituted a great menace to our cotton exports.

Another policy of the Administration is to increase wages and reduce hours of work, which operates to raise prices and thereby reduce exports.

While there has been in the last two years considerable increase in international trade, it has not been of a character, with a few exceptions, to help the Government-subsidized groups and, certainly, has not had any appreciable effect on promoting peace, as war and rumors of war have greatly increased.

PHILIP THOMPSON.
Hyattsville, Md., Aug. 26.

Senator Guffey's View.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Your cartoon of Senator Guffey was too severe. The Senator knows what the voters think of the "corporation Democrats," who have shown their true colors and gone over to the Republicans.

President Roosevelt wants only just decisions from the Supreme Court, which was packed with corporation lawyers, who refused to resign on a $20,000 yearly income.

Senator Guffey is right. The American people want men that keep their election promises.

JOHN RIGGLES.
Seabrook, Md., Aug. 24.

Macaulay And Cicero.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Now that Macaulay's forecast of the inevitable end of unlimited government in the name of plebiscites has been so thoroughly annihilated and the author himself definitely installed among the "Tories," one who would again undertake to draw upon the works of this no longer credible author should only be classified with those who will not see the light.

I will, therefore, refrain from saying that it was Macaulay who in chapter VI of his History of England commented as to certain teachers into whose hands "the liberal education of youth" had at the time then under consideration almost entirely passed, that "they appear to have discovered the precise point to which intellectual culture can be carried without the risk of intellectual emancipation."

Indeed, a regime which so obviously addresses its presentation of any subject to the intellectually obtuse, and boldly assumes that there are sufficient of them in the electorate to constitute and establish the desired majority, need never be expected to concern itself with precision. In the end, however, such a regime will show the same disregard for what it now terms and extols as "democracy" as it has already shown for every solemn undertaking which it has found expedient to repudiate.

It will perhaps serve no useful purpose to add that a biographer says: "Macaulay, the historian no less than the politician, is always on the side of justice, fairness for the weak against the strong, the oppressed against the oppressor."

Nor, indeed, should it be intimated that "The Voice," having already demolished Macaulay, would not be capable of making equally short work of Cicero for having said: "In elections the people do not decide right; they are moved by favor, they yield to prayers, they elect those who have most courted them; and indeed, in their decision they act indiscriminately and foolishly, often impetuously and rashly."

HARRISON TILGHMAN.
Easton, Md., Aug. 26.

The Christian Pattern.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I have noticed several letters concerning the fate of Chinese souls killed in battle.

Christ taught but one great truth. He gave one commandment to take the place of all the rest, "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

In his picture of the Last Judgment, Christ takes those on his right hand to Heaven simply because they were kind to those in need. And sends into torment those whose only sin was neglecting to be kind.

Jesus said simply this, that unselfish kindness was his kingdom—that man's heart is in tune with the Almighty who always plays fair with those about him and is kind. There is your cure for war and all else that ails this sick world. A man who fits the above pattern is a Christian even if he is a heathen Chinee who never heard of Christ.

WALTER S. RICE.
Alexandria, Va., Aug. 27.

California Names.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Tom McCarthy errs when he spells San Joaquin "San Joachim." The great valley in central California is pronounced as though spelled "San Waukeen."

Furthermore, only Easterners call the unique and well-situated city of San Francisco by the name of "Frisco." Perhaps I should qualify that by saying some of the Angeleans from the southern part of California do refer to San Francisco as "Frisco," but those who respect the great city always say "San Francisco."

NATIVE CALIFORNIAN.
Alexandria, Va., Aug. 26.

"Fascist Tendency."

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Because I do thoroughly believe in the democratic principles of true Americanism, the letter "Gentiles Only," by Samuel Greener, held particular interest for me.

I happened to have been born in this country of early Dutch parentage. Fortunately, I love justice and have a mind capable of doing my own thinking, and I have grown to hate this chauvinist trait growing in so many American minds for no logical reason whatever. From whence came it? Surely not from the principles of Christianity nor Americanism.

I make it a point never to knowingly patronize any person, institution or society that practices this Fascist tendency. Neither do I choose my friends from this nitwit circle.

ANNA L. VAN ORMAN.
Washington, Aug. 13.

The "Government."

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: "Yes, they erect high monuments to his memory and name parks and cities after him, but what would he think of a Government that can't, or won't, furnish honest employment, at a decent wage, for those who are willing to work?"

The foregoing was comment we overheard at the recent convocation of the unemployed, assembled at the foot of the Washington Monument.

Sounds like a fair question, in the light of what appears to be the present-day conception of the functions, duties and responsibilities of our Government; also indicates, does it not, how far we have traveled and drifted from the thought and inspiration of the founders of this great Nation. Can any of us imagine the signers of the Declaration of Independence, or the barefooted boys at Valley Forge, figuring on how much they were "going to get out of it," or who would pay? Well, indeed, did these know "who would pay"—with their lives—should this, the world's greatest experiment in democracy, fail.

The Government! Who and what was or is it? What was it to the founders? It was the thing they were fighting for—trying to establish. Did they expect it to take care of them and furnish them jobs? No! Well did they know that it was strictly up to them to maintain the Government—a government of free men—if such was to be maintained in a world of autocratic rule and dictatorial power. Is it not up to us to maintain this kind of government, and not expect it to maintain and support us?

RATIONALIST.
Washington, Aug. 28.

Traffic Bureau Experience.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I don't feel much like co-operating with the Washington Traffic Bureau in its problems after today's experience.

In company with a learning driver I was kept waiting 3½ hours this morning to take the driving test, and then was told to "come again Monday" as the closing hour had arrived.

Our number was the very next one to be called when 12 o'clock came (this is the Saturday closing hour), and we had been waiting patiently since 8:30 this morning. I am willing to go half-way, but I think waiting 3½ hours and accomplishing nothing is going more than half-way. Surely my time is worth something.

There was only one man on duty to take care of from 70 to 80 applicants. A second man was there at 8:30 but he walked away before 9 and never returned, nor did they send a substitute.

If the man on duty could have worked only a half-hour longer he could have taken care of the remaining applicants. But why weren't there two, or three, or four men there to give the driving test?

I have always done my part and obeyed the traffic rules faithfully for 12 years, but after being confronted with such inefficiency and mismanagement I am surprised and chagrined. If the Traffic Bureau is not willing to organize and do its part, I don't see why I should ever again go out of my way to do mine.

NEWTON V. BLAKESLEE.
Washington, Aug. 28.

Sex Crimes.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Every day we read in the newspapers of sex crimes. These crimes are growing in astonishing proportions. Isn't it time that we wake up and face facts? Isn't it time that we do something to put an end to the numerous horrible sins against our women and children?

What is the solution? Running these men out of town will not solve the problem. Surely that is no penalty. Besides, their desires for lust will creep out just the same in any other city. What we do need is strong, swift punishment.

If our trials were speedy, as is the case in England, followed by severe punishment, perhaps that would aid in instilling sufficient fear into the hearts of such criminals to restrain their lustful desires.

A READER.
Washington, Aug. 28.

Jersey Homesteads

A FEW MILES south of where the great Pulaski Skyway vaults the smoking New Jersey dumps and vanishes into the dun mists of the flatlands, where on the highway between New York and Washington there begin to be fields and farms instead of airports and factories, Rex Tugwell set down—before he entered the molasses business—Jersey Homesteads, a 1,270-acre co-operative colony and a kind of governmentally financed social experiment.

Jersey Homesteads is a settlement of about 100 families of Russian and Central European immigrants, garment workers by profession, Zionist and anti-capitalist by inclination and self-education, Jewish by race and faith, and American citizens by naturalization. Their language is Yiddish; that of their children is English. They have invested $500 per family, or about $50,000, in an experiment for which the Resettlement Administration has loaned them $1,800,000 without security other than their good faith, which is abundant.

From my first visit to Jersey Homesteads this spring, I came to know many of the pioneers who had made their second immigration into America from the apartments and tenements of the Bronx, Brooklyn, and Manhattan. I soon learned that they considered their colony linked spiritually with two other economic experiments: Soviet Russia and Palestine. But their children are children of the streets of New York.

* * *

The challenge of Jersey Homesteads is in the fact that it is the first balanced triple co-operative, consisting of factory, farm, and store, to be established in the New World. Elsewhere in the United States there are many single or double examples of these three, but only at our Jersey Homesteads can they all be observed functioning together. The members of the colony have felt themselves under the microscope ever since a reporter from a Hearst newspaper in New York was sent through the neighboring locality of Highstown to get signatures for a petition for court injunction against what was called in print "The Raw Deal Commune." The pioneers were lucky enough, after the signatures were collected, to find that their colony was actually on the other side of the county line.

You cannot understand Jersey Homesteads without knowing Benjamin Brown.

A hard driving, solid salesman, Ben Brown came over here from the town of Tulchin in the Ukraine when he was 16, in 1901. He has built up a comfortable fortune by harnessing many Midwestern and Western poultry co-operatives into his own private selling agency for the Eastern United States. This he runs, to the tune of a $12,000,000 annual turnover, from an office at 106 Gansevoort street in the market district of West Side New York.

Summoned back to his motherland in 1928 to organize the federal distribution system in Biro-Bidjian, the Soviet Jewish state, he enlisted on his Russian staff Dr. M. L. Wilson, who is today Tugwell's successor as head of the Resettlement Administration. After a quarrel with the RA this spring, Ben Brown went out and got $50,000 of private capital for the factory's operating expenses. Where this nongovernmental money (which gives virtual control over the success of the enterprise) came from, Ben Brown refused to say. The colonists believe he may have put it up himself. Whoever the new investor, he is pretty well set with regard to the $2,000,000 Federal investment, for according to the New York Times: "Profits from the factory, when pay roll, material and other similar costs have been met, will be divided equally between the colonists and their new financial supporter, after the latter has received 17.5 per cent for overhead costs such as sales and managerial salaries."

* * *

One soft night in June this year, when grasshoppers were sawing away in the fields, Ben Brown called the colonists together in the silvery modern metal factory which is their blockhouse and explained to them that the return to capitalism was due to "the insincerity of certain officers of the Resettlement Administration." The colonists, however, were quickly assured that their executive director and their chairman of the board of sponsors (Ben Brown both) was not deserting them, for Ben Brown revealed that the colony had linked itself with several of the farm co-operatives of which he himself had been for many years the chief sales agent. Another rock of security, a capitalist one this, was that Ben Brown was owner of a 350-acre private estate close to the colony, which was prospering. Unless Ben Brown sells his own estate, the pioneers will never be left leaderless in the New Jersey wilderness.

"Does anybody remember Rex Tugwell around here?" I asked a bunch of boys about 14 years old who were bouncing rubber balls on wooden paddles at the crossroads.

"Sure, he used to be boss of the RA, but he got out of that because there was more of a future in the molasses business," one said with a grin.

"And what about Ben Brown?"

"Oh, that's different. Mr. Brown's a busy man."

For a while we stood there, watching the shadows of the trees lengthen as the dusk came down. Perhaps the boys were thinking with me how experiments come and go in the United States, the flux between ideals and the realities, the coming and going of the young professors, the coming and remaining of the Ben Browns.

(George Weller in The Digest.)

Fair Enough

By

Westbrook Pegler

The Mysterious Montague.

THE SAGA of mysterious John Montague, the Paul Bunyan of the golf course, the locker room and the motor highways, continues in the same goofy tenor even in the honorable courts of New York State.

His incognito destroyed by publicity, the mighty man who is said to have hit a golf ball more than a quarter of a mile, not only once but often, and to have picked sparrows off a wire with a niblick at 50 yards, was returned to Elizabethtown, N. Y., to answer a seven-year-old charge of robbery.

There he was described by Supreme Court Justice Brewer as a modern Jean Valjean—perhaps to his own surprise, for he never revealed his occupation to his friends in California—and heard the learned judge refer to him as a useful citizen of the far-away land of Hollywood, Calif.

To summarize: the mighty Montague first began to attract attention about a year ago as one who could heave a heavyweight bartender over a transom without getting out of his chair and shoot par golf with a ball bat, a shovel and a rake.

He could also stand off ten paces or some such matter and flip playing cards at the crack in the door of a locker and make them stick—for money. And once, on a lonely highway, in a slight altercation with two horny-handed drivers of a stalled truck, he left the seat of his own car, pulled a double spare tire off the rack on the stern of the truck with his bare hands, threw it down a gorge and drove off in quiet hauteur.

Knowing his own strength only too well, he refrained from socking the truckmen lest he leave them for dead beside the road and arouse the hounds of the law.

• • • •

SUCH WAS the reputation of the mighty Montague, and perhaps his prowess was exaggerated slightly in the telling. He wouldn't play tournament golf, which would have revealed just how good he was by comparison with the best, because he just didn't want to.

He might have become heavyweight champion of the world, considering the quality of some of the bums who were winning—and losing—the title during some of his years in Hollywood, but he didn't care to be heavyweight champion of the world.

Nevertheless, and in spite of a firm determination never to let anyone take his picture for publication, he did become famous, and his admiring friends in Hollywood were astonished one day when a New York trooper dropped off a train and picked him up under the name of La Verne Moore.

Thus in one unhappy hour the modesty of the mighty Montague, his distaste for high competitive titles in sport and his disdain for the rewards thereof, as well as his aversion to personal publicity, all were explained away.

• • • •

THE NEW YORK judge, however, would seem to have information which is not shared even now by some of the famous men and women who knew him best in Hollywood.

To them he always was mysterious, never revealing the source of an apparently large income, and there were romantic rumors of a hole in the ground far off in the desert into which he would disappear for a few weeks every now and again to emerge with raw gold.

To them his source of wealth during seven years of luxurious ease in Hollywood is still a mystery, for he was not known as a toiler or artist, and the hold-up, seven years ago, was only a $600 job.

And yet the learned judge said, in admitting Jean Valjean to bail, "For upward of six or seven years you have made your life over and have been a useful and respected and, I think it may be added, a distinguished citizen of a far-away land."

It was a swell speech that the judge delivered and fitter for the nomination of a county chairman than a lecture to one accused of felonious doing, but it still leaves the friends of the defendant in the dark as to where he got his money.

• • • •

HE WAS KNOWN as one who would bet adult chunks on impromptu issues either in golf or cards and was said to carry his funds in travelers' checks by some peculiar preference.

It would be unwise to speculate on the mighty Montague's fate at the hands of the court, but now that the wraps are off the man it is worth hoping that he will be allowed to enter the tournaments and the ring to demonstrate whether he is all that legend said of him. That could almost be called the public's due.

And if truth there be in one of the stories told of him that time he kept his secret in California, there will be embarrassed blushes in J. Edgar Hoover's bureau in the United States Department of Justice. For it is related in Hollywood, Calif., that two of Mr. Hoover's operatives once picked up Montague on a road at night on a charge of impersonating a G-man but let La Verne Moore go when, after a number of whisky-sodas, he convinced them that he had done no such thing.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Congressman's Return.

Wife (as he appears at front door)—No, we don't want any today. You might try next door.

He—Whaddaya mean? I ain't sellin' nuthin'; I'm your husband.

Wife (quite surprised)—Well, slap me if you ain't! I forgot all about you. Whatcher been doin' all these months?

He—Legislatin'. Doncher read the papers?

She—Yep. But my question still goes!

• • • •

He (after entering and sinking into a chair)—Gosh, but it seems good to git home where there ain't no dictatin'.

She—Don't jump at conclusions, Gideon. And answer my question; whatcher been doin' all this time?

He—Savin' the Nation.

She—Do you reckon you got it saved?

He—It takes a lot of savin' but I think the wust is over. How's things with you?

She—They wouldn't be bad . . . if I could only manage to eat.

He—Teeth botherin' you agin, eh?

She—Shucks, no! This savin' of the Nation that you've been doin' has shoved prices of food up so high I almost wish we had Hoover back. I thought Roosevelt and you was bringin' the more abundant life. What's more abundant? Elephant eggs?

He—Has things got expensive, Millie?

She—You a Congressman and askin' things like that! Don't you eat down in Washington?

He—Yes, but we eat in those Senate and House lunchrooms mostly and when we're invited out.

She (suddenly)—Have you got $100 on you?

He—What for?

She—The groceryman's here with a dozen eggs.

He—Will it take $100?

She—I've got the other ten!

• • • •

He—I'd give anything for a good juicy steak, Millie.

She—You'd have to!

He—Has the cost of livin' really gone up so high as all that?

She—It sure has. You and the rest of the boys in Washington ought to stick around home where you can get the facts of life. Didn't you get any inkling down there of what was goin' on around the country?

He—I sort of got the idea the country was interested only in the Supreme Court fight, the wages and hours bill, the housing act, control of industry, and all that.

She—Didn't nobody down there ever mention meat and potatoes?

He—Not that I remember, Millie. The times are too grave.

Hitler has now barred Rotarian Clubs. And not, as some of us supposed, because of the group singing.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

Mexico's Tourists

Visitors From North Flock In On New Highway.

By Jeffrey Paul.

Special Correspondence of The Post.

Mexico, D. F.

IF MEXICAN BANDS had pipers, they could well afford to change the words of "The Campbells Are Coming" to "The Tourists Are Coming." From all over the United States, people are pouring into the country, by car, by train and by boat. More important ones use even airplanes.

Everywhere in the city has appeared the magic sign "English Spoken." Along the broad Avenida Juarez and in the narrower and more crowded streets of Madero, Cinco de Mayo, Sixteenth of September, etc., curio stores have blossomed out as if at the touch of a magic wand. Ragged urchins offer their polishing boxes with the question, "Shine, meester?" Old ladies sell gardenias and violets outside of Sanborn's, Mecca of the tourists, and they, too, pipe up with, "Gardenias for feefty cents, lady."

Train service has been speeded up and the old Colonia Station is bustling as it never bustled before. The trip to the border has been shortened and, as in the United States, creature comforts have been added on trains that have been lacking them since Abraham Lincoln rode a Pullman to Washington. Courteous service and reasonable prices are the watchword of the trains running into and out of Mexico these days.

• • • •

Vera Cruz Steamers Offer Stop-Over Trip.

NEW YORK to Vera Cruz steamer service has brought many an American by way of the water route. Passengers are offered many inducements to come to Mexico. They can go round trip to Mexico and return. They can get off at Vera Cruz, come up to the capital, see the sights on the plateau, and then go on to catch their boats, which have, in the meantime, passed through the Panama Canal, drifted up the Pacific, and are anchored at Acapulco. Such combined land and water excursions have become increasingly popular this past year and offers many advantages that train and auto travel cannot touch.

But the great majority of Americans come to Mexico by auto. The long and beautiful highway from Laredo, Tex., to Mexico City is dotted with cars coming to and from the neighboring lands. Hotels and tourist camps have sprung up in what was wilderness three years ago. Gasoline and repair stations are so conveniently spaced that the danger of being without gas or oil has practically passed. It is this vital artery that is bringing new gold into Mexico.

It is interesting to note the reaction of various sections of Mexican life when the question of "tourismo" is discussed. The government, of course, has done all in its power to advertise the attractions of the country. Its bureaus, consulates, and personnel have won many friends for Mexico. Naturally, government spokesmen favor the tourist trade.

Those who wish to see Mexico retain a certain amount of nationalism are suspicious of the influx of tourists. The "English Spoken" signs, the group that tramp through dim churches, the crowds that gape in awe at the "advanced" educational methods in the School of the Revolution, do not find favor in the sight of the conservatives. The old animosity against aggressive Anglo-Saxon civilization of the "Collossus of the North" has revived of late; and the name of Poinsett and the Mexicans who let Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California slip away into the hands of Yankee invaders are brought forth as proof that the country must be on its guard against the wily "gringo."

Americans Tend To Condescend To Mexico.

THERE IS something to be said for this attitude. Too many Americans, resident in the country, have held themselves aloof from Mexican life, have overacted the reactionary capitalist, have not attempted to understand the people who surround them. The tourists, while willing to be amazed (as they usually are), have a tendency to compare Mexican complacency with American efficiency, to criticize customs which have their roots in Arabic Spain, to question cultural backgrounds of which they have not the vaguest notion.

This, as I see it, is the root of a problem which can be solved by Mexican and American educators working in harmony. Tourists from both countries are living proofs that the cultural background of the United States is known but to few Mexicans and is understood by still fewer. And if Mexicans are ignorant of the United States, the reverse of the picture is ever more startling. Although many colleges and universities have begun to offer courses in Latin American history and literature, the number must increase enormously before any real conception of Hispanic America develops among the massess of Americans.

La Catedral, Mexico, D. F.

Mexicans have been at fault in not trying to see further than the American propensity for making money. It is surprising to chat with Mexican intellectuals and to find them unacquainted with the great scholarly contributions and philanthropic foundations made by Americans, not exclusively for their own use, but for the entire world. A further expansion of the real spirit of Pan-Americanism, plus concrete efforts at co-operation (such as the creation of more interchange fellowships) will help greatly the possibilities for each country understanding its neighbor.

The recent gasoline strike, which has been aggravated of late by a partial strike necessitating the apportionment of small quantities of gasoline, created an unpleasant situation when the Laredo Times published an editorial, accusing the oil companies of spreading propaganda unfavorable to the development of the tourist trade in Mexico. Given wide publicity in this country, the editorial drew a prompt reply from the companies. They pointed out that they had been among the first to encourage such trade; that they had spent thousands in advertising; that to encourage tourist trade was simply good business.

They did admit that their employes in the United States were instructed to answer honestly when asked if there was a scarcity of gasoline in the Mexican capital. Such a warning, the companies contended, was better for the tourist trade in the long run, than to have tourists go back home and say that they had been stranded on the advice of companies which should have been better informed.

Hotels And Merchants Have Enjoyed Rich Year.

HOTELS, curio stores, silver and serape vendors, etc., have done good business this season. There is no question, either, that the gasoline strike has hurt the tourist trade. Therefore, a survey of the benefits of this trade cannot be made as for a normal year until these local difficulties are adjusted and the government has had a chance to work out its plans for coordinating all agencies, public and private, in such a way that the tourist will get the maximum for his money under the best possible conditions.

Highways to Guadalajara, to Ciudad Jaurez opposite El Paso, to Vera Cruz, to Guatemala, to the California coast, are being planned for the near future. Chambers of commerce, governors, and the national authorities are working together to promote a good roads campaign. Old attractions are being preserved, new ones are being built, all with an eye to enticing the millions which Americans now spend on European summer vacations. With such good will and enthusiasm in its favor, there is no doubt that Mexico is well on the way to turning a pretty penny from a tourist trade which natives have learned has both advantages and disadvantages.

Cruise Arranged By Business Unit

The 300 members of the Central Business Association and their guests will go on a moonlight cruise tomorrow evening on the steamer Potomac. Floor and minstrel shows will feature the entertainment program.

The reception committee consists of President Hugh V. Keiser, Vice President Dial H. Elkins, William J. Mileham, Estelle M. Whiting, Secretary Mabel White and Treasurer Walter Poteet.

Prior to the sailing at 8:45 p. m. the Elks' Boys Band will give a concert.

Off the Record

By Ed Reed

"Happy Birthday, Mother."

There's a thrill a day in The Post's new comic "Inspector Wade," based on the mystery stories by Edgar Wallace—The classified page.

Palestine Plan

A

British View

The Royal Commission Report.

Following are extracts from an article in the London New Statesman and Nation.

THE PALESTINE REPORT'S proposals are a profound disappointment to many, but no one can question the honesty and courage with which the Royal Commission have gone into their task, or the ability with which they have presented their case.

The problem they were set to solve was no new one. It was posed 20 years ago, when the Balfour Declaration committed us to the establishment of a national home for the Jews in Palestine. It was hoped and believed that Arabs and Jews would be welded into a single Palestine nation, that out of a conflict of two nationalisms would come a new harmony, a blend of Eastern and Western civilizations. That hope the commission has now written off as an illusion.

The antagonism of the two peoples of Palestine has sharpened, they find, beyond the possibility of reconciliation, and the experiment that was to unite must be abandoned for a policy of separation. It is an unhappy conclusion, but it appears inevitable.

It is idle to attribute the blame, as the Zionists do, wholly or mainly to the weakness of the mandatory government. The British government may have been weak on one occasion or another—it has certainly committed blunders in the course of the last 15 years. But what would "strength" have meant? Surely nothing less than a permanent coercion of the Arabs, which would have involved not only a breach of the terms of the mandate, but incalculable danger to the peace of the Middle East and the world at large.

• • • •

THE FUNDAMENTAL CAUSES of the Arab hostility are, as the report shows, quite clear. They are the Arabs' implacable opposition to the carrying out of the Balfour Declaration and the mandate in their full implications, and the Arabs' fear of Jewish domination, political and economic. Those fears may be exaggerated, but they are genuine and they cannot be argued or conjured away. They have been enhanced by the demands of the Revisionist Jews; they have been little diminished by the assurances of the more moderate Zionists.

The deadlock, as the commission found, is complete, and they can see only one way out of it. To force the Arabs into accepting what they have been making war against (the so-called "disturbances" of last year were in fact open war, not merely or primarily against the Jews, but against the government) is clearly impossible. They would make war again.

Should we, then, damn the consequences, fight them, disarm them and hold them down in perpetuity? No British government in its senses would dream of embarking on such a course. Should we go to the opposite extreme, abandon the mandate and clear out of Palestine, as one section of opinion at home would have us do? That also is not practical politics (strategic considerations rule it out, in the present state of the world, at any rate), nor would it be good morals.

There remains, then, the separation of Arabs and Jews into more or less watertight compartments. The commission considered the scheme of "cantonization," on something like the Swiss model, only to reject it as presenting "most, if not all, of the difficulties presented by partition, without partition's one supreme advantage—the possibility it offers of eventual peace."

• • • •

THE JEWS LAMENT over Jerusalem and cry, "What is Zionism without Zion?" It is clearly impossible that they should have full possession of Jerusalem, which, after all, is a holy place to the Moslems as well as to all Christendom. And, as we understand it, the Jews do not, in fact, quarrel with our remaining as keeper of the holy places.

What are the prospects of the plan being carried out—with amendments in some particulars, but in its essentials as laid down in the report? The British government has adopted it and has already taken the first necessary steps to get the approval of the League of Nations. This prompt decision is all to the good; there was nothing to be gainful and much to be lost by delay and argument.

Opposition both from Arabs and Jews was foreseen by the commission, and it made itself heard the moment the report appeared. The Zionist Organization and the Jewish Agency in Palestine have registered their protest, as they were bound to do. But such a protest does not necessarily spell intransigeance, and we believe that the great majority of the Jews will accept partition as the best solution of the problem that they can hope for.

The Arab Higher Committee have also fulminated against the scheme. The committee itself has been disrupted, or at least seriously weakened, by the defection of the moderate party under Ragheb Bey Nashashibi, and it looks as if the Mufti of Jerusalem will have his work cut out to hold his extremist front together.

There is, of course, a danger that he will attempt to stir up rebellion. But the odds are that counsels of prudence will prevail on him and his friends to take the half-loaf they are offered, instead of dying in the last ditch for the whole that they have small chance of getting. The half-loaf means, in fact, a very solid gain, alike for Arabs and Jews, in the shape of national independence and self-government.

From the British point of view, partition, with all its defects, is the fairest and the most hopeful way that we can see of discharging the obligations we undertook so light-heartedly in Palestine.

Thomas Mann

By William Lyon Phelps

Three Lectures.

The distinguished German novelist, Thomas Mann, who has been traveling and teaching in the United States, has put into one smallish volume three lectures that he gave this spring in America. The book is called "Freud, Goethe, Wagner," and I like them in that rising order—positive, comparative, superlative. The book is published by Alfred A. Knopf, New York.

• • • •

The lecture on Goethe is admirable, as we should expect. It is a lecture on Germany's greatest writer by one of her foremost living ones. It is interesting to see the emphasis laid on Goethe's novel, "Elective Affinities." I have always considered it to be a major work of Goethe's; and yet it is seldom spoken of, and is not today read nearly so much as it should be. One of the most interesting remarks in this lecture is, "school boys learn his love affairs by heart, like Jove's." True enough; and it reminds me of what the German dramatist, Ludwig Fulda, told me. He said that on a school examination paper in Germany, a girl wrote, "Goethe deserted Friderike, who loved him; one day he suddenly left her and was never heard of again."

• • • •

The last lecture on Wagner is the longest and the best. It is profound, and, to use a hackneyed phrase, gives food for thought. It will make Wagner's operas even more interesting to all except possibly professional musicians. The relations between Wagner and Schopenhauer are emphasized, as they should be; and although I do not agree with Schopenhauer's philosophical conclusions, I had exactly the same experience when I read him in my youth as Thomas Mann describes. Whatever one may think of his explanation of the universe, as a literary man Schopenhauer is among the very greatest. I have always been glad I spent a whole year's study of him when I was 22 years old. He made the world far more interesting to me. Goethe, Schopenhauer, Nietszche—these are the three masters of German prose.

I could not help thinking as I read this book, how thoroughly German it is; how deply Mann's literary criticisms are affected by philosophy and science; how different this book would be if it had been written by an equally able Frenchman.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

Flood, Drought Bills Are Signed By President

Diversion of Treasury Fund to Veteran Organizations Is Disapproved.

By the Associated Press.

Hyde Park, N. J., Aug. 29.—President Roosevelt announced today the signing of 15 more bills, including measures aimed at both floods and droughts. He also vetoed two more minor proposals passed in the closing days of Congress.

Besides signing into law the 1937 flood control bill authorizing $34,177,000 of new projects, mostly in the Ohio Valley, he approved a Senate measure to promote water conservation, and proper land use projects in the dry regions of the West, under a program to be formulated by the Department of Agriculture.

One of his vetoes rejected a bill which would have appropriated $294,852 out of the Treasury for division among various veterans' organizations for use in aiding destitute or unemployed veterans and their dependents.

No Claim on Funds.

He said:

"I find myself unable to agree with the present proposal to provide, out of the general fund of the Treasury, for the donation to private agencies of funds to which they have no claim, and to the expenditure of which the usual Governmental safeguards would not apply."

Before announcing disposition of the 17 bills, the President attended services at the little St. James Episcopal Church here, and later in the day took a drive over his forestry project at nearby Val-Kill.

The Rev. Harold H. R. Thompson, of Arlington, preached the sermon at St. James in place of the Rev. Frank R. Wilson, who is on vacation.

In the President's pew were Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. J. R. Roosevelt, a sister-in-law, and Maj. Henry Hooker, a friend of the family.

The President signed the flood control measure despite his disapproval of a provision giving him discretionary authority to remit up to 50 per cent of property contributions now required by cities and towns. He had announced previously he would have preferred that Congress itself decide this on the merits of each case.

Division of Appropriation.

Of the $34,177,000 authorized, $24,877,000 would go for flood wall protection for population centers in the Ohio Valley, and $9,000,000 for control of works along Wolf River and Nonconnah Creek at Memphis.

Army engineer surveys on many streams also are provided.

The "dust bowl" bill that won approval declares a policy of Congress to assist in providing facilities for water storage and utilization in arid and semiarid areas.

The veterans' bill would have turned over to the American Gold Star Mothers, American War Mothers, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans an unexpended balance of funds accumulated by military organizations during the World War.

Congress, the President said, had already provided "that, because of the impossibility of returning this money to the sources from which it originated, it be covered into the general fund of the Treasury and has authorized an equivalent amount to be appropriated, in the event of war, for the recreation, amusement, comfort, contentment, and health of the enlisted personnel of the Military Establishment."

An "Incorrect Premise."

He referred to Congressional committee reports on the bill stressing that a portion of the money formerly in this fund was authorized to be turned over to the American Legion to be used in liquidating indebtedness against Pershing Hall Memorial in Paris, thereby implying that other national organizations engaged in aiding veterans "are likewise entitled to share in this fund."

"The premise on which this argument is based seems to me an incorrect one," he said.

"The appropriation which was made to the Secretary of the Treasury to liquidate the indebtedness connected with Pershing Hall was conditioned on the vesting of the legal title to the property in the Government of the United States for the use and benefit of all American veterans of the World War.

"In no sense could this former appropriation be considered as being for the benefit of any one organization of veterans. The purpose of that appropriation was entirely different from the one authorized by the pending bill."

Firm in New York Made Spain Agent

The Spanish government has appointed the Hanover Sales Corporation of New York City its exclusive purchasing agent for equipment, manufactured products and raw materials made or produced in this country, the Spanish Embassy announced yesterday. This move, the embassy reports, is to facilitate business dealings with American manufacturers.

The New York firm has likewise received exclusive agency for the sale of Spanish government products in this country.

D. C. Advertising Club To Fete Commentator

Members of the Advertising Club of Washington will be hosts at a birthday party for Arthur Godfrey, Washington radio commentator, tomorrow in the club's rooms in the Raleigh Hotel.

Godfrey will be introduced at a general reception starting at 5:30 and will be questioned by members in a formal quiz to determine his exact age. A native of New York City and a former Navy man, Godfrey has heretofore succeeded in keeping his age a secret.

Rail Service Lauded By U. S. Scout Leader

J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, today received a letter from James E. West, chief executive of the Boy Scouts, praising the railroads for their work in making the recent Jamboree a success.

The Federal Diary

By Jean Brownell,

Batting for Scott Hert.

An audition in N. B. C. studios will be th climax of the trip to New York and Enid Mitchell, of R. E. A., will take this week as the prize for winning the recent Quest for Talent contest against 128 other entrants. It won't be her first experience before a microphone, so she's not in danger of succumbing to "mike" fright. The finals of the contest were broadcast locally from the Wardman Park. In fact the judges based their decision partly on Miss Mitchell's radio performance. After hearing her sing in person, they retired to a radio-equipped suite and listened as she repeated the number through the microphone.

She may not look it, but Miss Mitchell has been married seven years. When she is not singing (she practices three hours a day) and working in the R. E. A. information department, she swims or plays tennis.

This sounds screwy to us, but National Park Service seems to believe it's true:

A cow moose with skis for hooves has been roaming around Yellowstone National Park this season, apparently killing time till she can practice gelandesprungs on a base of good corn snow and meanwhile causing considerable excitement among the rangers who thought they knew their wild life.

They've named her "Ski Foot." To prove there is such a thing, they can produce photographs which show clearly her 14-inch hooves turned up on the ends—the better to execute telemarks.

Visitors to the park this year include former President Hoover, Senator Nye, Representatives Fitzpatrick (New York) and O'Neal (Kentucky), T. A. Walters, first Assistant Secretary of the Interior, and J. M. Johnson, Assistant Secretary of Commerce. The stage has been represented by Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne. From the realm of sports came Gabby Street and Grantland Rice.

Still more celebrities will arrive for the Montana-Wyoming Bar Association convention this week. Retired Justice Willis Van Devanter, Senator O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, and President Frederick Stinchfield, of the American Bar Association, will all be there.

William G. Belser, formerly of the Treasury's Social Security tax unit, has resigned to assume his duties as second lieutenant, U. S. Army, Civilian Conservation Corps, at Duncaster, Md.

Anyone who is interested in learning more about interpolation and finite differences may take a course in the subject at the Agriculture Graduate School. The first class will be heard this afternoon, from 4:40 to 6. Additional meetings will be held every Monday and Wednesday afternoons through September 29. The instructor is Dr. W. Edwards Deming.

At a recent organization meeting of the Veterans' Administration Local, No. 5, U. F. W. A., Hilding Schoen was elected president; Mrs. Gertrude Evans, vice president; Marvel Lockhart, secretary, and Carroll W. Butler, financial secretary and treasurer.

Speakers expected at the A. F. G. E. national convention in Philadelphia next week include William Green, Chairman Robert Ramspeck, of the House Civil Service Committee, and President Harry B. Mitchell and Mrs. Lucille F. McMillin, of the Civil Service Commission. National Vice President John F. Daniels, who is in charge of arrangements, announces that the registration fee of $2 includes a tour of the city, the banquet and other entertainment.

Retiring this month after long service with the Department of Agriculture are Mrs. Sallie E. W. Ewin, junior clerk in the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and Charles L. Taylor, chief draftsman in the Forest Service. Mrs. Ewin has been with the department 20 years and Taylor 36 years. Each is 70.

Anyone less than 50 years old, with six months of paid experience in firing steam boilers, of which three months was in marine service, is eligible to apply to the Civil Service Commission for the position of marine fireman in the United States Engineer Department at Large. Applications are due not later than September 15, at the Engineer Office, Room 1706, New Navy Building.

President Hillory A. Tolson has called a meeting of the executive committee of the Interior Department Recreation Association this afternoon. Plans for the fall program will be discussed.

Dancing to Feature Program at Sylvan

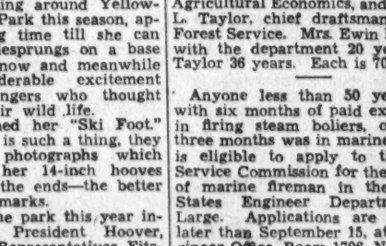
More than 30 Washington dancers will appear tomorrow night in the Hunter Dance Group which will present a program in the Festival series at the Sylvan Theater. The Washington Gaslight Co. employes' band, directed by Prof. Otto Siebenecken, also will appear on the program.

On Wednesday night, the FBI theater group will present "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife." On Tuesday, September 7, the Festival will conclude its seasoon with the fourth concert of the Tempo Choral Club, conducted by Dr. W. Scott Mayo.

Camalier & Buckley

The New "Paktinall"

Fitted Case to Finish the Student Ensemble



Properly constructed en route—overnight or fitted cases should be made of beautiful leathers to match the traveling costumes or your favored color. "Paktinall" cases always carry bottles upright $50

1141 Connecticut Avenue — Camalier & Buckley The Outfitters — 2 Doors Above the Mayflower

LEWIS & THOS. SALTZ, INC., 1409 G STREET N.W.

LAST 6 DAYS of the SALE OF FINE FALL CLOTHES

WE OPEN OUR FALL SEASON NEXT TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7TH

Fall clothing prices will be somewhat higher. The last week of our Sale is an opportunity for our customers to make substantial savings on Fine Quality Fall Suits & Coats.

$35 & $40 SUITS AND COATS.....$29.50
$50 SUITS, SPECIAL GROUP.....$39.50
$55 SUITS & COATS.....$46.50
$60 SUITS & COATS.....$52.50

FALL TOPCOATS $29.50 & $34.75

$35 WOMEN'S MAN-TAILORED COATS.....$24.75
$39.75 WOMEN'S MAN-TAILORED SUITS.....$29.75

LEWIS & THOS. SALTZ INCORPORATED 1409 G STREET N. W.

NOT CONNECTED WITH SALTZ BROS. INC.

September Rivaling June As Month of Weddings

Miss Mary Spear Will Be Married to Lieut. Rooney on the 11th, and Miss Elizabeth Lowe to William Hunter on the 18th.

Although June is reputed to be the most popular wedding month, September is more than holding its own with Capital brides-to-be.

Miss Mary Mowry Spear, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Ray Spear, of 2126 LeRoy place, has selected September 11 as the date of her marriage to Lieut. Roderick Rooney, U. S. N., son of Mrs. John Rooney, of New York, and the late Judge Rooney. The ceremony will be a picturesque one with all the traditions of a Navy wedding. It will be held at 4 p. m. at the Naval Academy Chapel at Annapolis, and the bride and bridegroom will leave the church under an arch of drawn swords.

Miss Spear will have Miss Dorcas Tuck, of Annapolis, as her maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be the Misses Augusta Melvin, Cary Burwell and Anne Howard, of Annapolis, and Miss Anne Turner, of Washington.

John Jerome Rooney, of New York, will serve as his brother's best man, and the ushers will be Lieuts. William Brown, C. B. Laning, Otis Earle, John Williams and Robert McCoy, of Annapolis, and Midshipman Louis C. Spear, brother of the bride-to-be.

Many prenuptial parties are being given for Miss Spear and her fiance. Miss Turner will entertain at a shower this afternoon, and Miss Jane Ducey entertained at another shower last week. Miss Tuck will give a dinner in honor of Miss Spear, and Miss Howard will entertain at a cocktail party at her home in Annapolis.

* * * *

September 18 has been selected as her wedding date by Miss Elizabeth Vandling Lowe, who will be wed to William James Hunter, of Philadelphia, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Adolph Werner, jr., of Drexel Hill, Pa. The ceremony will be performed in the garden and will be followed by a large reception.

The bride-to-be, who makes her home here with her brother and sister-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Coppes Lowe, will have her sister, Mrs. Werner, as her matron of honor.

Miss Ada Page and Miss Edith Lambert are giving a shower for Miss Lowe on Wednesday in their apartments at Clifton Terrace.

* * * *

News has been received of the wedding on August 21 in Warsaw, N. Y., of Miss Helene Ann Coleman to Lieut. Sidney George Spring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Spring, of Perry, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward Godfrey at the home of Mrs. Michael L. Coleman, mother of the bride.

Thomas L. Coleman gave his sister in marriage. She wore a gown of periwinkle lace and carried sweetheart roses. Her sister, Mrs. Martin F. O'Donoghue, of Washington, was matron of honor, and W. Vincent McGuire, of this city, was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony. Lieut. and Mrs. Spring will reside at Fort Peck, Mont., where the bridegroom has been ordered to duty from Fort Belvoir, Va. The bride attended Trinity College and Columbia University Law School and Lieut. Spring was graduated in 1935 from the United States Military Academy.

Guests Crowd Dunes Club at Narragansett

Admiral and Mrs. Mark Bristol Entertain at Farewell Party.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 29.—Narragansett has been gay the past week with much entertaining in the villa colony on Ocean road, the Boston Neck highway, Central street, and the nearby townships of Wakefield and Peacedale.

The popular Dunes Club has also been a favorite resort for members of the villa colony and their guests.

Admiral Mark L. Bristol and Mrs. Bristol, of Washington, who have been guests of Mrs. Irving Hall Chase, of Narragansett and Palm Beach, Fla., gave a farewell cocktail party on Monday at the Dunes Club, which is the central gathering place for society at the pier.

Admiral and Mrs. Bristol have been entertained extensively during their sojourn at Narragansett by Mrs. Chase and other members of the villa colony.

From Narragansett they are going to Newport, across the bay, to be the guest of Mrs. Bradford Norman before they leave on a motor trip for Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Welsh, of Philadelphia and Wakefield, R. I., where they have a country place, entertained a luncheon party at the Dunes Club on Monday.

Another event of the week was the golden jubilee, exhibition of paintings by Miss Caroline Hazard, eminent educator and former president of Wellesley College, at the Neighborhood Guild, Peacedale, near Narragansett. The exhibition was given under the auspices of the South County Art Association and was in charge of Miss Ruth Robinson.

The exhibition opened with a tea, and presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. Thomas Hazard, Mrs. Irving H. Fisher, of Narragansett; Mrs. Leonard Bacon, of Rhode Island; Mrs. S. Foster Hunt, Mrs. William B. Weedon, Mrs. Franklin W. Moulton, of New York, and Mrs. Frank L. Hinckley, of Providence and Narragansett.

Returns From Visit.

A. A. Gulley, of Buena Vista, Va., has returned to his home after a week's visit with his daughter, Mrs. Robert E. Lancaster.

Miss Peabody Fetes Sorority

Zeta Tau Alpha Members Garden Party Guests at Alexandria.

Miss Elizabeth Peabody, of Alexandria, entertained members of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority at a garden party at her home yesterday.

Guests included Judge Ellen K. Ready, of the Municipal Court of the District of Columbia; Miss Beatrice Clephane, director of the Legal Aid Bureau and former president of the Women's Bar Association; Dr. Willis, X ray surgeon at Garfield Hospital, and Mrs. John Warlick, newly-elected Province president and former president of the City Panhellenic Congress.

Members of Zeta Tau Alpha from out-of-town were Miss June Southworth, of Duke University, Durham, N. C.; the Misses Virginia Mills, Virginia and Elizabeth Christinson, and Margaret Dunston, of Randolph Macon College, Lynchberg, Va.

Those present from the active chapter of Beta Alpha Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha at George Washington University included Miss Gerladine Dillman, president; Miss Jane Coulter, Miss Bretchen Hill, Miss Martha Hamilton, Miss Alice Kirkley, Miss Anne Lehman, Miss Audrey McCuen, Miss Irene Rowen, Miss Justine Sampson, Miss Betty Wilkison and Miss Lois Cooley.

The Alumnae chapter was represented by Mrs. Rene Reixach, its president, and other alumnae, including the Misses Betty and Dorothy Eidhammer, Miss Jean Gorslein, Miss Laurie Hess, Miss Dorothy Rock, Miss Mary Ruth Miller, Miss Marjorie Wilbur, Mrs. Franklin Steinko and Miss Adelaide Woodley.

Whitneys, Mrs. Sloane Are Hosts at Saratoga

Mr. and Mrs. John Hay Whitney entertained over the week-end at a luncheon at their cottage at Saratoga. Their honor guests were Mrs. Dodson Altemus Eastman, mother of Mrs. Whitney, and Winton Guest.

Mrs. Dodge Sloane entertained at the Gideon Putnam for Mr. and Mrs. Alan L. Corey, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson A. Dyckman, Mrs. Potter Bourne, Milton W. Holden and Douglass W. Paige.

Leave for Chicago.

Mrs. Otis Wolfe and her son, Paul Wolfe, of Marshalltown, Iowa, have been guests at the Mayflower since Wednesday and are leaving today for a visit in Chicago before returning home. They were in Montreal and New York prior to visiting Washington.

Holton Arms Graduate to Enter New York School

Underwood & Underwood.

MISS ANGELA ADAMS,
the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Adams, of Edgemoor, Md., was graduated from Holton Arms this past June and plans to enter Finch School in New York this fall.

NOTES OF SOCIETY

Official and Residential

Col. William Bryden has been transferred to Fort Meade, Md., and with Mrs. Bryden and their daughter, Miss Ellen Bryden, will leave shortly for his new post.

* * * *

Mrs. Frederick Billard, widow of Admiral Billard, who was for many years commandant of the United States Coast Guard, has closed her apartment at the Westchester and left for Old Lyme, Conn., where she will spend several weeks at the Boxwood Inn.

About September 15 Mrs. Billard will go to New Haven to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence A. Chappell, and will return to Washington late in October.

* * * *

James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, will open the series of Saturday talks at the Newport Art Association on September 4 when he speaks on "England and the Coronation." He represented the President in London at the coronation of King George VI.

* * * *

Mrs. Maxim Karolik will open her residence on Bellevue avenue in Newport this afternoon for a tea to benefit the American Merchant Marine Library Association there. Admittance requirement will be two or more books.

* * * *

Dr. Carl Adams, formerly assistant general counsel of the Federal Communications Commission, who is dean of the Law School of the University of Wyoming, arrived yesterday by plane to spend a few days in Washington.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Paul LaPrade are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on August 24. Mrs. LaPrade is the former Miss Margart Rogers, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. R. G. Rogers. The child has been named Margaret Diane.

* * * *

Miss Mary R. Gaston, of Washington, is at the Belmont Manor Hotel in Bermuda.

* * * *

Commander T. B. Thompson, of 2100 Massachusetts avenue, is at the Commodore Hotel in New York City.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Ostrow, of Washington, who have arrived in New York, will spend a week or ten days visiting friends and shopping in Manhattan. They are stopping at the Waldorf-Astoria during their New York visit.

Other Washingtonians who were recently guests at the Waldorf are Mr. and Mrs. John Darby, who were there for a brief visit last week before they sailed on Saturday night for Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Darby will spend several months traveling in England and on the continent. They are accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lucius R White, jr., of Baltimore.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Silverstein and their two young sons, Robert and Sam, jr., spent the week-end as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Aubrey Fischer. Mrs. Silverstein, formerly Miss Helen Fischer, of Washington, has been traveling in Europe for two months.

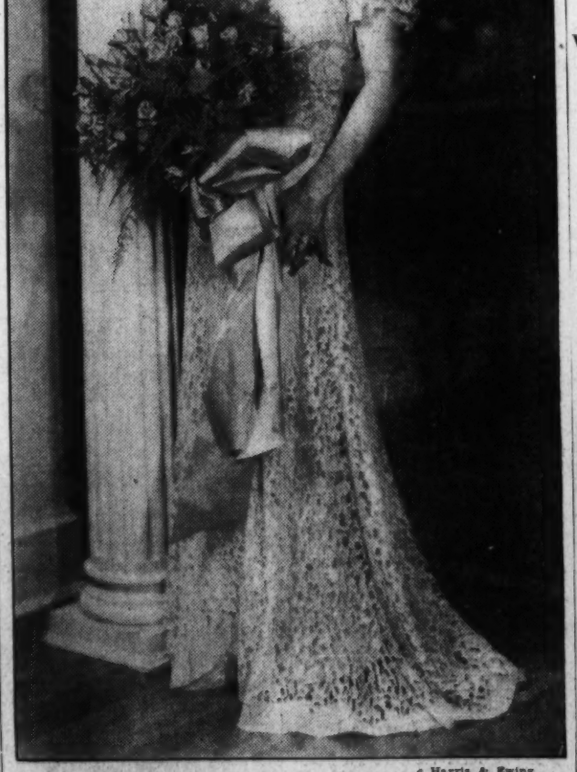
* * * *

Mrs. Ferd. Myer, of Indianapolis and Miami, Fla., spent several days here last week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Baum, of 2440 Sixteenth street northwest.

* * * *

Dr. and Mrs. George Nordlinger spent the week-end in Atlantic City.

August Bride to Live in Capital



© Harris & Ewing

MRS. CORLISS E. STINNETTE, who before her marriage August 7 was Miss Josephine E. Renno, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Weaver. Mr. Stinnette is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Crocius E. Stinnette, of Lynchburg, Va. The couple will live in Washington on return from their wedding trip.

Mme. Schlatter Visits the Truccos

Wife of Swiss Attache Is Guest at Bluemont.

Mme. Schlatter, wife of the Attache of the Swiss Legation, is spending the rest of the summer with Senorita Rebeca, Marta and Graciela Trucco, daughters of the Chilean Ambassador, Senor Dan Manuel Trucco, at his summer home at Bluemont, Va.

Mme. Schlatter's sister, Miss Olga Patterson, daughter of the late Cuban Ambassador, who has been with the Senoritas Trucco during the summer, will remain in Washington this autumn with her brother-in-law and sister. They make their home at 2000 Connecticut avenue.

HOSIERY REPAIRS
Highest Quality Lowest Prices
One-Thread Run—15c
Pulled Threads—10c inch
While-You-Wait Service
SOUTHERN STELOS CO.
613 12th St. N.W. NAtl. 8442

Security Storage
A SAFE DEPOSITORY FOR OVER 47 YEARS
1140 FIFTEENTH ST.

1300 G DROOP'S 1300 G
STEINWAY AND OTHER LEADING PIANOS
Hammond Electric Organs
Everything in Music

Two Festivals At the Sylvan

Alice Hunter Troupe Will Stage Fete Tomorrow Night.

With the present summer festival season in the National Sylvan Theater rapidly closing, this week will find two festival events, offering widely varied interest to Washingtonians who have not yet left the city for their vacations or who are returning from them.

The first of these two events will be the dance festival by the Alice Louise Hunter group, under Miss Hunter's personal direction, with Ray Williams, of Baltimore, as guest dancer, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, preceded by a gala concert by the Washington Gaslight Employes Band at 7:30. For this event the hostesses of the occasion, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Peeples, chairman of the summer festival committee, and Mrs. Vera Robertshaw, will be assisted by a group of the Washington Players, who will serve as ushers in compliment to Miss Hunter and her dancers.

Miss Christine Irish will head the Washington Players group, assisted by Miss Yerby Pannill, Miss Adele Whiteside, Miss Frances Dewey, and by Kent Dyer, Chester Ring and others.

Among the guests of the summer festival committee tomorrow will be Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, Mrs. C. Marshall Finnan, Mrs. Frank T. Gartside and members of the Community Center Council, including Col. Charles I. Stengle, George P. Barse, H. C. Phillips, Harry N. Stull, Bernard G. Ladd, Maj. Campbell Johnson, H. D. Woodson, Miss Corrinne Martin and John T. Rhines.

D. C. Groups to See Cross-Roads Play

Beides being a theatrical event, the opening of "Big-Hearted Herbert" at the Crossroads Theater, Baileys Crossroads, Va., tomorrow night, promises to be a social one as well.

Washingtonians planning theater parties for performances are, Mrs. Isabella Farrington and a group of Chevy Chase friends, Dr. and Mrs. Anton Lang, Maj. and Mrs. Edward Dyer, Maj. and Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Maud Howell Smith, and Mrs. Harry Whiting, who is bringing a party of 40 friends in honor of her son, Harry Whiting, jr., who is in the cast. Marvina Gentry has directed the play and secured an all-Washington semiprofessional cast.

At Mayflower.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gowing are guests at the Mayflower for a few days, having come here from their summer home in Bluemont, Va., where they will spend another month before returning to St. Petersburg, Fla.

SUMMER RATES for DANCE LESSONS
End in a few days

Here is your chance before the start of the social season, to learn the newest dance steps at a special discount. It's easy—and so thrilling to learn the Rumba, Tango, Fox-Trot, and the newest Waltzes from Leroy H. Thayer instructors. Call today and arrange for a guest lesson. Studios open daily from 10 to 10
Leroy H. Thayer.
1215 Connecticut Ave. MEt. 4121

About The Town

With Dudley Harmon.

New Englanders who despair of the watery, faintly tomato-colored stuff served to them in these parts under the guise of "clam chowder," may now hope to find the real thing, because of something which took place at White Sulphur Springs last week.

This was nothing less than an old-fashioned New England clambake, which was held at the airport there and attended by about 100 of the summer colonists.

The bake was the first of its kind ever staged in that section of the country, and, according to the Greenbrier press agent, "proved a unique divertissement." Perhaps this will make the rest of the country around here sufficiently clam conscious to give us something more nearly approaching the delicious chowder which is part of every Friday evening meal on the New England seacoast.

All the necessary ingredients for the White Sulphur bake were flown by plane from Maine. These included fresh, wiggling lobsters, clams and the rockweed required for cooking the clams in the stones. The authorities say it is the rockweed which is responsible for the odor and flavor of the prepared clams.

Newport's famous Clambake Club holds these events during the summer, and with characteristic dignity, makes a ceremony of an affair with which it is difficult, somehow, to associate elegance. The procedure of a clambake is this: A stone fireplace is covered with an iron grate, which, in turn, is piled high with seaweed. On top of all this are tossed lobsters, corn, potatoes and sometimes eggs in the carton, in addition to the clams. The whole mess, which takes about an hour to cook, is held down by sheets of heavy paper anchored with rocks.

Half the fun of a clambake is sitting around on a windswept, damp beach, sniffing the salt air which, mingled with the tang from the ingredients cooking over the fire, gives one a colossal appetite. An appetite which, we doubt, with due respect to the White Sulphur press agent, could be acquired so well at an inland airport.

* * * *

Having completely and tastefully done over the commandant's quarters at the Navy Yard, Mrs. George T. Pettingill, wife of Rear Admiral Pettingill, has found fresh fields to conquer. She and the commandant have bought a house in Connecticut, and Mrs. Pettingill will spend all next month there clearing away brush, digging in the grounds, and generally fixing up the place. The admiral was at one time stationed in New London, so they have many friends in the surrounding towns.

The Chinese-Japanese war is responsible for Mrs. Pettingill remaining in Washington this summer. With Margaret Case, of New York, she was to have sailed in June for Peiping to attend a house party given by Paul Cravath there. Then came the war, the well-known New York lawyer had to call everything off, and they all remained here. Officially, it is postponed until next summer, but these invited are afraid it may be years before it can ever take place.

Mrs. Pettingill hopes not, however, as she lived in China for several years when the admiral was twice stationed there. Her home at the Navy Yard is filled with beautiful and valuable articles from that country.

Issue Invitations.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Melvin Sharpe have issued invitations to the marriage reception of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Evelyn Sharpe, to Dr. Maurice Russell Edmonston on Wednesday, September 8, at 4:30. The reception will be held at their home, 2930 Wesley Heights.

Youth Problems To Go on Air

Parents and Teachers Unit to Sponsor Series of Broadcasts.

"Youth in a Modern Community" will be the theme of the series of radio broadcasts sponsored by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in cooperation with the National Broadcasting Company, to be given over the Blue Network of the N. B. C. each Wednesday at 4:30 to 5 p. m., beginning October 13.

Problems affecting modern youth, and means whereby parents and teachers may assist young people to develop social competence, will be discussed.

Mrs. J. K. Pettengill, of Detroit, Mich., national president, will start the series with an account of her experience while attending the biennial conference of the World Federation of Education Associations and the International Federation of Home and School in Tokyo, Japan, this summer.

The theme of the forum will be developed through round-table discussions, interviews and dramatic sketches, under the leadership of specialists in health, recreation, eduction and allied fields.

"Getting Ready for School" will be the general subject of the first five programs. Miss Charl O. Williams, of Washington, school education chairman, will conduct a round table on October 20 on "School's In." "Is the Rural Problem Different?" will be discussed on October 27, under the leadership of Dr. William McKinley Robinson, Kalamazoo, Mich., rural service chairman.

On November 3 Miss Mary Murphy, of Chicago, child hygiene chairman, will present a sketch on "What About Health?" Mental hygiene problems of modern young people, especially those relating to boy-girl relationship, will be stressed in a round table on November 10, conducted by Miss Evelyn Eastman, Dallas, Tex., national mental hygiene chaiman.

Student aid for high school and college students, as well as for elementary school pupils, will be the subject of a dramatic sketch on November 17, under the direction of Mrs. F. H. Devere, Auburn, R. I., student aid chairman.

TRADE MARK REGISTERED ANTIQUE FURNITURE
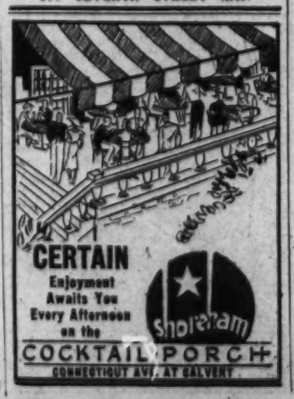
at Public Auction
at Sloan's
715 13th St.
Wednesday, 10 A. M.

THE PERFECT "CLOTHES LINE"
CLEVELAND 7800
FOR HEALTH'S SAKE SEND IT ALL TO TOLMAN
ZORIC
TOLMAN Laundry
ZORIC DRY CLEANING · 5248 WISCONSIN AVE.

MAZOR Masterpieces
DINE FURNITURE & DECORATIONS
911 SEVENTH STREET N.W.



Dr. Wang to Aid In War Benefit

Will Attend Dinner Given By His Daughters to Help Sufferers.

The Ambassador of China, Dr. C. T. Wang, will attend the dinner being given this evening by his daughters at the Lotus restaurant as a benefit for the Chinese war sufferers in Shanghai. Dr. Wang will be accompanied by members of the embassy staff.

The Oriental Culture Group, founded by Miss Ida Hoyt Chamberlain and her brother, Culver Chamberlain, former consul in China, are co-operating with the Chinese ladies in making arrangements for this dinner. Among those who will attend are Col. and Mrs. Wallace C. Philoon; Capt. and Mrs. Lowell W. Bassett; Col. and Mrs. Seth Williams, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Williams; Miss Ida Hoyt Chamberlain; Mr. Culver Chamberlain; Mrs. N. H. Chamberlain; Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Rands; Dr. E. Earl Ferguson; Miss Clara Manderschied; Dr. C. Y. Pan; Mrs. Olga Hoppe; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schreiner; Andrew Hickman; Miss Anne Singleton, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. MacWilliams.

Mr. Morgenthau, Family Sail Today From Hawaii

The Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, jr., who with their children, Joan Elizabeth, Henry Morgenthau 3d, and Robert Morris Morgenthau, have been vacationing in the Hawaiian Islands, are expected to sail today from Honolulu for home.

The Secretary plans to be back at his desk in the Treasury the day after Labor Day.

Home From England.

Mrs. Gladys A. Foster, with her daughter, Rosemary, returned yesterday to her home on S street, after having spent six weeks at her home in England.

JULIUS GARFINCKEL & CO.

TRAVEL COATS
(One of Our Best Specialties)

are prominently placed in our advanced selling

We had them made to conform with our usual standards of perfection from stunning tweeds, rich looking wools, the new nubby fabrics . . . camel's hair, and other choice fabrics. Some have collars of selective, flattering furs (and this makes them perfect for ocean travel and European journeys) . . . others are unfurred, suitable for town wear, milder weather, and general utility.

WE ARE SHOWING THEM FOR WOMEN AND MISSES ON OUR THIRD FLOOR.

F Street at Fourteenth

BEFORE WINTER COMES!
INVESTIGATE
The ECONOMY OF AUTOMATIC GAS HEATING
MORE THAN 14,000 WASHINGTON FAMILIES ARE HEATING THEIR HOMES ECONOMICALLY WITH GAS
Call DIstrict 8500 for a FREE and accurate estimate of the cost of GAS HEATING in advance
WASHINGTON GAS LIGHT COMPANY
411 Tenth St. N.W. District 8500

The GENTLER SEX

By Malvina Lindsay.

A Pair of Stockings.

THIS TIME you are going to get the right stockings if it kills you. If the Duchess of Windsor can spend half an hour selecting a single pair, you surely can give some time to buying two pairs—or possibly three in event the $2.85 rate still holds.

Heretofore, you've always bought your stockings too impulsively, when you get them home they're either a little too tan or a little too gray, a little too flashy or a little too muddy. You see just the right shades on other women—you see them on the impeccable plaster ladies in the shop windows—stockings that blend perfectly with the costume and, as the fashion writers say, "flatter the legs."

Well, this time you will not be stampeded into getting something you're not sure about. Like the Duchess of Windsor you'll stick it out—so charmingly and graciously that the clerk will simply love waiting for you to make up your mind.

• • • •

You step up to the counter hopefully surveying the array of fluttering chiffons. Myriads of tans, browns and grays in their subtlest variations! You picture for yourself the perfect shade, one that will blend perfectly with your new black satin and your green knit, also look well with your coronation red crepe and your last fall's blue woolen; one that will be dark enough to be slenderizing yet light enough to have zip; one that will make your legs look as lithe as Ginger Rogers', as alluring as Dietrich's.

You try to explain this to the clerk. She goes to a drawer and returns with a pair approaching a sick mustard in tone.

"Aren't those a little light for fall?" you venture, in your gracious Duchess of Windsor manner.

"They're going to wear them lighter this fall," she replies.

You insist—sweetly, charmingly—on seeing something darker. She returns with a muddy-colored assortment.

"Here is the new Asphalt," she explains drawing it over her hand. It suggests the robust underpinnings of your Aunt Minnie.

"Haven't you something just a little lighter?" you inquire smirkingly.

"With the fall season coming on they'll be wearing them darker," she crisply replies.

• • • •

At your smiling, but firm insistence, she brings another assortment. Everything is a little too this or too that.

"This is a nice Dove's Breast," she says encouragingly.

Bridge luncheon echoes float through your mind . . . "If there's one thing men hate, it's gray stockings" . . . You shake your head decisively.

"This Gazelle will go well with any color." She holds it over her hand, looks at you inquiringly. Her glance plainly says, "Why all this fuss about a pair of stockings?"

You feel guilty, ashamed, a vacillating personality. If only you could be a woman of strong mind and quick decision! And yet, you reflect, such women usually wear gun metal service weight. No! You will be like Wally!

You smirk ingratiatingly. "If I could just get something a little darker——"

She goes to the drawer, rumages in numerous boxes, returns with a strange gravy-colored effect. "It's the new Navy Bean Soup shade," she announces in triumph.

For a moment you waiver. Perhaps after all you might as well—Then you think of the Duchess. A half hour for a pair of stockings. You look at your watch. You have been only six minutes!

• • • •

You summon all your magnetism and try another beaming smile. "If I could just get something with a little more warmth——"

She flips down another box, holds a reddish color texture over her hand. "It's the new Chili Sauce," she explains.

"It's a lovely shade," you gush, "and would be wonderful if I were only wearing brown. But——you see my coat is black."

"They're wearing the red tones now with black," she retorts.

You pick up the Navy Bean Soup stockings and hold them alongside the Chili Sauce ones, looking from one to the other. A large dominant matron parks herself beside you at the counter. "Will someone wait on me?" she asks commandingly.

"Just in a minute," says the clerk, shifting from one foot to the other.

You lean over the counter trying to peer through the glass cases filled apparently with every stocking shade known.

"You try a final smirk. "Then you haven't anything just a little lighter than these—or a little darker than those?"

"No we haven't," says the clerk with finality.

You feel two pairs of eyes staring you down. You reluctantly slowly open your pocketbook. "All right I—I guess I'll take two pairs of the Navy Bean Soup."

Tailored Hats Adopt New Feminine Style Trend

The last word in fall tailored hats (below), fashioned of cinnamon brown felt, to complement the predominating tone in the fur-collared tweed coat. The high crown is interestingly manipulated with folds of the felt, and the jaunty brim is ornamented with three rows of braid in self-color. The perky feather at one side of the crown lends dash and a spot of contrasting color. Available in numerous new color tones.

Hatter's plush (left), in a flattering wide-brimmed version, to top sleek fall frocks of silk crepe or sheer wool. This is an old-fashioned hat material which has been revived this year and styled in youthful, smart lines; generally becoming to women of all ages. High of brim and crown, the off-the-face tailored felt hat (below) is youthful and chic. An ideal hat for the college girl to accompany tweeds and campus woolens.

Tailored Hat This Autumn Has Personality

Chic High Crowns and Jaunty Brims Add Feminine Note.

By Ethel Ehlen.

The Post Fashion Editor.

THE NEW TAILORED HAT has a personality! No longer is it classified as a casual top-piece, sans style and becomingness, and to be worn apparently by women who have no interest in smart clothes. The tailored hats for fall have taken a cue from the feminine influences of the current mode and are appearing in chic high crowns, jaunty brims, effective trimming. They are youthful in their designing and not only becoming, but if carefully chosen, extremely flattering to both the wearer and her costume.

There should be at least one tailored hat in every wardrobe—the type that may be worn smartly with town clothes, suits, simple sheer woolen frocks, and fur-trimmed ensembles of the tailored styling. It may either match or contrast with the costume—this all depends upon the color theme and general style of the costume. With several dozen new hues and tints, and the classic black, brown and navy, from which to make a choice, there should be no difficulty in matching hats with tweeds and other woolens this season. Some of the latest color tones are empire purple, mahogany, cognac, porto red, Roman bronze, slate blue, burnt sugar, tropic night, camel, rally green.

Variety in Brims.

Hatter's plush has returned to vogue in both wide and narrow-brimmed versions. The new models are youthful and smart and grand complements to the pencil-silhouetted black frocks of satin, silk crepe and sheer wool. This shiny headgear may be echoed in patent leather handbags, belts and shoe trimming. Brims in the latest tailored creations slant both skyward and down. The former comprise the clever off-the-face hats, which are worn back on the head, exposing the forehead. The downward sloping brims are narrower this fall and often are trimmed with rows of braid or stitchting, to eliminate a too severe effect; crowns in this event, are high and sometimes the felt or velour is folded or draped to add femininity.

A WOMAN'S NEW YORK

By Alice Hughes.

New York, Aug. 29.

DURING my recent rocket-trip to Paris I found the citizens of that immortal town fascinated by a recent French discovery—the week-end! Their celebration of this time-honored and oft-abused American institution was one of the most interesting things I noted on the fly. The week-end came to Paris with the arrival of the 40-hour work week. Suddenly the people found themselves confronted with a laborless stretch. So what they pronounce something like "waikan" is one of the outstanding French phenomena of 1937—along with the monumental exposition. So deeply has the notion of Saturday and Sunday fun struck home that they have actually appointed a state official called The Manager of Leisure, whose duty it is to find ways, means and places for the folks to enjoy their fresh freedom. My goodness! Couldn't we tell them a few things to avoid, from Friday to Monday.

ALICE HUGHES.

How the gay Gauls are enjoying the "waikan!" When a boy meets girl on a Saturday morning, they clamber aboard a bike built for two and are off to "green fields and pastures new." Old stuff to Americans. Britons and Germans, this tandem cycling excites the Parisians like a kid's first view of a merry-go-round, and the streets of the French capital are filled with them on Saturday morning, pedaling away for dear fun!

What's more, these bike-riders dress to match. Oh, those French! Both boy and girl wear sweaters or sports shirts, he knickers and she slacks, and they share the color scheme between them. You really must trot over to Paris and learn about the week-end some time, even if you don't like bikes.

• • • •

GIRL ABOUT TOWN—This matter of boy-matching-girl in raiment is credited abroad to the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. His royal highness is said to have adapted his haberdashery to her mood and ensemble of the moment—and still does. In fact, I was told that this happy harmony between them extends beyond matters merely sartorial. One of my friends who saw them during their holiday at the Lido, Venice, says that the conventional ice-filled champagne bucket always stood beside their table. But that the bottle contained not bubbly—but beer! So it may be that her grace has Edward on a modest beer diet!

• • • •

The bravest little boy in New York is 5-year-old Bobby McGlynn. He broke all precedent by appearing with 499 girls in a dance festival in Brooklyn the other day—the only member of his sex ever to dare the jibes of his pals in this blatant fashion. But Bob had an elegant out. He appeared as a villainous pirate, waving the jolly Roger with one hand and using an empty pop bottle as a spyglass with the other. This he-man role saved the day for gallant Robert!

• • • •

We were all very pleased with the way Robert Taylor comported himself during his two-day stay here before sailing for England. The Dream Man, in spite of the mobbing of hundreds of girls, never lost his dignity, his sense of humor or his temper—in spite of the fact that two of his worshipers managed to hide under his bunk on the ship to be sure of a look before he sailed. But he refused to commit himself on the matter of marriage to Barbara Stanwyck . . .

Today's HEALTH TALK

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

Child Vaccinations.

The life of a child is becoming more and more complicated. I know a pair of young gentlemen, aged 15, who have been taking bridge lessons this summer. Besides this, one of them is behind in his French and is studying that twice a week. And there are horseback riding lessons and piano lessons and lessons on the accordion and an endless list of preparations for life.

The business of preparing the body against contagious diseases is also getting more and more involved. When I started writing this column the only vaccinations I felt I could conscientiously recommend were against smallpox and typhoid fever. Soon after the success of diphtheria vaccination was proved to my satisfaction and I added that to the list. Now both scarlet fever and whooping cough can be recommended.

So altogether, already the growing child should have five immunizations given him and inevitably there are more to come. How will he find time to get them all in? I am frank to say I don't know exactly, but I suggest that it should be worked out by each family individually.

It would be convenient to set aside one week a year for the first few years of the child's life as "Family immunization week."

During the first year, when it is generally acknowledge that immunization to smallpox be done, will be Jennerian vaccination year.

Diphtheria should be done after the first year is passed, but not before, according to most authorities, so the second year includes diphtheria week.

The third year I think we can keep free.

The fourth year is for typhoid vaccine.

The fifth year for whooping cough.

And the sixth for scarlet fever.

I put scarlet fever off to the last because I am least sure of the effectiveness of that vaccine. Still it has been recommended by the American Academy of Pediatrics, and that is equivalent to meaning that it has been thoroughly investigated. The present vaccine is a modified form of the original, which did not prove satisfactory. It is given in five doses of increasing strength one week apart.

The vaccine against whooping cough has been widely used now, and enough cases are on record for us to be able to say that it has no bad reactions and that it does protect in an epidemic of whooping cough.

I do not believe scarlet fever or whooping cough vaccinations should be made compulsory yet, but as an optional proceedure they can be recommended.

Public Dispute Over Etiquette Real Rudeness

Girl Who Corrects Errors of Family Before Friends Cited.

By Margaret Wallace

Strange as it may seem, the persons who constantly make issues on points of etiquette with their friends and relatives should be classed as rude.

One mother of a Washington girl holds this opinion and believes that her daughter, who is always studying an etiquette book, is the rudest member of her family. She writes:

"My daughter makes us all very uncomfortable. She constantly corrects her father's table manners. She rebukes me for placing the table silver in the wrong manner on the table even if there are guests present She makes the life of her young brother miserable.

Daughter Protests.

"My husband brought a friend home recently and introduced him to the family as 'Bill Jones.' He did not think it necessary to make a formal presentation of this old friend to each member of the family. But my daughter rose in all her majesty and said, 'Father, you have neglected to present your friend to me.' My young son laughed loudly at the grand manner, and certainly Mr. Jones looked surprised. But my husband, who is more of a gentleman than my daughter is a lady, in spite of his lack of study of the book of etiquette, said good naturedly, 'Oh, yes; this is my daughter, Rose, and you have already met my wife, and this is young Bill, our son.'

"But not to be 'downed' on her determination to keep our family strictly to what is written in her etiquette book, my daughter said, 'I am very pleased to have you presented to me by father, Mr. Jones.' Again Mr. Jones stared in astonishment. The rest of us knew that this was a rebuke to her father for presenting a lady to a gentleman and not the gentleman to the lady.

"She has even tried to make my young son and my husband rise from the breakfast table when she enters late. My husband and son work, and I like for them to finish their breakfasts leisurely. My daughter comes to the table in a negligee I would be ashamed to have an outsider see her wear, and proceeds to read her mail and jumps up from the table to telephone her friends or answer the telephone without so much as an 'excuse me.'"

Rude Behavior.

This mother is exactly right. Her daughter is a very rude member of her family. One of the first rules of etiquette that this young girl should study is that a truly well-bred person always avoids saying or doing anything that would make another person uncomfortable. It is very rude to correct the manners of another person publicly. In fact, the relationship or friendship has to be very close for this to be tactful at any time. Even parents should wait until they are alone with their children before they correct them in such matters.

No doubt "Mr. Jones," who was the subject of the object lesson in introductions practiced by this young girl on her family secretly disapproved of her and thought her a very bold and diagreeable young girl. It is true that men are supposed to rise when women enter a room. But the rules of common sense, which are just as important as the rules of eiquette, and cannot really be separated, would not dictate that a man and boy eating their breakfasts before going to work should rise when a young girl in her negligee comes in late for breakfast.

Women Outnumber Men About 30 to 1 In Part of Mexico

EVEN WITH five women to each eligible man, Washington girls have a distinct advantage over their Mexican sisters in the Sonora State Village, where there are 175 marriageable women for each four men.

In many remote towns in the Northeast and Central parts of Mexico, the women outnumber the men by 30 to 1. The arrival of any kind of presentable male causes a stir of excitment in these little towns where the women are quite good looking and rate high in wifely qualities.

But unless something unexpected happens to bring in many, many males all these soft-eyed, soft-spoken girls are destined to be old maids. Their native heaths were hard hit by innumerable years of bloody civil wars that killed out many of the eligible males or drove them to some other section to seek a living. An example of this is the thousands of Mexican men that have come to the United States. Few if any of the men ever returned to their native village. There are no records or legends that any of them ever sent home for a wife.

Only a few of the girls are bold enough to leave their homes and seek employment in the larger cities for tradition still frowns upon the girl that leaves the shelter and protection of their parent's abode.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

'Can He Be Made to Support Our Child?' Asks Girl Who Was Betrayed by Twice-Married Man.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl of 24. About 18 months ago I met a man 10 years my senior. He was one of those dizzy types, having been married twice and twice separated. He wasn't divorced from his second wife, however, but was going steadily with another girl and playing around with several others at the same time. A great many people warned me against falling in love with him, but I just couldn't help it. He simply had a way with women. I used to meet him secretly and go for rides in his car. He would park in some lonely spot and we would talk.

• • • •

It wasn't long before he began to insist that I have sex relations with him, saying that I would really mean something to him then. I didn't believe it, of course, and resisted for almost a year. During that time we wrote each other quite often and saw each other occasionally. Finally he told me that if I couldn't do as he desired, he wouldn't see or write to me again; that we weren't getting any where. I loved him so much that I couldn't be myself with the other men I knew, so I decided I might as well give in. That was four months ago. I haven't seen or heard from him since. He won't answer my letters, but I know where he is. I would let the matter drop but I am going to have a child.

• • • •

Can he be made to support our child? If so, how should I go about trying to make him? He has a fairly good job in the Government. The future welfare of my baby is all I am worried about now. I am willing to suffer any amount of exposure, scandal and loss of reputation to see that the child is provided for. Please answer soon and tell me what to do.

ANXIOUS.

• • • •

Support Is Compulsory.

DEAR ANXIOUS: If the man's paternity can be established, and the woman's word carries great weight in such matters, he can be and will be compelled to provide for his child. The person for you to see is Attorney Edward M. Welliver, corporation counsel for the Juvenile Court of the District of Columbia, in which court such cases are prosecuted. His office is in Room 200 of the Juvenile Court Building at 472 Indiana avenue, and his hours are from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., although I am told the best time to see him is early in the morning. You can make an appointment by telephoning NAtional 6000, and asking for his office. In his absence, some member of his staff can handle the interview.

• • • •

I admire your courage in being willing "to suffer any amount of exposure, scandal and loss of reputation" in order to pin the man down to his full share of responsibility in this matter. But I believe the case will be handled with a minimum of embarrassing publicity for yourself. A man who would act as this man has acted is a coward of the worst sort, and of the two, I believe he will be more appalled at the thought of exposure; less willing to face the possibility of it than you are.

M. H.

• • • •

Balks at Son's Marriage.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Please tell me if it is my duty to visit the family of the girl my son is engaged to marry. He tells me if I hold myself apart from him and her, he will hold himself apart from me. He is the last of my six children and has taken his father's place since his father died. The girl's family are strangers to me. I shall be thankful for any advice.

TROUBLED.

• • • •

DEAR TROUBLED: In stubbornly holding back from visiting the family of the girl your son is engaged to marry, you are showing ignorance of proper social procedure, and acting most ungraciously besides. Emily Post, in her "Blue Book of Social Usage," says: "Etiquette demands that the parents of the bridegroom-elect call within 24 hours upon the parents of the bride-to-be. If illness or absence prevents one of them, the other must go alone . . . Not even deep mourning can excuse the failure to observe this formality."

• • • •

"I suppose your refusal to cultivate the acquaintanceship of the girl and her family is a way of showing disapproval of your son's marriage plans. This, it seems to me, is very shortsighted conduct. If he is man enough to take his father's place since the latter's death, he is man enough to get married if he chooses. The fact that he is the last of the family and has stood by you this long doesn't necessarily deprive him of the right to take a wife. If you were unselfish enough to wish for him a normally happy, well-rounded life, you would encourage his marriage plans and do everything in your power to establish harmonious relations between the two families. If you refuse to co-operate, I think your son is fully justified in "holding himself apart" from you.

M. H.

Miss Haworth will be glad to help you in solving your problems. Write her in care of The Post Woman's Page.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

Pleasant HOMES

By Elizabeth MacRae Boykin.

"I NEVER KNOW what to expect next," sighed Melinda. "Here am I loving nothing so much as French chairs and trailing lace bedspreads . . . wouldn't I be the mother of a houseful of boys and a husband who would demolish a French room at a single glance.

"Through these growing years, my problem is to fix a house that can take care of everything from table tennis to a correspondence course in taxidermy. I have in mind making a drastic change in our dining room to get all their stuff out of the living room (Oh, I know I should have an attic or a basement playroom, but I don't and our bedrooms are too small and crowded already). Now don't laugh at this idea—our dining table is on its last legs and should be turned over to the junk man. On the other hand there is a very good table for tennis right in the living room at present—quite a strong one. Why couldn't I use this for a dining table at meal time, then let the boys play here between meals? I thought I might buy a small folding or drop leaf table for each boy (there are four of them). These would serve for their individual activities, and yet they could be gotten out of the way in a pushancy.

Since we need new dining chairs also, I thought two long benches for each side of the table would do, then a papa and mama chair for us at each end. The benches could go under the table between meals and would have the added advantage of taking care of extra company. We almost always have one or more neighbor boys to eat with us. Hope this doesn't sound absolutely crazy.

What I want you to help me with is the colors and curtains. I realize that the usual formal background wouldn't do for such furnishings, but the question is, what would? The living room across the hall is conventional in blues and rose tones mostly against cream wall paper. The hall has cream walls and hooked rugs.

No—we don't think your idea sounds crazy at all. We just think that you have imagination. Why not have these walls papered in one of the rather dizzy sporting wall papers now on the market. The masculine branch of the family will approve and you'll find it more appropriate than the usual sedate designs. Then leave the floors bare, paint the benches red and get plain red saillcloth for curtains—made on rings to swish back and forth. Use informal peasant lines—or else bright blue or green dress linen fringed all around for the tablecloth and napkins.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

Home Institute

Enjoy Familiar Poems

There's courage to lift a downcast heart in these lines from Longfellow's beloved "Psalm of Life." You long to recall the rest of this inspiring poem — just as you yearn to see a faithful friend again.

A bit of Sam Walter Foss's "House by the Side of the Road" drifts through your mind.

"Let me live in my house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish—so am I."

You try to recapture once more the satisfying mood of peace and tolerance the whole poem gives. But how does it go on?

And what's the rest of Kipling's "If"—the poem that never fails to stir you to fresh resolves? Remember, it begins:

"If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you. . . ."

When you're filled with vague, disturbing longings for a better sort of life, wouldn't it help to know Ella Wheeler Wilcox's "Wishing"?

"Do you wish the world were happy?
Then remember day by day
Just to scatter seeds of kindness
As you pass along the way. . . ."

And how a sparkling bit from your favorite poems helps to brighten a dull life. Hear Christina Rossetti say "My heart is like a singing bird" and your heart sings too.

Say with Carl Sandburg:

"The fog comes on little cat feet . . ." and all the world is shrouded with mystery.

Find your best-loved poems complete in our 40-page booklet, POEMS THE WHOLE WORLD LOVES. Favorite verses of Longfellow, Field, Stevenson, Browning, Burns, Poe and other popular poets. Poems to fit your every mood.

Send 15 cents for our booklet, "Poems the Whole World Loves," to The Washington Post, Home Institute, 109 West Nineteenth street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

MENUS FOR TODAY

By Jean Green.

BREAKFAST.
Fresh sliced peaches on Rice Crispies
Broiled bacon
Buttered toast Marmalade
Coffee Milk for children

LUNCH
Stuffed tomatoes Celery cole slaw
Surrounded by deviled eggs
Crisp Wafers
Chilled watermelon
Tea punch

DINNER
Roast veal and spiced pears
Parsley buttered potatoes
Carrots Julienne
Hot biscuits Butter
Macaroon Dessert
Coffee Milk for children

MACAROON DESSERT
2 tablespoons of gelatin
1 cup of cold water
2 cups of hot milk
5 eggs
1 cup of sugar
¼ cup of sherry
12 macaroons

Moisten the macaroons with the wine. Soften the gelatin in the water for five minutes. Heat the milk and pour over the gelatin mixture. Stir until dissolved. Beat the yolks of the eggs until light and creamy. Pour the hot milk over the egg yolks gradually.

Add the sugar. Pour into the top of a double boiler and cook until thick and smooth. Cool. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a wet mold lined with the macaroons. Let stand until firm. Unmold and serve with whipped cream.

BEDS—SPRINGS
STUDIO COUCHES

IT doesn't take us but one day to put your old mattress through a sterilizing, cleaning, rejuvenating process that literally makes it new. Costs $5 and up. Phone for our representative to call.

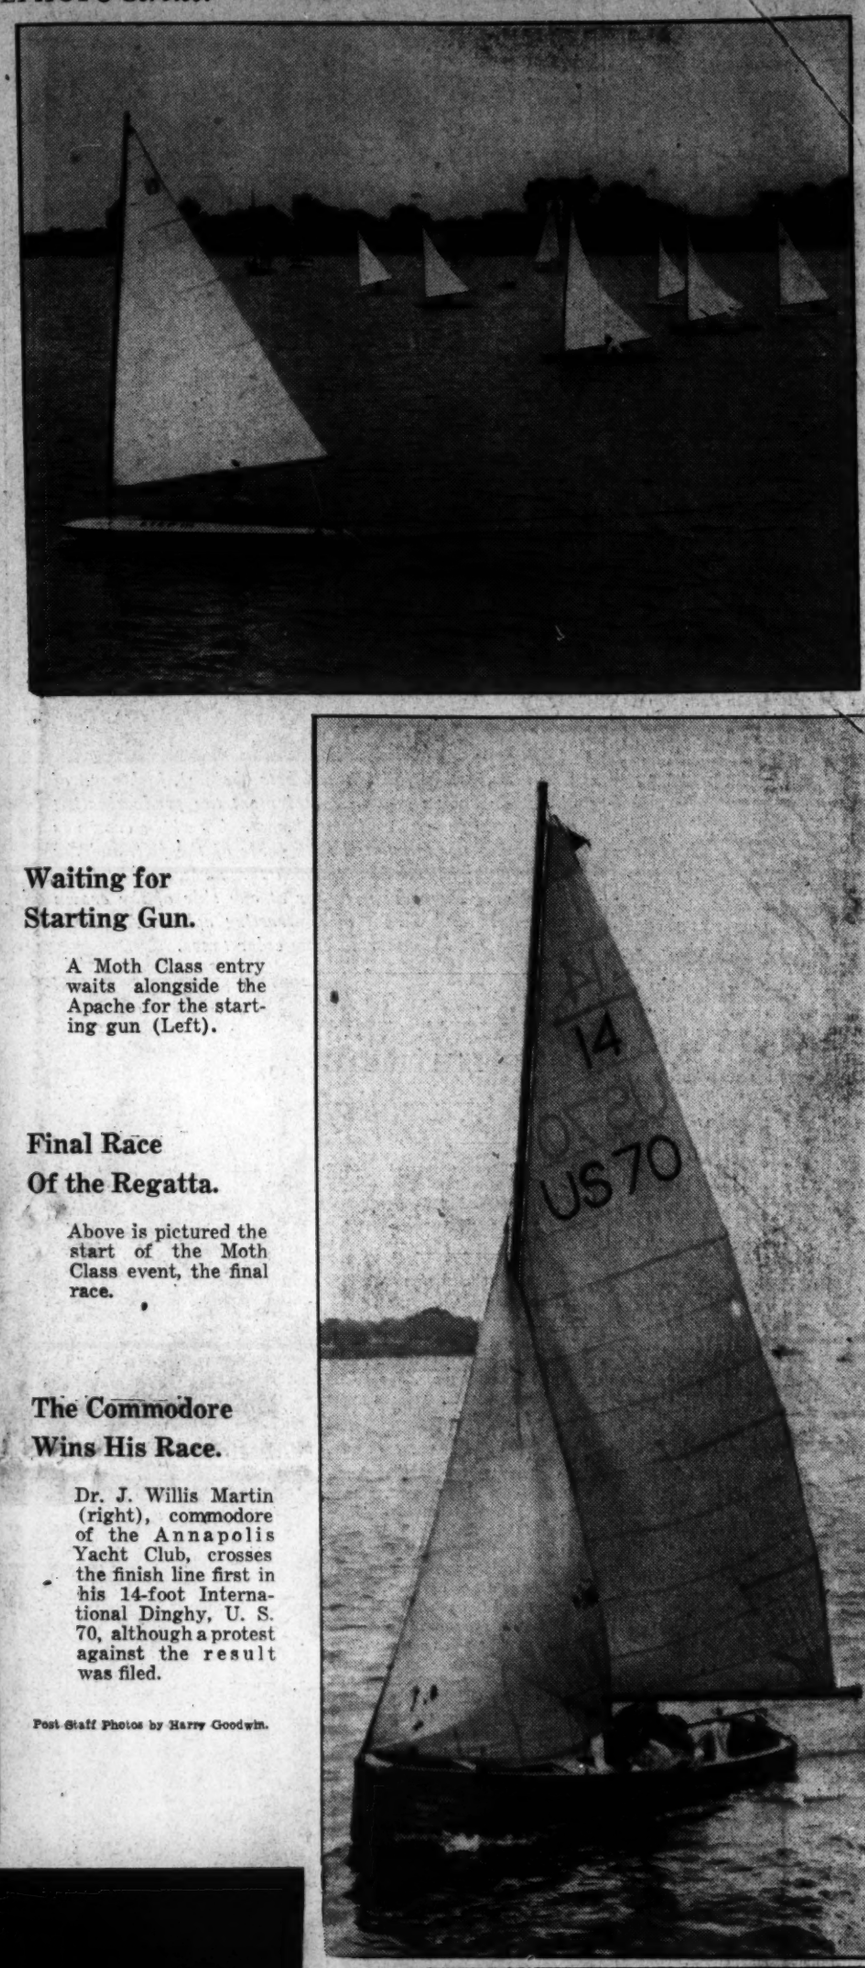
ZABAN'S
1215 22nd St. N.W.
National 9410

Cameraman's Story of Annual Annapolis Yacht Club Regatta

The Post is the only daily morning paper in Washington with A. P. WIREPHOTO Service.

Waiting for Starting Gun.

A Moth Class entry waits alongside the Apache for the starting gun (Left).



Final Race Of the Regatta.

Above is pictured the start of the Moth Class event, the final race.

The Commodore Wins His Race.

Dr. J. Willis Martin (right), commodore of the Annapolis Yacht Club, crosses the finish line first in his 14-foot International Dinghy, U. S. 70, although a protest against the result was filed.

Post Staff Photos by Harry Goodwin.

Associated Press Photo.

Held in Murder Of Her Husband.

Guydel Jackson Beckham is held in $5,000 bond in connection with the murder of her husband, John, and brother, Arlton, who drowned at Athens, Tex., August 15.

Post Staff Photo.

Shipley Brothers' Descendants, 300 Strong, in Annual Reunion.

More than 300 descendants of Adam Shipley and his two brothers, who came to this country in 1668, gathered in the Ritchie Coliseum at the University of Maryland yesterday for their thirteenth annual reunion. Left to right, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shipley, of Baltimore; Mrs. Elizabeth Shipley Weaver, Baltimore, and Mr. and Mrs. William S. Shipley, Sykesville, Md.

Associated Press Photo.

Champion Roper Does His Stuff.

Bunky Echo Hawk, of Oklahoma, shown in action at Gallup, N. Mex., during the annual Indian ceremonials.

The Washington Post

Over the Coffee

By Harlan Miller

When Congress is in session, it dominates Washington; the Capitol is the heart of the Capital . . . But now that the hilltop statesmen have all gone home, it is possible (and even desirable) to talk of something else.

* * * *

And in this most glamorous city in the world Congress (now it may be said) is only a detail, if an important one . . . Washington throbs on; the engines of the ship of state have not stopped. Destiny broods over the White House, and over the desks and beds and dreams of 1,000 officials and 100,000 Government functionaries . . . Our lives and our children's lives are (more or less) in their hands.

* * * *

They are from every State in the Republic, and the invisible bowed in wires of their control go out to 30,000,000 homes . . . What happens in Washington—not merely the ponderous affairs of Government, but the gaudy daily life of its people—holds more fascination for 130,000,000 Americans than anything that happens along Broadway or Hollywood boulevard . . . Over the small tables at the Shoreham Terrace and the Mayflower, in the lobbies of the Willard and the Wardman Park, in many a bar or nightclub, more history is made here than at the Stork Club and the Trocadero and 100 New York and Hollywood rendezvous combined.

* * * *

"—tourists along the Potomac."

This morning I started before 5 o'clock to drive about the city . . . A few late revelers were returning to the mansions and vast apartment hotels in the fashionable northwest section . . . Along the Potomac and the Tidal Basin every 100 feet or so tourists slept on the clipped grass near their parked cars, feet toward the water.

* * * *

Already motorists are astir in the dim shadowy glens of Rock Creek Park . . . In the great Zoo the wolves are a-prowl . . . There a young couple sleeps sitting up in a coupe under the trees . . . Lincoln peers impassively from his memorial while two workmen scrub the marble steps beneath his feet.

* * * *

Strong winds seem to be blowing vital perfumes and smells from every corner of the Republic, from every corner of the world . . . These vast stone Government buildings awe the foreigner and the inlander with the might of the Republic even more than the Manhattan skyline.

* * * *

It is not yet 6 o'clock, but a junoesque girl and her slender young man are batting a tennis ball across a net, near the Potomac Park rose gardens . . . Far down the channel the Norfolk boat is coming in, and the early deck promenaders can see the early golfers on the public links . . . They will be at their desks by 9 a. m.

* * * *

On the waterfront, as picturesque as the wharves of Naples, the fruit and vegetables and fish are beginning to flow toward Washington's dinner tables . . . Tonight an anxious hostess from the prairies or the West Coast will be watching some austere foreign diplomat nibbling at her filet of sole . . . On the Arlington hills the wireless towers are snatching messages across the seas . . . Some of them may be at the President's bedside before breakfast.

"—a general dreams of war."

At the War College gateway the sentry is alert . . . In those red buildings or in some apartment bedroom the generals and colonels are dreaming restlessly of future wars . . . Nearby are the battlefields of four wars, within a morning's drive, some within an hour's drive . . . Every great American moment, every great historic day, has left its imprint on the Capital.

* * * *

From every angle statues and monuments swim into view—the Republic's heroes in stone . . . Along the great avenues there is a stir at the embassies and the legations . . . On a quiet street east of the Capitol a gray-haired matron is sprinkling her flower boxes . . . The desks of the mighty are being dusted, their papers disarranged . . . Change is in the air; the Republic is in flux.

* * * *

And now the enormous flow of Government workers begins to stir . . . Along the angled avenues and around the circles traffic flows and eddies . . . Officials are at their morning gallop in the bridle paths . . . In the park a group of tourists is breakfasting on the marble bench of Ambassador Jusserand . . . There is the ever-present balloon, floating past the tall spike of the Monument . . . At 100,000 breakfast tables the humble are discussing the utterances and foibles of the mighty . . . and "what I told the boss" . . . The daily gossip over a cup of coffee is gossip of the mighty . . . There is a rainbow in the sky, and a sword of Damocles . . . Washington is an intimate neighbor of every city and village in the land.

1,500 Stage Dress Rehearsal for Antietam Pageant To Commemorate Bloodiest Battle of the Civil War

Colored Woman Weeps as Lincoln's 'Funeral Train' Passes.

By Edward T. Folliard.
A Staff Correspondent.

Hagerstown, Md., Aug. 29.—A dress rehearsal of "On Wings of Time," the historical pageant that is to be a feature of the seventy-fifth anniversary commemoration of the battle of Antietam, was staged here today with a cast of 1,500 persons.

One of the amateur players, a venerable colored woman, forgot that it was all make-believe, and the result was a little drama not mentioned in the script.

The pageant had reached that point in American history where Abraham Lincoln had been assassinated. Now the Thatcher Perkins, the B. & O.'s newest locomotive, pulling a shrouded funeral car, was taking his body away from Washington.

"Funeral Train" Draws Tears.

The crowd in the grandstand today saw the funeral train approach, the cone-shaped stack of the locomotive belching smoke, its bell tolling a requiem. On the other side of the tracks, gathered in a field, were 100 or so of Hagerstown's colored population. They were kneeling and singing a mournful spiritual—"Going Home."

All that was according to the program. But as the colored people walked off the grassy stage, a Washington Post cameraman noticed that one of them, this elderly woman, was not heeding the applause. She was crying. For her it was not a pageant at all.

A quarter of a million visitors are expected here for the National Antietam Commemoration, September 4 to 17. They will find this historic city displaying the Stars and Bars as well as the Stars and Stripes, for during the War Between the States this was a 50-50 area, with friends and families fiercely split in their allegiance to the North or the South.

Highlight of the commemoration will come Friday, September 17, when President Roosevelt comes here to witness a re-enactment of the battle of Antietam, the most sanguinary one-day fight in American history.

He will sit in a grandstand near what once was called the Sunken road, but which after that memorable September 17, 1862, was to be known forever as Bloody lane. Here the Confederate dead lay from 2 to 5 deep after three attacks by the Union forces and an enfilading artillery assault.

2,000 Troops Coming.

The Antietam battlefield, which gets its name from a creek that courses through it, is outside of Sharpsburg, 12 miles from Hagerstown.

The day before the re-enactment, 2,000 infantry and artillery of the Twenty-ninth Division, mobilized in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia, will arrive at Sharpsburg under command of Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckford.

On the following day, the troops will divide, some to wear the gray of Gen. Robert E. Lee's forces and others to wear the blue of Gen. George B. McClellan's legions.

As the two armies clash at Bloody Lane, Maj. Joseph W. Byron, West Point, 1914, will stand in a high stone tower and broadcast an explanation of the battle.

Most Crucial Battle.

Antietam was perhaps the most crucial battle of the war. Had Lee won it, France and England might have given their support to the South, thereby breaking the Federal blockade of Southern ports and opening the way for a flow of cotton to European markets.

Had McClellan trapped Lee's army, cutting off its retreat across the Potomac, the war might have ended there, and not at Appomattox three years later.

The fighting was so fierce, the firing so concentrated, that, after the battle, a field of corn looked as though it had been attacked by a gigantic scythe. McClellan went into the battle with 87,000 men, and lost 12,000 in killed and wounded, while Lee started out with 37,000 and lost 9,500 killed and wounded.

Twenty-seven generals were either killed or wounded.

Famous Men Engaged.

The battle was remarkable for the number of men, later to become famous, who took a part. Rutherford B. Hayes, afterwards President, was wounded at South Mountain, scene of a hot prelude to Antietam. William McKinley, who also was to reach the White House, was in the fight at Burnside's Bridge.

Four famous men of letters had sons in the battle—Oliver Wendell Holmes, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Daniel Webster and James Russell Lowell.

Oliver Wendell Holmes, the younger, who was to become a celebrated member of the United States Supreme Court, was badly wounded at Antietam. The story is that while his father was searching the battlefield for him, the young man was being taken to Hagerstown in a wagon. Seeing another soldier more grievously wounded than he, Holmes gave up his place in the wagon and walked beside until he fell exhausted.

President Lincoln visited the Antietam battlefield after Lee's masterful retreat, and a famous photograph shows the emancipator sitting at the entrance of a tent with Gen. McClellan. Lincoln was disappointed in McClellan for not pursuing the Confederate leader, and it was not long thereafter that McClellan was supplanted by Burnside.

Other Anniversaries.

Led by Park T. Loy, chairman of the National Antietam Commemoration Commission, a party of newspapermen was taken on a tour of the battlefield today, with Capt. John K. Beckenbaugh, of the National Park Service, pointing out the areas where the fighting took place.

Afterward, at a luncheon in the Hotel Alexander, Chairman Loy announced next Sunday would be National Capital Day at Hagerstown, a day on which the Maryland city would extend a welcome to its neighbors in Washington. Official invitations have gone out to the District Commissioners and to members of the Senate and House District Committees.

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the Battle of Antietam is, of course, the event around which the commemorative exercises revolve. But it is far from all. By an amazing coincidence, the period covers these other anniversaries:

The 200th anniversary of the settling of Washington County, of which Hagerstown is the seat.

The 175th anniversary of the founding of Hagerstown.

The 150th anniversary of the Constitution of the United States.

The 150th anniversary of the cruise of the first steamboat in the nearby Potomac after its invention by James Rumsey.

A list of anniversaries like this calls for commemoration on a large scale, and that is what the visitor will find in "On Wings of Time," the historical pageant which was previewed here today and which will be presented every day and night from next Saturday to September 17.

In a city that boasts as many pretty girls as does Hagerstown, there naturally would have to be a queen, and the crown in this case has been placed on the lovely head of Julia Louise Brandt. She was chosen Queen Antietam in a popularity contest. The runner-up, Carolyn Thompson, will be Miss Columbia.

Members of their court, who will assist them in receiving guests, are Misses Martha Kerney, Alice Lehman, Bertha Knight, Lorraine Hovis, Zazel Benta, Katnlyn Downin, Yvonne Calhoun, Beverly Pope, Mildred Sayler, Rachel Harbaugh, Jane Lindsay, and Karin Hamren.

There will be ten "princesses," each representing a town in the community, as follows:

Katherine Shaffer, "Miss Boonsboro;" Helen Webb, "Miss Funkstown;" Elizabeth Heller, "Miss Hancock;" Frances Cushwa, "Miss Clearspring," Elelyn Line, "Miss Keedysville;" Evelyn Wishard, "Miss Leitersburg;" Catherine McCoy, "Miss Maugansville;" Eleanor Mumma, "Miss Sharpsburg;" Mary J. Kretsinger, "Miss Smithsburg," and Virginia Gruber, "Miss Williamsport."

Queen Antietam, Miss Columbia and their pretty satellites occupied the center stage today as the prologue to the pageant was staged in the infield of Hagerstown's racetrack. A city block of "props" formed a background, but beyond that Nature took a hand and improved the picture with the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Under the guidance of Jack Geller, who was chief of pegeantry at "A Century of Progress" in Chicago, the 1,500 members of the cast unrolled the scroll of American history. A tribe of indians walked onto the huge stage, set up their tepees and went into a tribal dance. Then came a white man driving a team of oxen, his monneted wife in the cart behind. He was portraying Charles Friend (1735), first settler in Washington County.

After that came George Washington's visit to Hagerstown; the Conestoga wagons, headed for Cumberland and the West; the B. & O.'s first locomotive, Tom Thum; Andrew Jackson on his way to his inauguration; Lincoln on his way to his on the train; William Mason and his sad return homeward to the grave; Gens. Lee and Jackson, Longstreet and his staff; the battle at Burnside's Bridge; the "Gay Nineties," with men and women dressed in the vogue of that era and singing "In the Good Old Summer Time," and a smashing finale representing the Spirit of Progress.

Altogther there are 32 episodes in the pageant.

Queen Julia Brandt stands with her court—Beverly Pope, Martha Kerney, Yvonne Calhoun, Karin Hamren, Zazel Bentz, Lorraine Hovis, Alice Lehman, Bertha Knight and Rachel Harbaugh.

A view from the tower of Bloody Lane where the Confederate dead lay from two to five deep and where the Union lost Gen. Richardson and the South, Gen. Anderson.

Post Staff Photos—Ellis.

A scene from the tableau "On Wings of Time." President Lincoln (Thurman Lindsey), calls on Gen. McClellan (Francis Rutledge), after the Battle of Burnside Bridge.

Va. Police Capture D.C. Hit-Run Driver

Virginia State police told Washington police last night they had arrested a Washington hit-run driver who seriously injured John Taylor, of Falmouth, Va. They arrested the driver 24 hours after the accident, police said, at the identical spot on Route 1, where Taylor was run down. A witness had given officers the tag number of the car.

Police gave the driver's name as Wavie M. Kiper, 25, of 1321 Fairmount street northwest. Kiper was released on $1,000 bond. Taylor is near death in a Fredericksburg hospital.

Taylor, whose leg was amputated in the hospital, also suffered a fractured skull.

Joseph B. Collins, Printer, Is Dead

Joseph B. Collins, 56, of 4015 Kansas avenue northwest, died yesterday at his home after a brief illness.

Born in Tottenville, Staten Island, N. Y., Mr. Collins had been employed as linotype operator by the Washington Herald for the past four years. He had earlier worked with the Mergenthaler Linotype Co. for more than 22 years. He came to Washington in 1927.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mabel I. Collins, and a son, J. Alfred Collins, both of Washington; a brother, Alfred S. Collins, and sister, Mrs. Mary F. Shea, of New York City.

300 Shipleys From 4 States Honor Founder

(Picture on Picture Page.)

Adam (the first) Shipley, who is reputed to have arrived at Elkridge Landing, Md., in 1668 to become the venerable patriarch of all later-day Shipleys, would have been well-pleased yesterday to have seen so many of his clan assembled in the Ritchie Coliseum at College Park, Md., to honor his memory.

Some 300 persons, from Maryland, Virginia, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, who boast of Shipley blood in their veins, held their thirteenth annual convention there.

Dr. H. C. Byrd, who is president of the University of Maryland, (but not a Shipley) addressed the gathering on the importance of spiritual values in the success of modern government. The remainder of the program consisted of a picnic lunch, a songfest and poetry recitation.

The association of Shipleys is not limited to those persons with that name, but membership also is open to all others who can prove that they are descendants of the first Shipley in America, spoken of as Adam, the first.

The founder of the organization is Ulysses H. Shipley, of Carroll County, the perennial general secretary. Fate was unusually kind to Ulysses, for both his mother and father were Shipleys. "My father was from the Virginia line and my mother from the Maryland line of Shipleys," he said.

Ulysses taught school for 22 years. Now he writes poetry and experiments with developing new kinds of apple he had developed through cross-breeding.

"It's delicious," he declared. "I'm going to call it 'Shipley's Choice.'"

Ulysses revealed that President Abraham Lincoln was one of the more distinguished members of the Shipley family through Nancy Hanks, whose mother before her marriage was Lucy Shipley. She was the daughter of Robert Shipley, who emigrated to Kentucky from Sykesville, Md. She married James Hanks."

Another distinguished Shipley back in the eighteenth century, Ulysses said, was Dr. Jonathan Shipley, Bishop of St. Asaph's.

Business transacted yesterday included the decision by the executive committee to publish a book on the history of the Shipley family. The book will be compiled by a committee, headed by Mrs. Winchester Britton, nee Miss Edith Clemons Shipley, of Crawford, N. J.

New officers of the Shipley clan, all re-elected yesterday, are H. Burton Shipley, athletic coach at the University of Maryland, president; Miss Emma E. Shipley, Woodbine, Md., active vice president; the Rev. J. Lester Dulaney, Clarksburg, Md.; Mrs. Marvin Shipley, Harmans, Md.; Mrs. Agatha McCarty, Baltimore; Brice Shipley, Paxton, Md.; George Shipley, Frederick, Md.; William R. Shipley, Sykesville, Md., and Mrs. Belle Caples Morris, Vienna, Va., vice presidents; Mrs. Louise Lawhorn, Vienna, Va., secretary and stenographer; Ulysses H. Shipley, Finksburg, Md., general secretary; Miss Ida M. A. Shipley, Woodbine, Md., treasurer; William S. Shipley, Sykesville, Md., publicity; Mrs. Lillie E. Wells, McKeesport, Pa., and Mrs. C. E. Shirk, Harrisburg, Pa., historians, and Mrs. Belle Caples Morris, Vienna, Va., poet.

Mt. Rainier Mayor Seizes 3 for Police

Arrests Two Men and Woman at Gunpoint; Hearing Today.

Trio Faces Charges of Tampering With Car, Destroying Property.

Mayor Norman A. Pruitt, of Mountt Rainier, Md., who was involved in a dispute with one of the town policeman recently over a traffic ticket "fixing" incident, took a turn at policing himself, it was revealed yesterday.

Pruitt was awakened early Saturday morning by a commotion across from his home in the 3500 block of Thirty-fifth street, Mount Rainier. He said someone was tampering with a parked auto.

A veteran of the Spanish-American War, Pruitt grabbed his service revolver and went outside. He found a colored man on his property and held him at the point of the pistol.

Across the street, he said, he saw a man and a woman in an automobile and held them also at the point of the pistol until his wife called the Prince Georges County police.

The three "prisoners" were at first booked at the Hyattsville police substation for 'inves'tigation." Later, warrants were sworn out against them by Charles E. Costin, owner of the parked car. Costin said the lock had been broken off the automobile.

One of the three, who said he represented a repossessing agency, was charged with tampering with an automobile and destroying private property. The other two were charged with being accomplices. They will have a hearing today in police court in Hyattsville.

Honesty the Best Policy? Not in This Argument!

Emanuel Sullivan, 48, colored, groaned in Sibley Hospital last night with an injured pate, which he said he suffered in an argument with his landlady.

Sullivan declared he was upholding the importance of being honest, proposing death for all those who were dishonest, when his landlady struck him over the head with a stick.

He stated he would seek a warrant charging her with assault.

Chinese Women Sponsor Shanghai Relief Dinner

Funds for the relief of Shanghai residents will be raised at a dinner tonight for 500 local Chinese, given by the Washington Chinese Women's Association.

Ambassador Wang has been invited and is expected to speak. The dinner will be given at the Lotus Restaurant.

Sells Trailer For $250 Through 54-Cent Post Ad.

TRAILER, Silver Dome; sleeps 4; completely equipped; ready to go; real bargain; $250. WIsconsin 6224-W.

George Teunis, of 16th st. nw., didn't waste any time finding a customer for his trailer. He used a Post Want Ad. And The Post Want Ad didn't lose any time in bringing a buyer to Mr. Teunis. For Mr. Teunis called at 10 a. m. the first morning the ad appeared in The Post, to tell us he sold the trailer.

If you want a salesman with 100,000 live contacts, use a Post Want Ad. Our Miss Mack will help you phrase your ad. Call

NAtional 4200

POST WANT ADS

Overhaul Your FOUNTAIN PEN
New sac, clean ink channel, adjust feed section and polish. All for—35¢
DREISONSTOK
1423 H ST. N.W.
Ground Floor, Southern Building

SEA FOOD
ALWAYS FRESH—NEVER FROZEN
Olmsted Grill
1336 G St. N.W.

RUGS CLEANED
9x12 DOMESTIC WASHED $2.75
Repairing—Storage
3216 P St. N.W. WE. 2236
STAR CARPET WORKS

EMBASSY MILK

• A UNION DAIRY With a Fine Plant Rating, serving City and Suburban Homes, Schools, Hotels and Hospitals.

• Our employes are regularly examined by physicians, and all Embassy Dairy products are perfectly pasteurized.

• We solicit YOUR patronage and inquiries.

Phone ATlantic 0070

EMBASSY DAIRY
INCORPORATED
A UNION DAIRY ★ 100% INDEPENDENT

Check up — ARE YOU Getting Savings ON LAUNDRY

Thrift Service

Clean, white, inviting linen at less cost . . . flat work carefully ironed, wearing apparel just right for easy ironing, turkish towels, fluffed if desired . . . men's shirts—only ten cents each additional. Try it.

7c Pound

Phone NO. 1315

Economy Service

Attractively ironed Bed and Table Linen . . . wearing apparel snowy white or sparkling with color, all ready for immediate use at a low cost . . . men's shirts only ten cents each additional.

12c Pound

PIONEER LAUNDRY
DRY CLEANERS — RUG RENOVATORS
★ PHONE NORTH 1315 ★
920 RHODE ISLAND AVE. N.E.
CASH and CARRY SERVICE 10% off

Gayety Reopens Shop With New Brand of Fare

Variety, Successor to Burlesque, Launched Here by Jimmy Lake.

"BROADWAY SCANDALS." Col. James J. Lake presents the musical production in two acts and twenty-four scenes, featuring George Murray, Max Furman and Nona Martin, supported by Alma Malben, Bob Bates, Palmer & Frasetta, Lee Seigal, George Beasly, Carlton & Miller and the Dancing Scandals. Produced by Gus Flaig, staged by James J. Lake. Reviewed Sunday matinee by Art John.BCAA.

There was an air of anticipation, yea, even of eagerness, in the audience which sat in the Gayety Theater yesterday afternoon waiting for the rise of the curtain in augurating a new season of variety shows.

The usual type of attraction, they had heard from various sources, was in for a new deal. Untidy comedy numbers ancient in their presentation and wit were strictly out; one popular dance featuring lovely young things in abbreviated costumes would no longer abound throughout the production. In fact, they were to be no longer an essential factor on which a show's merits could be determined. Everything was going to be different now—original comedy skits, new faces, and lots and lots of pretty girls swirling through spectacular dance routines.

Well, friends, Mr. Hirst's productions have changed their face, in many respects. The comedy numbers, while not altogether different, are presented in a manner that indicates promise in the near future of the elimination of questionable humor. The majority of the "bits" have about-faced in dialogue and the black-outs carry a different but effective punch. George Murray and Max Furman handle the laugh lines, while Bob Bates is most competent in his character man portrayal.

But, you ask, how about the girls? Are they really as pretty, talented and youthful as press notices would have us believe? Lads, this is only the opening bill, but if the fair ladies of the chorus are a criterion of what we may expect in succeeding weeks, then yea, verily, the girls are much lovlier and quite youthful.

Nona Martin, a titian-haired beauty, holds down the featured female spot in her own inimitable manner. Miss Martin proves a valuable asset to many of the comedy sketches and put over several specialty numbers which are plainly short of the passe strip-tease dance.

"Broadway Scandals" is well studded with vaudeville entertainment, foremost of which are Palmer and Frasetta. This talented couple offer several clever ballroom numbers and build up to a swell climax with their apache number, really one of the best things on the program. Carlton and Miller put across some nifty tap steps, while George Beazley offers some better than ordinary xylophone playing.

The settings and wardrobe effects are new and refreshing, while a good musical score by Matt Mannix and his augmented orchestra usher in a "first night" of bigger, better and more entertaining variety shows.

Stewart Appears In Gangster Film

James Stewart's first picture since his recovery from illness will be as the hero in "The Last Gangster," in which Edwin C. Robinson will be starred at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Stewart is already cast in "Bad Man of Brimstone," with Wallace Beery, and in "Navy Blue and Gold," but will make the gangster film under the direction of Edward Ludwig first. Robinson reported at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer today to prepare for the film.

A camera unit left this week for San Francisco to photograph the bay bridges, Alcatraz Island and street locations for the picture, which will have 41 major settings and 61 speaking roles.

M-G-M Announces New Color Venture

The East Indies will be the subject of a pioneering feature motion picture marking Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's entrance into the color field, the studio announced this week. The picture, to be the first outdoor film made in color and sound with an all-native cast, will be produced by Merian C Cooper and directed by Ernest B. Schoedsack.

This reunites Cooper and Schoedsack, who together made "Chang," "Grass," "Four Feathers" and "King Kong." Their new picture will be not merely an outdoor and animal picture, but will have a strong central story enacted by natives.

Bobby Breen's Latest.

A lavish production features "Make a Wish," R.K.O. musical screen play produced by Principal Productions and starring Bobby Breen, 9-year-old radio and film singing youth. A special score was written by Composer Oscar Strauss.

Film Table

National—"The Life of Emile Zola," at 2:30 and 8:30 p. m.

Loew's Capitol—"Love Under Fire," at 11 a. m., 1:40, 4:25, 7:10 and 9:55 p. m. Stage shows at 12:50, 3:35, 6:20 and 9:05 p. m.

Earle—"Confessions," at 11 a. m., 1:35, 4:25, 7:15 and 9:55 p. m. Stage shows at 12:55, 3:45, 6:35 and 9:15 p. m.

RKO-Keith's—"Make a Wish," at 11:34 a. m., 1:18, 3:02, 4:46, 6:30, 8:14 and 9:58 p. m.

Metropolitan—"King Solomon's Mines," at 11:40 a. m., 1:40, 3:40, 5:40, 7:40 and 9:40 p. m.

Palace—"Broadway Melody of 1938," at 11:35 a. m., 2:05, 4:35, 7:05 and 9:35 p. m.

Rialto—"Darke Journey," at 11:50 a. m., 1:47, 3:44, 5:41, 7:44 and 9:47 p. m.

Columbia—"You Can't Have Everything," at 11:15 a. m., 1:20, 3:30, 5:30, 7:40 and 9:50 p. m.

Little Theater—"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," at 11 a. m., 1:13, 3:07, 5:21, 7:36 and 9:48 p. m.

Trans-Lux—Newsreel and Shorts, at 10 and 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 1:45, 3, 4:15, 5:30, 6:45, 8, 9:15 and 10:45 p. m.

Ambassador—"Confession," at 6, 7:50 and 9:40 p. m.

Keith's—"Easy Living," at 2, 3:55, 5:50, 7:45 and 9:40 p. m.

Uptown—"Saratoga," at 2, 3:50, 5:40, 7:30 and 9:25 p. m.

About The Showshops

Pulitzer Prize Winner Is Among Columbia Pictures Coming to Earle and Metropolitan

'You Can't Take It With You' Heads Promising List; Marta Abba Is Star of 'Tovarich' Company to Be Seen at the National; Something About 'Life of the Party,' Next at RKO-Keith's.

By Gerald G. Gross.
Substituting for Nelson B. Bell.

FROM Sam Galanty, via Frank La Falce, who are, respectively, Columbia Pictures' Washington representative and Warner Bros. spokesman for this region, comes word that an imposing galaxy of Columbia's film products are headed for the Earle and Metropolitan.

The parade of hits from Harry Cohn's studios opens at the Earle Friday with the first local showing at popular prices of "Lost Horizon." After that, well, as Mr. Galanty says:

"Our company's program for the 1937-1938 season excels in scope and budget the most impressive schedule we have ever undertaken."

Kingpin of the Columbia crop of 56 features scheduled for distribution this season is expected to be "You Can't Take It With You." Film rights to the current Broadway hit, winner of the Pulitzer prize, were sold for $200,000.

Irene Dunne, Grace Moore, Gloria Swanson, Francis Lederer, Melvyn Douglas, Cary Grant, Edward G. Robinson, Joe E. Brown, Martha Raye, Loretta Young, Carole Lombard and Randolph Scott are among the "name" gems of Columbia's forthcoming ocean of attractions. Frank Capra will be represented by at least one production and Robert Riskin, whose ascendancy has coincided wth Capra's, will bring out "Nobel," the screen biography of the Scandinavian who invented dynamite and bequeathed his wealth to peace-promoting causes.

Miss Dunne will be seen and heard in "The Awful Truth" and "Miss Quiz," with Cary Grant as her leading man in the first-named picture. Grace Moore's starring vehicle is to be called "I'll Take Romance," and Melvyn Douglas will play opposite her.

Madeleine Carroll and Francis Lederer are teamed in "It's All Yours." Gloria Swanson's latest bid for recognition along the comeback trail is entitled "The Second Mrs. Draper." Jean Parker and Douglas Montgomery will discover that "Life Begins With Love" and Oscar Hammerstein 2d, who was responsible for "Show Boat" and "Swing High, Swing Low," will do a large-scale musical called "Paris on Broadway."

A magazine story will be screened as "There's Always a Woman," with Loretta Young and Randolph Scott. John Boles, Lulu Deste and Frances Drake will be presented in "I Married an Artist," Joe E. Brown will be teamed with Martha Raye in something yet untitled, Edward G. Robinson will appear in "one of the most important pictures on the program" and Frances Marion will produce an American historical film now known as "Wagons Westward."

Too, there will be a vehicle for the special talents of Miss Lombard and, returning to Mr. Galanty, "other features from such opportunities as will arise from important casting and directional assignments and the acquisition of additional story properties."

★ ★ ★ ★

We see by the credit sheet that Harry Ruby collaborated on the script of "The Life of the Party," the musical comedy populated by some of Hollywood's funniest comedians, which comes to RKO-Keith's next Friday. This may not mean anything to you or you, but just say the words Harry Ruby to Buddy Myer, Ossie Bluege, Manager Bucky Harris or any of the other veterans on the Washington baseball club. Harry, a distant cousin of ours, is a baseball fanatic and the Senators are his favorite club. More than once he's worked out with the boys during winter training down South. If "The Life of the Party," with its Penner, Parkyakarkus, Moore and Broderick, supplies anywhere near the fun of watching Harry field a hot grounder at third base, it will be a wow.

★ ★ ★ ★

Serving to elaborate upon the recent announcement that "Tovarich," New York comedy hit, will be seen at the National Theater this season, a note arrives from William Fields stating that Marta Abba will be the star of the production to be viewed here.

Mr. Fields, press representative of Producer Gilbert Miller, reports that two separate companies will take "Tovarich" on tour, each beginning work on September 20. Eugenie Leontovich, celebrated European actress who headed Mr. Miller's London production of Deval-Sherwood comedy, is to be the star of the company which will open its tour in Columbus, Ohio. Miss Abba, the Italian player whom Mr. Miller imported for his New York engagement, is No. 1 member of the cast which launches its series of performances in Montreal. This is the troupe which will bring "Tovarich" to Washington.

Four days before "Tovarich" takes to the hinterland, Helen Hayes will open a coast-to-coast exhibition of "Victoria Regina" (seen here last year) in Hartford, Conn., which will take her and her associates more than 13,000 miles before the tour closes in Los Angeles in late June. After 517 performances of the biographical role on Broadway, Miss Hayes will take her brilliant characterization to 46 cities in 25 States and two Canadian provinces.

Producer Miller's first Broadway effort of the new season will be "French Without Tears," now a London success. Tentative opening date is Septembr 27.

And Richard Maney, Mr. Fields' press confrere whose scribblings are in behalf of Guthrie McClintic, would have you know that "The Star-Wagon" premieres at the Empire in New York on September 29 with hopes high that it will carry on successfully the very successful McClintic-Anderson-Meredith tradition.

Mr. McClintic will produce and direct Maxwell Anderson's latest work, which will star Burgess Meredith and Lillian Gish.

"Unlike 'Wingless Victory,' 'High Tor' and 'Masque of Kings,' Mr. Anderson's three contributions to the New York stage last season, 'The Star-Wagon' will be a modern play in prose with none of the poetic interludes which identified the earlier trinity," Mr. Maney writes.

Then, he adds, once "The Star-Wagon" has been hitched, his boss will proceed to produce Thomas Job's dramatization of the Anthony Trollope novel "Barchester Towers," which will star another (cf Miss Hayes upstairs) Washington girl, none other than Ina Claire.

★ ★ ★ ★

Another week crammed with advance screenings is in the offing, with three pictures already announced. "Tsar to Lenin," which the Rialto will introduce on Wednesday, is to be unspooled this afternoon for the critical gentry. "Tsar to Lenin," which reputedly depicts the tide of events in Russia since the 1917 revolution, will be coupled with a return showing of "Carnival in Flanders" to constitute the Rialto's new program. Tomorrow afternoon "Big City," due at the Capitol Friday with Spencer Tracy and Luise Rainer in the leads, will be previewed and, next day, "Thin Ice," next at the Palace and starring Sonja Henie and Tyrone Power. Anybody have any other screenings they wish to announce, please?

★ ★ ★ ★

With the amateurs and semipros . . .

Tonight is "Texas Night" at the opening of the second week of the Roadsiders' production of "A Texas Steer."

The Crossroads Theater, which opens a four-performance run of "Big Hearted Herbert" tomorow night, is reached by taking the Columbia Pike to Bailey's Crossroads.

With fingers crossed and a weather prayer on their lips, members of the F. B. I. group hope to stage "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" in the outdoor Sylvan Theater Wednesday. The performance, scheduled last week, was postponed by rain.

★ ★ ★ ★

In fewer words . . . "Stella Dallas," coming to the Palace in a few weeks, has already grossed (no relation) more than $1,000,000 . . . and it has played only half its theater list . . . Republic Pictures signed a real clergyman to play a minister's role in "Manhattan Merry-Go-Round" . . . Fifi D'Orsay, headliner of the Capitol's next stage show, is said to have abandoned her bangs . . . she's more sophisticated now . . . Fay Wray, who hasn't been seen around in a long time, is at work on "Park Avenue Dame" . . . the North American Players will offer a radio version of "Stella Dallas" over WOL at 10 p. m. tomorrow.

Ancient Jade Axes Turn Movie Props

Out of ancient man's wartime "props" comes one of Hollywood's most unusual bits of cinematic "atmosphere." Age-old jade axes, declared to have been brought from Asia by migrating tribesmen, 2,000 years ago, were loaned for picture purposes by their discoverer, Capt. C. P. McKenzie, noted explorer, who recently returned from an expedition in Central America. Florence Rice wears them in a scene in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Double Wedding," in which she plays the younger sister of Myrna Loy.

Tough on Mickey.

Mickey Rooney will be confined to his home for the next few days with a severe case of sunburn poisoning. The young Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer actor fell asleep on the beach and remained under the sun, unprotected for more than six hours.

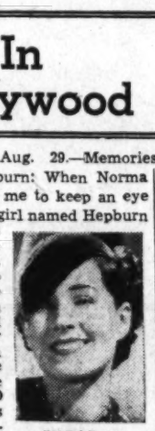
A Hit in First Big Film Role

Looking so, so domestic in an apron and at a fully set table, Sophie Tucker as she appears here would hardly be taken for the "last of the red-hot mommas." In "Broadway Melody of 1938," in its second week at the Palace, she enters a new phase of an interesting career which has taken her into vaudeville halls from coast to coast, Broadway revues, London cabarets and, in her early days, smoke-filled burlesque houses.

In Hollywood

With JIMMY FIDLER

Hollywood, Aug. 29.—Memories that bless and burn: When Norma Shearer advised me to keep an eye on an unknown girl named Hepburn "because that girl has personality." When Greta Garbo was hauled into a Santa Monica traffic court and fined $10 for speeding. When Rod La-Rocque sued Cecil B. De Mille for $60,000 because his name on the billboards was not as prominent as the title of the picture. When Lupe Velez gave a formal dinner party and, between courses, put her pet Chihuahua dog on the dining table to do its tricks.



SHEARER.

When Esther Ralston, during one of Hollywood's spring floods, was marooned in her car until a husky policeman carried her to the curb. When the cowboys in "The Winning of Barbara Worth" framed Ronald Colman and gave him a bucking horse instead of a gentle saddle hack. When George Arliss walked off a studio set because the director refused to stop production for afternoon tea. When Albert Conti challenged Norman Keery to a saber duel, to be fought across the Mexican line. When George Raft was questioned by police because of a publicity man's story that he was an ex-gangster.

When Ramon Novarro told me that he was in love with Myrna Loy. When reporters went to interview Charles Chaplin about his divorce from Lita Gray—and found him sitting on the curb in front of his studio, moodily spitting at a crack in the pavement. When Margaret Lindsay faked an English accent and landed a job in "Cavalcade." When Tom Mix stopped work to stage a roping exhibition for the benefit of a critical visitor who called him a "drug-store cowboy."

I had lunch with one of the most unpopular girls in Hollywood—Jean Arthur. Her coworkers in the studio are frank in expressing their dislike for her. They call her "high-hat," "unfriendly," "cold." And so I asked her point-blank, to explain the attitude she has adopted ever since her triumphant return from the New York stage.

"I am 'unfriendly' because I don't want to be hurt again," she told me, bitterly. "There was a time when I took Hollywood at its face value. I thought everyone was my friend—and so they were until I flopped in pictures and needed their friendship. Then, the same people who had fawned on me gave me the cold shoulder. I don't intend to invite a similar hurt, that's all!"

Somehow, after that explanation, I cannot blame Jean Arthur for being a bit wary of Hollywood's fair-weather friendships.

Met Chester Morris, whose face has been a bright pink ever since he returned from a vacation trip three days ago. Before leaving on their little jaunt to the mountains, Mrs. Morris generously told the servants to take a holiday and asked the Beverly Hills police, who specialize in that sort of thing, to keep a close eye on the house. Poor Chester was recalled unexpectedly for retakes, arrived late at night and was trying to unlock the front door when a man stepped out of the shrubbery, pointed a gun at him and demanded to know his business there. And Chet, being tired and irritable, blew up with language that was frequent and painful and free. When he paused for breath, the plain-clothes man gently said, "Now, if you are all through talking, perhaps you will let me tell you that I am a policeman, guarding your house as your wife requested . . ."

"There comes a time," Chester told me, "when you know you are wrong!"

Walking from the parking lot to the Chinese Theater, where an ultra preview was in order, I witnessed a touching little domestic tableau. Just ahead of me were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Howard. Suddenly Mrs. Howard stopped and stared at her mate in consternation. "Leslie," she chided. "You are wearing those glasses again—give them to me!" and the idol of a million ladies grumblingly removed his heavily-lensed specs and handed them over. "There," said Mrs. Howard, tucking them into her handbag. "You can put them on again as soon as the picture starts."

Ray Milland Signs For Hopkins Film

Ray Milland, one of Hollywood's handsomest leading men, has been awarded the male lead in RKO Radio's "The Female of the Species," starring Miriam Hopkins. The picture will be produced by P. J. Wolfson and will go before the cameras with Leigh Jason directing within the next fortnight.

"The Female of the Species" is taken from an original story by Allan Scott and Charles Norman.

Milland, in his last three pictures, has appeared opposite three of the cinema's leading actresses, including Frances Farmer in "Ebb," Jean Arthur in "Easy Living" and Wendy Barrie in "Wings Over Honolulu." Miss Hopkins' last picture for RKO Radio was "The Woman I Love," in which she was co-starred with Paul Muni.

Once in Baseball.

Edward Sedgwick, who directed "Fit for a King," latest Joe E Brown starring comedy for David Loew Productions and R. K. O. release, was, like many of Brown's other associates, once a professional baseball player.

Vanity on Gridiron.

Football stars are just as jealous of the publicity they receive in newspapers as movie stars or other celebrities, according to "Saturday's Heroes," R.K.O.'s seasonal football picture, featuring Van Heflin and Marion Marsh.

Equine Stars Again In Picture Parade

Hollywood's equine actors will have one of the busiest seasons in years.

Forthcoming pictures at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will employ nearly 500 horses. The cavalry troops in "Marie Antoinette," in which Norma Shearer will star, the stables of race horses in "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry," and at least 200 saddles in "Bad Man of Brimstone," with Wallace Beery, are among the first of the new pictures in which horses will figure.

Fifty horses are currently in use in 'Uncrowned King." Eighty horses were employed in "Conquest," with Garbo and Charles Boyer, and about 40 in "Saratoga."

In almost every case employment of a horse means also employment of a rider.

Co-Stars End Work In RKO Comedy

Barbara Stanwyck and Herbert Marshall, having completed their co-starring roles in RKO Radio's romantic comedy, "Breakfast for Two," which Al Santell directed, are planning extended vacation jaunts. The former title of the picture was "A Love Like That."

Miss Stanwyck will head for Canada, with her first stopping place being Lake Louise, while Marshall will journey to Mexico to vacation.

The Post's New Yorker

By LEONARD LYONS

New York, Aug. 29.

VACATION NOTES: The S. S. Britannic, after a five-day cruise to Nova Scotia, returned to New York on Saturday. The passengers were extremely puzzled by the strange antics of one vacationer who kept to himself throughout the trip, each day pacing the deck alone. Whenever he spoke, he did so perfunctorily, and so none of the others sought his comradeship . . . His name is Dale Carnegie. He's the author of that best-seller, "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

★ ★ ★ ★

SPORTS DEPARTMENT: Charles Zimmy, the legless marathon swimmer, has completed more than half of his nonstop swim from Albany to New York City. If he succeeds in accomplishing this feat, he will have been in the water eight days . . . Zimmy is being managed by Marty Forkins, manager of Bill Robinson. Arrangements have been completed for the swimmer's appearance in Billy Rose's Aquacade, at the Cleveland Great Lakes Exposition.

★ ★ ★ ★

MOVIES: Jane Pickens, the radio singer who won a Juilliard opera scholarship, recently spurned a Paramount offer because the role assigned her was that of a bad girl . . . "But many stars portray such roles," the producers told her. "There's nothing wrong in playing the part of a bad girl for the movies" . . . "I'll play a bad girl," Miss Pickens agreed. "I'll play Carmen!"

★ ★ ★ ★

MUSIC DEPARTMENT: Mrs. Henry Brinton Coxe, the Philadelphia socialite, met Meyer Davis, the band leader, and reminded him of his appointment to play at the debut of her daughter, on December 31, 1939. Davis showd her his records and the notation of that appointment . . . It was made in the winter of 1921—on the day Mrs. Coxe's daughter was born.

★ ★ ★ ★

BOOK DEPARTMENT: Simon & Schuster, the publishers, just received the clippings of the out-of-town reviews of Walter Duranty's new novel, "One Life, One Kopek" . . . The Detroit reviewer of that book was slightly inaccurate. He referred to it as "One Wife, One Kopek" . . . and also erred as to the author's name. Instead of "Walter," he had it "Jimmy."

★ ★ ★ ★

LOCAL NEWS: Bill Robinson is offered 12-to-1 on Joe Louis, with no takers . . . Gertrude Niesen, whose reputation as a glamour-girl singer brought her to Hollywood, will appear as a bespectacled Ugly Duckling in Columbia's "Freshman Follies" . . . Eddie Cantor agreed to the switching of his radio programs from Sunday to Wednesday nights, to avoid the tough competition . . . That $50,000 paid by J. E. Beresin to the International Casino was for the cloakroom concession . . . Terry Lawlor will appear in "The Show Is On" . . . Ramon & Renita were signed for Ben Marden's Riviera . . . The cast of "Babes in Arms" last night was asked to take a one-third salary cut.

★ ★ ★ ★

CORRESPONDENCE DEPARTMENT: Arrangements now are being completed for Sir Harry Lauder's appearing in a Hollywood movie. When the contracts are signed, the veteran star will appear in the new Fred Astaire film . . . Throughout the negotiations, all via cable, Sir Harry signs his name "Ginger" Lauder!

★ ★ ★ ★

TRAVEL DEPARTMENT: In a few weeks Monogram Films will release the Dick Merrill movie, "Atlantic Flight." During the screening Merrill was somewhat amazed when he was placed under a hose and drenched—to make it appear that he had been flying through a real fog . . . "In the 20 years I've been flying," Merrill protested, "and I've flown more than a million miles, including four trips across the Atlantic, I've never been one-tenth as wet" . . . "Never mind that," he was told. "What do you think we're running here—a plane company?"

★ ★ ★ ★

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT: Johnny Jordan was a Yale classmate of Jack Deasy, jr., whose father is vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Jordan was given a job traveling throughout America and inspecting the roads . . . The senior Deasy summoned him to the home office recently and asked, "Well, what've you found?" . . . "I heard some complaints," Jordan finally admitted, "that the roadbeds were bad, in Erie" . . . "Is that so?" Deasy returned, "And where did you hear such complaints?" . . . "Harry Miller told me his father had said so," Jordan explained . . . "Good, good," the v. p. of the Penn. R. R. replied, "but there's one hitch. Harry Miller's father sells railroad ties for roadbeds!"

★ ★ ★ ★

FINANCE DEPARTMENT: Frank Capra, of Columbia Pictures, went to Europe recently and took Nate Spingold's Rolls-Royce car with him, inasmuch as Spingold was leaving for Europe a month later . . . To facilitate Capra's securing licenses in Europe, Spingold transferred the car's ownership to his studio's ace producer . . . Capra used the car in England and when Spingold arrived there Frank transferred the car's ownership back to Spingold . . . When Spingold returned to America and tried to bring his Rolls-Royce back with him he discovered that he'll have to pay customs duties on importing one Rolls-Royce . . . which, the customs men insist, he bought, as far as the records show—from Frank Capra in England!

Nearly Every Star Is a Little 'Funny'

Despite all the talk of Hollywood normalcy, the plain truth of the matter is that some eccentricity is largely responsible for the success of every star in the motion picture firmament.

Frank Lloyd, Paramount producer-director of "Wells Fargo," says that he would not care to direct a star who was not eccentric.

As an example, Lloyd looks upon Bob Burns, featured in "Wells Fargo," as an eccentric, because he is eccentric enough to do exactly as he pleases. He lives his own kind of life, keeps his own counsel, and chooses his friends because he likes them and not because they may be the "people to know."

Marlene Dietrich admits she is calculatingly eccentric. Her "madness" takes the form of mild but colorful defiance of conventions, such as her wearing of trousers.

Bing Crosby recently turned down an offer of $10,000 for personal appearances just because he preferred to go on a vacation at his ranch upon completing "Double or Nothing." Bing says he would rather play golf than earn money, and the eccentric part of it is that he means it.

Gladys George Nice To Film Newcomer

There is no snobbery in Gladys George's make-up.

Finding a complete stranger using her dressing room on Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Madame X" set, the star did not even let the girl know that the dressing room was hers, but let her assume that it was for the use of anyone who needed it.

The girl was Ruth Hussey, young Eastern actress, making her film debut. Entirely new to sound stages, she saw the open dressing room door with no sign on the outside, walked in and made herself at home, thinking the room was for general use.

Birthday Gift.

Director Richard Thorpe's birthday present to Myrna Loy was a tennis racket, to be used on the courts of her new home.

Rubber Bands Used On Parker Bonnets

Cecilia Parker has solved a problem, and in so doing has gone back to her childhood.

Try as she might, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer actress could never manage to keep a hat from blowing off her head while riding in an open roadster. So now, she has equipped all of her bonnets with rubber bands that slip under the chin.

AMUSEMENTS

NOW EARLE
Warner Bros.
KAY FRANCIS
in Warner Bros. Dramatic Hit
"CONFESSION"
—on the stage—
THE DEBONAIRS
and other acts
Come Early 25c to 1 P.M.

NOW METROPOLITAN
Warner Bros.
"The Best Picture of this Sort Since Trader Horn" —says Liberty Magazine
"KING SOLOMON'S MINES"
by Sir Rider Haggard
A Gaumont-British Picture with ANNA LEE—ROLAND YOUNG
CEDRIC HARDWICKE—PAUL ROBESON
MAT. 25c EVE. 25c & 40c

11th above G RIALTO 15th 25th 40th
AIR CONDITIONED
DARK JOURNEY
and CONRAD VEIDT
POPEYE vs. SINBAD
1936 Prize Color Cartoons
LITTLE 9th ABOVE F
2nd Week
Gary COOPER Jean ARTHUR
"MR. DEEDS GOES TO TOWN"

LADIES ADMITTED FREE TO GLEN ECHO BALLROOM TONITE

AMUSEMENTS

ROADSIDE
All This Week—8:40 P. M.
"A TEXAS STEER"
Res. Seats, 85c, at Box Office or Mrs. Dorsey's, Droop's. NA. 7151.
Next Week
"MURDER IN THE RED BARN"

'Life of the Party.'

Gene Raymond decides to sacrifice a fortune willed to him when he falls in love with comely Harriet Hillard in R. K.O.'s musical comedy, "The Life of the Party."

AMUSEMENTS

THE LIFE OF EMILE ZOLA IS AN EXTRAORDINARY PICTURE, ALMOST IRREPROACHABLE
Katherine Hilliger —NEWS
Matinee Today
Warner Bros. Proudly Present
PAUL MUNI
in One of the Few Great Pictures of All Time
THE LIFE OF EMILE ZOLA
With a cast of Thousands
Two Performances Daily 2:30 & 8:30 p.m.
PRICES (INCLUDING GOVT. TAX)
Matinee—55c—$1.10
Evenings—75c—$1.10—$1.65
NATIONAL THEATRE
SEATS IN ADVANCE
RESERVATIONS BY PHONE

RKO NOW KEITH'S
A WASHINGTON INSTITUTION
BOBBY BREEN and BASIL RATHBONE
"MAKE A WISH"
MUSIC BY OSCAR STRAUS
HENRY ARMETTA • DONALD MEEK
MARION CLAIRE • RALPH FORBES
Coming . . .
"The LIFE of the PARTY"
JOE PENNER • GENE RAYMOND
VINTON MOORE • PARKYAKARKUS
HARRIET HILLIARD • HELEN BRODERICK

Loew's CAPITOL
NOW
Don AMECHE
Loretta YOUNG
BORRAH MINEVITCH and HIS GANG
FRANCES DRAKE • WALTER CATLETT
"LOVE UNDER FIRE"
Plus ON STAGE Johnny PERKINS AND OTHERS

Loew's PALACE
NOW
ROBERT TAYLOR
ELEANOR POWELL
BROADWAY MELODY of 1938
with George MURPHY • SOPHIE TUCKER
Robert BENCHLEY • Buddy EBSEN
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Hit

Loew's COLUMBIA
"YOU CAN'T HAVE EVERYTHING"
ALICE FAYE • RITZ BROS. • DON AMECHE
CHARLES WINNINGER • LOUISE HOVICK

TRANS-LUX THEATRE 15th St. N.W.
NEWS: WAR, SPORT MARCH OF TIME
SPECIALLY SELECTED SHORT SUBJECTS
Matinee 25c

TODAY'S Neighborhood MOVIES

ARLINGTON, VA.
WILSON 2720 Wilson Blvd. One Colonial Village.
Robt. Montgomery, "Ever Since Eve."
ASHTON Clarendon, Va.
Pat. O'Brien, "SLIM."
CIRCLE Home of "Microphonic Sound" Penna. Ave. at 31st St. N.W.
Kay Francis, Errol Flynn, "ANOTHER DAWN."
News, Comedy.
DUMBARTON 3243 Wisconsin Ave.
William Powell, Luise Rainer in "EMPEROR'S CANDLESTICKS."
News, Comedy.
FAIRLAWN ANACOSTIA, D. C.
Franchot Tone, Virginia Bruce, "BETWEEN TWO WOMEN."
Snapshot.
SECO 8344 Ga. Ave., Silver Spring, Md.
Matinee at 2 P. M.
"CAFE METROPOLE."
Tyrone Power and Loretta Young.
STATE-BETHESDA 6970 Wisc. Ave. Bethesda, Md.
Clark Gable in "PARNELL."
March of Time No. 12.
News and Novelty.

FALLS CHURCH, VA.
STATE NO PARKING WORRIES LEE
Richard Cromwell "The Road Back." Monday. Will Rogers. "DR. BULL."

GAITHERSBURG, MD.
LYRIC Will Rogers in "DR. BULL."

TAKOMA 4th and Butternut Sts. No Parking Troubles.
Spencer Tracy, Freddie Bartholomew, "CAPTAINS COURAGEOUS."
HIPPODROME K Near 9th st. Today
Barbara Stanwyck, "Banjo on My Knee"
CAMEO MT. RAINIER, MD. Today
Don Ameche, "$50 Reads to Town."
Also March of Time, Our Gang Comedy.
ARCADE HYATTSVILLE, MD. Today
Laurel & Hardy, "WAY OUT WEST."
Also March of Time.
RICHMOND ALEXANDRIA, VA. Today, Tomorrow
Stuart Erwin, "Dance, Charlie, Dance."
REED ALEXANDRIA, VA. Alex. 3445 Today, Tomor., Wed.
Paul Muni, Luise Rainer, "Good Earth."
Air-Conditioned
MILO ROCKVILLE, MD. Today
Fred MacMurray, "EXCLUSIVE."
Air-Conditioned—Free Parking
JESSE THEATER 12th & Irving Sts. N.E.
Tomorrow.
"NAUGHTY MARIETTA"
Jeanette MacDonald—Nelson Eddy
Carrier Air-Conditioned
SYLVAN 1st and R. I. Ave. N.W.
"CAPTAINS COURAGEOUS"
Freddie Bartholomew
Carrier Air-Conditioned
PALM THEATER DEL RAY, VA.
"BETWEEN THE WOMEN"
Franchot Tone—Virginia Bruce
NEWTON 12th and Newton Sts. N.E.
"A DAY AT THE RACES"
Marx Bros.—Allan Jones
Latest Issue of News
Air-Conditioned

LOUIS BERNHEIMER'S THEATERS
Direction Sidney Lust

Giants Defeat Reds, 7 to 2; Trail Cubs by 2 Points for League Lead

CHASE BESTS FELLER, WINS, 6-2; NATS DROP OPENER

The Washington Post Sports

* X WASHINGTON: MONDAY, AUGUST 30, 1937 15

This Morning

Sensational York, a Real Star

By Shirley Povich.
A Staff Correspondent.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 29.

Except for the unseen hand of circumstance, young Mr. Rudolph Preston York might even now be hitting all those home runs for Connie Mack's Athletics instead of for the Detroit Tigers who only lately unearthed his talents.

POVICH.

If a guy were asked to haul off right now and name the No. 1 sensation in the American League this season, he would be constrained to pass up Joe DiMaggio and pick young Mr. York, as the fellow on account of what has been happening lately.

Every since the Tigers discovered that York could catch—he had been a flop as a third baseman and an outfielder—the strapping fellow has been pounding into the records the most phenomenal burst of hitting the league has ever seen. Listen.

* * * *

He has gone to bat only 56 per cent as many times as Joe DiMaggio, yet he has hit 27 home runs to DiMaggio's 38. But that is not at all startling compared to York's run-production feats. At this writing, he owns the incredible record of averaging more than one run driven in for every hit he has made. Nobody has ever done, that before. With h 70-odd hits, York has slugged 82 earned runs across the plate. DiMaggio has produced only 126 runs with his 168 hits. Your witness, my chicadees.

* * * *

But what I started out to say was that the Tigers would not be revelling in young Mr. York's feats except for a lucky break. In the absence of that, York would be doing his slugging for Mr. Connie Mack.

I am referring to the little incident that happened in Detroit early in May when the Athletics were on their first invasion of the West. Manager Mickey Cochrane was pretty much disguted with York, who wasn't playing the outfield very well and didn't give much signs of being a third baseman, either. Not only that, but York wasn't hitting very well the few times that they let him go up there and swing.

* * * *

So Manager Cochrane listened with an attentive ear when his old boss, Manager Connie Mack, offered to trade the Tigers a pitcher in exchange for York, whom Mack thought he could use somewhere in the A's lineup. The trade, in fact, was virtually made and the Tigers were about to transfer York to Mack when Harry Kelley butted in.

* * * *

Harry Kelley, you may not know, is one of Mr. Mack's pitchers and Mr. Mack, with all propriety, is entitled to fine Kelley $100,000 for spoiling the York deal, because that is the price tag placed on York at this writing.

Anyway, here's what happened: With Cochrane and Mack about to close the deal, Kelley cut loose with a fast inside pitch in the final game of the series and that's where the A's unlucky break came in. Kelley's pitch broke Third Baseman's Marvin Owens finger and Cochrane had to call the deal off because York was the only other third baseman he had available.

* * * *

The deal never got hot again. After Owen returned to his third-base job, Cochrane took a long chance and gave York a job catching. The home runs and various assorted other hits began to bounce off York's bat, he barged right into the thick of the home-run race, and you couldn't get him out of the Detroit line-up now with anything less than a dynamite blast.

* * * *

Coincidence has played a mighty hand in the future of more than one baseball star. There was Buddy Myer's case, for instance. He cost the Washington ball club $25,000 when they bought him from New Orleans in 1924, but Joe Engel could have signed him for nothing two years before if he hadn't missed a train to Myer's home at Ellisville, Miss. After Engel caught a later train he discovered that Myer had flown from the coop and signed to play with the New Orleans Club.

* * * *

Hans Wagner, probably more than any other ball player, helped to earn the National League recognition as the better of the two big leagues in the early days of baseball, but Wagner might have been an American Leaguer if he had heeded the pleas of Clark Griffith.

* * * *

Griffith was recruiting players for the American League just before the turn of the century, and, with plenty of backing, went to Pittsburgh to induce Wagner to jump the National League. Griffith brought to Wagner an offer of a far better salary than he was making in the National League, but the star shortstop refused to quit a pool game to talk terms with Griffith—and thus remained in the National League.

That's how things happen.

Tickets Are Now on Sale For Benefit Ball Game

Tickets are now on sale for the benefit baseball game to be held in Griffith Stadium September 11 for Tony Barruto, well-known, former sandlot manager who has been very ill. Frank Cinotti has picked a team of all-stars from the local ranks to meet the strong Bureau of Investigation nine. Ducats priced at only 25 cents may be obtained at Spaulding's or Atlas sport stores or from a number of sandlot players and managers.

Timely Hits Give Terry's Men Victory

Harry Danning Is Star; 15,000 See Cubs and Phillies Split.

By the Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 29.—Those rough-riding Giants galloped right on up the National League ladder today, and all but overtook the pace-setting Chicago Cubs.

They moved to within half a game of the top by putting together a lot of timely hitting, particularly by Catcher Harry Danning, and an effective eight-hit pitching effort by Harry Gumbert to overcome the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 2.

For a few moments, after the Cubs lost their opener to Philadelphia, the Giants were in first place by a narrow margin, but when Chicago came through in the Quaker city nightcap, the Giants dropped back into second by two little percentage points.

As a result, they are well on the way to repeating the history they wrote into the books last year, when they put on a late-season surge, and climbed from fifth place into the lead on August 25. This year they started their drive from third place on June 27, today's victory was the thirty-sixth in 57 starts since that time and their fourth success in a row.

A two-run rally in the sixth, featured by Ival Goodman's homer and singles by Kiki Cuyler and Lew Riggs, was the only exhibition of Cincinnati power that ruined Gumbert's shutout.

By that time, however, the Giants had the game sewed up by shoving over a pair of runs each in the second and fiifth. They added three unnecessary tallies in the eighth. Danning's, clouting three singles and driving in as many runs, produced enough scoring on his own to win the game.

Base hits by Mel Ott, Hank Leiber, Danning and Whitehead accounted for the first two Giant runs. Danning singled again to figure in the second pair, in the fifth, with Jojo Moore's triple and Dick Bartell's bunt sharing in the run-making.

Singles by Danning, Jim Ripple and Ott, Leiber's sacrifice, a walk, and Alex Kampouris' wild throw brought in the final three Giant runs.

Cin'nati.	AB	H	O	A	New York.	AB	H	O	A
Walker,cf.	4	0	2	0	Moore,lf...	4	2	1	0
G'dman,rf	4	1	2	0	Bartell,ss..	4	1	1	1
Cuyler,lf..	4	2	2	1	Ripple,rf..	4	1	0	0
Sc'sella,1b	4	1	5	4	Ott,3b....	3	2	0	4
L'mbardi,c	4	0	3	1	Leiber,cf..	3	1	2	0
Riggs,3b..	4	1	2	1	McC'thy,1b	3	0	17	2
K'ouris,2b	4	1	4	0	Danning,c.	4	3	4	0
Myers,ss..	3	1	1	5	Whead,2b..	4	1	1	5
*Jordan..	1	0	0	0	Gumbert,p.	3	0	1	3
R.Davis,p.	2	0	3	1
Totals..	34	8	24	13	Totals..	32	11	27	16

*Batted for Myers in ninth.

Cincinnati	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	—2
New York	0	2	0	0	2	0	0	3	x	—7

Runs—Goodman, Cuyler, Moore, Ripple, Ott (2), McCarthy, Danning, Whitehead. Errors—McCarthy, Kampouris. Runs batted in—Danning, 3; Whitehead, Moore, Bartell, Goodman, Riggs. Three-base hit—Moore. Home run—Goodman. Sacrifices—R. Davis, Leiber. Double play—McCarthy and Bartell. Left on bases—New York, 4; Cincinnati, 6. First base on balls—Off Davis, 2. Struck out—By Gumbert, 3; by R. Davis, 2. Passed ball—Lombardi. Umpires—Moran, Magerkurth and Parker. Time of game—One hour 50 minutes.

Cubs and Phillies Divide Double Bill

By the Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Aug. 29.—The Cubs dropped out of first place for the first time since July 15 for a few hours today, but hopped right back into the driver's seat when they divided a double-header with the Phillies, losing the first, 10 to 3, and grabbing the nightcap, 2 to 1, before 15,000 fans at Baker Park Bowl today.

The Chicagoans now hold the National League lead by a scant 2-point margin over the Giants, who trampled the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 2.

A barrage of four home runs behind the excellent pitching of Hugh Mulcahy sent the Bruins to defeat in the first game. Frank Demaree's circuit clout into the leftfield stands with Herman on base in the sixth inning, gave Larry French a victory in the second struggle.

The score was tied at 3-3 and Bill Lee was on the mound for the Cubs in the fifth inning of the initial battle when Chuck Klein, former Cub, drove the ball over the right-field wall. This home run was good for two tallies and gave the Phillies enough counters to win.

Chicago.	AB	H	O	A	Phila.	AB	H	O	A
Hack,3b..	4	1	1	1	Norris,3b..	4	3	1	0
Galan,lf..	4	2	2	0	Martin,cf..	4	0	2	0
H'rman,2b	4	0	5	3	Klein,lf...	5	4	2	0
D'maree,rf	4	1	0	0	Browne,rf.	5	3	4	0
O'Dea...	3	1	5	0	Camilli,1b.	5	0	11	2
Frey,ss..	4	1	2	3	Grace,c...	4	2	3	0
C'retta,1b	4	1	7	2	Scharein,ss	4	1	1	5
Marty,cf.	3	1	1	0	Young,2b..	3	1	2	4
Lee,p....	0	0	1	1	Mulcahy,p.	3	0	1	1
Shoun,p...	1	0	0	2
*Bryant..	1	0	0	0
Totals..	33	8	24	12	Totals..	37	14	27	13

*Batted for Shoun in ninth.

Chicago	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	—3
Philadelphia	1	0	1	1	3	0	1	3	x	—10

Runs—Hack, Cavaretta, Marty, Norris, Martin, Klein (3), Browne (2), Sharein, Young, Mulcahy. Errors—O'Dea, Frey, Marty, Cavaretta. Runs batted in—Norris (2), Klein (4), Grace, Browne (2), Cavaretta, Hack, Galan. Two-base hit—Browne. Home runs—Norris, Cavaretta, Klein (2), Browne. Stolen bases—Galan, Scharein. Sacrifices—Lee, Mulcahy, Norris. Double plays—Camilli to Scharein to Camilli, Frey to Herman to Cavaretta. Left on bases—Chicago, 6; Philadelphia, 7. First base on balls—Off Mulcahy, 2; off Lee, 2. Struck out—By Mulcahy, 2; by Lee, 2; by Shoun, 1. Hits—Off Lee, 9 in 4 2-3 innings; off Shoun, 5 in 3 1-3 innings. Losing pitcher—Lee. Umpires—Ballanfant, Klem and Sears. Time of game—One hour 59 minutes.

Second Game.

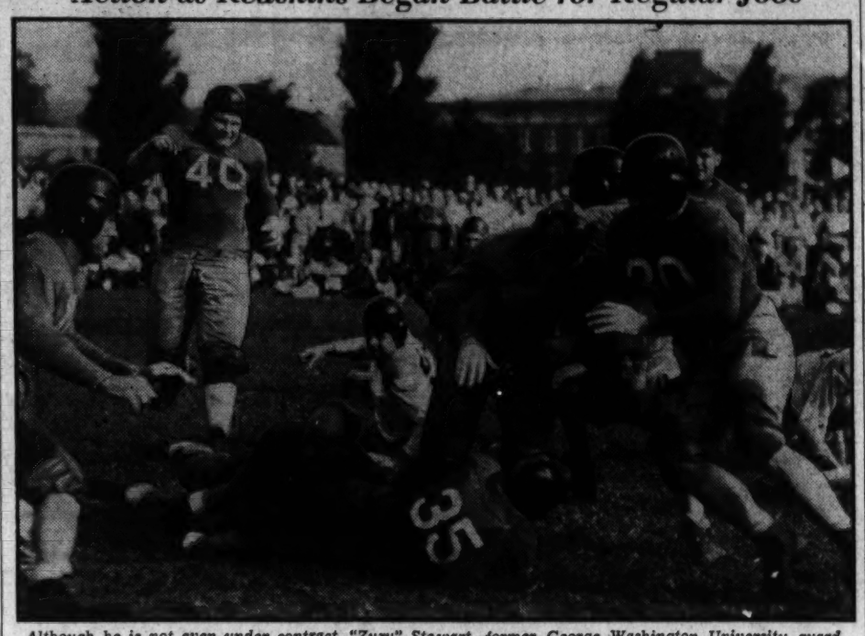
Chicago.	AB	H	O	A	Phila.	AB	H	O	A
Hack,3b..	2	0	2	1	Norris,3b..	3	1	3	0
Galan,lf..	3	1	1	0	Martin,cf.	4	1	2	0
H'rman,2b	3	1	1	1	Klein,lf...	4	1	2	0
D'maree,rf	4	1	2	0	Browne,rf.	4	0	1	0
Hartnett,c	4	1	7	0	Camilli,1b.	3	0	10	0
Jurges,ss..	4	1	1	4	Wilson,c..	4	0	3	5
C'retta,1b	3	0	8	1	Scharein,ss	4	2	4	6
Marty,cf..	3	0	4	1	Young,2b..	3	1	2	3
French,p.	3	0	1	1	*Arnovich.	1	0	0	0
					LaMaster,p	1	0	0	1
					†Walters..	1	0	0	0
					Passeau,p..	0	0	0	0
					‡Whitney..	1	0	0	0
Totals..	29	5	27	9	Totals..	33	6	27	15

*Batted for Young in ninth.
†Batted for Lamaster in seventh.
‡Batted for Passeau in ninth.

Chicago	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	—2
Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	—1

Runs—Herman, Demaree, Norris. Errors—Jurges, French, Young. Runs batted in—Demaree (2), Norris (1). Two-base hit—Scharein. Home runs—Demaree, Norris. Sacrifice—Lamaster. Left on bases—Chicago, 7; Philadelphia, 8. First base on balls—Off Lamaster, 4; off French, 2. Struck out—By Lamaster, 2; by French, 5; by Passeau, 1. Hits—Off Lamaster, 4 in 7 innings; off Passeau, 1 in 2 innings. Losing pitcher—Lamaster. Umpires—Klem, Sears and Ballanfant. Time of game—One hour 40 minutes.

Action as Redskins Began Battle for Regular Jobs



Although he is not even under contract, "Zuzu" Stewart, former George Washington University guard, was allowed to scrimmage with the Redskins, who opened their season's scrimmages yesterday at Anacostia Field. Here he is shown as a member of the second string line, firmly tackling Nelson Peterson, recruit back from West Virginia Wesleyan University, who was the leading ground gainer of the workout, as he attempted to crash through Stewart's position. Chuck Bond, No. 40, former Washington State tackle, and Bill Young, No. 30, from Alabama University, another tackle, stand by.

Von Cramm, Henkel Win; Gain Finals

Budge-Mako Oppose Germans for Doubles Championship.

By the Associated Press.

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 29.—Baron Gottfried von Cramm and Henner Henkel, Germany's outstanding tennis players, ruined one of the best performances the veteran Johnny Van Ryn ever gave on a court today to gain the final round of the National Doubles championship at Longwood.

They became the first foreigners to qualify for the title round in nine years when they out-battled Van Ryn and his brilliant but erratic young partner, Joe Hunt, of Los Angeles, for a 6—4, 6—8, 14—12, 6—4 triumph in their semifinals match.

The defending champion, Don Budge and Gene Mako, were delayed but not extended as they gained the last round, for the third straight year, with a 6—4, 6—3, 7—5 victory over Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, Atlanta, and Wayne Sabin, Los Angeles.

Last year's winners in the women's division, Mrs. John Van Ryn and Carolin Babcock, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, Cambridge, and Alice Marble, the National Singles titlist, became the finalists in that tourney by eliminating the British teams. Mrs. Van Ryn and Miss Babcock defeated John Ingram and Evelyn Dearman, 4—6, 6—4, 6—3 and the other American girls overwhelmed Kay Stammers and Freda James, who topped the foreign list, 6—3, 7—5.

Van Ryn, twice a winner and six times a runner-up with Wilmer Allison in previous championships, played superb tennis as his unbalanced team forced the Germans to play 60 games before they gained the four-set victory that moved them against Budge and Mako for the third time this year.

The American aces defeated Von Cramm and Henkel in five sets in their first clash in the Wimbledon final and then took them in four sets in the interzone Davis Cup final.

After pulling himself and Hunt out of almost every dangerous spot with his all-around volleying and his remarkable return of service, Van Ryn finally wearied in the 59th game of the match and gave the Germans their winning edge by missing three of his own volleys to lose his service for the first time in the two-hour match.

Winner.

George Comellas, Cuban pitcher with Salisbury in the Eastern Shore League, may land with the Washington Senators in 1938. The Islander won his first 19 games, equaling Marquard's big league mark.

40,000 Are Expected At Postponed Fight

Sunny Weather Brings Surge to Boxoffice With New Influx Expected From Saratoga; Louis Quoted as 5-to-1 Favorite.

By Alan Gould.
Associated Press Sports Editor.

New York, Aug. 29.—With the weather man promising to lend a hand, Joe Louis and Tommy Farr will attempt to go through with their postponed world's heavyweight title match at the Yankee Stadium tomorrow night.

The 23-year-old champion and the youthful Welshman, who holds the British Empire title, originally were scheduled to settle their argument last Thursday night, but Promoter Mike Jacobs ordered a four-day postponement because of rainy weather, and also because he hoped the delay might boost a none-too-promising ticket sale.

Both purposes appear to have been accomplished. The forecast is for cloudy weather, but no rain, tomorrow night, while the fair weather of the past two days has helped business at the box office. With the influx today of the race crowd from Saratoga, a further soaring of ticket sales is predicted.

Promotor Jacobs, who has insisted all along the fight would not gross less than $300,000, is jubilant. He paid flying visits to both training camps today and hoisted his guess to a gate of between $350,000 and $400,000 and a crowd of not less than 40,000.

Close observers, however, are more conservative. They think the attendance may reach the 35,000 mark, but doubt if the receipts will pass $350,000, even with the $75,000 from the radio and picture rights included.

The delay has brought no change in expert opinion. The men who make their living following and writing about fights are almost unanimous in the belief the brown bombing champion will dispose of the challenger by the knockout route in well under 12 rounds. Most of them say the thunder will strike between the first and seventh heats.

Both fighters were weighed in and examined last Thursday, but under the rules of the New York State Athletic Commission they must go through the same ceremonies again tomorrow. They will motor in from their training camps at Long Branch and Pompton Lakes, N. J., in time to report to the commission at high noon. They will spend the afternoon secluded in the homes of friends.

The only untoward event that occurred to either since the postponement was the fact that Farr was belted to the canvas by Abe Feldman, one of his sparring partners, during a workout Friday. The Farr camp insists it was more of a slip than a knockdown, but newspaper men at the ringside say Feldman caught the Britisher with a good stiff right to send him to the floor.

Anyway, the incident so enraged Tommy that when he got Feldman in the ring with him yesterday he treated him so roughly with both fists that Abe was groggy long before the second round was completed.

Fears here expressed in some quarters that Louis, who was geared to fighting Farr for Thursday night, may have gone stale over the week-end, but these were laughed off by the champion's handlers. Delays worry champions and, despite what anybody says, Louis is a worrier.

Farr, of course, faced the same hazard, but to a lesser degree. Louis is the champion, defending his crown for the first time. Farr is on the way up, with everything to gain and nothing to lose.

These reports may have had nothing to do with it, but betting odds on Louis slumped today. Wednesday night he was 6 to 1 with the possibility he would be 7 to 1 Thursday night. Today the wise ones along Broadway were offering 5 to 1. They reported a little more Farr money in evidence than last week, but betting continues light for a championship fight.

Fight Facts

Principals—Joe Louis, Detroit, world's heavyweight champion, vs. Tommy Farr, Wales, British empire champion.
Place—Yankee Stadium, New York.
Length of bout—Fifteen rounds to a decision.
Time of bout—First preliminary 7 p. m. (Eastern standard). Main bout 9 p. m. (E. S. T.). May be advanced if weather threatening.
Probable weights—Louis 198 pounds, Farr 204 pounds.
Probable attendance—35,000.
Probable receipts—$350,000 (including radio motion-picture receipts.
Broadcast—N. B. C. hookup for main bout (starting not earlier than 8:15 (E. S. T.).
Preliminaries—Buddy Baer, Livermore, Calif., vs. Abe Simon, New York; Tiger Jack Fox, Indianapolis, vs. Steve Dudas, Edgewater, N. J.; Harry Balsamo, New York, vs. Chris de Rosa, Boston; Dave Clark, Detroit, vs. Charlie Massera, Pittsburgh, six rounds each; Joe Wagner, Newark, N. J., vs. Phil Sommese, New York; Johnny Palovich, New York, vs. Maxie Long, Dallas, Tex., four rounds each.

Minor Leagues

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.
Montreal, 12-2; Buffalo, 6-0.
Newark, 9; Jersey City, 0.
Baltimore, 3; Syracuse, 2 (11 innings.)
Rochester, 8-6; Toronto, 2-1.
AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.
Milwaukee, 8-8; Columbus 6-9.
St. Paul 6-4; Indianapolis, 4-2.
Minneapolis, 8-2; Louisville, 5-8.
Toledo, 7; Kansas City, 5.
SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION.
Atlanta, 5-3; Memphis, 1-2.
Birmingham, 3-6; Nashville, 0-1.
New Orleans, 5-8; Knoxville, 1-14.
Chattanooga, 1-6; Little Rock, 0-1.
TEXAS LEAGUE.
San Antonio, 3-2; Oklahoma City, 1-6.
Dallas, 2-2; Galveston, 0-3.
Fort Worth, 6; Houston, 3.
PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE.
San Francisco, 13-8; Seattle, 7-3.
Portland, 3-1; San Diego, 1-10.
Oakland, 5-4; Los Angeles, 2-2.
Missions, 5-3; Sacramento, 3-4.

Major League Standings

American League.

Standing of the Teams.

	W.	L.	Pct.	G.B.
New York	80	36	.690	....
Detroit	68	49	.581	12½
Chicago	68	53	.562	14½
Boston	64	51	.557	15½
Cleveland	58	57	.504	21½
WASHINGTON	54	60	.474	25
Philadelphia	36	78	.316	43
St. Louis	37	81	.314	44

Results Yesterday.
Cleveland, 11-2; WASHINGTON, 4-6.
New York, 7; Detroit, 2.
Boston, 2-3; St. Louis, 0-8.
Philadelphia, 16-3; Chicago, 6-5.
Games Today.
WASHINGTON at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.
New York at Detroit.
Games Tomorrow.
Washington at Detroit.
New York at Cleveland.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.
Boston at Chicago.

National League.

Standing of the Teams.

	W.	L.	Pct.	G.B.
Chicago	72	47	.605	....
New York	70	46	.603	½
St. Louis	65	54	.546	7
Pittsburgh	62	57	.521	10
Boston	57	62	.479	15
Philadelphia	50	68	.424	21½
Brooklyn	48	68	.414	22½
Cincinnati	46	67	.407	23

Results Yesterday.
Chicago, 2-3; Philadelphia, 1-10.
New York, 7; Cincinnati, 2.
Boston, 3-0; St. Louis, 2-3.
Brooklyn, 5-6; Pittsburgh, 3-3.
Games Today.
Cincinnati at New York.
Games Tomorrow.
Chicago at Brooklyn.
Cincinnati at Boston.
St. Louis at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.

Harrell Hurls One-Hitter as Cards Divide

St. Louis Rookie Nears Hall of Fame; Bees Win Opener.

By the Associated Press.

Boston, Aug. 29.—Only one hit separated young Ray Harrell, the St. Louis Cardinals' 25-year-old Byers, Tex., rookie from a no hit, no run game today as he mowed down the Boston Bees, 3 to 0, in the nightcap of a double-header that saw the Cards run their losing streak to five by dropping the opener, 3-2.

A crowd of 19,329 saw Ray Mueller, Boston catcher whose ninth inning single with the bases full won the first game, lead off in the sixth inning with a single that prevented Harrell from gaining baseball's hall of fame.

The only other Bees to reach first were Roy Johnson, who walked in the fourth, stole second, and died there; and Vince DiMaggio and Gene Moore, who walked in the eighth only to see Bobby Reis hit into a double-play and Mueller pop out.

Si Johnson lost a heartbreaker in the opener. He had allowed only four hits when he started the last half of the ninth with a 2-1 lead, but Roy Johnson greeted him with a double and went to third on Cuccinello's bunt. Gene Moore's triple to center tied the score, and DiMaggio and Reis were passed intentionally, filling the bases and giving the Cards better double-play possibilities. Mueller, however, singled to right on the first pitched ball.

First Game.

St. Louis.	AB	H	O	A	Boston.	AB	H	O	A
T.Moore,cf	4	3	1	1	Garms,3b..	4	0	0	2
Brown,2b..	3	1	2	1	Warstler,ss	4	1	2	3
Mize,1b...	4	0	14	0	R.J'nson,lf	4	2	1	0
M'dwick,lf	4	1	2	0	C'inello,2b	3	1	8	3
Padgett,rf	4	1	0	0	E.Moore,rf	4	1	1	0
G'ridge,3b	4	1	0	5	DiM'gio,cf.	3	0	0	1
D'cher,ss	4	1	1	3	Reis,1b....	3	0	10	0
Owen,c...	4	1	5	0	Mueller,c.	3	1	5	2
S.J'nson,p	4	1	0	5	Turner,p...	2	1	0	3
Totals..	35	10	*25	15	Totals..	30	7	27	14

*One out in ninth when winning run scored.

St. Louis	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	—2
Boston	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	0	—3

Runs—T. Moore, Durocher, R. Johnson, E. Moore, Mueller. Errors—Padgett, Warstler. Runs batted in—T. Moore, Brown, Warstler, E. Moore, Mueller. Two-base hits—R. Johnson. Three-base hit—E. Moore. Stolen base—T. Moore. Sacrifices—Brown, Cuccinello, Turner. Left on bases—St. Louis, 7; Boston, 7. First base on balls—Off S. Johnson, 3. Struck out—By S. Johnson, 4; by Turner, 6. Passed ball—Mueller.

Second Game.

St. Louis.	AB	H	O	A	Boston.	AB	H	O	A
T.Moore,cf.	5	1	0	0	Garms,3b..	4	0	2	2
Brown,2b.	4	1	2	5	Warstler,ss	4	0	2	1
Mize,1b...	3	1	14	1	R.J'nson,lf	2	0	0	0
M'dwick,lf	3	1	1	0	C'inello,2b	3	0	2	4
Padgett,rf	4	3	1	0	E.Moore,rf	2	0	3	0
G'ridge,3b	4	1	1	1	DiM'gio,cf.	2	0	3	0
D'cher,ss	3	0	1	5	Reis,1b....	3	0	8	0
Os'owski,c	4	1	4	1	Mueller,c.	3	1	7	4
Harrell,p..	3	1	0	1	Lanning,p.	2	0	0	2
					H'nson,p..	0	0	0	0
Totals..	33	10	27	14	*Mayo....	1	0	0	0
					Totals..	26	1	27	13

*Batted for Hutchinson in ninth.

St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	0	3	—6
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

Runs—Mize, Padgett, Durocher. Runs batted in—Mize, Ogrodowski. Home run—Mize. Stolen base—R. Johnson. Sacrifice—Harrell. Double plays—Durocher to Brown to Mize, Lanning to Mueller to Reis. Left on bases—St. Louis, 7; Boston, 2. First base on balls—Off Harrell, 3; off Lanning, 3. Struck out—By Harrell, 4; by Lanning, 4; by Hutchinson, 2. Hits—Off Lanning, 10 in 7 1-3 innings; off Hutchinson, 0 in 1 2-3 innings. Wild pitch—Lanning. Losing pitcher—Lanning. Umpires—Barr, Stark and Stewart.

Stanley M. Rees Dies.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 29 (AP).—Stanley M. Rees, 37, who went as a 17-year-old boy to a pitching position with the National League St. Louis Cardinals and later pitched for the Washington Nationals in the American League, died of a heart attack today after being stricken while playing baseball at a Lexington public park.

Rookie Hurler Gives 5 Hits in Final Game

DeShong Beaten in Opening Contest by 11-to-4 Count; Gives Up 15 Blows; Strikeout King Is Chased to Showers in Eighth.

By Shirley Povich.
A Staff Correspondent.

Cleveland, Aug. 29.—They came to see Bob Feller this afternoon—33,185 of 'em—and Washington showed 'em 23-year-old Kendall Chase who pitched young Mr. Feller right into an early shower and collected the cheers for himself.

He was something to see today—this lad Chase, who is only two years off his milkman's route in upper New York State. Even the hostile Cleveland fans who are reputed to be so tough they eat their young, bowed to the performance of the Nats' rookie and made the walls of Cleveland's huge Municipal Stadium resound with their plaudits.

Because the rookie left-hander who was making only his fourth start in the big leagues, out-pitched the supposedly sensational Feller from here to there and back again and with a five-hit masterpiece, beat the Indians, 6 to 2.

The only disturbing note of the afternoon for the Nats was the fact that they had been beaten ingloriously in the first game of the double-header, 11 to 4.

But, getting back to Chase—and to Feller—the unheralded Washington recruit was the winner all the way. And one of those runs the Indians scored off him was as tainted as Hauptmann's alibi. He had stuff and things today, Chase did. He was breaking a devastating fast curve over the corners and he was throwing a straight-away fast ball that appeared to have all the smoke that Feller's possessed.

He had it in the clutch, too, because he walked nine Indians and most always had somebody on base when he was pitching, but that was when he was at his best. And when he got a bad break in the ninth inning—Buddy Myer's error that let a run score and delayed the end of the game, the curly-headed Chase looked adversity and Hal Trosky in the face and struck out the Indians' slugger to complete his pitching masterpiece.

Feller lasted only seven innings but until the sixth it was a pretty duel between the two youngsters with Chase having the edge. During those first five innings, Feller had given up three hits to the Nats and, strangely, struck out only two batters. Chase had given up only one hit—Averill's single in the first inning—and likewise struck out two hitters.

And then, in the sixth, Feller faded. Three hits and a base on balls produced three Washington runs and broke the scoreless deadlock. Mel Almada reached out and poked a fast ball for a single to center and Buddy Lewis coaxed a walk out of Feller. In this crisis, Cecil Travis lashed a line-drive double to left and scored both his pals. With one out, Joe Kuhel, who always could sock Feller's pitching, bashed a single to center to score Travis and the Nats were in front, 3 to 0.

The Indians didn't get their second hit off Chase until the sixth, when Solters doubled to left. But Cecil Travis wiped the sacks clean by getting Campbell's line drive and beating Solters back to the bag for a double play.

The Indians' need of a pinch-hitter in the seventh inning was greater than their need for Feller's presence on the mound and after Hale walked, Roy Hughes batted for Feller with one out. He clicked off a double down the rightfield line, scored Hale and ruined whatever shutout dreams Chase had been toying with. Lyn Lary followed with a tainted hit through

Continued on Page 17, Column 6.

The Box Scores.

WASHINGTON.	AB.	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Almada, cf.	4	1	3	3	0	1
Lewis, 3b.	5	1	1	0	1	0
Travis, ss.	5	0	1	1	1	1
Stone, rf.	5	1	2	2	0	0
Kuhel, 1b.	4	0	2	8	0	0
Myer, 2b.	3	0	1	3	3	0
Simmons, lf.	4	1	2	3	0	0
R. Ferrell, c.	3	0	0	3	0	1
DeShong, p.	3	0	1	1	2	0
*Millies	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	37	4	13	24	7	3

Cleveland.	AB.	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Lary, ss.	4	2	2	1	3	0
Kroner, 2b.	4	1	1	4	2	0
Averill, cf.	5	1	2	5	0	0
Trosky, 1b.	4	4	3	6	0	0
Solters, lf.	5	1	4	4	1	0
Campbell, rf.	5	1	1	2	0	0
Hale, 3b.	4	0	0	1	2	0
Sullivan, c.	4	1	2	4	0	0
Allen, p.	4	0	0	0	1	0
Totals	39	11	15	27	7	0

*Batted for DeShong in ninth.

Washington	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	3	—4
Cleveland	3	0	2	0	4	0	0	2	x	—11

Runs batted in—Campbell (3), Averill (2), Lary (2), Trosky, Sullivan, Lewis (2), Almada, Kuhel. Two-base hits—Stone, Myer, Sullivan, Lary, Almada. Home runs—Averill, Lewis. Double plays—Travis to Myer to Kuhel, Hale to Kroner to Trosky, Trosky (unassisted). Left on bases—Washington, 9; Cleveland, 7. First base on balls—Off Allen, 3; off DeShong, 3. Struck out—By Allen, 3; by DeShong, 3.

Second Game.

WASHINGTON.	AB.	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Almada, cf.	5	1	2	4	0	0
Lewis, 3b.	4	3	3	0	0	0
Travis, ss. (.300)	4	1	2	3	2	0
Simmons, lf.	4	0	1	1	0	0
Kuhel, 1b.	3	0	2	13	0	0
Myer, 2b.	3	0	0	1	4	1
Sington, rf.	4	0	1	1	0	0
Millies, c.	4	1

Chisox Even Double Bill With Macks

Lose Opener, 16-0, But Take Final Game by 5-3 Count.

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—The Philadelphia Athletics set two new American League records as they walloped the White Sox, 6 to 0, in the first game of a double bill today, but they couldn't hold that slugging pace and lost the nightcap, 5 to 3.

The Mackmen, mathematically out of the junior circut race, cut loose with a vengeance at the outset of the curtain-raiser. They scored 12 runs in that first inning, cracking by one run the old mark of runs scored in an opening stanze, set on August 13, 1933, by the Boston Red Sox.

Ben Johnson, Athletics outfielder, had five hits in six trips during the first game, and drove in six runs in the big opening inning for a second American League mark. The old mark of five in an inning was held by several players. The only home runs of the afternoon were by Johnson, the husky ball hawk getting his seventeenth and eighteenth of the season in the first tilt.

In all, the Connie Mack crew collected 16 hits off Monty Stratton and John Rigney as George Caster was yielding but five.

In the nightcap, Johnny Whitehead held the Athletics to seven hits as the Sox pounded Harry Kelley for 12 safeties in the 8 1-3 innings he worked before giving way to George Turbeville. Dixie Walker paced the Sox offense with three hits in four appearances.

First Game.

Phila.	AB	H	O	A	Chicago.	AB	H	O	A
Moses,rf.	6	3	4	0	Berger,3b.	3	1	3	2
Finney,lb.	3	1	9	0	Kreevich,cf	4	0	3	0
Werber,3b	4	0	2	1	Walker,rf.	4	0	1	0
Johnson,lf	6	5	2	0	Radcliff,lf.	4	1	4	0
Hill,cf.	4	3	1	0	Appling,ss.	4	1	2	2
Brucker,c.	4	0	3	0	Dykes,1b.	3	1	9	0
Peters,2b.	4	2	2	3	Piet,2b.	4	0	3	3
N'some,ss.	4	0	0	3	Sewell,c.	1	0	2	4
Caster,p..	5	2	0	3	Rensa,c.	2	0	2	0
					Stratton,p.	0	0	0	0
Totals	40	16	27	10	Rigney,p.	3	0	0	2
					Totals	32	5	27	10

Philadelphia	1	2	0	0	1	1	0	1	0	1	—16
Chicago	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

Runs—Moses (3), Finney (2), Werber, Johnson (4), Hill (2), Brucker, Peters, Newsome, Caster. Errors—Sewell, Walker, Appling, Hill. Runs batted in—Johnson (7), Peters (2), Caster (3), Moses, Hill, Werber. Two-base hits—Moses, Peters, Caster, Radcliff. Home runs—Johnson (2). Stolen bases—Johnson, Hill (2). Sacrifices—Brucker, Werber. Double plays—Appling to plet to Dykes, Berger to Dykes, Peters to Newsome to Finney. Left on bases—Philadelphia, 8; Chicago, 7. First base on balls—Off Caster, 2; off Stratton, 2; off Rigney, 7. Struck out—By Caster, 4; by Rigney, 2. Hits—Off Stratton, 4 in 1-3 inning; off Rigney, 12 in 8 2-3 innings. Wild pitch—Rigney. Losing pitcher—Stratton. Umpires—Ormsby and Kills. Time of game—One hour 46 minutes.

Second Game.

Phila.	AB	H	O	A	Chicago	AB	H	O	A
Moses,rf.	4	0	4	0	Berger,3b.	4	1	3	5
Finney,lb.	4	1	8	2	Kreevich,cf	3	2	0	1
Werber,3b	4	0	1	2	Walker,rf.	4	3	1	0
Johnson,lf	3	1	2	0	Radcliff,lf.	4	0	0	0
Hell,cf....	4	1	1	0	Appling,ss.	4	2	2	3
F.Haves,c.	4	1	4	1	Dykes,1b..	4	2	15	0
Ambler,2b.	3	0	1	2	Piet,2b....	4	0	3	6
Peters,2b.	1	0	0	0	Sewell,c..	4	2	3	1
N'some,ss.	2	0	2	3	W'head,p..	3	0	0	3
Huston,ss.	0	0	0	0	Brown,p...	0	0	0	0
Kelley,p..	2	0	0	0
T'beville,p	0	0	0	0
*Rothrock	1	0	0	0
†Dean....	1	0	0	0
‡Nelson..	1	1	0	0
Totals..	33	7	24	11	Totals...	34	12	27	19

*Batted for Ambler in eighth.
†Batted for Newsome in eighth.
‡Batted for Kelley in eighth.

Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	2	—3
Chicago	0	0	1	1	0	2	0	x	—5

Runs—Werber (2), Johnson, Berger, Kreevich, Walker, Appling, Sewell. Errors—Appling (2), Dykes, Newsome. Runs batted in—Hill (2), Kreevich, Piet, Walker, Radcliff, Dykes. Two-base hits—Berger, Appling. Three-base hits—Sell. Hill. Sacrifices—Kreevich, Whitehead. Double play—Newsome to Ambler to Finney. Left on bases—Philadelphia, 4; Chicago, 8. First base on balls—Off Kelley, 1. Struck out—By Kelley, 2; by Turbeville, 1; by Whitehead, 2; by Brown, 1. Hits—Off Kelley, 12 in 7 innings; off Turbeville, 0 in 1 inning; off Whitehead, 7 in 8 1-3 innings; off Brown, 0 in 2-3 inning. Hit by pitched ball—By Whitehead (Johnson). Wild pitch—Whitehead. Winning pitcher—Whitehead. Losing pitcher—Kelley. Umpires—Kolls and Ormsby. Time of game—One hour 53 minutes.

Bosox Divide Pair of Games With Browns

Clift's Homer Takes 2d Contest After Boston Captures Opener.

By the Associated Press.

St. Louis, Aug. 29.—Harlond Clift's twenty-fourth home run in the first inning, netting three runs, and a four-run assault on Relief Pitcher Rube Walberg in the sixth produced all the runs needed by the St. Louis Browns to win the second game of a double-header with the Boston Red Sox today, 8 to 3. The Bostonians won the opener, 2 to 0.

First Game.

Boston.	AB	H	O	A	St. Louis.	AB	H	O	A
Melillo,2b.	4	1	3	5	Kn'cker,2b.	4	0	2	0
Cramer,cf.	4	1	3	1	West,cf....	4	0	4	0
Cronin,ss.	4	2	3	4	Vosmik,lf..	4	1	2	0
Foxx,1b...	2	1	10	0	Clift,3b....	3	1	1	4
Higgins,3b	4	0	0	0	Bell,1b....	4	1	9	0
Mills,lf..	4	1	2	0	Allen,rf...	2	1	3	0
Chap'an,rf	3	0	0	0	Hemsley,c.	3	0	2	0
D'sautels,c	4	0	5	1	Carey,2b..	3	0	2	5
Newsom,c.	4	0	0	1	Trotter,p..	1	0	0	1
					Koupal,p..	0	0	0	2
					B'tomley..	1	0	0	0
Totals..	33	8	27	11	Totals....	29	4	27	11

*Batted for Trotter in eighth.

Boston	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	—2
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

Runs—Cramer (2). Error—Clift. Runs batted in—Cronin (2). Two-base hits—Cramer (2), Fox. Three-base hit—Cramer. Sacrifice—Chapman. Double plays—Clift to Bell, Melillo to Cronin to Foxx. Left on bases—Boston, 7; St. Louis, 5. First base on balls—Off Kelley, 1. Struck out—By Kelley, 2; by Turbeville, 1; by Whitehead, 2; by Brown, 1. Hits—Off Kelley, 12 in 7 innings; off Turbeville, 0 in 1 inning; off Whitehead, 7 in 8 1-3 innings; off Brown, 0 in 2-3 inning. Hit by pitched ball—By Whitehead (Johnson). Wild pitch—Whitehead. Winning pitcher—Whitehead. Losing pitcher—Kelley. Umpires—Kolls and Ormsby. Time of game—One hour 53 minutes.

Second Game.

Mellilo,2b.	AB	H	O	A	St. Louis.	AB	H	O	A
	5	1	1	2	Kn'cker,2b.	4	0	2	6
Cramer,cf.	5	0	3	0	West,cf....	5	3	4	0
Cronin,ss.	4	2	3	2	Vosmik,lf.	4	4	5	0
Foxx,1b...	4	2	10	0	Clift,3b....	5	2	2	0
Higgins,3b	4	1	0	5	Bell,1b....	4	3	10	0
Mills,lf..	4	0	1	0	Allen,rf...	3	1	2	0
Chap'an,rf	4	1	3	0	Hemsley,c	4	1	2	1
D'sautels,c	4	1	3	1	Carey,ss..	4	3	1	6
McKain,p.	3	0	0	1	Knott,p....	3	0	0	0
Walberg,p.	1	0	0	1
Gonsales,p	0	0	0	1
*Evans....	1	0	0	0
†Doerr....	0	0	0	0
Totals..	34	8	24	13	Totals....	39	17	27	8

*Batted for Walberg in seventh.
†Batted for Gonsales in ninth.
‡Ran for Marzum in ninth.

Boston	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0—3
St. Louis	3	0	0	0	1	4	0	0	x—8

Runs—Melillo, Foxx, Chapman, Knickerbocker, West (2), Vosmik (2), Clift, Hemsley, Carey. Errors—Higgins, Allen, Hemsley. Runs batted in—Cronin, Clift (3), D'sautels, Vosmik, Foxx, Carey, West (2). Two-base hits—Vosmik, Hemsley. Home runs—Clift, Foxx. Stolen base—Chapman. Sacrifices—Mills, Vosmik. Double plays—Cronin to Foxx, Hemsley to Carey. Left on bases—Boston, 7; St. Louis, 10. First base on balls—Off Walberg, 1; off Knott, 1; off McKain, 1; off Gonsales, 1; by Gonsales, 1. Hits—Off Walberg, 7 in 3 1-3 innings; off McKain, 1 in 2-3 innings; off Gonsales, 2 in 3 innings. Losing pitcher—McKain. Umpires—McGowan and Quinn. Time of game—One hour 58 minutes.

Corr Defeats Deoudes In Midget Title Play

By Jack Munhall.

Corr Bicycle Shop moved nearer the midget championship of the National City Baseball League yesterday, nosing out George Deoudes, 3-2, on the South Ellipse in the first of a three-game play-off series.

A large crowd thrilled to the pitching duel between Dick Rozella, former Central High player, and Charley Batchelder, a Gonzaga student who hurled well in losing. Each allowed eight hits but Corr bunched a pair of safeties with a walk and a passed ball to tally three times in the seventh inning to come from behind and clinch the affair. Connoly, the batting star with three hits in four tries, scored the winning run on an infield out by Collins.

Klein Tavern complicated matters in the unlimited A section upsetting the heretofore undefeated Rose Liquor nine, 3-2, in a well-played game. Klein now retains a chance of a triple tie for the second half crown. Heurich, the leader, with five victories and no osses, was idle yesterday but must win from Rose in their meeting next Sunday to clinch the title. If Rose should spill the Beermen, a triple tie involving Rose, Klein and the Heurichs would result. Each would then show a record of five wins and one setback.

Bespectacled Bill Liggett, Klein's manager, personally attended to Rose's surprise defeat. The slender right hander muzzled the hard-hitting Liquormen until his mates iced the game in the ninth inning on a single by Joe Morello, a sacrifice by Toots Shipp, and a hot smash by Ed Luckett which went for a double, driving in the winning tally. Charley Booker, Rose's underhanded star, was the losing pitcher, though performing creditably.

In the B unlimited section, Ernie Boggs contributed one of the season's outstanding pitching exhibitions, fanning 18 batters as Read Pharmacy swamped the Cardinals, 9 to 1. He allowed four safeties. The leading New Deal nine nipped H. B. Leary, 7 to 6, on the strength of two-run rallies in the eight and nine innings. Herbie Deavers working in relief recorded his tenth straight league pitching victory for the Men's Shop as Donald Fones drove across the winning score in the ninth. In the other B game the surprisingly formidable Georgetown A. C. rang up another victory, trouncing Star Radio, 8 to 3. Lee Whitt, sensational newcomer, was the winning pitcher.

In the Junior League, J. C. Flood and Police Boys' Club No. 5 continued as coleaders, the former blanking Wade, 10 to 0, behind three-hit flinging by Louis West, the latter scuttling Browdy's 11 to 1; George's Radio continued its pull to the top turning back the stubborn Nick Bombard crew on late rallies as Toby Bright recorded another mound triumph. Police Boys Club No. 4 slapped down Stewart by 8 to 1.

NATIONAL JUNIOR.

Bombard.	AB	H	O	A	George's.	AB	H	O	A
Echard,lf..	4	1	1	0	Alex'der,cf	4	3	0	0
Leahy,1b..	3	1	8	0	Sprinkle,2b	4	1	1	2
York,2b....	3	1	1	2	Emmert,3b	4	2	2	3
Jones,cf...	4	2	1	0	L'wood,lf..	4	2	3	1
Tr'dway,c	2	0	5	2	S'mpson,ss	3	3	0	1
Boettler,rf	3	0	1	0	O'C'nor,rf	2	1	0	0
Lunson,rf..	0	0	0	0	D'G'llan,rf	1	0	1	0
Lewis,3b..	3	0	3	1	M'oney,1b.	3	1	9	0
Hyatt,ss..	4	0	1	1	Cady,c....	3	0	9	2
Whitley,p	1	0	0	0	Bright,p...	2	2	0	2
Machie,p..	2	1	0	3
Totals..	30	6	21	9	Totals....	31	14	24	8

Bombard	0	0	0	1	2	0	0	0	—3
George's	0	0	2	0	2	0	2	x	—8

Runs—Echard (2), Leahy, York, Jones, Mackey, Alexander, Sprinkle (2), Simpson (2), O'Connor, Maloney, D. Gullan. Errors—Boettler, Lewis, O'Connor, Maloney.

Sandlot Scores

No. 4.	AB	H	O	A	Stewart.	AB	H	O	A
McHale,3b.	3	1	2	2	Ciomei,2b.	4	0	3	2
Lake,1b..	4	1	5	0	Th'pson,c.	3	0	3	0
Shaefer,2b	4	2	1	1	W'ard,cf..	4	3	4	0
M'rphy,rf.	4	1	2	0	H'sland,ss	4	1	2	4
Slattery,c.	4	2	12	1	Bausch,3b.	3	1	2	1
Gordon,ss.	3	1	0	1	Smith,1b..	4	0	7	0
G'mings,cf	2	0	2	0	Russell,lf.	4	1	1	0
Crown,lf..	1	0	0	0	Burgess,rf.	3	0	2	0
C'rigan,lf.	1	0	0	0	Lyons,p....	3	0	0	0
Poole,p...	2	0	0	0
Totals..	27	8	24	6	Totals..	32	7	24	7

Stewart Pharmacy.	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	—2
No. 4 P. B. C.	0	0	0	0	4	0	0	4	x	—8

Runs—McHale (2), Shaefer, Murphy, Gordon, Crown, Carrigan, Poole, Hoagland, Cromei

NATIONAL JUNIOR.

Flood.	AB	H	O	A	Wade.	AB	H	O	A
Mostow,cf	5	4	3	0	Caspar,c...	4	3	0	1
Hurley,ss.	3	1	1	1	L'mpkin,lf.	4	0	3	0
C'nolly,ss.	2	0	0	3	McC'thy,1b	4	0	10	1
L'erise,3b.	5	3	2	4	Boteler,rf.	3	0	2	0
Sills,1b...	4	1	14	1	Colle,2b..	3	0	2	2
Steiner,2b	5	2	2	4	Kelley,ss.	3	0	2	2
Askins,rf.	5	0	0	0	Sacus,cf...	3	0	3	0
Aquillino,c	4	2	1	0	Cicala,3b.	3	0	2	3
W'atson,lf	4	2	1	0	Th'peon,p.	3	0	0	0
West,p....	4	1	0	1
Totals..	41	14	27	14	Totals..	30	3	24	10

Wade Auto	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
J. C. Flood Co....	1	0	1	4	0	1	0	3	x	—10

Runs—Mostow (4), Hurley (2), Lemerise (2), Steiner, West.

Read's.	AB	H	O	A	Cardinals.	AB	H	O	A
Hebrew,ss.	3	2	0	0	Fones,ss.	4	1	4	1
Taylor,rf.	4	0	0	0	Krueger,cf.	4	1	0	0
Clinton,2b	4	1	1	2	B'sman,rf.	3	0	0	0
O'Brien,cf.	4	1	0	0	Pa'ker,p..	4	1	0	3
Boggs,p...	4	2	0	2	Steele,2b..	4	1	2	4
St'well,1b	5	4	8	0	Rodes,3b..	4	0	2	0
Ben'man,3b	3	0	0	1	Mayer,c....	3	0	11	1
Pepper,lf..	3	0	0	0	M'tague,lf.	3	0	0	0
C'nguay,lf	4	0	0	0	Snyder,1b.	3	0	6	1
Perry,c...	4	3	18	0
Totals..	36	13	27	6	Totals..	32	4	24	9

Read's Pharmacy...	0	0	3	1	3	2	0	0	—9
Cardinals	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	—1

Runs—Hebrew, Taylor, Clinton, O'Brien (2), Boggs (2), Stockwell, Perry, Fones.

Star.	AB	H	O	A	Georgest'n.	AB	H	O	A
E.Pl'mb,lf	4	1	0	0	M'abee,rf..	4	1	0	0
James,1b..	4	0	8	0	Dugan,ss..	5	1	1	2
Boro,2b...	4	2	2	3	Hurley,1b..	4	1	13	2
D'vis,3b,rf	4	2	3	2	Walter,c...	3	1	3	0
C.Pl'mb,cf	3	0	1	0	O'Connor,lf	4	1	2	0
Gibson,3b.	4	2	1	0	C'naguy,lf	3	2	0	0
Gibson,3b.	4	2	1	0	Shaw,cf...	1	0	1	0
Daley,rf...	2	0	0	0	Spector,3b	4	1	0	9
Stokes,c...	4	1	11	0	Whitt,p....	4	1	0	0
Deavers,p.	3	0	0	1	Jacobs,cf..	3	2	1	0
Rob'son,ss.	2	0	1	0
Totals..	34	7	27	6	Totals..	35	11	24	16

Star Radio Co.....	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	—3
Georgetown	0	0	0	0	3	2	3	0	x	—8

Runs—Gibson, Daley, Deavers, Castonguay, Jacobs, Spector, Mockabee, Whitt, Crampton, Harris (2).

Corr's.	AB	R	H	O	A	Deoudes.	AB	R	H	O	A
Collins,lf.	5	1	1	4	0	J.R'nson,2b	2	1	0	4	4
C'nolly,ss.	3	0	0	1	2	Brol'c,c..	4	0	0	2	2
Curtis,3b..	4	0	1	3	1	Thrift,3b..	4	0	1	1	2
C'celose,c	5	0	1	5	1	Smith,lf...	4	1	4	2	0
Kendall,1b	4	0	0	9	0	B.R'son,ss	4	0	2	4	0
Blank,rf..	3	0	1	0	0	R'dinger,1b	5	0	0	11	0
Crilley,cf..	2	1	1	1	0	Lewis,cf...	3	0	1	1	0
Wiles,2b..	4	1	1	1	1	Batch'r,rf	4	0	1	0	0
Roselle,p..	4	0	0	1	1
Totals..	34	3	6	27	5	Totals..	30	2	8	27	9

Corr's	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	—3
Deoudes	1	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2

Klein's.	AB	R	H	O	A	Rose.	AB	R	H	O	A
Ciomei,rf.	5	0	0	0	0	F.Nau,2b..	5	2	2	3	5
Merello,1b	4	3	17	0	1	P'sateri,3b	3	0	4	4	0
Shipp,lf...	3	1	0	0	0	Cinotti,ss.	4	1	2	0	0
Luckett,ss.	4	3	2	2	6	Booker,p..	4	1	0	6	0
Moxley,cf..	4	0	1	1	0	K.Nau,lf..	3	1	0	1	0
Larrick,2b	4	1	3	4	6	Clark,1b..	4	0	1	9	0
Green,3b..	2	1	1	3	1	Nolan,rf..	4	1	1	1	0
Wise,c....	3	0	2	0	0	Cullins,cf.	3	1	1	1	0
Liggett,p..	4	1	1	0	5	Gabrielli,c	3	0	5	0	0
						*Roberts..	1	0	0	0	0
Totals..	33	10	27	10	18	Totals..	34	8	27	13	1

*Batted for Gabrielli in ninth.

Klein's Tavern.....	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	1	—3
Rose Signor.....	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	—2

Runs—J. Menlio (2), Green, Cullins, Gabrielli. Runs batted in—Luckett (2), F. Nau, Booker.

Allen Blade, McElvenny WinDoubles

Neimeyer, Simmons Bow in Five-Set Final; Harry March Wins.

Ralph McElvenny and Allen Blade, top-seeded doubles combination in the Government Tennis Tournament, did just what was expected of them yesterday when they won the doubles championship—but the team they defeated, Erwin Niemeyer and Arthur Simmons, evidently hadn't heard that they were expected to do it.

For through five furious sets, the No. 4 seeded team battled before finally succumbing on the Potomac Park courts, 4—6, 6—1, 2—6, 6—2, 6—3.

Niemeyer and Simmons gained a 1-set advantage as they combined perfect teamwork with the inaccuracy of Blade's overhead.

The second set went to the winning team, and although they dropped the third set, 2—6, it became apparent that the fine play of McElvenny, considered the best doubles player in the city, would stem the tide and assure them the championship.

In the final set, after games had gone with service to read 2-all, McElvenny and Blade smashed placements past the Public Parks team from their volleying positions at the net to romp to a quick 5-2 lead in games. They dropped the next game to Niemeyer's service before McElvenny held his for victory and the crown.

In singles play, blond Harry March, District junior champion, and Charles Heacock, former Missouri Valley champion, reached the semifinal round by virtue of straight victories over Bob Bradley and Spencer Howell, respectively.

March met a stubborn opponent in Bradley, former Harvard player, who played him shot for shot in the first set before bowing, 8—6, 6—2. March's corner drives and overhead game wore down his older opponent, and, after the first set, the North Carolina University athlete had things pretty much his own way.

Heacock defeated Howell in easy fashion, dropping but one game, that in the final set, to win, 6—0, 6—1.

In matches scheduled for today, March, No. 4 entry, is scheduled to meet his friend and fellow instructor, Tony Latona, top seeded entry, in one semifinal match at 5 p. m., while Charles Heacock will meet the winner of the Ray Stocklinski-Erwin Niemeyer semifinal match, scheduled one hour earlier. They will play at 5 p. m. also. The final match is scheduled tomorrow.

Yesterday's Homers

Klein, Phillies, 2; Norris, Phillies, 2; Johnson, Athletics, 2; Browne, Phillies, 1; Cavarretta, Cubs, 1; Demaree, Cubs, 1; Goodman, Reds, 1; Mize, Cardinals, 1; Gehrig, Yankees, 1; Hoag, Yankees, 1; Greenberg, Tigers, 1; Laabs, Tigers, 1; Lewis, Senators, 1; Averill, Indians, 1; Foxx, Red Sox, 1; Clift, Browns, 1.

DodgersBeat Bucs Twice; Quit Cellar

Hoyt and Hamlin Pitch Good Ball; Manush Hurt in Game.

By the Associated Press.

Brooklyn, Aug. 29.—The Dodgers forgot they were a Brooklyn ball club today and climbed out of the National League cellar with a double-header victory over Pittsburgh's pathetic Pirates.

Gil Brack drove in three runs on three hits as the Brooklyns rallied to take the opener for Waite Hoyt, 5 to 3, after Red Lucas appeared to have a safe edge. Luke Hamlin gave the Dodgers their second effective flinging performance of the afternoon as they won the nightcap, 6 to 3.

The twin bill, almost unheard of for a Brooklyn club against a first-division outfit, dropped the Cincinnati Reds into the cellar as the Dodgers took over seventh place.

Brooklyn's veteran fly chaser, Heinie Manush, injured a muscle in his side in the opener, and was put on the Dodgers' big hospital list for at least a week.

First Game.

Pittsb'gh.	AB	H	O	A	Brooklyn.	AB	H	O	A
L.W'ner,cf	5	1	2	1	Cooney,cf..	4	1	5	0
Vaugh'n,lf	4	1	2	0	Bucher,2b..	4	0	1	4
P.W'ner,rf	4	1	0	0	Hassett,1b.	3	1	7	1
Suhr,1b...	4	2	14	0	Manush,rf..	4	2	3	0
Todd,c....	4	1	0	0	P'house...	0	0	0	0
P'ak'r,3b	4	1	1	4	Winsett,lf.	0	0	0	0
Young,ss..	4	0	4	5	La'getto,3b	3	1	1	1
H'ndley,2b	4	0	0	4	Stripp,3b..	0	0	1	0
Lucas,p...	4	1	0	1	Phelps,c...	4	1	3	1
*Dickshot.	0	0	0	0	Brack,rf,lf	4	2	1	0
					English,ss.	4	1	2	1
Totals..	37	11	24	16	Hoyt,p....	4	0	1	0
					Totals..	35	11	27	8

*Ran for Lucas in ninth.
†Ran for Manush in eighth.

Pittsburgh	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	—3
Brooklyn	0	0	1	0	1	0	3	x	—5

Runs—L. Waner, Vaughan, Suhr, Hassett, Manush, Frankhouse, Lavagetto, Stripp. Errors—Young (2). Runs batted in—Vaughan, Suhr, Todd, Brack (3), English. Two-base hits—Vaughan, Suhr, Lavagetto. Stolen bases—Vaughan, Brack, Hassett. Sacrifice—Stripp. Double play—Handley to Young to Suhr. Left on bases—Pittsburgh, 7; Brooklyn, 7. Struck out—By Hoyt, 1. Umpires—Reardon, Pinelli and Goetz. Time of game—One hour 37 minutes.

Second Game.

Pittsb'gh.	AB	H	O	A	Brooklyn.	AB	H	O	A
L.W'ner,cf	5	1	2	0	Cooney,cf..	4	3	1	0
V'an,lf,ss.	5	2	3	0	Bucher,2b..	3	0	1	3
P.W'ner,rf	4	1	2	0	Hassett,1b.	3	1	9	1
Suhr,1b...	4	2	7	1	La'getto,3b	2	0	1	3
Todd,c....	3	1	5	0	Phelps,c...	4	2	6	1
F'ake,2b	3	1	0	2	Brack,rf...	4	1	2	0
*Thomas...	1	0	0	0	English,ss.	4	1	2	4
Jensen,lf..	0	0	0	0	Winsett,lf.	4	1	6	0
Young,ss..	3	0	2	4	Hamlin,p..	3	0	0	1
H'ndler,2b	4	0	2	4
Tobin,p...	4	1	0	0
Totals..	38	10	24	10	Totals..	32	10	27	13

*Batted for Brubaker in seventh.

Pittsburgh	0	0	2	0	1	0	0	0	—3
Brooklyn	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	x	—6

Runs—Vaughan (2), Handley, Cooney, Bucher, Hassett, Lavagetto, Brack, Winner. Runs batted in—Tobin, Suhr, Todd, Lavagetto, Phelps, Cooney, Brack, English. Two-base hits—Winsett, Phelps. Three-base hits—Handley, Brack. Stolen base—Cooney. Double play—Suhr to Young to Suhr. Left on bases—Pittsburgh, 11; Brooklyn, 5. First base on balls—Off Hamlin, 3; off Tobin, 3. Struck out—By Hamlin, 4; by Tobin, 5. Wild pitch—Tobin. Passed ball—Phelps. Umpires—Pinelli, Goetz and Reardon. Time of game—Two hours 2 minutes.

Democrats Win.

The Young Democratic Club ba

Roland MacKenzie's 73 Paces Pro Foursomes at Congressional Club

Cox Trophy To Karaki At Kenwood

Shorey and Cunningham Trail by Stroke; Golf Results.

By Merrell W. Whittlesey.

Congressional's par of 72, strengthened by a week of rain, withstood the efforts of the city's professional exhibition octet yesterday, sending three scores into the 80s. Roland MacKenzie's 73 won the sweepstakes honors, marking the first time in the matches six weeks' duration that par has not been equaled or bettered.

The host pro paired with Cliff Spencer, of Beaver Dam, and won over Wiffy Cox and Mel Shorey 2 up. Spencer's final hole birdie clinching the match. Frank Cunningham and Al Treder defeated George Diffenbaugh and Gene Larkin, 3 and 2, in the second foursome.

A final nine comeback by Mel Shorey fell one shot short of tying MacKenzie, and the East Potomac pro shared the runner-up berth with Cunningham, making his debut in the matches, who put together nines of 37 for a 74.

Diffenbaugh and Spencer deadlocked at 75, while Larkin and Treder were knotted five strokes higher at 80. Wiffy Cox was a shot higher at 81.

MacKenzie's Second.

MacKenzie won his second sweepstakes purse of the summer's play, his long wood shots aiding him in scoring birdies on two of the three par-5 holes on the initial nine to be out in 35, two under par. He was over par three times on the second nine in recording a 38, but negotiated a par 4 on the final hole to win by a stroke.

Shorey played the back nine in even par 35 and tacked it to a 2 over regulation 39 on the front nine. Mel shot five 3s over the 18 holes. Cunningham finished with 2 birdies on the outgoing side to equal par, but slipped on ten and eleven, and was forced to play the next seven holes in par.

Spencer and MacKenzie were 2 up at the turn, but found the lead reduced to one as Shorey garnered birdies on 11 and 13.

Diffenbaugh won the first 2 holes for his team, but Cunningham and Treder paired perfectly for the balance of the match to lead 2 up at the ninth and close the match on 16.

Cards.

Out—
Par	5	4	3	4	5	4	4	5	3	—37
MacKenzie	5	4	3	4	4	4	4	4	3	—35
Shorey	5	4	3	6	5	4	4	5	3	—39
C'ningham	5	5	3	4	5	5	4	4	2	—37
Spencer	5	4	4	5	4	5	4	4	3	—38
Diffenb'gh	4	4	3	5	4	4	5	4	4	—39
Treder	6	5	4	4	5	4	5	5	2	—40
Larkin	6	5	4	5	5	5	4	5	4	—42
Cox	5	5	3	4	6	5	4	5	3	—40
In—
Par	4	4	3	5	4	4	4	4	—35	—37—72
MacKenzie	5	4	3	5	4	4	4	5	—38	—35—73
Shorey	5	3	4	3	5	4	4	4	—35	—39—74
C'ningham	5	4	5	3	4	3	5	4	—37	—37—74
Spencer	5	5	4	5	3	4	4	5	—37	—38—75
Diffenb'gh	4	4	3	5	4	4	5	4	—36	—39—75
Treder	4	6	2	5	4	5	5	5	4	—40—80
Larkin	6	3	3	5	3	4	4	5	—38	—42—80
Cox	5	4	6	5	4	5	4	4	4	—41—40—81

Minoru Karaki, a secretary at the Japanese Embassy, retired the Wiffy Cox Trophy for a year yesterday by defeating Dick Weaver, 4 and 2, in a final round match at Kenwood, winning five holes in a row on the back nine after trailing at the twenty-ninth.

Karaki, who also won the medal trophy, was all square with Weaver at the end of 18 and 27 holes, but lost the par-4 eleventh. He started his comeback on the next hole and won the next five straight, three with birdies, to succeed Gene Pittman as the Cox Trophy winner.

George Hill, jr., won the second flight over E. T. Ralph, 3 and 2, while R. L. Harris was 2 up victor over C. A. Fergus for the third flight crown.

Seven teams advanced to the second round of play in the Capitol Club's two-man team championship, four by victories and three by default.

Aten and Spencer defeated Derrish and Gene Houghton 1 up. Mayfield and Herbert won over Hillyer and Dr. Salan, 4 and 3, Meese and MacCutchens were 3 and 2 winners over Pierdon and Plater, and White and Connor won 4 and 3 over Getty and Laing.

Teams winning by default included Keas and Stone, Egloss and Fitzgerald, and Iwata and Tanahire.

Tom Corwin and Walter Talkes entered the final round of Manor's two-man team championships yesterday, winning over D. N. Pratt and Ray Fleming, 1 up. Semi-final matches in the lower bracket will be played this week.

Brownells Win Father-Son Title

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 29.—J. V. Brownell and son, Bobby, retained the father-and-son championship of the Maryland State Golf Association today at Rolling Road, scoring a gross 79 despite an unusual handicap.

J. C. Brownell played with a taped mid-section necessitated because of injuries received in a recent automobile crash. He could not take more than a half swing, and on the even holes, where the fathers were required to drive, he had to depend upon Bobby's second shot to make up the distance forfeited.

Legless Charlie Zimmy Ends Marathon Swim

New York, Aug. 29 (AP).—Legless Charlie Zimmy completed his 145-mile swim down the Hudson River from Albany tonight in an elapsed time of approximately 144 hours, but a swift ebb tide whisked him away from the 127th Street Pier where he intended to land, and a police launch was dispatched to bring him to shore.

The time for the non-stop swim, during which Zimmy napped in the water and fought frequent adverse tides, was more than twice that of Mrs. Lottie Moore Schoenmel, who swam from Albany to Battery Park, Manhattan, a distance of 153 miles, in 56 hours and 35 minutes on October 20, 1926.

Redskin Management Holds Grid Contract Signed by Baugh, Who Claims He Didn't Marshall Can't Believe Ace Passer Won't Play Here.

By Bob Garrison.

Unless he thought that Head Coach Ray Flaherty was asking him for his autograph to add to his collection and that the $500 he received was a loan, Sam Baugh, Texas Christian University's great back, was letting his imagination run wild when he issued statements Saturday that he "never did sign any papers."

That was the opinion yesterday of George Preston Marshall, president of the Washington Redskins, local representative in the National Professional Football League, who displayed a signed contract and a canceled check for the above amount, both bearing the signature of "Sam Baugh."

Watches Practice.

Seated on the side lines at Anacostia Park's Field where 4,000 persons gathered under a sweltering August sun to watch the first practice scrimmage of the team that Baugh denies has any right to his services, owner Marshall said,

"It's all bewildering. Honest to goodness, I can't understand what's eating the boy. He evidently has been talking to someone who has told him that he can talk his way out of his contract with us. Why, the idea of saying that he hasn't signed a contract to play for us. We have a copy of the contract, which was made out in triplicate in our files, and also a bonus check made out to him, indosed and canceled by a Fort Worth bank that was mailed to him for signing."

Backing up his words with actual evidence, Marshall then presented a copy of the contract and check. The contract was dated as of June 1, 1937, and signed in March of this year. It was signed, Marshall said, while Baugh was still a student at Texas Christian University, where he had performed for three seasons on the gridiron, stamping himself as one of the greatest passers in modern football history.

Through With Football.

The whole expose came about after "Slinging Sam" Baugh had allegedly told reporters at Evanston, Ill., where he is practicing with the College All-Stars for Wednesday night's classic battle with Green Bay's National Pro League champions, that he was thinking of turning down pro football and accepting an offer to play baseball instead. Stating that he had had an offer from the St. Louis Cardinals, he said that if he received the "right salary figures," he would be through with football.

The boy who earned recognition as the outstanding football product of the 1936 season and also played third base and shortstop for the Christian team, then paradoxically stated:

"Ah don't think Mr. Marshall will pay me what Ah think Ah deserve, anyway. Those offers he's already given me don't suit and Ah've told him so."

To which Marshall smiled, shook his head from side to side, and pondered, "What in the world is he talking about? He is signed, and it is not a question of whether or not he thinks he will. Baugh, sitting in Flaherty's automobile, last March, in front of the Pan-American Exposition grounds in Dallas, Tex., signed the contract, according to Ray, with Flatherty's pen.

Mailed to Baugh.

The check, which was drawn on a Washington bank in the name of the Pro-Football, Inc., contract name of the Redskins, was mailed to Baugh while he was still a student at Texas Christian, the date reveals.

Marshall, in his explanation of conditions existing between player and club, said further:

"He is under contract and is due to report here for training following his participation in the All-Star-Chicago Bears game Labor Day, at Dallas, where he will be a member of the team of Southwestern College All-Stars. As far as his playing professional baseball, his contract with us would not stop him, but his talk of not being signed and quitting professional football would lead him into a breach of contract."

Adolph Kiefer Sets Swim Mark

Honolulu, Aug. 29 (AP).—Adolph Keifer, Chicago swimmer, bettered the world long-course record for the 100-yard backstroke with a 1 minute .6 of a second performance here last night. The record of 1 minute 5.6 seconds was established by Warren Keoloha in 1924.

Kiefer appeared in a series of exhibition events with a group of American All-Stars returning from Japan.

Noble E. Kizer Forced Inactive by Ailment

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 29 (AP).—Noble E. Kizer, 37-year-old head football coach at Purdue University since 1930 and athletic director since 1933, will be on the sidelines this fall.

He has been given a leave of absence to recover from a kidney ailment that kept him in a hospital a month and a half this summer. He was taken home last Tuesday.

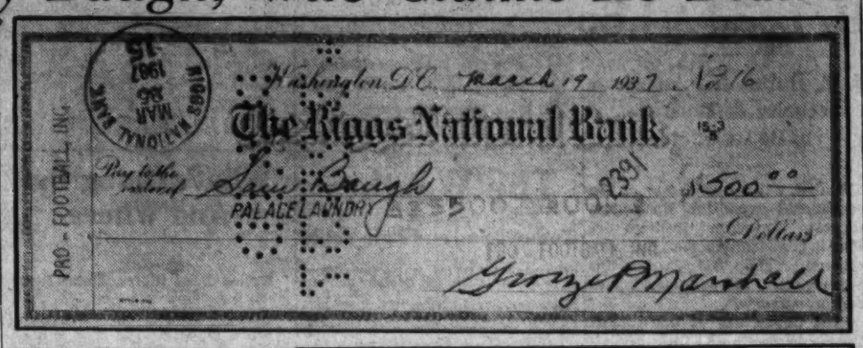
Work of the Nats

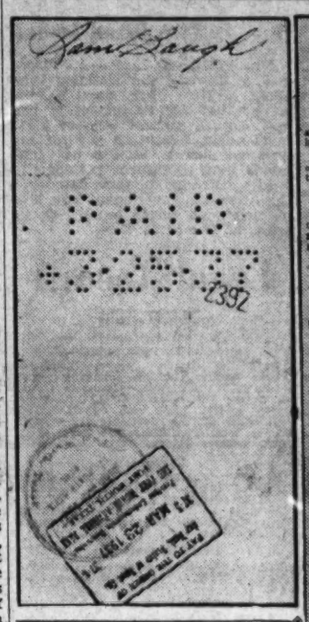
BATTING AVERAGES.

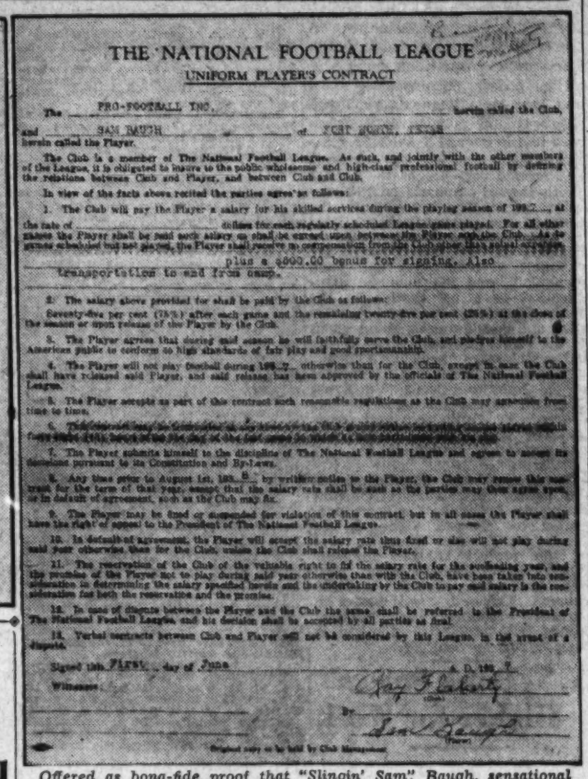
	G.	AB.	R.	H.	2b.	3b.	Hr.	Bbl.	Av.
Travis	94	367	53	132	20	6	3	53	.360
Stone	113	434	62	148	27	13	4	70	.311
Almada	67	290	51	92	15	4	4	23	.317
Lewis	113	493	84	153	26	5	6	56	.310
Kuhel	130	472	64	140	18	11	6	60	.297
W. Ferrell	43	81	7	23	4	0	0	10	.284
Bluege	47	124	12	35	4	2	1	13	.282
Simmons	88	306	51	99	17	8	7	70	.271
Myer	103	358	41	95	14	7	2	51	.265
Millies	47	143	17	38	6	1	0	23	.262
Sington	54	154	15	39	13	2	1	25	.253
Mihalic	31	87	11	22	4	7	0	6	.253
Weaver	24	59	9	13	1	0	0	5	.220
R. Ferrell	55	180	18	36	3	1	0	14	.200
Lieke	32	42	7	9	0	0	0	1	.214
Appleton	38	47	3	8	0	1	0	7	.170
DeShong	30	71	6	11	0	1	0	4	.155
Cohen	28	7	1	1	0	0	0	0	.143
Chase	8	14	1	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Jacobs	7	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Babo	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000

PITCHING.

	G	H	BB	SO	IP	GS	GC	W	L
Linke	31	145	49	49	121	6	0	6	1
Weaver	24	107	57	37	207⅓	27	13	12	11
DeShong	30	219	95	75	265⅓	27	14	11	12
W. Ferrell	28	167	72	56	151	16	15	9	9
Chase	9	42	32	22	46⅓	4	1	2	1
Jacobs	7	15	5	3	13⅓	1	0	1	1
Appleton	28	134	51	42	126⅓	4	6	7	12
Cohen	28	35	15	15	35⅓	0	0	4	3







THE NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE
UNIFORM PLAYER'S CONTRACT

The PRO-FOOTBALL INC. herein called the Club, and SAM BAUGH of FORT WORTH, TEXAS herein called the Player.

The Club is a member of The National Football League. As such, and jointly with the other members of the League, it is obligated to insure to the public wholesome and high-class professional football by defining the relations between Club and Player, and between Club and Club.

In view of the facts above recited the parties agree as follows:

1. The Club will pay the Player a salary for his skilled services during the playing season of 1937, at the rate of _____ dollars for each regularly scheduled League game played. For all other games the Player shall be paid such salary as shall be earned upon between the Player and the Club. As to games scheduled but not played, the Player shall receive no compensation from the Club other than special engagements plus a $900.00 bonus for signing. Also transportation to and from camp.

2. The salary above provided for shall be paid by the Club as follows:
Seventy-five per cent (75%) after each game and the remaining twenty-five per cent (25%) at the close of the season or upon release of the Player by the Club.

3. The Player agrees that during said season he will faithfully serve the Club, and pledges himself to the American public to conform to high standards of fair play and good sportsmanship.

4. The Player will not play football during 1937, otherwise than for the Club, except in case the Club shall have released said Player, and said release has been approved by the officials of The National Football League.

5. The Player accepts as part of this contract such reasonable regulations as the Club may promulgate from time to time.

6. [illegible]

7. The Player submits himself to the discipline of The National Football League and agrees to accept its decisions pursuant to its Constitution and By-Laws.

8. At any time prior to August 1st, 1937, by written notice to the Player, the Club may renew this contract for the term of that year, except that the salary rate shall be such as the parties may then agree upon, or in default of agreement, such as the Club may fix.

9. The Player may be fined or suspended for violation of this contract, but in all cases the Player shall have the right of appeal to the President of The National Football League.

10. In default of agreement, the Player will accept the salary rate thus fixed or else will not play during said year otherwise than for the Club, unless the Club shall release the Player.

11. The reservation of the Club of the valuable right to fix the salary rate for the succeeding year, and the promise of the Player not to play during said year otherwise than with the Club, have been taken into consideration in determining the salary specified herein and the undertaking by the Club to pay said salary is the consideration for both the reservation and the promise.

12. In case of dispute between the Player and the Club the same shall be referred to the President of The National Football League, and his decision shall be accepted by all parties as final.

13. Verbal contracts between Club and Player will not be considered by this League in the event of a dispute.

Signed this 19th day of June A. D. 193[illegible]

Witness: Ray Flaherty (Club)

By _____

Sam Baugh (Player)

Original copy to be held by Club Management

Offered as bona-fide proof that "Slingin' Sam" Baugh, sensational Texas Christian University passing artist for the past three seasons, is signed to a Redskin contract for the coming season, these pictures of both sides of a check, made out to Baugh, and a contract bearing his signature were displayed yesterday by George P. Marshall, team owner. The face of the check (upper), shows that Baugh was paid $500 and the back of the check, pictured at lower left, displays Baugh's signature. The photograph of the contract, with the salary terms deleted, but stating that $500 was to be paid as a bonus for signing, is pictured at lower right. This, also, bears the signature of the All-American.

Yanks Trim Tigers, 7-4; 40,000 Attend

Four Homers Equally Divided; Ruffing Wins His 17th.

By the Associated Press.

Detroit, Aug. 29.—The Yankees defeated the Tigers, 7 to 4, today behind the steady pitching of Red Ruffing, who won his seventeenth game of the season. Lou Gehrig, Myril Hoag, Hank Greenberg and Chet Laabs hit home runs. A crowd of more than 40,000 saw the game.

New York	AB	H	O	A	Detroit.	AB	H	O	A
Crosetti,ss	4	1	2	2	Walker,lf..	4	1	2	0
Rolfe,3b..	5	1	0	5	Fox,rf....	4	2	0	0
DiM'gio,cf	5	2	5	0	G'mberg,2b	3	2	5	4
Gehrig,1b.	5	2	6	0	G'mberg,1b.	3	2	7	2
Dickey,c..	5	1	6	0	York,c....	4	1	4	1
Powell,lf..	3	0	2	0	Laabs,cf..	4	1	4	1
Hoag,rf...	4	2	1	0	Owen,3b...	4	1	0	2
Heffner,2b	4	1	5	1	Gelbert,ss.	3	0	2	3
Ruffing,p.	3	3	0	1	Bridges,p..	0	0	1	0
					*Tebbetts.	1	0	0	0
Totals..	38	13	27	9	Wade,p....	2	1	0	2
					†Gosiln...	1	0	0	0
					Totals..	35	10	27	13

*Batted for Bridges in third.
†Batted for Wade in ninth.

New York	3	0	2	0	0	0	0	2	0	—7
Detroit	0	1	0	2	0	0	1	0	0	—4

Runs—Crosetti, Rolfe, DiMaggio, Gehrig, Dickey, Hoag, Ruffing, Greenberg, York, Laabs, Wade. Errors—Hoag, Owen, Walker, Gelbert. Runs batted in—Gehrig (3), Hoag (2), Owen, Greenberg, Laabs. Two-base hits—Gehringer, DiMaggio. Three-base hit—York. Home runs—Gehrig, Hoag, Greenberg, Laabs. Sacrifices—Crosetti. Double play—Crosetti to Heffner to Gehrig. Left on bases—New York, 2; Detroit, 8. First base on balls—Off Bridges, 2; off Ruffing, 4. Struck out—By Bridges, 2; by Wade, 1; by Ruffing, 6. Hits—Off Bridges, 8 in 3 innings; off Wade, 5 in 6 innings. Losing pitcher—Bridges. Umpires—Geisel, Basil and Summers. Time of game—Two hours 12 minutes.

Firestone Sweeps Pair.

The Firestone unlimited baseball nine took both ends of a double-header with the Silver Spring Giants yesterday in the Maryland town. The scores were 3-2 and 7-1.

Gordon on Top.

Gordon Cafeteria defeated Jack Pry Nats yesterday in a baseball game played at Garrett Park. Wes Snow, the winning pitcher, struck out 12.

Time Out! BY CHET SMITH

I'm afraid Miss Fortune is a bit too heavy for aqua-planing!

It's a favorite with sports fans—the adventures of Joe Palooka and his manager, Knobby—Today on The Post's all-star comic page.

284 by Jimmy Hines Wins at Glens Falls

Garden City Shotmaker Carves 14 Strokes From Par to Equal Record Score for Event; Thomson Second; Snead, Patroni Third.

By the Associated Press.

Glens Falls, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Blazing the way in a withering subpar barrage unparalleled for the nine-year-old event, blond Jimmy Hines, of Garden City, Long Island, today won the $4,000 Glens Falls Open for a third time with a 72-hole, record-equaling 274 aggregate, 14 under regulation figures.

Locked in a three-way tie for the lead at the half-way mark with 67 and 68, the long-driving Metropolitan Open champion fired a 4-under-par 68 to gain undisputed leadership at the end of the third round and clinched the $1,000 first prize money with a sparkling final round 71 as his closest competitors sought in vain to overtake him.

Hines, driving long and putting with uncanny ability on each of his four par-cracking treks over the 6,257-yard layout, also won here in 1933 and 1936.

Second money of $500 went to Jimmy Thomson, the siege gun from Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., who put together four par-shattering rounds of 70, 70, 69, and 67 for a total 276, two blows behind the handsome Hines.

Three strokes behind Hines at 277 were Sam Snead, the boy wonder from West Virginia, and Jack Patroni, of Shawnee-on-Delaware, first round leader with a 65, sharing $700 prize money, while Charles Yansick, of Tuxedo Park, finished strongly with 68 and 69 to knock off fifth place and $260 with 280.

Gene Sarazen, of Brookfield, Conn., erstwhile National Open and P. G. A. champion, soared to a pair of 70s on his closing rounds after a 67 and 68 to wind up with 281, worth $220, and Mike Turnesa, Elmsford, ran off with seventh prize money of $190 with 282. He had pairs of 70s and 71s.

Willie MacFarlane, the veteran shotmaker whose 1935 winning total of 274 was equaled by Hines today, wound up the 72-hole keen competition with 283 along with Ray Mangrum, of Pittsburgh. They split $280.

Twelve others with scores of 289 and lower shared in the prize money. The Scottish-born Ian Robertson, of Tannersville, N. Y.; Ben Hogan, of Fort Worth, Tex.; Augie Nordone, of Syracuse, N. Y., and George Fazio, Norristown, Pa., tied at 284; Tom Creavy, Albany pro, engaging in his first major competition in two years, had 285, and Herman Barron, White Plains, and "Light Horse" Harry Cooper, of Chicago, leading money winner of the season, each finished with 286.

Matt Kowal, Philmont, Pa., was alone at 287; Harry T. Nettleblatt, of Auburn, Mass., had 288, and Louis Barbaro, of Harrison, former Metropolitan caddie master champion; Ralph Guldahl, the National Open champion, and Al Brosch, of Farmingdale, Long Island, carded 289s.

Miss Miller Beats Miss Ryan at Net

Concentrating on an attack aimed at outsteadying the steady-playing Mary Ryan, No. 2 seeded entry, Dorette Miller, No. 4 seeded entry, upset her favored foe yesterday in the District Women's Tennis League Tournament at the Columbia Country Club, to enter the final round, 6—3, 6—2.

Rallying in the first set after she had trailed 3-1 in games, Mrs. Miller won five straight games to sweep the set and then went on to win the second set, again running out, after games were tied 2-all, to sweep the match.

Mrs. Miller meets top-seeded Sara Moore today at 1 p. m. for the league championship. Miss Moore reached the final round Saturday by eliminating Willie O'Steen, No. 3 seeded entry, in three sets.

Griff Rookie Holds Indians To Five Hits

Strikeout King Driven to Showers in Eighth Inning of Closer.

Continued from Page 15.

Lewis' legs and the Injuns had runners on two of the bases with only one out, but in this emergency Chase bore down against Kroner and Averill and disposed of 'em with a pair of pop-ups.

The Nats found Lefty Lloyd Brown facing 'em in the eighth and they must have liked it because they went right out and got a run on Lewis' single to center, Travis' sacrifice and Simmons' single to left. And they picked up two more in the ninth when Singleton, Millies and Almada contributed singles.

So it was that Chase had a 6-1 lead going into the ninth. Then, for the third straight inning, he walked the first man to face him. But then he struck out Pinch-hitter Becker. He was in trouble, though, when he walked Lary, too, but Kroner was an easy out to Myer. Chase had only to dispose of Averill to seal his victory, and he had apparently done that when Averill poked a harmless-looking grounder to Myer. But Myer fumbled and an Indian run scored from third.

Whereupon young Chase then promptly took matters into his own hands and struck out Trosky for that game-ending out.

The least said about that first game, the more the Nats would appreciate it; at least they ought to. Because they were, in unvarnished English, a bunch of bums. Jimmy DeShong lasted the nine-inning route only because there was no sense wasting another pitcher. His was a pretty crude performance as he threw 15 hits at the Indians, but he had plenty company in that category.

Mel Almada was charged with only one error but his throwing was askew all afternoon. And his catching wasn't so good either. The ball that he dropped in the first inning (you or I could have caught it with one hand strapped to our side), was directly responsible for a run in the first inning.

The Indians, though, didn't do the Nats any favors by throwing Johnny Allen at them. The temperamental right-hander worked very smoothly all during the game. They contrived to get one hit off him in each of the nine innings but had only one run going into the ninth when they came up with three runs chiefly because Buddy Lewis socked a homer with one on.

The Indians didn't delay with DeShong. Larry coaxed a walk out of him in the first inning and Kroner rapped a single to center. Averill's infield out produced the first run and Trosky's single to center produced the second. Almada produced the third by dropping Campbell's tame fly.

The Nats were gone guys after that. Averill pounded his fifteenth homer of the year into the right field seats in the third and a couple more hits made it 5-0. In the fifth the Indians got downright mean with DeShong. Trosky beat out a hit to Myer. Solters pushed a single past Lewis, Campbell beat out a hit to Myer, Sullivan slashed a double to left, Lary singled to center and the Injuns had five more hits, four more runs and a 9-1 lead.

Nothing possibly could matter after that, not even Buddy Lewis' homer with Almada on base that climaxed a three-run uprising in the ninth.

Redskins Hold Scrimmage as Crowd Attends

Under a blazing August sun, Chief Ray Flaherty unrapped his Indian blanket from the 1937 edition of the Washington Redskins, and sent them through their first scrimmage yesterday before 4,000 curious fans who lined the field to get a glimpse of Washington's entry into the 1937 Professional Football League.

Following less than a week of conditioning practice, Flaherty, with his assistant, Roy Baker, sent the squad of stars through one hour of honest-to-gosh football drill. And, although stiff and sluggish at the start, it eventually pepped up and by the time the hour had elapsed, they were displaying creditable execution of plays.

A little recruit, named Nelson Peterson, who introduced himself to Washingtoon fans last winter when, as a member of West Virginia Wesleyan's eleven, he romped through the Catholic University line at his convenience, stole the show from his mercenary teammates. He was allowed to enter the scrimmage as a member of the second string team but before the session was ended he had changed sides and found holes in either line.

He ripped off gains at will as he drove through on off-tackle plays and completed several passes to Riley Smith.

St. John's Eleven To Train in Camp

For the first time in many years a St. John's prep football squad will leave town for pre-season conditioning.

It was learned last night that a permission sought for several months had been granted by school officials and that a picked squad, some 25 strong, under the supervision of Gene Augustifer, starting his first season as football coach, would leave for camp Wednesday. The boys will remain for a week in the camp near La Plata, Md., where they will be drilled in calisthenics and signals. It is hoped a more definite line may be obtained on team prospects before the boys return here September 8.

Shooting of Railbirds Starts on Wednesday

Patuxent Marshes, Near Washington, Offer Ideal Spot for Hunting; Any Gun Can Be Used; License Is Necessary.

By Bill Ackerman.

Porzano carolina to the naturalist, sora to those who are sticklers for correct nomenclature, but just plain railbird to marsh hunters, whose turn it is to go to bat on Wednesday with the opening of the season on these birds.

Not many years ago we had exceptional shooting right in our own back yard, the marshes of the Eastern Branch, but with the gradual raising of the ground and the building of many miles of seawall, the birds have been forced to abandon this area for other nearby sections, such as Piscataway and other marshy creeks, tributary to the Potomac below Washington.

However dark appear the prospects for good close-to-home shooting, there is no need to pass the sport up, for less than 30 minutes drive over good roads is another march area that is generally rated as supplying the finest rail shooting in the east.

Offer Good Hunting.

The Patuxent marches, changed but little by use of human, are still one of the greatest points of congregation of sora, before the advent of cold weather forces them to continue their migration not only to some Gulf-levened State, but across the Caribbean to Venezuela and Peru.

During late August and early September as the flight comes in, hunters find the birds far faster in getting off the ground and in flying than later on when their improvement in condition has slowed them up considerably.

The king sora in the Patuxent is almost as scarce as the Virginia rail; which, lighter in color and marking than the common rail, is almost nonexistent, but it is felt in no way that the shooting suffers by their absence, for with reasonably good tides and hunting weather it is seldom a hunter falls short of his limit.

In begging that limit your pusher rates 50 cents over and above his regular charge of five dollars for a tide. Then there is the item of picking, another 50 cents or 2 cents a bird. Well worth it if for nothing more than the pleasure you derive from watching his skill and speed, which in every way is on a par with his ability to push the sharp-ended, keelless punt through the thick reeds by literally walking the 16-foot, three-cleated pushing pole.

Use Any Size Gun.

Should you be one of those who have never gunned for these most delectable birds, that, because of their paddled toes can actually run on the water, but would like to get in on the sport; use any gun from a .410 to 12-gauge with No. 10 shot, make your arrangements with a pusher, and though he will tell you just what time to be there, if you want to know for yourself—figure high tide there as three hours ahead of high tide in Washington. It is only the two hours ahead of it that the birds will fly. After it changes they will not leave the ground.

Opening day brings high tide in the middle of the day, so it will be Saturday before two tides can be gunned. Dark days and just before exceptionally high tides are always the best for this migrant bird, the male and female of which are so much alike that it is hard to tell them apart.

Don't forget that Maryland hunting license as part of your equipment. It can be had at any county seat, or easier still, at one of the local downtown sport stores.

Gibson Island Yacht Members Win Regatta

By the Associated Press.

Annapolis, Md., Aug. 29.—Sailormen and women from the Gibson Island yacht squadron took 5 of the 16 trophies distributed today when the last of the 17 races of the annual Annapolis Yacht Club Regatta were held.

The Gibson Island contingent scored wins in the cruising division, racing division, star, 10-foot class D dinghy and over 20-foot over-all classes.

The West River Sailing Club took the albatross class and the 20-foot-and-under class. Boats from the Capitol Yacht Club, Washington, won in the comet class, the 18-foot-and-under and the 16-foot-and-under classes. The snipe class went to the Sparrows Point Yacht Club.

The winners in the two-day competition who received the trophies and their boats were:

J. Leo Flanigan, Gibson Island, Gleam, cruising division handicap.

John A. Sherwood, Gibson Island, Amethyst, racing division handicap.

Payne Thomas, Gibson Island, Barracuda. Star class.

W. W. Heintz, Shadyside, Madic. Albatross class.

D. Verner Smythe, Washington, Sassy Too. Comet class.

Miss Mildred Wrightson, Sparrows Point, Clytie. Snipe class.

Ted Hoster, Gibson Island, Fancy Britches. Ten-foot Class D dingy.

Buddy Elderkin, Arnold, Step-In. Moth class.

John Thomas, Eastport, Scapa Flow. Open canvas canoe class.

Capt. Archer M. R. Allen, U. S. N., Washington. Navy knockabout class.

Mrs. Helen Grosvenor, Gibson Island, Escape. Over 20-foot overall class.

Osbourn Owings, West River, Vanity. Twenty-foot and under class.

D. Verner Smythe, Washington, Sassy Too. Eighteen-foot and under class.

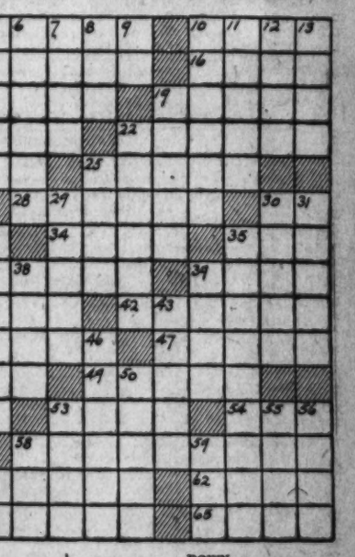
R. Ernest Covert, Washington, Escapade. Sixteen-foot and under class.

Dr. J. Willis Martin, Annapolis, U. S. 70. Fourteen-foot and under class.

Buddy Eldermin, Arnold, Step-In. Twelve-foot and under class.

Senator Ridley P. Melvin (Democrat), Anne Arundel, distributed the trophies—cups, three cocktail shakers and two small silver sailboats—at the clubhouse afte a seven-race card had been sailed in the harbor during the morning. Yesterday 11 races were held.

Today's Cross Word Puzzle



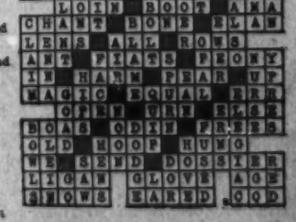
ACROSS.

1 Engrossed
5 Estuary between Ecuador and Argentina
10 Egyptian lizard
14 Application of Athena
15 Edges of a roof
16 Support
17 Set right
19 Structure for human habitation
20 Still
21 Exclamation
22 Embraced
23 Senseless
25 Bottoms of the feet
26 Neck coverings of certain animals
28 Wander
30 Siamese measure of length
32 Mountain ridges
34 Firearms
35 East Indian boiled butter
36 Sinus rooms
37 Muse of lyric and amatory poetry.
39 Grating
40 Behave
41 Percolate
42 Scold
44 Mother
45 Maintenance
47 Bathed
48 Stream of water smaller than a river
49 Form of legal defense
51 Hair dresser
53 Jog
54 Shoe latchet
57 Mountain nymph
58 Extensive and indiscriminate
60 Thin
61 Shaft of a vehicle
62 Feminine name
63 Accept
64 Sounds
65 Rare gas of the air

DOWN.

1 Vigorous or spirited
2 Drug-yielding plant
3 Revevant
4 Thick black liquid
5 Nut
6 Second type mentioned
7 The birds
8 Spread to dry
9 While
10 Point in the moon's orbit farthest from the earth
11 Stupefies
12 Quantity of medicine
13 Imitated
18 Rub out
19 Frames or bodies of vessels
22 Associate familiarly
24 Meshed fabrics
25 Destructive disease of cereals
26 Term of address
27 Asiatic palm
29 Gaping
30 Reflecting all the rays of the spectrum combined
31 Assisted
33 Searcher
35 Be naturally attracted
38 Give off fumes
39 Snatch
41 Velocity
43 The pick
45 Courteous and refined
46 Release on honor
48 Sharp harsh squeaking sound
50 Lies at ease
51 Fastener
52 Region
53 Dilute
55 Singing voice
56 Edible seed
58 Pronoun
59 Size of shot

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.



Financial and Business News

Farm and Auto Demand Spurs Steel Activity

National Operating Rate Rises 2 Points in Week to 83 Per Cent.

Cleveland, Aug. 29.—Although steel buying is in small volume, and does not balance shipments from mills, signs of improvement in a number of products are taken as indications of a fall revival, says Steel.

Steelmakers are maintaining a high rate of operations and in some instances have sufficient backlogs to maintain their present rate for several weeks. Part of the gain in buying is due to early commitments by automobile builders and this is apparent in bars, sheets and strip, with some reflection in wire and wire products. It seems certain that these requirements must increase within a short time as automobile builders start on 1938 models.

One strong support to production is activity of agricultural implement manufacturers, who report the heaviest demand in several years. They are taking steady shipments of bars and other products. Oil country goods are in demand, especially oil-well tubing, in which substantial backlogs exist.

Railroads Out of Market.

The soft spots in steel demand at present are found in absence of railroad buying, the carriers being practically out of the market, although planning heavy car and rail buying late in the year; and in structural steel and heavy plates. Construction is largely restricted to small projects requiring lighter shapes, which do not run to tonnage.

With resumption of production at two Pittsburgh district plants the national operating rate rebounded 2 points last week, to 83 per cent. This is 1 point under the rate for the second week of August.

The Market

By Carlton A. Shively
A Special Correspondent.

War News and Doubts on Fall Business Militate Against Optimism.

New York, Aug. 29.—Harassed by the war news from China and lack of any convincing evidence from home industries that the anticipated autumn recovery would come along on time, the selling pressure on the securities markets, which has been fairly consistent since the first of the month, increased and at the close of the week brought a sharp increase in volume of trading in stocks.

Altogether the stock market had its poorest week since the halt of the spring and early summer decline. Prices weakened less because of any large offerings—until near the close when the war news became more menacing—than because of an absence of interested bidders.

Abroad the Chinese war with Japan created more direct disturbance than it did here, and selling from London probably was important at times in depressing prices in the New York market. The shooting by the Japanese of the British Ambassador to China was particularly upsetting on Thursday on international shares, and perhaps had some influence on Government bonds. Trade news of the week was less encouraging than usual. Railroad freight traffic for last week increased a little, but the gains over a year ago are now running low and meanwhile the rising expenditures of the roads, and the strike ultimatum given last week by the unions asking a 20 per cent rise in wages, coming at a time when the July earnings statements were being published, knocked down prices for railroad stocks and bonds. The July reports indicate that the long recovery in railroad earnings has come to a halt.

Over the Top.

Arbitration probably will avert a nation-wide railroad strike, but it also will bring at least some increase in wages, which can be met (barring a much larger increase in traffic than seems probable) by adding to the financial difficulties of many roads and cutting into the safety margin of all others. The steel industry, while holding at a high level of operations for this season, has not yet felt the expected autumn rise in orders, which still are falling. The Federal Reserve Board's production index for July was unchanged at 114, and probably a decline will be shown for August. The markets on the whole have not begun to worry about the immediate beginning of another business recession, but they are coming increasingly to realize that the "recovery" part of the business cycle has been completed.

During the extreme dullness in stocks in the forepart of the week attention was directed increasingly to the Government bond market. Unusual weakness in the previous week brought intervention by the authorities, who not only supported prices but promised a reduction in Federal Reserve Bank discount rates as bait to the banks to borrow to meet loan demands instead of selling Government bond investments. A number of reductions to 1½ per cent from 2 per cent were made, the climax reached when Friday the New York Federal Reserve bank dropped its rate to 1 per cent from 1½ per cent, establishing the lowest rate ever charged by a central bank of issue.

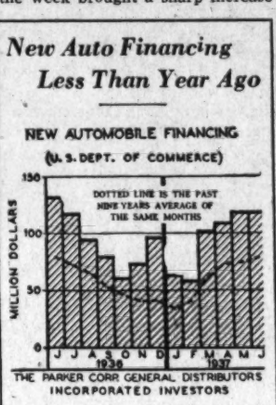
Cheap Money Wins.

As an assistant to the Government bond market the affair was expected, by Wall Street observers, to be of no immediate use. Banks here dislike to borrow, find it unprofitable to hold obligations yielding one-half of 1 per cent, while borrowing at 1 per cent. On the other hand, banks with long-term issues not in immediate need of liquidity may be reassured over the notice given by the Treasury that it is determined to keep money rates low, if it can, at all costs. In brief, the discount rate cut and the cheap money policy were designed to aid the Government with its financing planned for next month and to support bond prices. Incidentally, the first plan to borrow new money next month was dropped.

Another factor, probably more important than any other if less tangible, continued to bear down upon markets. That was the unknown but nevertheless distrusted plans of the Administration toward industrial control and financial management. No sooner had Congress gone home, a fact which the markets were cool about, than reports began to come from the White House that a new session was being discussed for this autumn, the primary purpose of which would be to fight over again the battle of packing the Supreme Court. That evidence of animosity and determination to rule by dictatorship scarcely helped any one to take a long term position in stocks or bonds.

Moreover, while so much attention is being given to plans for the resurrection of dead horses and cats and to schemes for new forms of wage and production control, even the faint glimmers of light on budget balancing seems to have gone out. Therein lies the real explanation of distrust, growing week by week, for Government bond prices and, on long term, for maintenance of prosperous business conditions.

New Auto Financing Less Than Year Ago



Boston, Aug. 29.—New automobile financing continues to run at a high rate but is not equaling the 1936 figures. The new financing in June dropped 9 per cent from a year ago, while the total new car financing in the first half of this year fell 2½ per cent below that in the first six months of 1936.

Finance Course Is Announced By Local A.I.B.

J. C. Dulin, Jr., American Security & Trust Co., to Be Instructor.

Paul J. Seltzer, chairman of the educational committee, Washington chapter, American Institute of Banking, announces that the educational program this year contains a new course, "Corporation Finance and Investments."

"The importance of this subject for the banker needs little emphasis," said Mr. Seltzer yesterday. "A thorough knowledge and understanding of corporation finance in all its phases, encompassing short and long term financing problems, practices and policies, is a necessary tool in everyday banking. Consideration is given to the economic background of corporate finance (with special emphasis on the evolution of modern investment), the sources and accumulation of investment funds, their use in modern business undertakings through the channels of both stock and bond ownership, and the financial management of a corporation in the modern world of economic fluctuations due consideration being given to the rights and obligations of the various classes of security holders.

"James C. Dulin, jr., treasurer of the American Security & Trust Co., will be the instructor in this course. Mr. Dulin is a past president of Washington Chapter and has previously served on the faculty."

Mr. Seltzer also announces that the course, "Discussions of Current Economic Problems," will be presented by Edward Stone, A. B., Ll. B., M. A. Mr. Stone is chief of the project analysis division, Resettlement Administration, and has conducted several institute courses. This course will deal with current economic and political trends, with particular attention to their effects on banking.

N. Y. Bank Stocks Higher for Week

New York, Aug. 29.—New York City bank stocks displayed a firmer tendency during the past week, according to records compiled by Hoit, Rose & Troster. The aggregate market value of 16 leading issues on August 27 amounted to $1,987,997,000 compared with $1,963,409,000 at the close of the previous week, an increase of $24,588,000, or 1.25 per cent. The current average yield of the 16 issues of 3.32 per cent compares with a yield of 3.36 per cent on August 20.

Insurance stocks in the New York City market eased off slightly during the past week. The aggregate value of 20 leading fire and casualty insurance issues on August 27 totaled $608,869,000 compared with $610,432,000 at the close of the previous week, a decrease of $1,563,000, or 0.26 per cent. The current average yield of the 20 issues is now 3.73 per cent compared with a yield of 3.72 per cent on August 20.

Chemical Profits At Record Level

New York, Aug 29.—Reports of the most important corporations in the chemical industry for the first half of 1937 show profits at the highest levels in history, according to the Standard Statistics Company.

Net for the second quarter, despite the fact that the period is not the best of the year from a seasonal standpoint, also established a new high. Excluding the General Motors contribution to duPont's earnings, chemical profits for the first half of the year were 31 per cent above the like period last year, in contract to a gain of 29.5 per cent for all industrials. Considering that the chemical trade had a markedly higher 1936 base than most other industries, the fact that earinings continued to score a greater percentage increase than industrials generally is impressive.

Third quarter earnings may show to somewhat less favorable advantage. But the uptrend should be resumed by the latter part of September, and there is a good possibility that another new high will be set in the final quarter. Full year earnings should be from 20 per cent to 25 per cent ahead of 1936 and more than 40 per cent above 1929.

Exports of Cotton Ahead of Year Ago

New York, Aug. 29.—American cotton moved into sight in larger volume this week than in the same week last year, according to the weekly report of the New York Cotton Exchange. The into sight this week was 304,000 bales, against 182,000 last year.

The total into sight during the season to date is 748,000 bales, against 518,000 in the corresponding period of last season.

D. C. Securities.

(Reported by Johnston, Lemon & Co.)

Bid and asked quotations on Washington securities which are traded over-the-counter follow:

Bonds.

	Bid.	Asked.
Barber & Ross deb 4s due '45	75	.....
Conso Title Co Inc 6s due'51	100	.....
D C Paper Mill 1st 3s 1946	25	.....
Hamil Real Corp 1st 5s '45	96	97
Mayflower Hotel C 1st 5s '50	87½	90
Nat Press Bldg 1st 3-5s '50	74	76½
Racquet Club 1st 5s 1945	52	.....
Wash Audi 1st 6s 1944	74	.....
Wash Prop Inc 7s 1952	51½	53½

Stocks.

Anacostia Bank	150	.....
Anacostia Finance	¼	.....
Barber & Ross pfd (new)	7	.....
City Bank	18	.....
Columbia National Bank	200	.....
Consolo-Title Corp pfd	42	45
Consol Title Corp com	6½	8
East Wash Savings Bank	14½	.....
Federal American Co pfd	32	.....
Federal American Co com	1½	.....
Hamilton National Bank	32	34
Internat Finance Units	13	.....
Merch Trans & Stor pfd	18	.....
Nat Capital Insurance	14	.....
Nat Mortg & Inv pfd	2¼	3¼
Nat Metropolitan Bank	240	265
Raleigh Hotel common	32	37
Real Estate Mtg & Guar com	1½	.....
Security Sav & Commercial	125	.....
Southern Oxygen Co com	75	.....
Union Finance Units	23	.....
Union Trust Co	100	108
Washington Baseball Club	41	50
Wash Conv Hall pfd	80	.....
Wash Prop Inc v t c	2½	3½

Lumber Production 77 Per Cent of 1929

The lumber industry during the week ended August 21, 1937, stood at 77 per cent of the 1929 weekly average of production and 67 per cent of 1929 shipments. The week's reported production was 20 per cent greater than new business booked and 19 per cent heavier than reported shipments.

Reported production and shipments were considerably less than in the preceding week; new business was slightly less. Production was slightly heavier; new orders and shipments were less, than in corresponding week of 1936.

Farmers Urged to Hoard Money for Lean Years

The Farm Credit Administration announced yesetrday it will apply the "ever-normal" principle of crop storage to collection of farm debts.

Farmers will be encouraged in good crop years to build up cash reserves with the Federal Land Banks to be applied on their mortgages in lean years.

Air Lines Adopt De-Icers.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Nine major airlines have announced they will equip their transport planes this winter with an improved type of de-icer built by the B. F. Goodrich Co. and recently approved by the Bureau of Air Commerce.

On the Air Today

Fannie and Annie, double chorus girls who appeared with Burns and Allen last week, go with Gracie on an imaginary trip to the bottom of the sea, WRC, at 7. Tony Martin will sing "So Rare."

• • • •

Margaret Speaks returns after a short vacation, WRC, at 7:30, with Alfred Wallenstein and the symphony orchestra. Music includes selections from "Naughty Marietta," "All You Want to Do Is Dance" and "Irish Washerwoman."

• • • •

"Twelfth Night," last of the Columbia Shakespeare cycle, will be presented from WJSV, at 8, with Tallulah Bankhead, Orson Welles, Helen Menken, Sir Cedric Hardwicke and other players. At 9:30 a special "Curtain Calls" half-hour will bring stars of the series to the microphone informally.

• • • •

The postponed Louis-Farr boxing bout for the world's heavyweight championship will be heard from WRC and WMAL at 9. Another hour of boxing follows at 10:15, WOL, when Tony Wakeman presents the Ambers-Dean bout from Griffith Stadium.

The Post Radio Time-Table

Monday August 30. Washington. Eastern Standard Time.

	WRC 316M-950KC	WMAL 476M-630KC	WOL 229M-1,310KC	WJSV 206M-1,460KC
6:00	Gordon	.....	.....	.....	6:00
6:15	" Hittenmark	.....	.....	.....	6:15
6:30	" "	.....	.....	Sun Dial	6:30
6:45	" "	.....	.....	"	6:45
7:00	" "	Morn. Devotions	Art Brown	"	7:00
7:15	" "	Today's Prelude,	" "	"	7:15
7:30	" "	Jim McGrath	" "	"	7:30
7:45	" "	" "	" "	"	7:45
8:00	News	Chicago Breakfast	" "	"	8:00
8:15	Gordon	Club	" "	"	8:15
8:30	" Hittenmark	"	.....	Berch & Boys	8:30
8:45	" "	.....	News	Bach. Chil.	8:45
9:00	Mrs. Wiggs	Mary Marlin	Mel. Sweethearts	Kitty Kelly	9:00
9:15	Other Wife	Ma Perkins	Choir Loft	Myrt & Marge	9:15
9:30	Just Plain Bill	News	Marriage Clinic	Louise, Lads	9:30
9:45	Today's Children	Myriad Voices	News; Pol. Fl'hes	Ruth and Bill	9:45
10:00	David Harum	The O'Neills	Get Thin to Music	Magazine of	10:00
10:15	Backstage Wife	Personal Column	Music	the Air	10:15
10:30	To Be Charming	Vic and Sade	Martha & Hal	Big Sister	10:30
10:45	Myriad Voices	Edw. McHugh	Organ	R. Life Stories	10:45
11:00	" "	Around Town	Morning Concert	News; Music	11:00
11:15	Mary Marlin	Grace & Scotty	" "	News Parade	11:15
11:30	Veterans of	Joe Dumond	Bill Lewis	Helen Trent	11:30
11:45	Foreign Wars	Fran Allison	We Are Four	Our Gal Sun	11:45
	AFTERNOON PROGRAMS
12:00	News; Music	Love and Learn	Music	Betty and Bob	12:00
12:15	Harding's Wife	Carbstone Queries	News; Music	Church Hymns	12:15
12:30	Words and Music	National Farm	Len Salvo	Grimm's D'tor	12:30
12:45	" "	and Home Hour	Harold Turner	H'wood in Per	12:45
1:00	Jerry Sears'	" "	Palmer Concert	W'man's News	1:00
1:15	Orchestra	" "	Music	Home Counsel	1:15
1:30	Mary Mason	Codolban	Trading Post	Rhythms	1:30
1:45	" "	and Violin	Music	Bst. Bookends	1:45
2:00	P. Young's Fam'y	Novelty Orchestra	Tony Wakeman	Col. Jack	2:00
2:15	Ma Perkins	" "	" "	Major	2:15
2:30	Vic and Sade	Let's Talk It Over	Glen Gray's	Poetic Strings	2:30
2:45	O'Neills	" "	Orchestra	" "	2:45
3:00	Lorenzo Jones	Club Matinee	News	Washington	3:00
3:15	Julius L. Schendel	" "	Woodmore Stakes	Cleveland	3:15
3:30	Syncopations	" "	Tony Wakeman	Baseball	3:30
3:45	Guiding Light	" "	" "	" "	3:45
4:00	Bonnie Stewart	Lucille, Lanney	" "	" "	4:00
4:15	Home Folks Frolic	Escorts & Betty	" "	" "	4:15
4:30	Don Winslow	Singing Lady	Keating's Orch	" "	4:30
4:45	Jackie Heller	News	Tony Wakeman	" "	4:45
5:00	Sundown Revue	U. S. Army	Washboard Blues	Rhythms	5:00
5:15	" "	Band	Cocktail Capers	Four Stars	5:15
5:30	News; Music	Tea Time	" "	News; Sports	5:30
5:45	Singing Strings	Lowell Thomas	Johnson Family	G. Hall's Orch	5:45
	EVENING PROGRAMS
6:00	Amos 'n' Andy	Hugh Barrett's	Sports Resume	Poetic Mel.	6:00
6:15	Uncle Ezra	Orchestra	Five Star Final	Arch M'Don'ld	6:15
6:30	Hassenchen's Orch.	News	Music	Freeman's Orch	6:30
6:45	Ink Spots	Rep. Wm. Lemke	News; Music	Boake Carter	6:45
7:00	Burns and	Good Times	Jazz Nocturne	H. Heidt's	7:00
7:15	Allen	Society	" "	Brigadiers	7:15
7:30	The Voice of	Paul Martin	Let's Visit	Pipe Smoking	7:30
7:45	Firestone	and His Music	" "	Time	7:45
8:00	Fibber McGee	Melodic	Thrill. Detective	Columbia's	8:00
8:15	and Molly	Contrasts	Mysteries	Shakespearian	8:15
8:30	Hour of Charm	Green Brothers	Ray Back	Cycle	8:30
8:45	" "	Marimba Orch	Stamp Club	"	8:45
9:00	Louis-Farr	Louis-Farr	Elder Michaux	Wayne King's	9:00
9:15	Boxing Bouts	Boxing Bout	" "	Orchestra	9:15
9:30	Music for	" "	Vespers	Shakespeare	9:30
9:45	Moderns	" "	Art Brown	Curtain Calls	9:45
10:00	News; Music	Vagabonds	" "	Ozzie Nelson's	10:00
10:15	Supper Dance	Henderson's Orch.	Boxing Bouts	Orchestra	10:15
10:30	Codolban's	Eddie Varzos'	" "	Pryor's	10:30
10:45	Orchestra	Orchestra	" "	Orchestra	10:45
11:00	Sports; Music	News	Leo Reisman's	Arch McDon'd	11:00
11:15	Hawkins' Orch.	Slumber Hour	Orchestra	" "	11:15
11:30	Midnite Frolic	" "	D. Gasparre's	Maxim Lowe's	11:30
11:45	" "	" "	Orchestra	Orch.	11:45
12:00	Sign off	Night Watchman	Happy Felton's	Witching Hour	12:00
12:15	.....	(To 3 a. m.)	Orchestra	News	12:15
12:30	.....	.....	Joe Sanders'	Sign Off	12:30
12:45	.....	.....	Orchestra	.....	12:45
1:00	.....	.....	Sign off	.....	1:00

Vital Statistics

Deaths.

Kate Terry, 81, Gallinger Hosp.
Ellon B. Foster, 80, Mount Vernon Apts.
Ida Kobemick, 75, 1006 Webster st. nw.
George W. Baxter, 67, Tidal Basin Boathouse.
Fabroni Angelo, 64, Gallinger Hosp.
John F. Six, 55, St. Elisabeths Hosp.
Mary G. Prender, 56, 739 12th st. nw.
Hurbia E. Eyster, 51, Emergency Hosp.
Fred B. Spiker, 50, 2650 Wisconsin ave. nw.
Robert E. Moore, 32, Sibley Hosp.
Nancy Jorse, 13, 2626 31st st. nw.
Infant to Franklin and Texcha Eastman, 4 days, Sibley Hosp.
In fant to John and Frances Harper, 1 day, Georgetown Hosp.
Elisa Jones, 87, Home for Aged and Infirm.
Ned Kemp, 65, Providence Hosp.
Samuel Green, 52, Gallinger Hosp.
William H. Jones, 29, Gallinger Hosp.
Lillian Whitley, 14, Gallinger Hosp.
Constance Rice, 1 mo., Children's Hosp.
Infant to Julius and Hattie Dupree, 20 days, Children's Hosp.
Infant to Veola and Blanche Clatterbuck, 14 days, Gallinger Hosp.
Infant to John and Mabel Tolliver, 13 days, Gallinger Hosp.
Infant to James and Martha Harrod, 10 min., Gallinger Hosp.

Births.

Charles F. and Genevieve Baggett, girl.
Fred B. and Estelle Linton, girl.
Norman and Bertha Brown, girl.
James and Nancy Belton, girl.
John and Leona Chamberlain, boy.
Herbert and Lucilla Day, girl.
Nathaniel and Margaret Dodson, boy.
Robert and Beatrice Freeman, boy.
Henry and Armanda Griffer, girl.
Isaac and Emma Jones, boy.
William and Irene Shorter, girl.
Charles and Eva Tinker, boy.

The Weather

Today's Sun and Tide Table

(Furnished by United States Department of Commerce, Coast and Geodetic Survey.)

	A.M.	P.M.
Sun rises	5:35
High tide	2:20	2:56
Sun sets	7:42
Low tide	9:26	9:38

Weather Conditions.

U. S. Dept. of Agri.—Weather Bureau.
Washington, Sunday, Aug. 29—7:30 p. m.
Forecast for District of Columbia—Cloudy, followed by showers Monday afternoon or night and probably on Tuesday; not much change in temperature; gentle east and southeast winds.

For Maryland—Cloudy, probably followed by showers Monday and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

For Virginia—Showers Monday and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

Tropical Disturbances.

The following was received at 9:30 o'clock this evening from the forecast center at Jacksonville, Fla.: Advisory 9:30 p. m., the small tropical storm was central at 8 p. m., E. S. T., about 100 miles southeast of Titusville, moving slowly northwest or west-northwest attended by gale winds and lowest barometer at nearest ship 29.65 inches. Indications are center will reach coast in vicinity of Titusville late tonight. Storm warnings are displayed from Vero Beach to St. Augustine and small craft cautioned north of St. Augustine to Savannah.

Conditions.

Pressure is low at the mouth of Hudson Strait, Resolution Island, 29.32 inches. A trough of low pressure extends from Lake Superior, Houghton, 29.92 inches, southwestward to eastern New Mexico, El Paso, 29.68 inches. Pressure is high over the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic States. Atlantic City, 30.24 inches, Portland, Me., 30.28 inches, and off the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic coasts, Sable Island, 30.28 inches, St. Georges, Bermuda, 30.22 inches. Another high pressure area is moving eastward over southeastern Hudson Bay, Moosonee, 30.14 inches, with a wedge extending southwestward to the Dakotas, Rapid City, 30.14 inches. During the last hours showers have occurred in the middle and northern Plains States, the middle and southern Rocky Mountain region, Minnesota, southern Virginia and in the middle Atlantic and east Gulf States. Temperatures have fallen in the Plains States, portions of Wyoming and Colorado and Minnesota, while they have risen over the northern Plateau and western Montana.

Local Weather Report.

Temperature—Midnight, 75; 2 a. m., 74; 4 a. m., 73; 6 a. m., 73; 8 a. m., 72; 10 a. m., 73; 12 noon, 74; 2 p. m., 76; 4 p. m., 79; 6 p. m., 78; 8 p. m., 75; 10 p. m., 75.

Relative humidity—7:30 a. m., 93; 1:30 p. m., 84; 7:30 p. m., 78. Hours of sunshine, 8.9. Per cent of possible sunshine, 67.

Departures From Normal.

Accumulated excess of temperature since January 1, 1937, 590 degrees.

Excess of temperature since August 1, 1937, 76 degrees.

Accumulated excess of precipitation since January 1, 1937, 8.82 inches.

Excess of precipitation since August 1, 1937, 2.76 inches.

Temperatures and Precipitation.

Temperatures and precipitation during 24 hours ended 7:30 p. m. Sunday:

	Highest Sun. night	Lowest Sun. night	Sat. 7:30 p.m.	Rainfall.
Washington, D. C.	79	77	77	0.08
Asheville, N. C.	80	66	66	0.36
Atlantic City, N. J.	78	70	72	....
Baltimore, Md.	78	70	76	....
Birmingham, Ala.	86	70	78	....
Bismarck, N. Dak.	68	58	68	....
Boston, Mass.	78	62	72	....
Buffalo, N. Y.	88	66	80	....
Chicago, Ill.	86	70	80	....
Cincinnati, Ohio	90	66	82	....
Cheyenne, Wyo.	70	52	54	0.24
Cleveland, Ohio	86	70	80	....
Dallas, Tex.	92	76	90	....
Davenport, Iowa	92	70	86	....
Denver, Colo.	68	62	60	0.16
Des Moines, Iowa	92	66	88	....
Detroit, Mich.	90	62	80	....
Duluth, Minn.	80	68	64	0.37
El Paso, Tex.	96	74	94	....
Galveston, Tex.	86	78	84	....
Helena, Mont.	72	40	72	....
Huron, S. Dak.	70	70	60	0.80
Indianapolis, Ind.	90	68	84	....
Jacksonville, Fla.	86	76	80	1.21
Kansas City, Mo.	86	76	82	....
Little Rock, Ark.	88	72	86	....
Los Angeles, Calif.	80	62	74	....
Louisville, Ky.	90	70	88	....
Marquette, Mich.	92	72	82	....
Memphis, Tenn.	86	78	84	0.08
Miami, Fla.	92	74	84	0.08
Minneapolis-St. Paul	86	76	82	....
Mobile, Ala.	78	74	78	0.19
New Orleans, La.	84	74	80	0.02
New York, N. Y.	78	68	72	....
North Platte, Nebr.	90	70	84	0.03
Omaha, Nebr.	96	70	90	....
Philadelphia, Pa.	76	68	74	....
Phoenix, Ariz.	106	82	102	....
Pittsburgh, Pa.	82	64	76	....
Portland, Me.	82	62	72	....
Portland, Oreg.	76	54	76	....
Rapid City, S. Dak.	58	56	56	0.27
Salt Lake City, Utah.	78	58	76	0.20
St. Louis, Mo.	94	74	88	....
San Antonio, Tex.	98	74	96	....
San Diego, Calif.	74	64	72	....
San Francisco, Calif.	64	54	58	....
Santa Fe, N. Mex.	82	58	70	0.25
Savannah, Ga.	84	74	78	1.10
Seattle, Wash.	72	52	72	....

Ship Movements

At New York.

Arrived Yesterday.

Georgic, from Havre.
Veragua, from Port Limon.
Acadia, from Halifax.

Arrive Today.

Normandie, from Havre.
American Banker, from London.
Samaria, from Liverpool.
Cameronia, from Glasgow.
Volendam, from Rotterdam.
Pennsylvania, from San Francisco.
U. S. Grant, from Manila.
Haiti, from Cristobal.
Cristobal, from Cristobal.
Borinquen, from Trujillo City.
Queen of Bermuda, from Bermuda.
Lara, from Curacao.

Sail Today.

Black Condor, for Netherlands.
Mercier, for Luxemburg.
New Columbia, for Lagos.
Acadia, for Yarmouth.

Sail Tomorrow.

Excalibur, for Beirut.
Robin Adair, for Beira.
Guayaquil, for Cristobal.
Polycarp, for Ceara.
Virginian, for San Francisco.
Volendam, for Canada cruise.

What's Going On And Where

Meeting.

United Food Stores, Hotel Hamilton, 8 p. m.

Argentina Calls Two Bond Issues

New York, Aug. 29 (AP).—J. P. Morgan & Co. and the National City Bank of New York, fiscal agents, have called for retirement at par and accrued interest October 1 all outstanding Argentine government external sinking fund 6 per cent bonds, issue of October 1, 1925.

Also called for the same date were the Argentine government loan 1926 sinking fund bonds, public works issue, of October 1, 1926.

Legal Record

DISTRICT COURT.

Motions Assignment.

Justice F. D. Letts presiding.

Deane vs. Deane. Attys., Dobbins—proper person, and the following rules: White vs. White, Epstein vs. Epstein, Crane vs. Crane, Tolstoi vs. Tolstoi, Ducker vs. Butler et al., Bison Cab Co., Inc., vs. Jenkins et al., Nevada-California Electric Co., vs. Ickes, and Johnson vs. Levin et al. Atty., Thomas Didden.

Lawsuits.

Katheryn Rau vs. W. Marion Falls; damages, $10,000. Attys., R. E. Wellford, P. H. Marshal.

Virginia Miller vs. Maurice Berkow; damages, $15,000. Attys., James F. Reilly, E. B. Sullivan.

Docketed Judgments.

Jos. M. Wise vs. Neillie C. Hariston; judgment M. Ct., $94.50. Atty., Judson W. Bowles.

Mechanic's Liens.

Charles Alder vs. Fulton Realty Co., Inc., sq. 3814, lots 5250, 60 inc., and 800 to 807 inc., $89.89.

Equity Suits.

J. Ed. Gilder vs. Edith T. Gilder; abs. divorce. Atty., Ford E. Young, jr.

Ethel M. Hanley vs. Joseph F. Hanley; maintenance. Atty., Thomas P. Patterson.

Gray Tool Co. et al. vs. Comm. Patents; letters patent. Attys., Cushman, Darby & Cushman.

Catherine Lindsey vs. James Lindsey; maintenance. Atty., T. L. Dodson.

Anna Y. Lithgow vs. Pearl Ford; set aside alleged change in beneficiary. Attys., Alvin L. Newmyer, David G. Bress.

Motions Court Proceedings.

Mr. Justice Letts presiding.

Caroline Hoagland vs. Robert Hoagland; order for judgment for $32 vs. deft.

Mabel Scott vs. Charles Scott et al.; amendment to final decree; order modifying prior orders re alimony.

Re George M. Brown; order discharging writ, and dismissing petition.

Graham vs. Little et al.; order referring cause to examiner.

Estate of Stephen C. Weaver; order appointing trustees.

Brawner, jr., vs. Beyer; suggestion of death and substitution of party plaintiff.

Powell vs. Powell; decree abs. divorce.

Weinberg et al. vs. Goldenberg, Inc.; order finally ratifying sale, etc.

Natl. Cap. Lodge 980 vs. Nacolo Associates et al.; order for deposit in Reg. of court.

First Natl. Bank of Alex. Va. vs. Weeks; motion to reinstate granted.

Probate Proceedings.

Mr. Justice Letts presiding.

Estate James A. Parker; appt. trustee; bond, $500. Atty., D. [illegible].

Estate Linda Tschiffely; will filed dated June 5, 1916.

Re Marvin B. Foley; Clarence Foley appointed guardian of estate; bond, $500. Atty., A. Norman.

Estate Edward B. White, will filed, dated July 21, 1936.

Estate Elizabeth W. Harbin; will filed, dated January 23, 1912.

Estate Maria M. Desio; lets. test. granted Alma Desio von Steiner; bond, $1,500. Atty., George C. Gertman.

Estate Drusilla S. Moppins; lets. test. granted Jarrott B. Lee; bond, $1,000. Atty., E. C. Peyton.

Estate of Walter C. Babcock; will filed, dated July 26, 1929.

Estate of Eliza A. Weeks; will filed, dated January 26, 1929.

Estate Frank Stepper (Thomas Frank Stepper); will filed dated May 9, 1934.

Lawsuits.

Earl O. Keyser vs. Moskin's Credit Clothing Co.; damages, $10,000. Atty., Isadore H. Halpern.

Equity Suits.

Hill & Tibbitts, Inc., vs. C. Reed Thomas et al.; enforce sale. Atty., Samuel Beach.

New Amsterdam Casualty Co. vs. Frank A. Cardillo, deputy commissioner, etc.; set aside award of compensation. Attys., Simon, Koenigsberger & Young.

HAULING
KANE TRANSFER COMPANY
2116 Fifth St. N.E.
POTOMAC 4600
Furniture Moving
Daily Service Between BALTIMORE—WASHINGTON

First Trust Loans
Reasonable Rates and Commissions
Tyler & Rutherford, Inc.
1512 L St. N.W. NAtional 0475
Loan Correspondent
Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.

WE SELL, BUY OR EXCHANGE
OFFICE FURNITURE
Desks Steel Files
Tables Steel Cabinets
Chairs Safes
BAUM'S FURNITURE HOUSE
1416 Eye St. N.W. Phone NA. 2484

LAIDLAW & CO.
26 Broadway—New York
Established 1842
Washington Office
727 15th St. N.W.
Telephone Di. 2255
Other Offices
Montreal Boston, Mass. Toronto
Providence, R. I. Rutland, Vt.
Oil City, Pa.
Members
New York Stock Exchange
New York Curb Exchange
Boston Stock Exchange
Chicago Board of Trade
Facilities reach leading security and commodity markets.

Three of '13 Gang' Accused by Police In Series of Thefts

Three boys, all 17, self-styled members of the Southeast section's "Thirteen" gang, were held by police last night in connection with the thefts of four automobiles and ten housebreakings.

Detectives seized the youths early yesterday in Anacostia when the boys approached an automobile that had been stolen and hidden in the woods.

Detective Sergts. Jack Wolf and Hugh Robey located the car Saturday and decided to watch it. The police surprised the boys shortly after midnight.

Robey said the car was stolen several days ago from an Anacostia motor company.

All of the boys recently were released from the National Training School.

DIED.

STEELE, JUDITH LEROY. On Sunday, August 29, 1937, at 2:30 p. m. at her home, 1797 K st. nw., JUDITH LEROY STEELE. She is survived by two sisters, Miss Fannie Steele and Mrs. Irvin McGrew and one brother, J. Frank Steele, of this city. Funeral services at Hysong's funeral home, 1300 N st. nw., on Tuesday, August 31, at 2:30 p. m. Interment Wednesday afternoon in Maplewood Cemetery, Pulaski, Tenn. (Tennessee newspapers please copy.)

TERRY, KATE S. On Friday, August 27, 1937, KATE S. TERRY, the beloved daughter of the late Judge E. S. and Mrs. Elizabeth S. Terry and sister of Mrs. Lena T. Minor, Mrs. Emma Morris and Miss Cora A. Terry. Remains resting at the W. W. Chambers Co. funeral home, 1400 Chapin st. nw. Funeral from St. Agnes Episcopal Church, Q st. nw., between North Capital and 1st sts. on Monday, August 30, at 11 a. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Rock Cemetery.

WADSLEY, ELLEN R. On Sunday, August 29, 1937, at her residence, 1733 N st. nw., ELLEN R. WADSLEY, beloved mother of Mrs. Della W. Welsh, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. William Hill Johnston, Littleton, N. C.; Mrs. Walter H. Anderson, Greenwood, S. C., and Joseph H. Wadsley, Winston-Salem, N. C. Services and interment private.

WEAVER, JESSE EDWARD. Suddenly, on Thursday, August 26, 1937, at his residence, 3224 Minnesota ave. se., JESSE EDWARD WEAVER, beloved husband of Laura R. Weaver, father of Charles A., Frederick Y., Louis E., Jessie L., Ida V., Anna R., Clarence R. and Mollivesaux Weaver, all of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Horace Ryon, of Ritchie, Md.; Mrs. Harold Jones, of Rogers Heights, Md.; Mrs. James Baldwin, of Berwyn, Md., and Mrs. Ollie Wigington, of Arlington, Va. Funeral services at the S

Post Want Ads Are Read First—Half a Day Ahead of Evening Papers

Business Directory

For information regarding advertising rates or services not listed in this column, call Miss Day—National 4227.

BUILDING MATERIAL.
Lumber, Millwork, Roofing and Insulite. MURPHY & AMES. Rosslyn, Falls Church, Va. WEst 2315.

CAMERA REPAIRING.
Camera Repairing. FULLER & d'ALBERT, INC. 815 10th St. N.W. Phone NA. 4712.

CARPET AND RUG CLEANING.
RUGS DOMESTIC 9x12 .....$3.00
SHAMPOO 8x10 .....$2.50
LUWIN CO., 1725 7TH ST. NO. 9160.

DENTAL PLATE REPAIRS
"WHILE YOU WAIT." Emergency Laboratory. Room 601, Western Building, 14th and F sts. nw. MEt. 1833.

FLOOR FINISHING
FLOORS done "The Wright Way." Laying, Scraping, Finishing. Reasonable rates. Call us for free estimate. Wright's Floor Service. 6401 8th st. nw. GE. 2119.

FURNITURE.
FURNITURE and RUGS shampooed in your own home by exclusive shampoo process. Satisfaction guaranteed. Wash. Electric Rug Cleaning Co. ME. 9024.

ROOFING.
ROOFS, any type. Brick walls dampproofed, celotex rock wool, pure white waterproof asbestos siding. Manufactured by Bird & Son. Sold on our three-year payment plan. No down payments; no red tape.
THE AMERICAN RE-ROOFING CO., INC., 3313 14th St. N.W. COL. 4551.

ROOFING, SIDING, INSULATION.
TERMS IF DESIRED.
ENTERPRISE ROOFING COMPANY,
2126 R. I. Ave. N.E. PO. 0200.

PAINTING—PAPERHANGING.
PAINTING, PAPERING, ROOFING. Guaranteed. Reasonable. Estimates free. M. L. Smith, 1724 Webster nw. AD. 7108.

UPHOLSTERY
CHAIR CANING, UPHOLSTERING, porch rockers spunted. CLAY ARMSTRONG, 1238 10th st. nw. Phone MEtropolitan 2062.

The Washington Post
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
LOCAL RATES.

For Washington and Points Within 50 Miles of the District of Columbia.

The following rates are for consecutive insertions:

1 time.....18c per line.
3 times.....16c per line.
5 times.....14c per line.
7 times.....12c per line.
30 times.....11c per line.

Classified Display 2c per line additional.

The one-time rate applies on skip ads or irregular insertions.

OUT-OF-TOWN RATES.

Ads from points more than 50 miles from the District of Columbia are: 1 time, 20c per line; 3 times, 18c per line; 7 times, within 30 days, 16c per line; 30 times, within 60 days, 15c per line. Classified Display 2c per line additional.

Kindly estimate 5½ average words to a line.

Rates for special classification and yearly contracts furnished upon request.

The Washington Post reserves the right to edit, revise or reject any classified advertising.

Misclassification of ads not permitted.

The Washington Post will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion on any order.

Kill Orders or Corrections before insertions (except Death Notices) can not be made unless ordered before 6 p. m. daily or 4 p. m. Saturday for Sunday.

The Washington Post strives at all times to prevent insertion of fraudulent or misleading advertisements.

Information concerning any ad that proves misleading or fraudulent will be appreciated.

Phone NATIONAL 4200
Ask For An Ad-Writer

THESE DRUG STORES WILL TAKE YOUR WANT AD. DAY AND NIGHT.

Whittlesey's Drug Store, 3527 Connecticut Ave.
Suter's Drug Store, 1841 Columbia Road.
Park View Pharmacy, Georgia Ave. and Park Road.
O'Donnell's Drug Store, Wisconsin Ave. and P St.
Kight's Drug Store, 132 U St. N.E.
Kight's Drug Store, 4936 Georgia Ave.
The Jolson Pharmacy, Inc. 5000 First St. N.W.
The Chevy Chase Pharmacy, 5510 Connecticut Ave.
The Cavalier Pharmacy, 3500 14th St. N.W.
Alaska Ave. Pharmacy, 7806 Alaska Ave.
Wilson Drug Co., 1734 Wilson Blvd., Arlington, Va.
Paul's Drug Store, 901 4th St. S.W.

Lost and Found 1

You can phone your "Lost" Ad to The Post as late as 11 p. m. for publication the following morning and thus immediately notify nearly 100,000 families of your loss. (Except on Saturday, when deadline is 4 p. m. for Sunday's Post.) Call NAtional 4200.

BILLFOLD, gold tips, containing $116 and street-car pass. Lost between 17th and K sts. nw. and 17th and Fa. ave. Liberal reward. Return to 3002 Q st. nw.

RAZOR LOST. Minnesota address and name in handle. Sommers, Y.M.C.A.; rew.

WRIST WATCH, bracelet, lady's, oblong, gold. Hamilton, lost from car; D. C. or Defense Highway. Liberal reward. Wisc. 6463.

Personals 3

HEMORRHOIDS (piles) eradicated by my own methods; results effective for a lifetime or money back. Write for booklet. No drugs or surgery. DR. SOMMERWERCK, 1365 Columbia rd. AD. 0368.

CHAMBERS CO.
Complete Funerals as Low as $75.

BETTER HEALTH STUDIO, colds and chronic pains treated. Trained nurse. PO. 4721.

HATS CLEANED AND PRESSED, DRESSES FITTED AND REPAIRED. 1309 CONNECTICUT AVENUE NORTHWEST.

HILLTOP HOME, nearby Va.; grad. nurse; convalescent, elderly or rest cases cared for; beautiful large rooms, quiet; good food. Walnut 1919.

LONG or short trips with owner in new Ford sedan. Reas. West 1598.

MOTHER'S CARE given to infant or small child in private home. SHep. 4952.

CHAMBERS CO.
One of the largest Undertakers in the World.

Motor Travel 10

DRIVING Kansas City Sept. 1. Take two, share expenses. AT. 7115.

Help—Female 11

Women—If you don't find your position in the Help Wanted Column today—place a "Situations Wanted" Ad in The Post. A 3-line ad costs only 27 cents.

BEAUTY OPERATORS (2), must be good fingerwavers. 3701 Macomb st. nw.

GENERAL housework, for rooming house; settled white woman; stay nights; good home for right party. 2111 G st. nw. WE. 2947.

LADIES (2), of refinement, who have 4 hours daily to devote to earning about $12 weekly. Pleasant work; chance for full time later. Apply mornings, Mr. Barton, Room 205, 1427 Eye st. nw.

RECEPTIONIST-TELEPHONE OPERATOR training course. Inquire Miss West, Personnel Service, 1311 G. NAt. 2114.

YOUNG WHITE WOMAN, exp'd., with city reference, for general housework in small family. Call between 9-11 a. m., 1740 Webster st. nw. No phone calls.

Help—Female 11

TYPIST
Accurate, Speedy, Experienced
In Preparation of Book Manuscript—
For Novelist and Publisher.
Student of English and literary background preferred.
Accurate proofreader of spelling, punctuation and English essential.
No others need apply.
Call Miss Marquardt,
Phone CLeveland 2693,

Help—Male 12

Men—If you don't find your position in the Help Wanted Column today—place a "Situations Wanted" ad in The Post. A 3-line ad costs only 27 cents.

ACCOUNTANT-TYPIST, one with automobile accounting exp. preferred. State exp., reference and salary wanted, in own handwriting Box 161, Wash. Post.

BARBERS (2), white. Apply 8219 Georgia ave., Silver Spring, Md.

BARBER, exp'd., old man; must be sober; steady job. 353 Cedar st., Tak. Pk., D. C.

BARBERS wanted (2); good pay; free room. For further information, call Fort Wash. Barber Shop, Fort Wash., Md.

BARBER, experienced. Apply at once. 931 Pa. ave. nw.

BARBER—For Olney, Md.; must be expert. Apply Lady Jane, Inc., 621 12th st. nw.

BARBER—Steady job. American. Model Barber Shop, 1217 New York ave.

BARBER (colored), first class, wanted; must be sober. Apply 1332 U st. nw.

DRIVER for wholesale and retail dry cleaning route; references. Apply Economy Cleaners, 1341 H st. ne.

MAN, young to fill vacancy; high school education or better; good pay; chance for rapid advancement. Apply mornings, Room 205, 1427 Eye st. nw.

MAN, 25 years old, for established route; experienced in selling direct to homes; car furnished; bond required. Grand Union Tea Co., 603 F st. nw.

MEN WANTED—To sell neckties, direct from manufacturer. Apply 635 F st. nw. Room 201-A before noon.

SHOESHINE BOY, colored; must have ref. Sam's News Stand, 612½ 17th st. nw.

SPOTTER for wool and gray work; experienced. Apply Economy Cleaners, 1341 H st. ne.

SHEET METAL WORKER
Experienced; steady work for right man. Rear 726 7th st. s.w.

WE have openings for 3 men in sales department. Selling experience not essential. Sales Manager, 7th floor, 1333 F st. nw.

YOUNG MAN, neat appearing; must have high school education; good references. Suite 304, 1317 F st. nw.

YOUNG MAN—21 to 35 years old to work in Collection Department. Car necessary. See Mr. Murray, Room 409, 1319 F St. N.W.

YOUNG MEN—Over 18 years old to work with manager on Circulation Campaign. See Mr. Dixon, Room 410, 1319 F St. N.W.

MAN
with car, satisfied to earn $25 to $35 a week to start. Sales experience valuable, but not absolutely necessary. Prefer ambitious man who can take early promotion to position now open. Apply 9 to 11 a. m. 724 11th st. nw.

MEN WANTED.
to sell direct from only manufacturer of neckwear in town.
ROSENBERG NECKWEAR CO., 635 F St. N.W. Room 201A.

Men of Good Character
21 years of age or over, residing in Washington at least one year, to join new FREE course for hackers' license examination. Call at 9:30 a. m. or ME. 1727.

MAKE GOOD MONEY
DRIVING CABS. SEE MR. CRUZE
BELL CAB CO., 1317 L N.W.

PLASTERERS (4 OR 5).
Come ready for work with tools. Apply Neimeth's Auto Supply, 4th and Mass. ave., at 7 a. m. Monday. See Mr. Beetham.

5 MEN.
Customers and Dealers contest totaling $25,000 in cash and automobiles makes room for 5 additional men on present force.

Tremendous advertising campaign makes certain exceptional earnings during contest on internationally known and advertised line of staple food products.

Only ambitious hard-hitting men over 25 who want a permanent connection need apply. 9 to 12 a. m., 513 K St. NW.

AIR-CONDITIONING.
A short training course is offered to those interested in a growing and profitable business.
Classes conducted evenings.
To those interested and who qualify several first-rate positions are available.
Apply Sales Manager
9 to 10 A. M.
1139 18th Street N.W.

SALES SUPERVISOR
Factory representative will interview man capable of organizing a retail sales force, to sell tires, radios and accessories to prospects which are furnished salesmen. Salary and over-ride.
CALL MR. SHARPE
AT DISTRICT 2580
Factory Representative
GOODYEAR TIRE & RUBBER CO.
Monday and Tuesday
9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Employment Agencies 14

RUPHER'S Employment Agency can fur. colored domestic help; ref. DE. 3551.

Salesmen-Agents 15

AGENTS, operators, peddlers. We have over 2,000 fast-selling articles: Notions, razor blades, cosmetics, at lowest prices. Naiman Sales Co., 1115 Seventh St. NW.

Situations—Female 16

BLANKETS, spreads, drapes, curtains washed, stretched in sunny yard; work guar. DE. 2786.

GIRL, colored, wishes day's work or morning; best ref. NOrth 5570, between 1-4.

STENOGRAPHER - SECRETARY; college graduate; earnest, exp'd., capable of handling corresp. Box 164, Wash. Post.

YOUNG LADY, high school graduate, some experience library work, also filing, desires position; best references. Miss Lyndall. Box M-850, Washington Post.

COLORED woman wants part-time housework in morning; ref. 1304 27th st. nw.

Situations—Male 17

DRAFTSMAN—Patent or architectual; experienced, part time, by piece or otherwise. Box 160, Washington Post.

Instructions 19

SHORTHAND, touch typing, bookkeeping, spelling, let. writ., calculating mach. Positions. BOYD SCHOOL, 1333 F. NA. 2340.

Business Opportunities 23

BUYING A BUSINESS.
SEE US FIRST—SAVE MONEY.
Over 300 Listings to Choose From.
CAPITAL ADJUSTING & FINANCE CO., 1006 H St. N.W. MEt. 4813.

CHATTEL NOTES BOUGHT.
L. BUTLER,
923½ New York Ave. N.W. MEt. 1355.

CAFE—Beer, wine, sandwiches. 18th Col. rd.; will sacrifice. Owner, COl. 8917.

CIGAR AND NEWSSTAND—Located in downtown office bldg.; rent, $90; good business; price, $1,950.
DISTRICT SALES, 1006 H NW. NATL. 1002

FOR REAL bargains in rooming houses, Miss McCown, 1006 H St. MEt. 4813.

LARGE STORE, suitable for any business with 2-room and bath apt.; rent reasonable; heated. 2510 Pa. ave. nw.
ARENDES REALTY CO.,
1207 Wis. Ave. WEst. 0074.

Business Opportunities 23

RESTAURANT, with liquor license; guaranteed $600 weekly; 3-year lease. Rent $125 with 11 rooms. Price, $5,000. Terms.
GASTON & CHARUHAS,
501 Woodward Bldg. Dis. 7765.

ROOMING HOUSE, 6 rooms, completely furnished; $250. 122 E st. se. NA. 1837.

ROOMING HOUSE, 19th and Col. Rd.—12 rooms; 2½ baths. Sacrifice for $950. Terms. MR. SMITH, NAtl. 7091.

ROOMING HOUSE, Columbia Heights—11 rooms, cheap rent, well furnished; $600 handles.
WOODRUFF REALTY CO.
1343 H St. NW. (room 410) MEt. 3683.

ROOMING house, near 16th and Scott circle, 17 rooms, 5 baths, garage; nicely furnished; good income; price, $2,200; terms. A real buy. NAtl. 9654.
S. WINFIELD, 908 10th N.W.

ROOMING HOUSE—All apts.; 8 units in heart of exclusive residential section. The best furnished house of its type we have ever had. Furniture nearly new. Rooms, clean and attractive. Income, $225. Besides owner's large apt., rent only $85. $1,750; terms.
R. M. DE SHAZO.
1123 14th St. NW. National 5520.

RUNNING manufacturing paint business to be sold due to death of former owner. Business est. 1905. Stock, machinery, business and fixtures complete, and goodwill can be purchased for 18,000. Apply Mrs. Mary E. Hunt, 1221 N. Y. ave. nw.

Wanted Business Opps. 23A

WANTED established tourist camp or site on U. S. Highway No. 1, south of Alex., Va. 2 or 5 acres, minimum 400 ft. on hwy. State price, terms, location. Box 153, Washington Post.

Money-to-Loan 26

ADVANCES on diamonds, watches, jewelry and silverware, etc.; loan $200 and over, 2%; all tickets good for one year. Hornthal's Loan Office, opposite Wash. Airport.

ON diamonds, watches, jewelry, silverware, etc., no adv. arrangements neces.; lowest int. rates. Rosslyn Loan Co., Rosslyn, Va.

Real Estate Loans 27

WE HAVE FUNDS FOR FIRST TRUST loans on improved D. C. real estate. Prevailing rates. Prompt decisions.
LOUIS P. SHOEMAKER,
1719 K St. NW. NAt. 1166.

Rooms—Furnished 30

A ST. NE., 641—Second floor bedroom; suitable 1 or 2; near bath. LI. 2808.

ALABAMA (11th and N Sts. NW., Apt. 507)—Large, airy bay-window room; near bath; good service. NOrth 3650.

ALTON APT.—1445 Park rd. nw.—Lovely, front rm., beauty rest mattress; shower; for 1 or 2. Apt. 203. AD. 2810.

ARIZONA HOTEL, 310 C st. nw., one block off Pa. ave.—Neatly furnished rooms, lobby; 3 baths on each floor, shower bath; continuous hot water; $3.50 week up; transients, 75c and $1.

ARLINGTON, VA. (901 South Oak St.)—Attractive room, southern exposure; use of phone; nr. bus. WAlnut 7612-W.

ARLINGTON, VA., 1505 N. Buchanan St.—Front double room, large closet, next semi bath. Call after 5 p. m. WA. 7025.

A WELL-APPOINTED private home; master bedroom, 2 closets, 2 expos.; private bath, shower. 3801 Calvert st. nw.

ATTRACTIVE studio, cool; maid service. Refined gentlemen. NO. 6475-J, 1733 N nw.

BUCHANAN ST. NW., 440—Large front, double rm.; private home; unlimited telephone; laundry privileges. AD. 8193.

CATHEDRAL—Nr. Conn., Shoreham, Rock Creek; cool, large rm.; priv. bath; garden; porches; det. home; $30. AD. 3584.

CATHEDRAL AVE., 2714—Near Wardman Park—Cool, double rm. Attr. furn. Next bath with shower.

CHAPIN ST. NW., 1412. Apt. 42—Single or twin bedrm.; shower, innerspring mattress; elevator service. AD. 7468-M.

CHEVY CHASE, D. C., 5359 29th St. NW.—Unusually large master bedroom with private bath and shower; all conveniences. CL. 5156.

CHEVY CHASE—Modern detached home. Desirable large room, for 1 or 2; shower; garage; board optional; home privileges. EM. 8819.

CHURCH ST. NW., 1740—Near Dupont Circle; basement room, private entr. Also large room for 1 or 2. PO. 1443.

CLEVELAND PARK—On bus line; living room, bedroom or 2 bedrooms; private bath in refined Gentile home, for 2 or 3 adults; prefer gentlemen; unlimited phone. Reas. EM. 3344.

COLUMBIA RD., 1736, Apt. 205—Cool rm., porch; board opt'l. Protest. CO. 8100.

COLUMBIA RD. NW., 1754—Attractive rm. for 1 or 2; all conv.; owner's home.

COLUMBIA RD. NW., 1436 (Apt. A)—Large, well-furnished room, large closet; semipriv. bath; $25. AD. 2176-W. after 5.

COLUMBIA RD. AND 18TH ST., 1794 Lanier pl. nw.—Lovely rm., $5, or $3 ea. double; (twin beds); well-kept home. CO. 4985.

COLUMBIA RD. NW., 1502—Double and single sleeping rooms, comfortably furnished, convenient to car lines.

COLUMBIA RD. NW., 1834—$3 wk.; single rms.; clean; 4 baths; men. AD. 10213.

CONN. AVE. NW., 1038, Apt. 209, La Salle—Attractive room, 2 exposures; twin beds; ample closet space.

CONN. AVE. APT.—Priv. entrance; cool; twin beds; shower; ice water; free phone; close in; $19.50 mo.; men. AD. 3027.

CONN. AVE. NW., 2019—Select residential section. Beautiful twin bed rm.; carpeted floors. Venetian blinds, 2 mirrored closets, fireplace, phone in rm. Also; single.

CONN. AVE. NW., near Mayflower—Delightful room, priv. bath, shower; excl. apt.; cultured gentleman. NO. 2090-J, eves.

CRITTENDON ST. NW., 820—Off Ga. ave.—Large, front room; $18 or $12.50 ea. double; private family. Co., 4687 J.

DOWNTOWN—1010 Mass. Ave. N.W.—1 and 2 rooms, completely furnished; for l. h. k. Frigidaire, $7 to $10 weekly.

DOWNTOWN—1320 Vermont ave. nw.—Cool, comfortably furnished, second floor, front; twin beds, priv. lavatory; reas.

DOWNTOWN—1332 Vermont ave. nw. Comf. furn. rm.; hot, cold run. water in room; near shower; reas.; gentleman.

DUPONT CIRCLE (1763 P St. N.W.)—4-window bed-living rm., kitchenette; completely furnished; Frigidaire; $10 wk.; also basement apt., rm. and kitchen; semipriv. bath; $7.50.

DUPONT CIRCLE, 1302 Conn. ave.—Nicely furnished, single, double and triple rooms; walking distance; prices very reasonable. DE. 5468. NO. 9404.

DUPONT CIRCLE, 1622 19th St. NW.—Cozy basement rm., priv. bath and entrance; l. h. k. if desired; $30. NO. 0064-J.

DUPONT CIRCLE, 1618 18th st. nw.—Desirable front room, near bath; private home, on bus line; unlimited phone. $20.

DUPONT CIRCLE—Lovely large room, modern furniture; walking distance; also triple room; $12.50 each. 1770 Church st. nw.

EUCLID ST. NW., 1783 (18th and Columbia Rd.)—Studio room, equipped for l. h. k.; everything furn.; nr. b.; c.h.w.

F ST. NW., 623—2nd floor, 2-room suite; use of kitchen; $7.50 week.

FAIRMONT ST. NW., 1452—2d. floor room with running water; adjoining porch.

FLORIDA AVE. NW., 2149, nr. Dupont Circle.—Attr. sin. and double rm.; semipriv. bath; private home. NO. 2745.

FRONT room; 2 expos.; single or double; next bath with shower; elec. fan, phone. 2006 Columbia rd. nw., Apt. 6.

G ST. NW., 1812, Apt. 32—Large room, adj. bath; southern exp.; well ventilated; near Govt. Depts.; gentlemen.

H ST. NW., 2120—Hall room, adj. bath; newly decorated; exceptionally well furnished; $15 month. Phone WEst 1510.

HOTEL GRAFTON, Conn. ave. at DeSales. Cool, comfortable rooms; running water; near showers; from $7.50 weekly.

HOTEL LOGAN, 13th and Logan Circle—Double rooms with bath and telephone, $9 per wk.; single rms., $6 up. NO. 2000.

IRVING ST. NW., 1305—Attractive studio rm., or twin beds; reas; also sin., $4.50 wk; unlim. phone; conv. loca. AD. 0084.

INGLESIDE TER. NW., 1859—Lge. ft. rm., twin beds, 4 windows; private home; nr. bus; edge Rock Creek Park. AD. 0079.

JEFFERSON ST. NW., 1349—Lovely double room; det. home; all adults; shower; every home comfort; nr. cars. GE. 7091.

JEFFERSON ST. NW., 210 — Temperate Gentile gentleman, pleasant, quiet rm.; 2 exposures, large closet; next bath, shower; new home; nr. 3 bus lines; $20 mo. RA. 3517.

K ST. NW., 1746 (Apt. 36)—At Conn. Desirable large room for 1 or 2. Call week days ME. 4305.

K ST. NW., 1221—2d fl. rm.; run. water; equipped for housekeeping; reasonable; walking distance. ST. 9319.

KALORAMA RD. NW., 2017—Newly-decorated double rooms, twin beds. Maple furn. Inner spr. mattresses. Also studio rms. Conv. transp. NO. 7564.

KALORAMA RD. NW., 1901—Modern home; large pleasant rm.; twin beds; 2 closets; semi-private bath; also single. DE. 6298.

KILBOURNE PL. NW., 1823, off Mt. Pleasant st.—Priv. home.; sin. or twin bedrm.; shower; well furn.; nr. R. C. Pk. AD. 4141.

LARGE front room, priv. bath; also double rm.; priv. bath. Convenient location. 2023 R st. nw.

M ST. NW., 1208—Attractive room, carefully conducted house; privileges; reasonable. Telephone DI. 1785.

M ST. NE., 611, Apt. 3—Lge., cool room; twin beds; newly furn.; next bath; c. h. w.; no other roomers. AT. 2624-J.

M ST. NW., 1329—Large rm., facing Thomas Circle; suitable for 1-3; $10 mo. each. Also single rm., $15 month.

M ST. NW., 1000—Well-furn. l. h. k. suite (1st floor). For 2. DI. 7183.

MASS. AVE. NW., 1229—Large 2d floor twin-bedrm.; reas.; walking distance.

MASS. AVE. NW., 3819—New, priv. detached home; master bedrm; priv. bath; shower; gentleman; garage. CL. 8523.

MASS. AVE. NW., 2110—Lovely large room; private bath; also single.

MASS. AVE. NE., 631—Large, nicely furn. frt. rm., 2nd fl., nr. bath; h.-w. h.; c. h. w.; Beautyrest mattress. Adults.

MARYLAND AVE. NE., 1250—Pleasant, large double room, adjoining semi-priv. bath; comfortable twin beds; cross ventilation; c. h. w. Also single room, reas.

MASS. AVE. NW., 1447—Large l. h. k. room; $5, or $7.50 double; also desirable twin-bed room; $6 week.

MERIDIAN PL. NW., 1483—Large room and fully equipped kitchenette; private home; shower; c. h. w. $30. CO. 4027.

MINTWOOD PL. NW., 1840, Apt. 101 (near 18th and Columbia rd.)—Pleasant lge. rm., priv. lavatory and toilet; priv. entrance; no other roomers; reas. AD 7722.

MT. PLEASANT ST. NW., 3316—Large front, well furn. rm.; refined neighborhood; single $5 or double $6. AD. 4334.

MT. PLEASANT, 3210 19th NW.—Large 2d floor room (twin or double bed), adjoining enclosed furnished porch; $25, or $30 double; garage. CO. 5422.

MT. PLEASANT—3108 18th st. nw.—Pleasant rm., twin beds, $14 ea. Also large, single rm., $20. Board optional.

MT. PLEASANT, 3132 19th. nw.—Near Rock Creek Park; comf. single rm., $15; near bath; refined Jewish home. AD. 7589.

MT. PLEASANT—3360 18th st. nw.—Large front rm., twin beds, individual dressers, 2 closets, $3.75 each; single, $4.50.

N ST. NW., 1812—Lovely cool rms.; single, $4 and $5; double, $6.

N ST. NW., 2114 (Apt. 25)—Gentleman to share 1 room, kitchen, bath; separate beds; home privileges. Reasonable. Phone Sterling 9660 or see janitor.

N ST. NW., 1426—Walking distance, desirable 2d floor single room; c. h. w.; owner's home; phone; gentleman; $16.

N. CAPITOL, 2405—Cool, front room, well furnished; c. h. w., shower; private family; $5 week. PO. 2427-J.

NR. WARDMAN PARK—Large front rm., private bath; twin beds, or single; private adult family. AD. 3452-W.

NEAR Park rd., 3435 14th st. nw.—Large, pleas. rm.; twin beds; porch; new mat.; also attr. rm. for 2; $15 ea. AD. 1378.

NEAR Wardman Park Hotel—2833 27th st. nw. ½ sq. Conn. and Cathedral ave. bus. Double room, large screened porch. Also single, c. h. w. Plenty baths. Co. 9610.

NEWTON ST. NW., 1625—Comfortable rm. 2d floor, adj. bath. Gentleman. $20.

OPPOSITE SHOREHAM 2401 Calvert st. nw.—Double room; twin beds. Two men or business couple.

PARK RD. NW., 1822—Attractive, well-furnished 2d-floor room. $20.

PETWORTH, 5023 3d St. NW.—Front master bedrm., priv. shower; private home; cool; quiet; convenient; reasonable.

PORTLAND HOTEL, Vermont ave. at Thomas Circle, $6.50 week; hotel service; fresh towels daily; your mail and phone calls attended to; shower baths; walk to work.

R ST. NW., 1635, Apt. 22—Nicely furnished room; one or two persons; private family; next bath. North 5654-J.

R ST. NW., 1635, Apt. 22—Nicely furn. rm.; suitable 1 or 2. Next bath, shower; priv. family; walk. distance. NO. 5654-J.

RIGGS PL. NW., 1713—Nice front room, near bath and shower; clean home; for gentleman.

RIGGS PL. NW., 1715—Comfortably furn. rm. priv. home; gentleman. NO. 2742.

RIGGS PL. NW., 1807—Single, double; also l. h. k., nicely furnished; private home. 13 to $8. NOrth 0584.

SPRING RD. NW., 1346—Nicely furnished room, screened-in porch, next bath; private home; single & double. CO. 3830-J.

SPRING RD. NW., 1310—Spacious 2d-floor front room, $5, next bath. CO. 4888-R.

THE EVERETT HOTEL, 1730 H st. nw.—Rooms, weekly; single from $8; double from $12. Also furnished apts. NA. 8130.

THE ALTURAS, 1509 16th St. N.W.—Newly redecorated single room in fireproof bldg., nr. shower; 24-hr. elev. serv., $4 wk. up.

THE WESTMINSTER, 1607 17th st. nw.—Nicely furn. single rms., $5 to $5.50; double, $7; showers; elevator.

THE POTOMAC HOTEL (18th and H sts. nw.)—Rooms weekly, single from $8; dble. from $12. A modern hotel. NA. 9216.

THE WYOMING APTS. (Columbia rd.-Calif. st., Apt. 114)—Well-appointed rm., 2 exp., priv. bath; gent. DE. 1332-J.

VERMONT AVE. NW., 1325—2 cheerful, outside 3rd floor rooms; running water and gas range; next to bath; l. h. k. DE. 0235.

WISCONSIN AVE., 3022, Apt. 23—Newly furn. room next bath, $20. CL. 0709. Call before 10 a. m. or after 6 p. m.

WOODRIDGE, 3901 South Dakota ave. ne.—Attractive room; twin beds, shower. Convenient transportation; new, detached private home. NO. 5625-J.

3RD ST. NW., 5725—Large front room; 2 closets, private bath; conv. transp. Lady pref. Call after 5:30 p. m. GE. 7155.

3RD ST. NW., 6111—Front rm., twin beds, private bath, newly furn.; new home; recr. rm. privil. Express bus. RA. 1685.

3D ST. NW., 416—Clean, airy rooms, equipped for housekeeping; running water; $5 and up. NA. 1837.

4TH ST. NE., 630—One large bedrm., newly dec.; nr. Union Station. AT. 5114.

13TH ST. NW., 2816—Desirable room next bath; convenient cars, bus; board optional; lady; $4.50 wk. CO. 7586.

13TH ST. NW., 1114 (Downtown)—Newly furn., decorated rooms, $3.50 week up.

13TH ST. NW., 3519 (Apt. 202)—2 attractive rms., single and studio (separate or en suite); young lady. AD. 8362, after 6.

14TH ST. NW., 1125—Large rm., next bath; also housekeeping; private bath.

14TH ST. NW., 1216—Large, attractively furnished rm. adjoining bath; twin beds; private home; walking distance.

Rooms—Furnished 30

14TH ST. NW., 2520—Comfortable single or double room; maple furniture; innerspring mattresses; phone, elevator. Apt. 56.

15TH ST., nr. R. I. ave. nw. Furn. rms. for l. h. k.: $7-$8 wk. NO. 9716.

15TH ST. NW., 1404—Single rm., $3.50 wk.; basement l. h. k., $5 wk.; small house, $35 month.

15TH ST. NW., 1316—Attractive, front room, well-furnished. Running water in room. Walking distance. Phone.

16TH ST. NW., 1605—Single, studio and large double bedroom; walking distance.

16TH ST. NW., 3360—Exclusive beautiful home; large room; twin beds. CO. 3132.

16TH ST. NW., 5601—Large studio rm. with enclosed sleeping porch; for 2 gentlemen in priv. corner home. $18 each. Also attractive, single rm., $20.

16TH ST. NW., 6333—Master bedrm., twin beds, private bath; writing desks, lamps; Oriental rugs; innerspring mattresses; lge. closet; new home; gents. RA. 2930.

16TH ST. NW., 1841—Twin bed suite; 1 or 2 rooms with bath; also renovated basement; also single room.

18TH ST. NW., 2419—Bay-wind. rm., $3.75, basement rm., $2.50; c.h.w. CO. 4802.

20TH ST. NW., 1732—Large front double room, $30; also single room, $25; next to bath.

21ST ST. NW., 1628—Large, attractive room, private bath, shower; 1 or 2 discriminating gentlemen; ex. loc. PO. 4044.

HOTEL INN 608 9th st. nw. $1-$1.50 per day; $6 up weekly.

DOWNTOWN 414 6th St. NW. New management; newly furn. and decorated rooms. $3.50 wk. up.

GRAND HOTEL Large, cool outside rooms; elevator service; $5 week. ME. 8352.

SENATE HOTEL 101 D St. N.E. Opposite Union Station; clean, quiet rooms with running water. $1.25 to $1.50 per day; weekly rates. Also apartments. LI. 5187.

IRVING ST. N.W., 1475
Large, cool rm., semipriv. bath, shower; $6 single, $7 double. AD. 0181.

WEBSTER ST. N.W., 1612.
Suite, 2 or 3 rms. (or separate); connecting bath; suitable several gentlemen; private home; near bus. Mornings to 11 and after 3 p. m. AD. 2472.

PONCE DE LEON,
4514 Conn. Ave. NW.
Unusually well-furnished room in private apt.; twin beds; southern exposure; $40. See resident manager or call CL. 3227.

COLORED—1778 Willard st. nw., nr. 18th and U sts.; nicely furnished rooms.

Furn. or Unfurn. 31

4TH ST. NW., 5700—Large, cheerful, front rm., private bath. Also room adjoining bath. Garage. GE. 4183.

Rooms—Unfurnished 32

610 L ST. NE.—2 rooms and kitchen; gas, electricity and heat included. Adults preferred.

PARK ROAD COURT.
1346 Park Rd. N.W., Apt. 201.
Front corner room, exposures, large closet; maid and linen service. Kitchen privileges; unlimited phone. Home of employed couple.

COLORED—1236 Irving st. nw. 2 rooms, kitchen and bath; nice pantry; gas, elec. Call COl. 0639 after 5 p. m.

Suburban Rooms 33

ARLINGTON, VA.—New home of Govt. employed couple; desir. rm.; trans. furn.; 15 min. downtown. WA. 1270-J.

30TH ST., 4006, Mt. Rainier, Md.—Newly furnished rm. suitable 1 or 2 gentlemen. priv. home; on bus line.

Room and Board 34

A ST. SE., 518—Attractively furnished, single and double rooms; with appetizing meals. Moderate. AT. 6595-J.

A BOARDING CLUB, downtown; excel. for Govt. clerks and business people; except. meals; very reas. 1124 12th st. nw.

ARE YOU interested in French? French family offers spacious studio room; southern exposure; board; cool corner; insulated home. Gentlemen. PO. 0458.

CHAPIN ST. NW., 1453—Front room, 2d floor, twin beds; conv. location; private home; reasonable; unlimited phone.

COLUMBIA RD. NW., 1358—Well furnished double, single room; running water.

CONN. AVE., 1830—Beautifully furnished, large front room, private bath, 3 young men. Excellent meals. Reasonable.

DUPONT CIRCLE (2128 O St. N.W.)—Front, double room; twin beds; closet; ladies pref.; excel. meals. NO. 0933-J.

DUPONT CIRCLE, 2131 Mass. ave.—Lovely, large, studio style room, for 2 or 3; large private bath and shower, tiled; also a cheerful single and double. Exceptionally good food, capably prepared and served. Just the kind of living conditions you would like to enjoy, along with 35 other young men and ladies; cost you no more to live in this former embassy home, located in one of the nicest residential districts. Walking distance downtown. See others and then see these rooms to be convinced that there's nothing better in the city at such reasonable prices. NOrth 9404.

K ST. NW., 1333—Adjoining Hamilton Hotel, near Govt. bldgs.; double, single; c. h. w.; excellent meals; reasonable.

KENNEDY ST. NW., 1438 (off 16th St.)—Detached home, attrac. dble. rm.; twin beds.; pvt. bath. Other vac. Excel. meals.

KILBOURNE PL. NW., 1712—Neatly furn. single room; home comforts; telephone etc.; $35. CO. 9558.

LANIER PL., 1775—Fine single room, 2nd floor; good meals. Reasonable.

MASS. AVE. NW., 1776—A distinctive home for young people in an unsurpassed location; reasonable.

MT. PLEASANT—Nr. Park—3103 19th nw. Single, double rm., nr. bath; private home. Nice table. $35. AD. 3667.

MODERN rest home for aged invalids and convalescents, lovely rooms; excellent care and diet. EM. 4677.

NEW GUEST HOUSE, 3420 Porter nw., off Conn.—Pleasant surroundings; single or dble. rm.; meals nicely served. EM. 9435.

PARK RD. NW., 1328—Best location in city. Reduce your cost of living. Live at Moore's. Clean rooms; single, double; Southern meals prepared by expert; breakfast, 5-10; dinner, 4-7; tasty sandwiches packed free. CO. 7956.

QUE ST. NW., 2009 (nr. Dupont Circle)—Single, dble. rm.; home-cooked meals. Men. DE. 5228.

TAFT HOUSE INN, 1603 K st. nw.—For young men; walking dist.; excel. meals.

VERMONT AVE., 1326—Attractive single, double rms.; excellent board; $25 up; electric water cooler; walking distance.

17TH ST. NE., 1006—Lovely large rm., excellent meals; near bus and cars; $7 week. Atlantic 3901.

14TH ST. NW., 3515—First floor, single room, 2 meals; unlimited phone; $35 month. COlumbia 3954.

16TH ST. N.W., 1401—A cool, comfortable home; ideally located; double, rear shower; room for 3; private bath; vacancy for girl; phone in all rooms; selective menus.

16TH ST. NW., 3145—Large, comfortable rm.; twin beds; next bath; also sgle. vacancies; well pre'd meals; reas. rates.

THE HENDERSON,
2460 16th st. nw.—Residential hotel with a mansion atmosphere. Best of food and service. Reasonable rates.

JUST OPENED.
2153 Florida Ave. N.W.
Block from Conn. and Que. Singles, doubles; all newly furn.; special low rates to first guests; meals optional.

THE CLUB EMBASSY,
1321 K st. nw.—Facing park. Nicely furnished, double room. Also single. Excellent food. Walking distance downtown.

Room and Board 34

2209 MASS AVE. N.W.
Sgle., dble. rms., all newly furn.; 1 lge. rm. with priv. bath; choice meals. Live at this distinctive address at no extra cost.

Apartments—Furnished 45

ATTRACTIVELY furnished 2 rooms, kitchenette; newly dec.; private home; cross-ventilation; adults. 1474 Clifton st. nw.

ATTRACTIVE apartments, centrally located; completely furnished; $65 mo.; within 5 min. downtown. MEt. 7983.

ATTRACTIVE apartments, new furniture; 2 or more employed adults. Call eves., Apt. 43, 1763 Col. rd. nw. COl. 1746.

BILTMORE ST., 1965—Basement apt., 3 large rooms, priv. bath, priv. entrance;

Use Post Want Ads to Sell Unused Articles for Useful Cash

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Houses—Unfurnished 56

Continued From Preceding Page.

$45 PER MONTH.
See this. Entire 2nd floor of duplex home; 3 rms., bath, porch, attic, basement, excel. cond. Yearly lease. Key at 48 Seaton pl. nw. (Near N. Capitol and T sts.)

2138 CALIFORNIA ST. N.W.
One-Half Block West Conn. Ave.
1 room, kitchen, bath.....$45.00
2 rooms, kitchen, bath.....50.00
3 rooms, kitchen, bath..$55.00 and 65.00
See Resident Manager.

1818 KALORAMA RD. N.W.
Modern Fireproof Building.
3 rooms, kitchen, bath, porch.....$55.00

1495 NEWTON ST. N.W.
CLARION APARTMENT.
1 room, bath.....$27.50
2 rooms, kitchen, bath.....45.00
3 rooms, kitchen, bath.....55.00
4 rooms, kitchen, bath, porch.....62.50

A. S. GARDINER,
1510 K St. N.W. NAtional 0334.

Houses—Rent or Sale 57

NEW BRICK BUNGALOW—4 rms., oil heat, slate roof, fireplace, garage, large lot. Owner will sacrifice for quick sale. 1827 Roosevelt, Arlington. WAlnut 7215-W.

Suburban—Rent 58

BEAUTIFUL MT. RAINIER—3 rms., $35; 4 rms., porch, $50; 3 rms., porch, $45; 1 rm., $15. Sun. after 12. GReen. 2309-W. 3620 33rd st.

HYATTSVILLE, MD. (2 Marion St.)—3 lge. rms., pvt. bath, entrance, porch; refrig., h.-w. h., elec., c. h. w.; pvt. home, newly dec.; reas. GReenwood 1455.

MT. VERNON HWAY.—20 min. D. C.; mod. 4-rm. cottage; partly furn or unfurn.; firepl.; 2 bedrms.; elec. kitch.; screened porch; cem. basemt.; fine heat. Alex. 31F4.

RIVERDALE, MD.—4 rms. and bath, furn., entire 2d fl.; G. E. refrig., heat, light, incl. Adults only. $50. Hyattsville 621-W.

RIVERDALE, Md., 301 Madison Ave., 2 rms., kit., bath; light, heat furnished; $30 mo. Hyattsville 493.

VA. HIGHLANDS, ARLINGTON, VA., 1004 19th st. south—7 rooms, bath, h.-w. h., tubs, screened porch, garage, lease, $57.50

5-ROOM, SEMIDETACHED HOUSE; modern conveniences. 1601 Fairfax dr., N. Arlington, Va. Clarendon 479-W.

3001 CEDAR ST., Mt. Rainier, Md.—3 rooms, $42.50; 4 rooms, $52.50; modern kitchen, elec., heat; h. w. included; newly decorated; open daily. GR. 3373.

FIVE large room, unfurnished; all modern conveniences; bath, porch; garage; 1 mile to District line; Southern Maryland. Call ATlantic 2252-W.

COLORED—New 5-rm. and bath modern bungalow; $40. Elec., gas, h.-w. h., elec. pump, large basement; laundry tubs. Nearby Virginia. Kirby, COl. 0037.

Shore-Waterfront—Rent 61

NORTH BEACH—4 rms.; screened porches; elec. range; comfortable, clean. RA. 0078.

TALL TMBERS—Beach front cottage; good fishing, bathing. CLeveland 3429.

Sale Co-operative Apts. 63A

ONLY $45 A MONTH OWNS
3 rooms, kit., bath; many convs.; bargain equity. Box 158, Washington Post.

Sale Investment Property 65

NEW SIX-ROOM BRICK HOUSE in Anacostia; rented $57.50; price, $5,750.

American University Park.
Detached house; good condition; rented at $55; price, $5,950.

Near 11th and Monroe Sts. N.W.
6-room brick; rented $55; price, $5,500.
MADISON BLDG. CO.
1417 K Street N.W.

$3,500—Second commercial; northwest location; 3 rooms and bath; rented at $40 per month.
POTOMAC REALTY CO.,
3503 Georgia Ave. NW. ADams 1303.

CHOICE INVESTMENT.
A new brick building, wonderfully built. Contains four units of 14 rooms, 4 baths and 4 large concrete, screened porches; excellent location. Send for leaflet giving complete information about THIS property. Each unit rents $45 month. Total, $2,160 year. Price, $15,500.
MADISON BUILDING CO., 1417 K St. NW.

Sale Houses 66

OVERLOOKING ROCK CREEK PARK—Quiet, shaded street, suburban atmosphere, in-town conveniences; six large rooms, porches, automatic heat, refrigeration; excellent condition. By owner, 3433 Oakwood Terrace nw. ADams 9734.

REPOSSESSED—Detached houses, $2,750 to $16,000. Ch. Ch., D. C. and nearby Va. and Md. Fed. Housing monthly pay less than rent; 20% cash. Tele. for list. Brokers attention. FULTON R. GORDON, 1427 Eye st. nw. DI. 5230. Evenings, CLev. 5091.

ROLLINGWOOD—New American Homes.
WAVERLY-TAYLOR, INC.
1322 K St. N.W. NAtional 1040.

6 ROOMS and bath; h.-w. h.; northwest section, convenient to stores, schools and transportation; price, $5,250.
POTOMAC REALTY CO.,
3503 Georgia Ave. NW. ADams 1303.

$5,950 — TUCKERMAN ST. NW. Near Georgia ave. shopping center. Semi-detached 6-room; tile bath; h. i. garage; newly decorated; terms. ME. 5400.

4622 43rd PL. N.W.
Modern semi-detached home in new residential section. Sacrifice price, $7,250. 6 rooms (3 bedrooms) and bath, full basement, hot-water heat; large lot 25x127. Open Sunday, 12 to 5 p. m.
UNION INVESTMENT CO.
207 Machinist Bldg. NA. 5536.

Near No. Capitol & R N.E.
Six rooms and bath. Hot-water heat. Newly decorated. A bargain at $5,000. $750 cash.
R. A. HUMPHRIES,
908 No. Capitol. Realtor. NA. 6732.

6 EYE ST. N.W.
A HOME WITH AN INCOME, NEAR GOVT. Printing Office and Union Station. 12 rooms, 3 baths, hot-water heat, double garage. A sacrifice at $6,950.
WM. H. SAUNDERS CO., INC.,
1519 K N.W. District 1015.

SILVER SPRING, MD.
2-story, 5-room colonial brick and frame; corner lot.
$400 CASH, $60 MO.
Five-room brick bungalow. Slate roof.
$300 CASH, $60 MO.
PHONE SHEPHERD 3234.

CHEVY CHASE, D. C.
6120 32d St. N.W.
Due to unusual circumstances, this lovely detached 2-bath brick home can be sold at a price below its actual value. This house has a first-floor bedroom and bath. Property has been appraised at $12,000. Phone COlumbia 1348 between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m., or POtomac 2333 evenings and Sundays, for complete details and appointment to inspect.

PETWORTH CORNER.
$6,750 — Attractive 2-story and cellar brick, center-hall plan; 6 rooms, bath, screened sleeping and breakfast porches; metal weatherstripping; hot-water heat (automatic); electricity. Between New Hampshire avenue and Soldiers' Home Park, above Rock Creek Church road.
L. T. GRAVATTE,
720 15th St. N.W. Realtor. NA. 0753.

WESLEY HEIGHTS
2923 FOXHALL ROAD
(Near Cathedral Ave.)
Lovely English type home on 80-ft. wooded lot, center entrance, 34-ft. living room with fireplace, 5 master bedrooms, 4½ baths. New condition oil heat; double garage. Open daily and Sunday.
R. E. LATIMER CO.
GEo. 8114. GEo. 1271.

In Historic
Old Georgetown
$12,500.00
All brick corner residence
11 rooms—8 fireplaces
2 baths (1 servant's)
Large Rooms—High Ceilings
For Inspection Appointment Call
C. H. Hillegeist Co.,
National 8500 or West 2379

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Sale Houses 66

ALL BRICK BUNGALOW
Priced under $7,000. This is an exceptionally beautiful home. Brick retaining wall in the front. Unusual landscaping. To inspect, call
FRANK V. McNAMARA,
Brightwood Bank Bldg.
Georgia and Concord Aves. RA. 1069.

OPEN 3 TO 7
$5,850—606 LAMONT ST. N.W.
Brick semidetached, 6 large rooms, automatic heat. TILE KITCHEN. Garage. Perfect condition. Terms.
LEO M. BERNSTEIN & CO. ME. 5400.

TRADE YOUR OLD HOME
FOR A NEW ONE
Call or Write
HARRY WARDMAN, INC.
1512 K St. N.W. Dist. 3830.

COLORED—U st. nw., near 18th st. 9 rooms, hot-water heat, electricity; $8,500. Terms. DEc. 1160.

Sale Lots 69

APPLETON ST.—2 lots in 3700 block; 40 ft. wide; at half price of adjacent property; within 2 blocks of Wilson High School. Terms cash. J. Frank Tiller, owner, RA. 1953.

CHEVERLY, MD.—2 exclusive lots; plenty of shade; for sale at give-away price of $1,000. We can arrange to build your home as you would like it.
CORD-KUTSCH CO.
83 Md. Ave., Hyattsville, Md. GR. 1826.

FOR SALE—Lot on 16th st., overlooking Rock Creek. Owner, Olyve M. Hancock, P. O. Idlewild, North Carolina.

LOTS FOR SALE.
Mass. Ave. Heights—Outstanding corner location in this splendid location offered for quick sale by out-of-town owner. Di. 6830.

Suburban Lots 69A

LARGE lot in Aurora Hills, Va.; about 7,200 square feet on hillside overlooking Washington; high-class neighborhood; all improvements in and paid for. Owner will sell at bargain. Call Aurora Hills Homes, Inc., JAckson 1866.

Sale Suburban 70

ARLINGTON COUNTY — Very attractive brand-new Dutch colonial; 7-room, all-stone house, with latest appointments; lovely fireplace; recreation room and extra lavatory; built-in garage; large landscaped lot; owner forced to sell; sacrifice, $7,950. J. C. HOSKINS, Lee hway and Lee blvd, Falls Church 507.

$4,950—Cozy, new home, 6 rooms, bath, oak floors, basement, h.-w. h.; 10c bus; $500 down, $55 mo. WA. 6959.

BRADDOCK HEIGHTS—Attractive new all-brick, 6 rooms, tile bath with shower, full basement. Insulated, weatherstripped. $6,350. Easy terms. MR. BRAND, Alex. 2352 or CL. 1925 between 6 and 7 p. m.

GAS FILLING STATION—2 pumps on 5-acre tract on Route 29, ½-mile west of Remington, Va., $3,000.
T. P. JOHNSON,
West Falls Church. Falls Ch. 735.

NEW brick, 8 rooms, 2 baths (as 2 apts.); Waycroft, $8,500. Apply 3243 No. Wash. blvd. WA. 7969. CLar. 1001.

VA.—12 mi. out, 4 acres, 6 room house, electricity, furnace heat, outbuildings, good garden land, plenty of fruit and shade, good road; near cars and buses. $3,700; good terms. J. A. BAKER & CO., 1112 N. Irving st., Clarendon, Va. WAlnut 7280.

HOMES—LOTS—ACREAGE.
KENSINGTON REALTY CO.
KENSINGTON, MD. KENS. 132.

MT. RAINIER, MD.
10 rooms and bath; h.-w.h.; all modern; lot 50x150; adaptable for 2 apts. OWNER LEAVING FOR FLORIDA, will sell at a give-away price of $6,000; $500 cash, balance easy payments.
CORD-KUTSCH CO.
83 Md. Ave., Hyattsville, Md. GR. 1826.

$100 DOWN—$50 MONTH.
New 5-room colonial solid brick bungalow, best construction, beautifully landscaped and ideally located; best buy in Alexandria. Call owner, ALex 3183, Saturday, Sunday or evenings.

Attractive Dutch Colonial.
FAIRFAX COUNTY, VA.
Three bedrooms, bath, sun parlor; h.-w. h.; two acres; beautiful grounds. Easy terms.
CLar. 1789. LEVINGTON. WA. 7164.

Sale Acreage 72

ATTENTION, BUILDERS.
133 acres, one-half mile S.E. of D. C., on macadam main highway; sacrificially priced for immediate sale at less than half of prevailing prices of adjoining properties; most outstanding investment in Metropolitan area.
THEODORE F. MENK,
CORNELIA M. BOWIE.
Sole Agents.
1724 20th St. N.W. POtomac 3707.

COUNTRY SPECIALISTS SINCE 1896. State your requirements. Waterfront, farms, lots, etc. Big exclusive list; bargains; terms. N. E. RYON CO., 1216 N. Y. ave.

Sale—Farms, Land 73

WELL-LOCATED farm of 50 acres, all necessary outbuildings, 10 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences, 12 miles from Wash. in Virginia. Beautiful shade, running stream, 2 acres of grape vineyard. $10,500.
FRENZEL, McLean, Va. Falls Ch. 587-W-1.

30-ACRE FARM—Morganza, Md. Very attractive home, concrete basement, also small cottage; large barn; all new, excellent water, electricity available. Stock and 350 chickens. A bargain at $3,750. For further information call Robt. Phillippe at farm or 1133 Queens st. ne.

98 ACRES, $8,500.
ASHTON NEIGHBORHOOD.
Very attractive farm, which backs up to the Patuxent River. Owner ill, compelled to give up farming, will sacrifice. Good 7-room house. Electricity. School bus to Sandy Spring. Some fruit.
R. D. LILLIE CO.,
264 Carroll St., Takoma Park. GE. 3301.

Sale—Out-of-Town 74

60 ACRES, 1 mi. from historic Gettysburg, Pa.; 9-room brick house; electricity, barn and other necessary buildings; recently painted; reasonable. See owner, 72 U st. nw., D. C.

Sale—Shores, Waterfront 75

THE IDEAL SITE, on Chesapeake Bay and State road. 5 acres, private sandy beach; 2 large cottages, one furnished, with artesian water; sacrifice $4,000; terms, exchange; will rent reasonable. ADams 3444.

FURN. log cabins, rent or sale. 2 scientists or college-graduate professionals; rent, $10 up to $35 wkly. Sandy Bay Beach, fossils, boats. Turn at Scientist's Cliff sign at Port Republic 4.6 miles beyond Prince Frederick, Md. PO. 4200, Ext. 703.

THREE-ROOM bungalow on salt water, 27 miles from Washington; bathing, boating, fishing, clubhouse, stores, house deliveries of groceries and ice; free school bus. Total price of bungalow, including two lots, $299. Easy terms. Box 107, Washington Post.

$500 DOWN—98 acres, 45 miles D. C. Southern Maryland; fine cedar lane; shore front with sandy bottom; price, $3,900. NA. 3753. LI. 5976-W.

WATERFRONT property for sale or exchange for city property. This property has 2 cottages and overlooks Chesapeake Bay and is an absolute give away at $10,000. The improvements to grounds and shrubbery cost close to $1,500.
CORD-KUTSCH CO.
83 Md. ave., Hyattsville, Md. GR. 1826.

WOODLAND POINT—Four acres on waterfront for only $450. 100-foot lots on the Potomac for only $100. Woodland Point offers every opportunity expected of a real waterfront
THE MARYLAND REALTY.
Kent R. Mullikin, Pres.
915 Tenth St. N.W. National 8095.

Real Estate Wanted 76

SMALL brick houses purchased quickly if reasonably priced. Cash for equity over first trust. Phone CO. 1346, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Eves. and Sunday EM. 0289.

WANT TO BUY HOUSES.
HARRY B. PITTS CO.
1019 15th St. N.W. ME. 0100.

WANT REAL ESTATE TO SELL.
ROBERT L. McKEEVER CO., INC.
Shoreham Bldg. NA. 4750.

WANTED.
FARMS TO SELL.
ACREAGE FOR SUBDIVISION.
N. C. HINES & SONS, Auctioneers.
1511 K St. N.W., Washington, D. C. DI. 7740.

Dogs, Cats, Pets 79

ENGLISH BULLDOG PUPPIES.
GREAT DANES—ALL AGES.
DOGS BOARDED.
Mrs. R. D. Lindsey, Colesville, Md., 8½ miles from signal light in Silver Spring.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Dogs, Cats, Pets 79

COCKER SPANIEL puppies, black. 9 wks. Grandsire, champion. "My Own Pilot." 1207 Sheridan st. nw.

Horses—Livestock 81

4 YOUNG work mares, 4 large horses, 1 low-priced horse. 110 M st. se.

Sale Miscellaneous 83

DEALERS ADS under this heading contain a firm name or a business address or state the word "Dealer." Other ads are presumed to be from private individuals. Readers who And dealers masquerading in this column as private individuals are urged to report the matter to The Washington Post.

ACCORDIONS—Before purchasing a piano accordion, it's to your advantage to see Droop's first. 1300 G st. nw.

ANTIQUES—BIG 25c REMOVAL SALE. Pressed glass, china, silver, furniture, books, pictures. Edelson, 618 5th st. nw.

ANTIQUES—6-piece sterling silver tea service. 5-piece Sheffield Paul Revere service and several others at lowest prices in the city. Flat and hollow ware of all descriptions. A visit to our shop will save you many dollars on your purchases in the future. Murray Galleries, 1724 20th st. nw. NO. 4008.

BED-DIVAN—Like new. Sacrifice, $16. Cost $36.95. 13 9th st. ne.

CAMERA LENSES, photographic equipment, binoculars, projectors bought, sold, Capital Camera Exchange, 1003 Pennsylvania ave. nw.

DESKS, chairs, tables, files and other used office furniture. H. Baum & Sons, 616 E st. nw.

KHANBAH (India) RUG, 9x12. Excell. condition, $200; selling for less than ½ original price. WI. 4575.

LIVING ROOM suite, 2 pieces; used in our rental department; only $17.50.
H. BAUM & SONS. 616 E St. N.W.

LIVING RM., dining rm., furniture, rugs, dishes, kitchenware. Many miscellaneous items. 1567 44th st. nw. EM. 2563.

MAGAZINES, back numbers; all kinds, 1c per copy. 1625 Newton st. nw.

PIANO—Beaut. Chickering upright, Rosewood; will sacr. 1750 16th nw. Apt. 606.

PIANOS FOR RENT—$3 per month and up. Rental paid applies on purchase price if you buy later. NAt. 4730. Kitt's, 1330 G st.

PIANO—Latest model, small size, full keyboard, apartment upright; used for less than four months and just like new, $160. A repossession. It can be bought by merely continuing the balance of the small monthly payments. NAtional 3223. Arthur Jordan Piano Co., 1239 G st., corner 13th.

PIANO, Gable & Sons; will exchange for Ford or Chevrolet used car or $60.00 cash. Apply 2806 Channing st. ne.

PIANO—Knabe upright in splendid condition, $145 on easy terms. A fine instrument very well toned. NAt. 4730. Kitt's, 1330 G st.

PIANO—Modern style mahogany baby grand in good condition, $195 on easy terms. NAt. 4730. Kitt's, 1330 G st.

PIANOS FOR RENT—$3 per month and up. All rental paid applies on the purchase price if you decide to buy later. NAt. 4730. Kitt's, 1330 G st.

RADIO—Philco, 7 tubes, beautiful cabinet; original price, $60.50; now $14.95; terms. F. S. Harris Co., 2900 14th st. nw.

REFRIGERATOR—Kelvinator, 6 cu. ft.; guaranteed; $79.50; $1 down, $1 week. F. S. Harris Co., 2900 14th st. nw.

SACRIFICE—Diamond platinum wedding ring, 42 stones. DIst. 6545.

SEWING MACHINES, electrics, treadles; Bargains; all guaranteed 1 yr. Renting, repairing. 2412 18th nw. CO. 3245.

SIMPLEX MANGLE, size 42. Will sell for less than half price. Perfect condition. 2111 G st. nw. WE. 2947.

SMALL GRAND PIANO—Will sell this well-known grand at a saving of $150; only slightly used; terms. F. A. NORTH PIANO CO., 1231 G street nw.

STUDIO couch, practically new; also typewriter. AD. 8710, Apt. 205.

STUDIO Couches (2); used in our rental dept., $9.50 each. H. Baum & Sons, 616 E st. nw.

TYPEWRITERS — All makes, reasonably priced. New portables, $1 week. We rent, repair. Stand. Typewriter Co. 723 10th nw.

WASHER—Graybar Spinner, reconditioned, guaranteed, $29.50. Terms, $1 week. F. S. Harris Co., 2900 14th st. nw.

2 RUGS—Room size. A Hudson seal coat. Leaving for Miami at once. Sacrifice, DIst. 0718.

Sloane's Armstrong's CEMENTED TO FLOOR. INLAID—$1.38 Sq. Yd. DI. 7410.
Royal Rug & Linoleum Co., 11th & H nw.

ARE YOU READY FOR SWELTERING SUMMER
DAYS AND NIGHTS?
ELECTRIC FANS.
ALL TYPES AND SIZES.
RUDOLPH & WEST CO.
1332 New York Ave. N.W. NA. 4870.

LUMBER.

2x4—up to 12 feet	$26.50
2x4—over 12 feet	$26.50
2x6 and 2x8—up to 16 feet	$28.50
2x10 and 12	$31.00
1x6—T. G. Roofers	$28.50
1x8—Sheathing	$28.50
1x6—German Siding No. 2 Com.	$40.00

DOORS, SASH AND MILLWORK.
Free Delivery in Va., D. C. and Md.
Arlington Coal & L'ber Co.,
2805 Jeff Davis Hwy. JAckson 1880.

Coal, Fuel Oil, Wood 83A

ARLINGTON COAL CO.
2,240 Lbs. to Ton.
All coal sacked and carried in free.

Virginia Hard Pea	$7.00
Virginia Hard Nut	$8.50
Virginia Hard Stove	$8.75
Pocahontas Stove	$9.00
Blue Banner Egg	$7.50

Washington Telephone—JA. 1880.

Miscellaneous Wanted 84

ANTIQUE JEWELRY, discarded large and small watches, dental gold; special high prices paid. Schiller Bros., 922 F st. nw.

BOOKS BOUGHT—All kinds, any quantity. Bring them or phone G. David Pearlman. 1407 G st. nw. ME. 5415.

GOLD OR PLATINUM JEWELRY AND SILVERWARE AND GOLD TEETH, ANY CONDITION. WE PAY CASH. A. KAHN, INC., 45 YEARS AT 935 F ST. NW.

HOUSEWIVES—We are paying 40c cwt. for newspapers delivered. Equivalent high prices for all other junk. Federal Junk Co., 1125 1st st. nw. DI. 9594.

SCRAP iron, 47c per 100; newspapers, 40c per 100. Just give us a call.
JOHNNIE'S JUNK CO.,
610-618 Delaware Ave. S.W. ME. 3670.

I BUY FURNITURE. DI. 0474
1 PIECE OR 1,000. DAY AND NIGHT.

CASH FOR OLD GOLD
LOUIS ABRAHAMS, 711 G ST. N.W.

SPOT CASH PAID IMMEDIATELY.
OLD GOLD AND SILVER
WATCHES, DIAMONDS AND ANY OLD disclosed Jewelry or Gold Teeth.
SELINGER'S, 818 F ST. N.W

Boats—Sale or Hire 86

19-FOOT vee-bottom fishing boat with new 20 h. p. marine motor. Cost $600. Will sell for $350. Call National 3406 or Temple 3567.

Wanted—Automobiles 88

CASH FOR YOUR CAR.
Whether Car Is Paid For or Not.
SEE MR. BARNES, 1739 14TH ST.

INSPECTOR WADE — 'The Black.' — By Edgar Wallace

Reprinted U. S. Patent Office

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Wanted—Automobiles 88

DEALERS ATTENTION.
Will trade Indian Motorcycle Delivery for a 1932 Ford V-8 Coupe. 2125 14th st. nw. DE. 1175.

Cash For Late Model Cars.
Our large demand enables us to pay higher cash prices. If car is not fully paid for, we take care of unpaid balance.
See Us Today.
MANHATTAN AUTO & RADIO CO.
1706 7th St. NW. NO. 7357.

Auto Service 90

Auto Glass Installed, $4.50. Any Car.
GLASSER'S.
2d and Fla. Ave. NE. DI. 3670.

Trucks for Sale 97-A

FORD—1935 Sedanette, brand-new paint, good tires first-class mechanical condition; $275. Sterrett Operating Service, 30 M st. nw. ME. 0505.

Panels, Stakes, Flats
All types and sizes, including 1937 Federal 2½-ton tractor; only 6 weeks old. Very reasonable. Terms. All priced for quick sale.
SHERIFF MOTOR CO.,
900 Rhode Island Ave. N.E.
Open Sundays and Evenings.

Sale—Automobiles 98

BUICK, '37 4-Door Touring Sedans—Built-in Trunks.
Six to choose from. Driven less than 600 miles. Official cars and company owned demonstrators; new-car title and warranty; all reduced from $75 to $350; all series and most body styles. Your "once-in-a-lifetime" chance for that new Buick at tremendous savings.
WADE BUICK CO.
Silver Spring, Md. Opp. B. & O. Station.
Open Evenings Till 10.

BUICK $259
1932 Sedan, 4-door. Model 32-67, reduced $70 2 days only. A real honest-to-goodness Buick bargain. Thoroughly reconditioned by our factory-trained mechanics and runs and looks like a new car. Motor, tires, interior and original Brewster green finish are perfect. Drive out tonight for an appraisal—you'll get a better trade. Don't miss this; it's a bargain. New-car guarantee. Any terms. SH. 3272.
WADE BUICK CO.
Silver Spring, Md. Opp. B. & O. Station.
Open Evenings Till 10.

BUICK $349
1933 Sedan, 4-door, 60 series, reduced $100 for 2 days only. This car belonged to an elderly gentleman, a neighbor of ours, and has never been driven over 40 m. p. h. and has never been driven out of town. Actually driven less than 2 years and is equal to a new car in every respect. The most unusual and outstanding Buick bargain ever offered for sale. See it today. New-car guarantee. Will give you a better trade and you name your own terms. A once-in-a-lifetime bargain. Drive out tonight. SH. 3272.
WADE BUICK CO.
Silver Spring, Md. Opp. B. & O. Station.
Open Evenings Till 10.

BUICK—1937 Convertible Coupe; 909 actual miles; substantial savings; terms and trade. Cook-Walker Co., 1231 20th st. nw. NA. 6561.

BUICKS—New 1937 2-Door and 4-Door Sedans With Built-in Trunks.
(Small series.) Seven colors to choose from. Drive out for an appraisal on your old car this evening—it will undoubtedly makes the down payment. Monthly payments to suit your purse.
WADE BUICK CO.
Silver Spring, Md. Opp. B. & O. Station.
Open Evenings Till 10.

BUICK $239
1932 Sedan, 4-door (32-57 small series). Reduced $75 2 days only. Most popular series ever built by Buick. A very economical car to run and honestly in new-car condition throughout. One owner. A glance will convince you it's had unusually good care. Motor, tires and original finish like new. Fully guaranteed. Name your own payments. SH. 3272.
WADE BUICK CO.
Silver Spring, Md. Opp B. & O. Station.
Open Evenings Till 10.

BUICK $439
1934 Touring Sedan. Built-in trunk (small series). Reduced $80 2 days only. One owner. Actually in use less than one year. New-car condition throughout. Radio. New $30 lustrous black finish. Motor, tires and interior absolutely perfect. New-car guarantee. Name your terms. SH. 3272.
WADE BUICK CO.
Silver Spring, Md. Opp. B. & O. Station.
Open Evenings Till 10.

CHEVROLET—1936 Coupe, practically new. Only $495. Easy terms. Standard Motor Sales, 1605 14th st. nw. NO. 2298.

CHEVROLET $465
1936 Sport Coupe. Low mileage. De luxe equipped. Actually looks and runs like new. You will have to act quick, for the price on this car is only $465.
COVINGTON BUICK CO.
6901 Wisconsin Ave. Open Evenings.
Wisconsin 5010 or Wisconsin 5144

CHEVROLET $560
1936 Touring Sedan. Original green finish. New tires, perfect motor, low mileage, radio, heater, automatic hand brake, electric clock. The used car buy of the year. See Mr. Franklin.
HOHENSEE MOTORS, INC.
Chrysler-Plymouth.
23 Laurel Ave., Tak. Pk., Md. SH. 4394.
OPEN SUNDAY.

CHRYSLER $585
1935 Sport Coupe. If you're looking for class, if you're looking for performance, if you're looking for economy . . . don't pass this sporty Chrysler by. Equipped with radio, heater, General tires, dual accessories, spotless upholstery, rumble seat, metal tire cover and a powerful motor that is ready for any test. This will give you some idea of the many bargains at our new open-air showroom. Shop here before you buy. Our reputation insures your purchase.
H. B. LEARY, JR., & BROS.
4500 Wisconsin ave. Corner Albemarle st.
Open evenings. POtomac 3297.

CHRYSLER 1937
Imperial 4-Door Sedan. This car was traded on an Imperial before it was actually broken in. Real economy for the buyer who wants the most for his money. Equipped with radio; overdrive; built-in trunk; broadcloth upholstery; rear wheel shields and all dual accessory group. Practically new and will sacrifice to move at once. Drive it yourself, you'll agree that it performs better than any car on the market today. Unconditionally guaranteed. Convenient terms.
H. B. LEARY, JR., & BROS.,
1321 14TH ST. N.W.
Open Evenings. POt. 4900.

DODGE $369
1934 de luxe 4-door Sedan (D. R. series). Reduced $80 2 days only. Here's the biggest Dodge bargain on the entire market. One owner and actually in use less than 2 years. You can take our word for it—this car is actually in new-car condition from bumper to bumper. Radio, heater, practically new tires. All upholstery has been covered since new with tailor-made seat covers. Original black finish shines like new and is without a blemish. This car has never been been driven over 40 m. p. h. and is perfect as the day it rolled off the showroom floor. This is actually a new car at a used-car bargain price. New-car guarantee. Name your own terms. We also have 6 other late model Dodges to choose from. All in absolutely perfect condition and guaranteed prices reduced $60-$80 apiece during our 2-day sale. SH. 3272.
WADE BUICK CO.
Silver Spring, Md. Opp. B. & O. Station.
Open Evenings Till 10.

DODGE—1933 Late D. F. Series Sport Coupe. Heater, radio. This popular model in unusually nice condition. Come and see for yourself. Seeing is believing. Priced below the market, $260. "Guaranteed and Safety Tested."
COMMUNITY MOTORS, INC.
6621 Wisconsin Ave. (Bethesda.) WI. 5475.

DODGE $75 DOWN
1935 2-door Sedan. In perfect condition in every respect. This car has had exceptional care and shows it. Very low mileage. See and drive this car today and agree with us that it is a rare bargain. Always more for your trade-in at
SMOOT MOTOR CO.,
1735 N. Moore St., Rosslyn, Va.
3342 M St. NW. WE. 1850.

DODGE $445
1935 De Luxe 2-door Trunk Sedan. Radio, heater, other de luxe accessories. Excellent paint. All good tires, good clean upholstery, splendid motor.
COVINGTON BUICK CO.
6901 Wisconsin Ave. Open Evenings.
Wisconsin 5010 or Wisconsin 5144.

FORD—1933 Tudor Sedan, black paint, red wheels and trim, heater, good tires, mechanically O. K. $9 down. TOM'S AUTO, 637 N st. nw.

FORD—1935 Coupe. One of the best values in town at $369. Trew Motor Co., 14th st. and Pa. ave. se.

FORD—Coupe, '34; radio, new tires; clean; reas.; owner leaving town. LI. 2455-W.

FORD—1936 Tudor Sedan. Cost $449; $25 down and easy terms. Handley Motors, 3730 Georgia ave. AD. 6062.

FORDS—Convertible Coupes. Money-back guarantee. 1933 for $269; terms, $9 down; balance, 18 months. 1934 for $315; $15 down, $21 per month. 1935 for $425. Radio and heater. LOGAN'S (Ford), 18th and M sts. nw.

FORDS—1936 Tudor Sedan and Coupe. Three of each. Only $449 each. Any terms you want. Money-back guarantee. LOGAN'S (Ford), 18th and M sts. nw.

FORD—1935 Coupe, Tudor Sedan and Fordor Sedan. Only $349 each. Terms, $49 down; balance, $21 per month. Money-back guarantee. No cosigners. LOGAN'S (Ford), 18th and M sts. nw.

FORD—1934 Tudor Sedan. Original finish like new, new tires, clean upholstery. Only $289; $5 down; balance, $19 per month. Money-back guarantee. No cosigners. LOGAN'S (Ford), 18th and M sts. nw.

FORDS—1933 Tudor and Fordor Sedans. Both are very clean de luxe models. Only $249 each. Terms, $4 down; balance, $17 per month. Money-back guarantee. No indorsers. LOGAN'S (Ford), 18th and M sts. nw.

FORD $429
1936 Coupe. Radio, heater and all de luxe equipment. Honestly like new from bumper to bumper. In use only 8 months by original owner. Motor, tires, interior and original finish absolutely perfect. This is honestly Washington's outstanding Ford bargain. New-car guarantee and terms. Your car as down payment. Drive out tonight and save $90. $429.
WADE BUICK CO.
Silver Spring, Md. Opp. B. & O. Station.
Open Evenings Till 10.

FORD $239
1934 De Luxe Cabriolet. A sporty, peppy car that has just about everything that anybody could ask of it. Good tires, clean interior, and finish as good as new. We recommend this car highly and back it to the limit with our guarantee. Stop in Monday and get a real thrill driving it. Terms can be arranged to suit you.
ARCADE PONTIAC CO.,
Two Locations.
1419 Irving St. N.W.
N. Y. Ave. & Bladensburg Rd. N.E.

HUDSON $585
1936 De Luxe 4-Door Sedan. This is a bargain. Equipped with new electric hand shift, the latest improvement. All dual accessories; beautiful blue finish; red trim. Has all the pep and power that has made Hudson famous. Get behind this wheel and judge for yourself. Unconditionally guaranteed. Convenient terms.
H. B. LEARY, JR., & BROS.,
1321 14TH ST. N.W.
Open Evenings. POt. 4900.

OLDS $289
1933 "6" 5-passenger touring Coupe. Built-in trunk. Reduced $70 2 days only. In use less than 2 years by original owner and is honestly in new-car condition throughout. Here's the biggest Olds bargain on the entire market. If you're interested in an Olds you positively cannot afford to miss this unusual value. Fully guaranteed. Any terms you want. We'll give you a better trade. SH. 3272.
WADE BUICK CO.
Silver Spring, Md. Opp. B. & O. Station.
Open Evenings Till 10.

OLDSMOBILE—1935 6-cylinder, 4-door trunk sedan. Perfect black finish, clean upholstery, 4 new U. S. tires. Motor will please most exacting buyer. Priced to sell for $525. "Guaranteed and Safety Tested."
COMMUNITY MOTORS, INC.
6621 Wisconsin Ave. (Bethesda.) WI. 5475.

OLDSMOBILE—1936 5-Pass. Tour. Sedan. 6-cyl. Excellent paint, all good tires, spotless upholstery and a real motor. Even though we are under the market, this kind of transportation cannot be duplicated at the price we are asking, $635. C. C. C. guaranty. Open evenings.
CAPITOL CADILLAC CO.
1222 22d St. N.W. NAtl. 3300.

PACKARD 1937
Super "8" 4-door Touring Sedan. Company official car. Can be purchased at a substantial saving. New-car guarantee. Six-wheel equipped.
WALLACE MOTOR CO.
1520 14th St. N.W. PO. 3900.

PLYMOUTH—1935 De Luxe (2) Sedan. Built-in trunk; beautiful blue finish. Only $439. Evans-Palmer, New York and Florida aves. ne.

PACKARD $695
8, 1934 5-passenger Sedan. Here is a perfect used car—beautiful black finish, interior like new, and a motor that fairly hums to the tune of perfection. Chauffeur driven—best care. An outstanding offer. Terms if desired. See Mr. Franklin.
HOHENSEE MOTORS, INC.,
(Chrysler and Plymouth.)
23 Laurel ave., Takoma Park Md. SH. 4394.
OPEN SUNDAY.

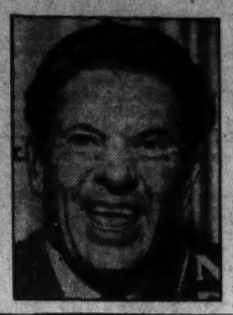
PLYMOUTHS—"Annual One-Dozen Sale." Just 12 of these nearly new automobiles at a tremendous savings to you. Coast-In, Inc., 6th and Florida ave. ne. ATlantic 7200.

PLYMOUTH $695
1937 4-door De Luxe Sedan. Radio. Very low mileage. See this beautiful car and you will buy it for the low price.
COVINGTON BUICK CO.
6901 Wisconsin Ave. Open Evenings.
Wisconsin 5010 or Wisconsin 5144.

PONTIAC $385
1935 Tudor, luggage compartment. A remarkable value at this price. Inspect and compare our prices with others.
HYATTSVILLE AUTO CO.
Hyattsville, Md. GReenwood 1810.

PONTIAC—'34 4-door trunk sedan. Radio. Excellent black finish, spotless upholstery. 5 nearly new tires. Performance will please. In fact it is above the average in every way. $365. "Guaranteed and Safety Tested."
Community Motors, Inc.,
6621 Wisconsin Ave. (Bethesda.)

Bob Burns Says—



I think there's a good lesson in every success story. I know a bunch of reporters that went out to get the success story of a man because he had been wiped out in the market, and then in a few months he came back stronger than ever. They told him they admired his courage for having come back after losing everything and they thought his story would be an inspiration to their readers.

The man put a cigar in his mouth and he got up and paced the floor with his thumbs in his suspenders and says, "Well, boys, it wasn't easy." He said, "When I lost everything, I didn't mope around and get discouraged and give up the ghost. No, sir! I gritted my teeth and borrowed $5,000 from my brother!"

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

BIG CHIEF WAHOO

By Saunders and Woggon

TRAPPED IN A TURKISH BATH, WITH THE MAGIC LOVE CHARM OF THE RAJAH OF RAZ-MAH-TAZ ON HIS SUSPENDERS, WAHOO SEEKS THE NEAREST REFUGE
DID HE GO THIS WAY?
I FEEL SO SILLY! I NEVER RAN AFTER A MAN BEFORE IN ALL MY LIFE!
THERE WAS SOMETHING STRANGELY ATTRACTIVE ABOUT THAT LITTLE INDIAN— THE JEWEL HE WAS WEARING SEEMED TO DRAW ME!
STEAM CABINET
30 MINUTES LATER
WELL, WE CAN'T STAND HERE ALL DAY TALKING. MY! IT'S WARM NEAR THAT STEAM CABINET!
THERE HE IS!
UGH! HOT BOX GOT HEAP STRONG MAGIC! EITHER IT MAKE UM WAHOO BIG OR MAKE UM PANTS LITTLE!
Indian SLANGO
FLASH-LIGHT is "SUNSHINE-IN-UM-STICK" —DOWN LEE ROTH
FOREST FIRE is "HEAP-BIG-SMOKE-SIGNAL" —HARLAN LOHR
CATERPILLAR is "WORM-WITH-UM-FUR-COAT-ON" —MAURINE BUSHEY

JANE ARDEN

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Tommy Objects.

By Monte Barrett and Russell Ross

ROY POWERS, EAGLE SCOUT

Rocky Runs Away!

By Paul Powell

ROY UNSUCCESSFULLY INTERVIEWS MR. LUND THE JEWELER AND MRS. KEELER IN AN ATTEMPT TO GET AID FOR ROCKY'S DAD, MR. JONES ACCUSED OF STEALING A VALUABLE LOCKET. MR. JONES LEFT SHELDON BUT WROTE ROCKY THAT THE LOCKET AND THE BOAT HAD DISAPPEARED ON COPPER LAKE. THE SCOUTS DRAG COPPER LAKE BUT FIND NOTHING.
HANG IT! I THOUGHT SURE WE'D FIND THAT BOAT. POOR ROCKY—HE HAD A JOB TO KEEP FROM BAWLING!
WHY SHOULD A GOOD KID LIKE ROCKY HAVE SO MUCH TROUBLE, ANYWAY?
BACK AT PATROL HEADQUARTERS
I CAUSED ENOUGH TROUBLE TO ROY AND THE GANG, NOW THERE'S ONLY ONE THING TO DO. I GOT TO FIND DAD AND THEN WE CAN BOTH FIGHT THIS OUT TOGETHER —
MEANWHILE AT ROY'S HOUSE, WHERE HE HAS BEEN STAYING, ROCKY REACHES AN IMPORTANT DECISION.
SORRY TO RUN OUT ON ROY AND THE BEAVER PATROL BOYS—BUT THEY'LL UNDERSTAND—WHEN A KID HAS A FIGHT ON HIS HANDS, HE'S A COWARD IF HE 'SPECTS ANYBODY ELSE TO DO IT FOR HIM — UNIFORM BADGES AND INSIGNIA HONOR MEDAL

DON WINSLOW OF THE NAVY—

Look Aloft!

By Frank V. Martinek

Lieut. Comdr., U. S. N. R.

Hear Don Winslow on the air—4:30 p. m. today—WRC

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO JOHN BARROW? A FAST ELEVATOR SPEEDS MANAGER BLAKE AND THE CHIEF HOUSE DETECTIVE TO THE PENT-HOUSE APARTMENT ON TOP OF THE HOTEL VOLLENDAM 24TA.
THE DOOR'S BOLTED INSIDE! HE'S IN THERE SURE ENOUGH!
HEY! MISTER BARROW...CAN YOU HEAR ME?
MEANWHILE, WINSLOW AND PENNINGTON HAVE RUSHED OVER FROM THEIR HOTEL
LOOK ALOFT, RED··· SOMETHING'S DANGLING OUTSIDE A WINDOW WAY UP THERE
YEAH, BUT THAT'S WAY BELOW BARROW'S PENT-HOUSE, WITH AN OVERHANGING ROOF BETWEEN··· FORGET IT, SKIPPER···! LET'S GO!
8-30

NED BRANT—A Story of College Athletics

By Bob Zuppke

Famous Football Coach.

8-30
PRESIDENT DONALDSON WANTS TO SEE YOU, COACH
THANKS, BUD— BE THERE IN A MINUTE
IT'S ABOUT THE NEW DEAN OF MEN, COACH BRANT
AND WHAT HAS HE DONE NOW, SIR?
HE SEEMS A BIT—ER—ECCENTRIC
ECCENTRIC? I THINK HE'S GOT SOMETHING UP HIS SLEEVE
SLEEVE? SOMETHING IN IT? WHAT DO YOU MEAN, BRANT?
IF YOU CALL HIM IN, I'LL DEMONSTRATE MY POINT

"INSPECTOR WADE"

A THRILLING NEW DAILY COMIC BASED ON THE WORLD FAMOUS MYSTERY STORIES BY EDGAR WALLACE—ON THE CLASSIFIED AD PAGE

LALA PALOOZA

A Peculiar Twist.

By Rube Goldberg

THE CHIEF WANTS TO SEE YOU— QUICK?
OKAY— I'M ON MY WAY!
SO—YOU WERE GOING TO HAVE THIS GIRL OUT OF THE WAY TODAY?
I DID MY BEST, CHIEF— BUT SHE JUMPED OUT OF THE BOAT!
IF YOU'D JUST LET ME HANDLE HER, CHIEF—
ALL RIGHT, JOHN— YOU HANDLE HER NOW— SHE'S GOT ONE OF OUR HOT BILLS— GET GOING!
YOU KNOW WHAT HE'LL DO, CHIEF— WE DON'T WANT ANY ROUGH STUFF—
CAN THE CHICKEN HEARTED STUFF— LEAVE THIS TO ME!

MICKEY FINN

By Lank Leonard

SO YOU'RE TH' TWO BIRDS WHAT BEEN TRYIN' T'FOOL US INTO THINKIN' OL' MAN THORNTON'S GHOST WAS HAUNTIN' THIS PLACE— WE GOT YER RED-HANDED.
Y'BIG BUZZARD, SCARIN' MISS LALA NISH ON T'SWOONIN' WITH YER SPOOK TRICKS! NOW, TELL US WHO Y'ARE BEFORE I BLOW YER LOOSE FROM THAT DANDRUFF-CATCHER WITH MY DOUBLE-BARRELLED BETSY ANN!
KRUNCH
KRUNCH
SUCH STRENGTH!

DIXIE DUGAN

Kiss the Bride!

By J. P. McEvoy and H. J. Striebel

MICKEY HAS SIGNED A CONTRACT WITH STUPENDOUS PICTURES, INC. TO PLAY THE LEAD IN THE MOVIE "KING OF THE JUNGLE"
...HE IS TO MAKE THE FILM WHILE ON HIS VACATION FROM THE FORCE!
—AND YOU'RE SURE I'LL GET BACK IN TIME TO REPORT FOR DUTY?
CERTAINLY! PRODUCTION WILL START AS SOON AS YOU REACH HOLLYWOOD— YOU'LL GO BY PLANE, OF COURSE.
STUPENDOUS PICTURES INC.
BUT UNCLE PHIL —WE OUGHTA HURRY HOME AND PACK— WHY MUST YOU HAVE SOME MADE NOW?
SO I'LL HAVE 'EM READY IN CASE ANY CASTING DIRECTOR WANTS ME TO PLAY A PART! —THEY ALWAYS WANT TO KNOW HOW YOU PHOTOGRAPH FIRST!
CLICK
WHAT'S THE MATTER?
IT BROKE!

JOE PALOOKA

Still Around.

By Ham Fisher

AND SO BERTHA THE COOK AND THOMAS THE BUTLER ARE MARRIED AT LAST AFTER MANY YEARS OF "SILENT LOVE"
8-30
I NOW PRONOUNCE YOU MAN AND WIFE
WELL—??? ;GULP; WHAT ARE YOU WAITING FOR? SIGH
IT'S CUSTOMARY TO KISS THE BRIDE, THOMAS ;GULP; UH— DO YOU MIND? N-NO, THOMAS SIGH
SMACK
OH— DEARIE ME

APPLE MARY AND DENNIE

By Martha Orr

QUICK, SIT 'IM IN TH' DRESSIN' ROOM.
WHEW! THAT MANIAC IS STILL AT LARGE WITH TH' GUN.
WHAT MANIAC? WHAT IS IT ALL ABOUT?
I COULDN'T TELL YA BEFORE—THERE WAS A GUY IN TH' AUDIENCE WITH A GUN. HE THREATENED TO SHOOT YA.
PER MEVVINS SAKES! AN' YOUSE TRIED T'SHIELT ME YERSELF.
AN'···AN' YA AIN'T SAFE YET. HE'S STILL SOMEWHERES AROUND. WHEW!

BENNY

Gone With the Wind.

By J. Carver Pusey

WELL, OFFICER, THERE'S SUNNY, AND OF COURSE, ME—
ANY LITTLE GIRLS IN THIS CAR?
I KNOW IT'S WRONG TO BE SO FLIP, DENNIE, BUT I'M TIRED OF HAVING THEM ASK ME IF THAT LITTLE RUNAWAY GIRL, PEGGY, IS WITH US.
THEY CAN SEE SHE ISN'T. GOODNESS, I WISH I KNEW WHERE THE POOR CHILD IS. I'D LIKE TO HELP HER.
I DON'T THINK WE'LL BE STOPPED ANY MORE, NOW. HERE'S THE STATE LINE.
SWELL! COME ON OUT THE COAST IS CLEAR!
PEGGY!!
GOLDEN ROD
SNIFF SNIFFLE
AT-CHEW

R. W. Gates 3d Funeral Is Set For Tomorrow

Youth Was Second Victim of Fatal Delaware Auto Crash.

Funeral services for Robert Woodland Gates 3d, 21, of Washington, who died early yesterday from injuries received in an automobile crash near Wilmington, Del., will be tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the Hines funeral chapel, 2901 Fourteenth street northwest. Burial will be conducted privately.

Gates died in Delaware Hospital at Wilmington a few hours after the car in which he was riding ran off the highway and crashed into a tree. The driver of the car, Gwendolyn Moore, 21, of Reading, Pa., was killed instantly and three other passengers were injured.

Born in Chicago, Gates graduated two years ago from Central High School, where he excelled in football and track. He was employed by the brokerage firm of G. M. P. Murphy.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will L. Gates, and a sister, Mariann Gates, survive. His father is an attorney with the Department of Justice.

Mrs. Fisher Dead Of Heart Attack

Mrs. Magdalene C. Fisher, 73, for 15 years superintendent of the Baptist Home, 3248 N street northwest, died yesterday of a heart attack while on vacation at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Mrs. Fisher had lived in Washington for the last 30 years. She was a former chaplain of Unity Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and for many years had been active in the Metropolitan Baptist Church, where she was a deaconess and taught a Bible class.

She was also active in founding the Baptist Children's Home, now at Bethesda, Md., and was its first superintendent. Later she was made a trustee of the Children's Home and superintendent of the Baptist Home, which she headed until retirement last year.

Born in New York City, Mrs. Fisher lived in Rochester for several years before coming to Washington. Her husband was the late George W. Fisher, who died more than 40 years ago.

She leaves a son, Clarence G. Fisher, and two daughters, Mrs. Daniel C. Shankle and Mrs. Mildred M. Long, all of Washington.

Miss Judith Steele Rites Tomorrow

Miss Judith Leroy Steele, 74, resident of Washington since 1900 and former associate principal of Fairmont Seminary for many years, died yesterday at her home 1757 K street northwest.

A native of Pulaski, Tenn., Miss Steele was associated with the seminary for 18 years. At one time she taught the Rainbow Bible Class at Mount Vernon Place Church and later a class at Western Presbyterian Church.

She leaves a brother, J. Frank Steele, and two sisters, Miss Fannie Steele, and Mrs. Irvin McGrew, all of Washington.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at Hysong's funeral home, 1300 N street northwest. Burial will be at Pulaski.

Funeral Tomorrow For N. P. Hippchen

Funeral services for Nicholas P. Hippchen, 36, who died Friday at Emergency Hospital, will be held tomorrow at 9 a. m. in Hines funeral chapel, 2901 Fourteenth street northwest. Burial will be in Glenwood Cemetery.

Born in Chicago, Ill., Mr. Hippchen had lived in Washington for 25 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Bessie L. Hippchen; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hippchen; a sister, Mrs. Helen Aiken, of Washington; a brother, Peter Hippchen, Cherrydale, Va., and another sister, Mrs. Gertrude Kaiser, San Antonio, Tex.

Mrs. Davenport Rites Conducted at Easton

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Platt Davenport, 65, who died Friday at her home in Easton, Md., were held yesterday in Trinity Cathedral at Easton. Committal services and burial will be tomorrow at her birthplace, Brandon, Vt.

Mrs. Davenport leaves her husband, the Rev. George W. Davenport, Bishop of Easton Episcopal Diocese for the past 18 years; two sons, George W. Davenport, Los Angeles, Calif., and Willard Davenport, Chicago, Ill.; a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Wood, Boston, Mass., and five grandchildren.

Clarksburg to Get Police Radio Station

Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 29.—A site in the vicinity of Clarksburg will be selected for one of the four radio stations in a State-wide system, for which the Legislature appropriated $250,000, Superintendent C. C. Tallman of the State police said last night.

The other three stations will be located at Charleston, Moundsville and Beckley, he said, with construction likely to start on one of the two serving southern West Virginia. Several sites are under consideration in the Clarksburg area.

Grocers Will Frolic.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Waynesboro, Pa., Aug. 29.—Members of the Triangle Grocers' Association of Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia will hold their outing along the Potomac River at Dam no. 4, Tuesday. The committee arranging the outing is composed of E. G. Hoover, L. A. Zitzman, J. Frank Grove, F. E. Detrich, S. V. Humbert, R. H. Miller, R. R. Shaffer, C. F. Shuler, E. Roy Line and A. J. Coffman.

Club Gathers Today.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Leonardtown, Md., Aug. 29.—The Women's Democratic Club of St. Marys County will meet here tomorrow afternoon.

Blast in Gangster's Car Kills Doorman

Associated Press WIREPHOTO

The car above, with plates issued to Harry Milman, associated by police with the old "Purple" gang in Detroit, was wrecked and a colored doorman from a night club, sent to the parking lot to get the car, was fatally injured by an electrically discharged bomb early yesterday in Detroit.

Text of Soviet Treaty

The Chinese Embassy made public today the following text of nonaggression pact signed by China and Soviet Russia:

The national government of the republic of China and the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, animated by the desire to contribute to the maintenance of internal peace, consolidate the amicable relations now existing between them on a firm and lasting basis, and confirm in a more precise manner the obligations mutually undertaken under the treaty for the renunciation of war signed in Paris on August 27, 1928, have resolved to conclude the present treaty and for this purpose appointed as their plenipotentiaries, that is to say: His excellency the president of the national government of the republic of China, Dr. Wang Chungwei, minister for foreign affairs; the central executive committee of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republic, Mr. Dimitri Bomomoloff, Ambassadore Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics to the Republic of China, who, having communicated their full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following articles:

Article 1. Two high contracting parties solemnly reaffirm that they condemn the recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and that they renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with each other, and in pursuance of this pledge, they undertake to refrain from any aggression against each other, either individually or jointly with one or more other powers.

Article 2. In the event that either of the high contracting parties should be subjected to aggression on the part of one or more third powers, the other high contracting party obligates itself not to render assistance of any kind, either directly or indirectly, to such third power or powers at any time during the entire conflict, and also refrain from taking any action or entering into any agreement which may be used by aggressors or aggressors to the disadvantage of the party subjected to aggression.

Article 3. The provisions of the present treaty shall not be so interpreted as to affect or modify the rights and obligations arising, in respect of the high contracting parties, out of bilateral or multilateral treaties or agreements of which both the high contracting parties are signatories and which were concluded prior to entering into force of the present treaty.

Article IV. The present treaty is drawn up in duplicate in English. It comes into force on the day of signature by the above mentioned and shall remain in force for a period of five years. Either of the high contracting parties may notify the other, six months before the expiration of the period, of its desire to terminate the treaty. In case both parties fail to do so in time, the treaty shall be considered as being automatically extended for a period of two years after the expiration of the first period. Should neither of the high contracting parties notify the other, six months before the expiration of the two-year period, of its desire to terminate the treaty, it shall continue in force for another period of two years, and so on successively.

In witness whereof respective plenipotentiaries have signed the present treaty, and have affixed hereunto their seals.

Done at Nanking, twenty-first day of August, nineteen hundred thirty-seven.

Thief Rips $10,000 Portrait From Wall

A burglar tore a $10,000 portrait from a living room wall in the home of Mrs. Anne Moran, 1532 Sixteenth street northwest, last night, but a barred window through which he intended to lower it to an accomplice balked the theft.

The portrait, a canvass of the Countess of Wilton by the famous English painter, Sir Thomas Lawrence, was found in a rear room of the house. Apparently the thief entered while Mrs. Moran was having dinner with her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. John J. Shugrue.

7 Die When Auto And Truck Crash

Craig, Colo., Aug. 29 (AP).—Seven were killed today in an automobile-truck collision. The victims—six men and a woman—were riding in a small sedan. The two occupants of the truck escaped serious injury. The dead were residents of Craig.

Security Traders To Meet Sept. 8

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 29.—More than 2,000 members and guests will attend the fourth annual convention of the National Security Traders Association, which will open here on September 8 and close five days later. Headquarters will be the Hotel Traymore; with an auxiliary headquarters in the Hotel Claridge.

While a major portion of the convention will be devoted to problems of security trading and the delivery of technical addresses by financial experts, unusual entertainment features will weave through the program.

Blaw-Knox Buys R. M. Gordon Business

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29.—Blaw-Knox Co. has purchased the assets and business of R. M. Gordon & Co., manufacturers of grease lubricating systems for the steel industry, William P. Witherow, president of Blaw-Knox Co., announced today.

The activities of the new division will be expanded into additional fields, and the company will be known as the Gordon Lubricator Division of the Blaw-Knox Co., Mr. Witherow concluded.

The Air-Cooled HECHT CO.

LOOK!

Sizes from 14 to 42

Zipper Front

COTTON HOUSE-COAT

$2.99

Short sleeves and club collars on these fetching housecoats—and zippers down the front, with an inverted pleat at the bottom. You can wear them with, or without the belt. Wine, copen and green and sizes for everyone!

Third Floor—Negligee Department—The Hecht Co.

Realty Values For Arlington Show Increase

Revenue Commissioner Reports $4,095,540 Advance Over 1936.

Land values for Arlington County have shown an increase of $4,095,540 over the valuation for 1936, according to a statement issued yesterday by Harry K. Green, commissioner of revenue. The total real estate valuation for 1936 was $23,734,640, while that of 1937 is $27,830,180.

This increase is due to a new land assessment made in 1936 and new improvements in the county during the same year, Green pointed out.

Added valuations made by the land assessors appointed by the circuit court amounted to $1,919,390 or about 8 per cent over the 1936 assessment. The assessment on improvements made by the commissioner of revenue amounted to $2,176,150, or an increase of about 9 per cent, a total of 17 per cent.

The land assessors, Green stated, were charged with the responsibility of assessing all land and improvements thereon, prior to January 1, 1936. The new improvements constructed in 1936 were assessed by his office, which has no jurisdiction over a general land assessment. Commissioner Green further stated that his office located 661 new dwellings, 19 business houses and five apartments erected in 1936, and ready for assessment as of January 1, 1937. The assessment on new improvements include the second unit of the Colonial Village development, consisting of 462 new apartments.

The second unit of Colonial Village was assessed at $515,000, and a third unit, completing the project, will be ready for assessment January 1, 1938. The entire development will represent an investment of more than $3,000,000.

The real estate values for 1937 will produce a total tax of $751,414.86, an increase over 1936 of $110,579.58.

Martinsburg Assured Airmail, Transport Line

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., Aug. 29.—That a long-sought goal of this city—airmail and passenger service—soon might be achieved, developed Friday when Representative Jennings Randolph, of this Congressional district and Dr. L. S. Adams, president of Tri-State Aviation, flew here from Elkins, W. Va. They told the local airport's operating committee it is planned to extend the airlines to include Martinsburg, and it is possible the service could be provided within 30 days.

Rev. T. A. Smoot, Methodist Pastor, Dies in Norfolk

By the Associated Press.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 29.—The Rev. Thomas Arthur Smott, 66, one of the leading clergymen in the Virginia Methodist Conference and pastor of Epworth Church in Norfolk, died today.

He held many important positions with the Virginia Southern Methodist conferences. In the General Conference he was a member of the hospital board from 1922 to 1926 and the committee on the budget from 1926 to 1930. He was a member of the general board of finance and president of the board of Christian education of the Virginia Conference.

Madison Arranges Temporary School

Charlottesville, Va., Aug. 29.—Despite the fact that the school building at Madison Courthouse, county seat of Madison, was destroyed by fire ten days ago, plans are under way for housing both the elementary and high school students at the opening session September 7, according to Superintendent A. W. Yowell.

Men have been working the past week providing classrooms in the agricultural shop and War Memorial Building, Yowell said, and a full program will be offered during the approaching session. Equipment has been purchased and will arrive this week.

Under the present plans, the elementary grades will be taken care of temporarily in the War Memorial Building, while the high school students will be housed in the agricultural shop and in the home economics building.

Yowell stated that under the blanket form of insurance carried on the building, insurance adjusters have agreed to award $16,729.16 damages as a result of the fire.

Fairfax County Dairymen File Report for July

22 Herds Average 756 Pounds of Milk; Smith Cows in Lead.

The report of Fairfax County Dairy Herd Association No. 1 for July shows there were 22 herds in the association with 711 cows on test, 92 of them being dry and 5 sold for beef.

The average production per herd was 756 pounds of milk and 29.8 pounds butterfat. The high herd in milk production average 1,125 pounds.

The three highest herds were owned by Mason Smith, sr., with 1,125 pounds of milk, 48.79 pounds of butterfat; Hollywood Farm, 1,074 pounds of milk and 44.32 pounds butterfat; R. T. Harrison, 924 pounds of milk and 39.65 pounds butterfat.

The four high cows were owned by Harrison Brothers, 1,826 pounds milk and 82.1 pounds butterfat; Rogers & Rogers, 1,996 pounds milk, 79.8 pounds butterfat; R. T. Harrison, 1,944 pounds of milk, 75.9 pounds butterfat; Marvin Perkins, 1,767 pounds of milk, 74.2 pounds butterfat.

The following herds contained honor cows that produced 60 or more pounds of butterfat: R. T. Harrison herd, 6; Hollywood Farm, 5; Middleton Brothers, Harrison Brothers, Marvin Perkins and C. M. James, 2 each; F. E. Peck, Mason Smith, Dr. F. W. Huddleson, Rogers & Rogers, Kenilworth Farm and Crippen & Riely, 1 each.

The new Herndon Town Council will hold a special meeting Wednesday night to take the oath of office. The new council elected in June, will be composed of Mayor Russell A. Lynn, M. Waite Wilkins, town clerk; Vernon C. Cockerille, town sergeant; William S. Blanchard, sr., Raymond N. Wrenn, Dr. D. S. Detwiler, Dr. William Meyer, Gransville White and George F. Buell, councilmen. Mayor Lynn will make the appointment of committees at that time.

Manassas Firemen Purchase Inhalator

Manassas, Va., Aug. 29.—The Manassas Volunteer Fire Department has purchased an inhalator for its rescue squad.

The rescue squad has received instruction in first-aid work from a Red Cross instructor.

The full amount of the purchase price has not yet been received, but donations still are being received by the fire department.

FLOWING for PAINTS
Devoe & Reynolds Paints
Benjamin Moore's Paints
922 N. Y. Ave. NAtional 8610

2 HOUR DRY CLEANING
HATS-Cleaned While SUITS-Pressed U SHOES-Rebuilt Wait
8 PRIVATE DRESSING BOOTHS
Grand Central Valet Inc.
1405 H. ST. N.W.

Save at Liggett's THE REXALL DRUG STORES

LOANS
On Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry, Guns, Cameras, Musical Instruments, etc.
Lowest Rates Possible
Unredeemed Pledges For Sale
Take Any Car Leaving 11th and Pa. Ave.
Established 1890
HORNINGS
OPP. WASHINGTON AIRPORT

Whether you're on sun time

or daylight saving time

you're always on gas-saving time

if you use

BLUE SUNOCO
THE ONLY TRUE BLUE MOTOR FUEL

Check this great motor fuel for quick starts, getaways, hill climbing power, knockless action, mileage and economy. Let your own car prove that today's big value for your gasoline dollar is Blue Sunoco.

you can FEEL the difference

Remember, too . . . that your oil affects car performance. Thousands of miles from now, your car will still be lively and powerful if you use . . . SUNOCO MERCURY MOTOR OIL
KEEPS MOTORS YOUNG

ONLY ONE QUALITY
NO SECOND GRADE
NO THIRD GRADE